CAPTURE OF VILLA ONLY MATTER OF TIME

GERMAN PRINCE DRAWS NET LITTLE CLOSER AT VERDUN

SHIFTS POINT OF HIS ATTACK TO NORTHEAST

Germans Gain Footing at Vaux After Heavy Night Attacks.

French Say Another Assault at Same Time Is Repulsed.

Another Violent Bombardment in the Vicinity of Malancourt.

London, April 1.—The German crown prince has again shifted the point of his attack upon Verdun, delivering an effective blow to the northeast of the stronghold, gaining a footing in the village of Vaux, and drawing the net still closer about the fortress.

Two Heavy Attacks. Paris, April 1.—German forces delivered two heavy attacks last night in the Verdun region east of the Meuse. The war office announced this afternoon that one attack entailed the capture of a footing in the village of Vaux, the other attack was repulsed.

Single Battalion Held Salient. Paris, April 1.—A single battalion of French infantry held the salient comprising the village of Malancourt in the Verdun region east of the Meuse against German forces twenty times their number in the attack of Thursday night, and surrounded on three sides, they were compelled to choose between retirement and capture.

FIVE CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Seranton, Pa., April 1.—Five children were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed the home of Patrick Marlon in this city. The children ranged from 12 months to 10 years of age.

HOSPITAL SHIP IS TORPEDOED

Only 158 Saved Out of 273 Persons Aboard the Steamer.

Petrograd, via London, April 1.—The sinking of the Russian hospital ship, Portugal, in the Black sea, is thus described in a dispatch received from M. Golubeff, delegate general of the Red Cross with the Caucasian army: "At 1:30 last night near Shtie, our hospital ship Portugal, at anchor, was sunk by an enemy submarine which fired two torpedoes from a range of sixty yards. After the second torpedo, which struck the engine room, the ship sank in less than a minute.

"Life boats from travelers and from a torpedo boat, which came up, rescued eleven of the twenty-six sisters of charity, who were aboard. They also saved three commanders, including French Commander Duxent, and two doctors, one priest, 125 men of the Russian naval medical corps and thirteen men of the French crew.

ONE OF FOREMOST EDUCATORS OF UNITED STATES PASSES AWAY

DEAN OF ALL PREXIES DIES

James B. Angell Succumbs at Home in Ann Arbor.

Former Farm Hand Held Position of National Importance.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 1.—James B. Angell, president emeritus of the University of Michigan, died at his home here today. He had been critically ill for more than a week.

As one of the foremost educators of his time, Dr. James B. Angell had the incidental distinction of being the oldest college president in point of service in the United States. With his combined terms as head of the University of Vermont and the University of Michigan he had been a college president for eighty-eight years.

During the later years of his work at the University of Michigan, he was editor of the Providence Journal, and found this so much to his liking that he abandoned his academic work to become editor of the paper.

ASQUITH IN ROME; TO VISIT THE POPE

British Premier Addresses Great Crowd of People in Italian City.

Rome, via Paris, April 1.—Premier Asquith appeared on the balcony of the British embassy last night to salute a great concourse of the people of Rome, who had gathered to cheer him. "We are here," he said, "to further the victory of right and justice."

Other newspapers express the opinion that Pope Benedict desires to take advantage of Mr. Asquith's presence in Rome to make another effort in favor of peace by insisting on his previous stated contention that an expressed willingness on the part of the belligerents to make reciprocal concessions might lead to the opening of negotiations and the ending of the great conflict. It is also asserted that the pope is anxious to set forth his claim to participation in the prospective peace conference to be held at the conclusion of the hostilities, the basis of which claim is that he is the spiritual head of millions of those engaged on both sides of the war.

FAVORABLE TO BRANDEIS

The Senate Sub-Committee Votes 3 to 2 to Recommend Confirmation.

Full Committee Understood to Stand Practically Even.

Washington, April 1.—By a vote of 3 to 2 the senate Judiciary subcommittee considering the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court today voted to recommend confirmation to the entire committee. Those voting for confirmation were Senators Chilton, Walsh and Fletcher, Democrats; against, Senators Cummins and Works, Republicans. The full committee is understood to stand practically even.

WANDERS FOR YEARS; FOUND BY POLICE

Cecil Lavell, Once Prominent Instructor, Said to Be Victim of Amnesia.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 1.—After wandering for three years a victim of amnesia, Cecil Lavell, 44, former dean of Queen's college, Kingston, Canada, and a former professor of history at Columbia university was found by the police here yesterday ending a wide search which began in November, 1913. Lavell was known here by the name of O'Brien, had been working as a dish-washer in hotels for the last year. According to the police, he admitted his identity and said that he regained partial memory two years ago, but feared to tell his wife at that time. He said he wanted to experiment on his mind, and when full memory returned upon he would reveal his whereabouts.

His wife who lives in Toronto has been notified. Lavell said he first found himself in Detroit. Lavell claimed he had taught in Ohio State university at Columbus, Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., and Bates college, Lewiston, Me.

TWENTY-EIGHT KILLED IN ZEPPELIN AIR RAID ON EASTERN ENGLAND

Forty-Four Others Are Injured, According to Official Report.

One of the Five Zeppelins Engaged in Raid Is Captured.

Falls Off Thames Estuary and Caught By British Patrol.

London, April 1.—Twenty-eight persons were killed and forty-four injured in last night's air raid, according to official figures given out today. One of five Zeppelins which visited the eastern counties of England during the night, dropping some ninety bombs, was damaged, presumably by British anti-aircraft guns, and came down off the Thames estuary. It surrendered to British patrol boats. The crew was saved but the airship broke up and sank while being towed in.

Divided Forces High in Air. The dirigibles came in over the coast early in the evening and, sailing high, divided their forces. Those who saw them say they were larger than the dirigibles used on previous visits. They kept at such a height that they were out of range of anti-aircraft guns as they passed inland.

It was officially announced this afternoon that the Zeppelin dirigible balloon which fell into the sea was the LZ-15.

The official statement follows: "During the night a damaged Zeppelin was observed to come down off the Thames estuary. On being approached by one of our patrol vessels, she surrendered. The crew was taken off her and she was taken in tow, but she subsequently broke up and sank. In one town eleven bombs were dropped by a Zeppelin without causing any loss of life or property.

An official statement regarding the raid says: "An air raid took place last night over the eastern counties, in which five Zeppelins took part. All the raiders crossed the coast at different places and times, and sired different courses. At present, about ninety bombs are reported to have been dropped in various localities in the eastern counties, but the results are not known.

Norwegian Ship Sunk. London, April 1.—Lloyds reports the sinking of the Norwegian steamship Memento, 1,074 tons gross. All the members of the crew were saved except one man who was drowned.

PRACTICALLY SELECTED AS HEAD OF BRITISH AVIATION DEPARTMENT

LORD MONTAGU OF BEAULIEU.

RED RIVER IS RISING HIGHER

River Towns Face Worst Conditions Since Flood of 1897.

Fargo, N. D., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo and other towns along the Red river are experiencing the greatest flood since 1897, the stream having risen a foot last night. Water is up to the foundation of the Auditorium this morning and is still rising. A number of families have had to desert their homes, some moving out last evening when the water reached the floors of their houses. The river is still rising at Wahpeton, N. D., where nearly all the store basements are full of water and the Northern Pacific bridge is under water. The Milwaukee tracks, south of Fairmount, are under water for twenty miles. Island Park here is completely surrounded by water for the first time since the big flood of 1897.

SUCCESSFUL END OF U. S. EXPEDITION BELIEVED IN SIGHT

Not Thought Injured Bandit Leader Will Be Able to Make Long Flight Over Rugged Mountains.

With Only Brief Rest Col. Dodd's Cavalry Resumes Pursuit While Supporting Troops Cover Railroads.

VILLA REPORTED CAPTURED

El Paso, Tex., April 1.—A Chihuahua dispatch received by a Mexican official in Juarez this afternoon states that there is a report in Chihuahua that Villa has been captured in Minaca. Efforts to confirm the report here were without result.

El Paso, Tex., April 1.—The capture of Francisco Villa by the flying squadrons of American cavalry searching the Sierra Madre mountains today is believed by army officers at Fort Bliss to be only a matter of days.

His forces scattered into small bands after their smashing defeat by Col. Dodd and his cavalymen on March 29, Villa is reported to have sought safety in hiding in some recesses of the continental divide. The bandit's injured leg, said to have been broken by a gunshot wound, or a fall from a horse, will doubtless prevent him from making any long flight over the rugged mountains.

scattered bands, while supporting forces that had arrived covered the railroad toward Chihuahua and smaller detachments of American troops began beating the country adjacent to official quarters.

That Villa was already captured and being brought back to the army base at Casas Grandes was a report heard here today, but it was not credited to official quarters.

Mexican Consul Andres Garcia had no word of any further engagements between the American troops and Villa forces. Consul Garcia went to Juarez early in the day to be in immediate touch with the Mexican telegraph lines.

While the hunt is on Gen. Pershing, it is said, will keep his operations against the fleeing bands of Villa men to prevent their concentration and to destroy them wherever found.

Gen. George Bell, commanding the army base, is, meanwhile, making for- ward supplies to the front by way of Columbus that the American army may be prepared for a possible protracted campaign.

Further Skirmishes Probable. Washington, April 1.—In the belief that the American forces in Mexico have had further skirmishes with the hard-pressed Villa outlaws and that possibly Francisco Villa himself was recently captured and being taken to the mountains, military officials today anxiously awaited further news of Col. Dodd's long cavalry dash which resulted in shattering Villa's main column.

Army officers are of the opinion that since the light heavier forces have come up to support the flying columns and advance, the operations have followed. In all quarters the belief was expressed that the successful end of the American expedition was in sight.

GERMANY TO INVESTIGATE

Washington, April 1.—Ambassador Gerard called the state department today that he had been informed by the German government that nothing was known officially there of the attack on the steamers Sussex and Englishman, but that an investigation was being made. He said the German government informed him they had only newspaper reports on the two cases up to the present.

The contents of Ambassador Gerard's dispatch, the first received from him since inquiries about the two ships were forwarded to Berlin several days ago, was sent immediately by wireless to President Wilson, who is taking a week-end trip down the Potomac river on the naval yacht Mayflower.

Commanders to Report. The investigation promised may take a week or more. American commanders at sea will have to report before the German government will be in a position to say definitely whether one of its submarines attacked the Sussex or Englishman.

Officials take for granted that the Englishman was attacked by a German submarine because of reports that warning shots were fired at her before she was torpedoed. They also believe that the Sussex was attacked by a submarine, but have no conclusive proof.

Issue at Standstill. Washington, April 1.—With President Wilson out of town and with positive proof still lacking that recent disasters to merchant ships carrying Americans were the result of submarine attacks, the latest submarine issue was at a standstill today.

Further developments in the situation probably will await word from Ambassador Gerard, who yesterday made inquiry of the Berlin foreign office as to whether a submarine had attacked the Sussex or the British horseship Englishman.

THE public preference for Goodyear Tires affects alike all parts of America, as shown by our recent tire census in 71 centers.

The grand average of Goodyears was 21 per cent—and this with close to 200 brands of tires on the market.

This Goodyear preference is built upon the bed-rock of public satisfaction—the individual experience of the average man, who has found that Goodyear Tires go farther, last longer, and so cost him less in the end.

YOUTH IS ACCEPTED BY NAVY PERSISTENCE WINS

The determination of Julius Rissanen, aged 17, a Finnish boy, has been rewarded yesterday when he was accepted by Recruiting Officer E. A. Nippa of the United States navy. The case of Rissanen is one of the most unusual in the history of the recruiting office here. The lad applied for enlistment Wednesday and passed the physical tests, but was rejected because he was an orphan and had no guardian while still being under age and was not a citizen. These handicaps were overcome quickly, and yesterday he returned to the recruiting officer, having been adopted by an Irish-American couple, taking the name of Julius McGeehan, and was virtually made a citizen by one stroke of the pen by Judge William McCully of Ashland. Officer Nippa accepted him. The boy started from Finland to America when only 5 years old. Both of his parents died during the voyage. He was later placed in an orphan asylum at Iaraga county, Mich., where he stayed until four years ago. Since he was 13 years old, the lad has been fighting the battle of life unassisted. He was much dejected when unable to enter the navy, but showing his fighting spirit, he turned back to Ashland where he is well known and hit upon the plan of being adopted. Harvey J. McGeehan, a member of the Ashland police force, readily consented to adopting him, and the matter was quickly adjusted. Officer Nippa will send him to the Minneapolis office and it is expected that he will begin his service at the naval training school in a few days.

PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAINS WILL SOON BE TURNED ON

Public drinking fountains will be turned on in about ten days. This announcement was made today by Manager Reed of the water and light department, who said that workmen will begin next week thawing out the water that remained in the pipes when they were turned off last fall. In addition, the fountains will be cleaned and prepared for use. Once turned on, the fountains will remain running until cold weather sets in next fall.

POSTOFFICE IN NEW CLASS

High Record Set By Receipts of $451,706 for Last Year.

The prosperity of Duluth and surrounding territory is reflected in a remarkable degree in the receipts of the Duluth postoffice for the statistical year, which closed yesterday. A new high record was set, the receipts being $451,706.47 against $444,450.11 of the preceding year. By virtue of the receipts having passed the $450,000 mark, the Duluth office will pass into a higher section of the first class offices. That Duluth is steadily gaining in prosperity is shown by the big margin in the receipts for the month over those for the same period during the preceding year. Yesterday being the last day of the month the receipts were heavy, and made a remarkable gain over the last day of the month of the preceding year. Yesterday's receipts were $3,118.27 against $2,644.19 for the same day last year. The mails are one of the best things to show either prosperity or depression, and the reports of the various departments of the office have been very favorable for several months. The European war was a great handicap to the mail service last year and especially to the foreign money order and stamp sales. Mail is sent directly to persons in the war zone and funds are handled through various agencies organized for the emergency. It is expected that there will be a tremendous rush at the postoffice now for several weeks with the arrival of spring. Garden seeds, catalogues and goods of many kinds are mailed and the parcel post especially will take on new life.

CAPTURE OF VILLA ONLY MATTER OF DAYS

(Continued from page 1.) reference to his injuries indicated that he believed the report. Unofficial reports early today indicated the possibility of an error as to his wounded condition. One of these reports which was from a Mexican source, was that he was quite sound in mind and limb and that his own men had spread the report of his broken leg in order to distract the attention of the Americans. Gen. Funston's messages to Gen. Pershing included copies of the congratulatory messages received from the war department and the House. Those received early in the morning included one from a consular source, which contained a report of the fighting about Guerrero than those already received. No supplies yet have been sent over the Mexico Northwestern, notwithstanding the permission of Carranza granted three days ago. Looking for News of Victory. San Antonio, Tex., April 1.—Gen. Funston and his staff hastily examined every dispatch from Mexico and from the border today, hoping that in one would come the news of another victory over Francisco Villa's troops or perhaps news of the capture or death of the bandit himself. Unofficially it was reported that a bullet had disabled Villa and that it had passed through the bones of the hip. Army surgeons say that if the report was true, it would be practically impossible for Villa to endure the pain incident to transportation over any great distance. Official messages added nothing to the information already at headquarters either as to the report that Villa was injured, or concerning the battle between the 500 Mexicans and Col. Dodd's cavalry. It was said at headquarters that just before Col. Dodd began his 85-mile dash to Guerrero he was at Bachajena, not more than twenty-five miles away. From Bachajena a trail extends to Guerrero, northwest of Matamoros, from where another trail extends to Guerrero. The distance from Matamoros to Guerrero is fifty-five miles.

COLONEL'S SECRETARY ADMITTED TO BAIL

New York, April 1.—John W. McGrath, private secretary to Col. Theodore Roosevelt, was released on bail of $1,000 today after Supreme Court Justice Scudder in Brooklyn had granted a motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt as to his guilt of the charge of assault, for which he was sentenced to thirty days recently. His cousin, William Powers, who was likewise convicted for the same offense, also was released on bail for a similar amount. Both men had been in jail since the department of justice found guilty of assaulting Charles Lighte, Jr., in a Brooklyn cafe last June.

QUESTIONED AS TO ACCOMPLICES

New York, April 1.—Accompanied by a detective, Ernest Schiller, the German spy-master took possession of the British steamer Toppo at sea last Wednesday night, according to police headquarters here today from Lewes, Del. Schiller was questioned by police officials regarding an alleged attempt of the four men who he said were to have been sent to the United States by the freight steamship City of Sparta, scheduled to sail late today for Vladivostok. The police stated they desired to question Schiller also regarding an alleged plot to blow up a Cunard line steamship in New York. Officials of the department of justice today denied they had any knowledge of any such conspiracy.

LYMAN TELLS OF HIGH FLIGHTS IN FINANCE

New York, April 1.—A tale of financial ventures and adventures in many parts of the world, under a score of assumed names, was told yesterday by John Grant Lyman, held on charges of stock swindling by use of the mails. He appeared voluntarily to testify before a United States commissioner in the bankruptcy proceedings against "John H. Putnam & Co." the name under which he operated here just before his flight to Florida, where he was arrested as he was about to sail for Honduras aboard a yacht he had purchased. One of Lyman's most spectacular ventures was the promotion of Panama real estate, for which he subsequently was arrested and convicted in Los Angeles. Those lands cost us about 15 cents an acre," he said, "and we sold them for $5 an acre on the installment plan."

WAIT TO BE TRIED WITHIN A MONTH

New York, April 1.—Dr. Arthur W. Waite will be placed on trial for the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, John B. Peck, the district attorney expects, within a month. If his condition improves, he will be arraigned next Monday on the two indictments found against him yesterday. Eugene O. Kane, the embalmer, and a detective arrived here today from Orient Point, L. I., bringing $3,800 in currency, part of the $9,000 which Kane says Waite gave him as a bribe to make him swear that the embalming fluid used on the body of Mr. Peck contained arsenic. Kane yesterday guided the detective to the spot where he had buried this money in a grove of trees.

RIVER UNDERMINES CROOKSTON STREET

Crookston, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—More than one-half the width of West Robert street, near the Sampson's addition bridge over the Red Lake river, slid into the river this morning, closing the street to all traffic. The slide is ten rods long and repairs will necessitate extension piling and several train loads of stone for anchoring. The street will be closed for weeks and perhaps months, as it will take thousands of yards of dirt to bring the street up to grade again. Fears are entertained that the slide is not ended and that two buildings, but a few feet away, may also slide into the river. Underlying quicksand and much water caused the disastrous slide.

A NEW EUROPE AFTER THE WAR.

One thing that enters little into calculations of what will happen in Europe after the war, but that will enter very largely into what actually happens, is what is now going on inside the popular mind of Europe.

try has not as yet devised a system of mobilizing and directing its labor supply. Such a system is the aim of the committee that has been appointed by the department of labor.

On the average, according to careful investigations, over three million people are unemployed for an average of two months every year; over two million and a half are unemployed for an average of five months; 736,000 are idle for an average of nine and a half months; and 2,177,000 men and women are out of work for an average of twelve months in every year.

The pitiful spectacle of men going hungry and sinking into beggary and crime when they are willing and eager to work is heart-rending, but that is only a part of the evil. The rest of it lies in the nation's need that every man shall be productively employed for the sake of the goods he can produce, and in the employer's need of keeping his operations up to the full demands of business.

Often men tramp city streets looking vainly for work, while in the rural districts crops rot in the fields for lack of labor to harvest them. This is a crime, and to permit it to continue is to be guilty of criminal negligence.

Every man who is willing to work has a right to a chance to coin his willing energies into wages.

The nation and its agriculture, commerce and industries have a right to a full supply of labor at all times. Under present conditions, neither side of this proposition is assured of its rights. Under an efficient organization, based on a wise and practical plan, both sides of it can be protected at all times and under all circumstances, even if it is necessary, in time of depression, to undertake useful government work purely for the sake of providing employment.

England is said to prefer German coloring matter in her dyes; which may be only another way of saying she approves of Germans dying.

A LOCAL OPTION ELECTION IN DULUTH.

Certain local enthusiasts for temperance are spreading petitions intending to bring about an election in Duluth on the question whether or not saloons shall be licensed any longer.

Without getting petitions signed being easy work, they will succeed in bringing on such an election under the initiative. That will be entirely regular and lawful, and it is fully provided for by the city charter. It is proceeding under the local option system, which the Herald most emphatically believes to be the right system for determining this issue.

Though this activity at this time is manifestly due to a desire to help out the "drys" in the campaign in Superior, probably its sponsors will go through with it no matter how Superior votes. Doubtless, too, the election will be preceded by a campaign of argument, and Duluth will be lucky if most of that argument is not abuse. Too often, when this question is up, it takes that form.

There is no great objection to having such an election except that of expense. If it is brought about at the general city election that will not count, but the trouble in that case is that the issue will control the municipal contest, and men will be voted for or against not because they are fit men for commissioners, but because they are for or against prohibition. In view of that fact, it is to be hoped that, without regard to the expense, the issue will be decided at a special election.

There seems now little doubt that the "drys" will fail. Duluth is not yet ready to vote out the saloon and vote in the blind pig. It has done away with many of the evils formerly complained of by sensible regulation of the saloon, and because of that there will not be so many votes for prohibition as there might have been a few years ago. However, if the election is held, we shall know all about that after the votes are counted.

The main thing now is to determine, on both sides, that if it is possible the campaign for and against shall be conducted decently, in coolness and good temper, and that both sides shall rely upon reason and public sentiment, not on ill temper and mudslinging and abuse, for victory.

It will be interesting to see if a campaign on this issue can be carried on by the advocates of both sides conducting themselves like reasonable and reasoning beings, not like people who think that abuse is argument and that the calling of names is reasoning. Men may and will be honest on both sides of this question, and though they differ sharply there is no reason why they can not do it in good temper.

China's chief distinction at present is that in that country a citizen can mail a letter to the emperor and have it delivered to the president—or vice versa.

More Money.

I pity the poor, sordid soul, who always is asking himself, "Oh, how can I add to my roll, and store up more plunder and pelf?" If always you think of your pile, and make of your bank-book a pet, the things that are truly worth while you're apt to ignore or forget. If always you hanker and wish, and hunger and thirst for the mon, and never go fishing for fish, or hunting wart-hogs with a gun, if all through the hurrying year, your thoughts are on profit and gain, your soul will be shriveled and sere, the rust will get into your brain. It gives me the willies to talk with men to whom Cash is a god; for Cash is their store and their stock, and all they can think of is Wad. The master of money never knows the literature of the day, the works of Nick Carter or those of "Rita" or Bertha M. Clay. His soul is engulfed in the mart, his life's aim is sordid and grim, the treasures of song and of art and music are dead ones to him. He cares not for color or tone, and nothing for mirth does he care; he sees in the distance a bone, and chases it down to its lair.

thought that that is the natural order of things; but of course it isn't, and it remains the order of things only so long as the many choose to let it. If the many ever make up their minds to change it, it will be changed; and when the change comes, much will happen.

The common people of Europe have learned, for one thing, that the state depends upon them. It cannot fight without them, it cannot prosper without them, it cannot live without them.

The common people of Europe have learned, too, that it is right to fight and kill for what one wants. If a state can do that to another state, why cannot a people do that to its ruling powers, if it is necessary? There will be millions of men already trained to arms who are likely to have gained this knowledge so dangerous to vested privilege.

The common people of Europe have learned also—or should have learned—that a state which depends upon them for its existence and for its fighting ought to treat them pretty well. If they discover the full truth, which is that a state which exists for any other purpose than the well-being of its whole people is a doomed anomaly, then indeed will things happen quickly.

The need of revolution, peaceful or otherwise, exists more or less in all the belligerent nations. Therefore, when the war is over all of the belligerent nations will be more or less in danger of revolution.

France is a republic and democratic; but its common people yet lack a great measure of the justice due them. Great Britain, though a monarchy, we call democratic; yet its submerged nine-tenths is often bitterly poor, and useless lords absorb too much of the common store for senseless luxury. Russia, of course, is greatly in need of revolution, and it usually has had one after every great war. Germany has the most powerful government of all, and one wise enough to treat its people generously; but its liberties are not rights but privileges conceded, and that is a state that humanity will not always tolerate.

There is no class fitted to concede privileges to the mass; there is no mass that always will tolerate the relation of beneficiaries and benefactors, with the benefactors profiting so richly by the arrangement. Germany, especially if it loses the war, will face as huge a menace as any nation in Europe. The close of the war may mean only the opening of a new and perhaps still more dreadful chapter.

Those who are finding fault with President Wilson's statement about "unscrupulous" interests mixing in the Mexican affair are the same who not so extremely long ago complained of his warnings about an "insidious" lobby.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer. Complied by G. D. Quinn, the Senator.

The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble, and He knoweth them that trust in Him.—Nahum 1, 7.

Our whole trouble in our lot in this world arises from the disagreement of our mind therewith. Let the mind be brought to the lot, and the whole turmoil is instantly hushed; let it be kept in that disposition, and the man shall stand at ease, in his affliction, like a rock unmoved with waters beating upon it.—T. Boston.

How does our will become sanctified? By conforming itself unreservedly to that of God. We will all that He wills, and nothing that He does not will; we attach our feeble will to that all-powerful will which pervades everything. Thus, nothing can ever come to pass against our will; for nothing can happen save that which God wills, and we find in His good pleasure an inexhaustible source of peace and consolation.—Francis De La Motte Fenelon.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in My name, He will give it you. John xvi, 23.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

While their office was in Milwaukee, one day Carpenter's clerk entered Ryan's room for information about some small matter or other. Deeply absorbed in the study of a case, Ryan was annoyed, and scribbled something on a paper which he put in an envelope, sealed it, and addressed it to his partner.

"Take that to Mr. Carpenter," he ordered. "Mr. Carpenter is in Chicago," answered the clerk. "I don't care if he is in hell—take it to him," roared Ryan.

The clerk put on his coat, rushed to the depot, and caught a train for Chicago. When he arrived he made his way to the courthouse where Carpenter was trying a case. Admitted within the bar, the clerk handed the note to his chief, who opened it and read:

"Matt Carpenter, Sir: I wish you would keep your damned clerk out of my office. T. Ryan."

A Great American Orator

By Sawyer.

Washington, April 1.—(Special to The Herald).—For some weeks I have been trying to write something about orators, and today I want to say a word about the greatest orator it has been my good fortune to hear if my poor judgment can be depended on. I have heard Henry Ward Beecher, W. Bourke Cockran, William C. P. Breckinridge, William J. Bryan, Daniel W. Voorhees, Roscoe Conkling, John B. Feltows, John Young Brown, Frank Hurd, James A. Garfield, Robert G. Ingersoll and others, including M. H. Carpenter, and in my opinion the last named was the greatest orator of the entire lot.

A remarkably handsome man, an exceptionally graceful form, he had the finest voice imaginable, alluring, captivating, charming. It was said of Lord Bacon while speaking that the only concern of his hearers was that he "would make an end." The same was true of Carpenter. He was no declaimer, he never made a gesture; his voice never was above a conversational tone, but he was not overheard as a torrent; he appealed to no passion; he challenged solely your reason; he persuaded, it is true, but his endeavor was to convince.

Now, he might have been all the foregoing would imply, also, yet a poor orator if the matter of his speech had not been the most delicious English, leading to the soundest conclusions. Here is a specimen that you will forgive me for quoting:

"Permit me to state at the outset, why I voted against him on the 7th of November, last, and if this tribunal could order a new election I should vote against him again, believing, as I do, that the accession of the Democratic party to power at this time would be the greatest calamity that could befall our country except one, and that one greater calamity would be to keep him out by falsehood and fraud. I appear here professionally, to assert, and, if possible, establish the right of 10,000 legal voters of Louisiana, who, without accusation or proof, indictment or trial, notice or hearing, have been disfranchised by four per centage of the population, to succeed under the name and style of the 'electoral board of Louisiana.' I appear here also in the interest of the next Republican candidate for president, whoever he may be, to insist that this tribunal shall settle principles by which if we carry Wisconsin for him by 10,000 majority, as I hope we may, no canvassing board, by fraud, or inducement by bribery, shall be able to throw the vote of that state against him and against the voice and the will of the people."

It will hardly be denied that Edgar Allan Poe was the greatest master of the English tongue our hemisphere has produced, and not even Poe could have augmented that strength, or embellished the beauty of the extract I have cited, the exordium of Carpenter's argument before the electoral commission of 1877, which counted Tilden out and counted Hayes in.

Like Stephen A. Douglas, Matt Carpenter was a native of Vermont and a Democrat, but at the close of the war he returned to the states he joined the Republican party and was twice chosen senator from Wisconsin in the American congress. But, as a matter of fact, Carpenter was always a Democrat. It was my good fortune to hear the last constitutional argument he made in the senate. It was May 30, 1880, Decoration day, and his theme was states' rights. John C. Calhoun would have indorsed every word of it except the very last paragraph, in which the orator advanced the lame and impotent plea that the rights of the states were to be preserved it was imperative to give Ulisses S. Grant a third term in the White House.

I also had the good fortune to witness the scene of his last debate in the senate when James G. Blaine, no lawyer, had the audacity to engage in dispute with Carpenter, Thurman and Ben Hill on the purely legal question of the distribution of the "Genova Award." It is needless to say that Blaine's Knight was unimpaired a dozen times that week, but he never minded, and was up and at 'em again the next moment.

One of the greatest debates the senate ever heard of was that between Carpenter and Ben Hill on the Louisiana case. As a Democrat it is my conviction as well as my duty to believe that the great Georgian emerged victor from that terrific encounter between two titanic intellects, but when reading the speeches of Carpenter I am struck to say that any Republican, however candid, finds a hundred very formidable reasons for holding that Carpenter did not get off second best. I advise every young lawyer and politician to get those speeches and ponder them if he would shine at the bar or in congress.

Judge Jero Black loved Carpenter as though he had been a beloved son, and declared that he was the greatest lawyer who ever spoke the English tongue. As a man he was delightful the liveliest day. His laugh was a joy forever. His good humor was perennial. His daughter, a grown young lady, was his chum and always addressed him as "Matt." His law partner was the great Ryan of Chicago, who was as suave as Carpenter was serene. Carpenter was never ruffled; Ryan was perpetually in a passion.

While their office was in Milwaukee, one day Carpenter's clerk entered Ryan's room for information about some small matter or other. Deeply absorbed in the study of a case, Ryan was annoyed, and scribbled something on a paper which he put in an envelope, sealed it, and addressed it to his partner.

"Take that to Mr. Carpenter," he ordered. "Mr. Carpenter is in Chicago," answered the clerk. "I don't care if he is in hell—take it to him," roared Ryan.

The clerk put on his coat, rushed to the depot, and caught a train for Chicago. When he arrived he made his way to the courthouse where Carpenter was trying a case. Admitted within the bar, the clerk handed the note to his chief, who opened it and read:

"Matt Carpenter, Sir: I wish you would keep your damned clerk out of my office. T. Ryan."

Washington Star: "Where did you get that chicken you had for dinner yesterday?" "Lucky yere, boss; if you's axin' jes out o' inquisitiveness tain' no use o' wastin' time an' if you's holdin' an' investigatin' you's got to stah in by provin' dat I had my chicken in de fust place."

Saturday Night Talk

By the Parson.

The Case of the "Slacker." They have had a hard time in England with the "slackers"—eligible men who fight shy of military service. Some of the excuses reported are ingenious, to say the least. There was that, for instance, of the man who wrote that he had weak eyesight and could not see his way to enlist; also that he had various veins and no confidence in the government.

The "slacker" is generally an exasperating individual to deal with. His lack is not of ability, but of disposition. He could help if he would, but he won't.

Let us think now, not of the Briton who is dead to his country's call, but of the citizen in your own street who holds back when a good cause needs him. Have you ever tried to interest that sort of chap in some scheme to help the community? If you have, you know what discouraging work it is.

Through cowardice, through laziness, through distrust of their own abilities, multitudes prove recreant in the hour of need. When some proposition demanding effort comes along they shift the work and the knocks onto the next fellow. They will not work against the righteous cause, but neither will they work for it.

In an Old Testament song of victory a single vindictive strain rings out: "Curse ye Mevo, because they came not to the help of the Lord against the mighty." There is no evidence that the men of Mevo had aided the enemy. These placid warriors had merely done nothing at all. In the day when their country's life had trembled in the balance they had slurred the battlefield. No praise could be given the tribesmen of Mevo. The curse of uselessness rested upon them.

It is a sorry fate for anyone to be classed as a moral nonentity. Carlyle represents his Count Philippus Tardham as computing how much good food had come to support a useless life. The count was "no-count" because he had rendered no return for what life had given him.

It is the "slacker" who presents the hard problem in every campaign for civic betterment. He wants a well-governed city, but will not enlist in the fight to get one. He would like efficient government, low taxes and clean streets, but he will not lift a finger to aid in their attainment. The other fellow can do that. The "slacker" carries no part of the public burden. He barely pulls even his own weight.

There are two kinds of people on earth today. Just two kinds of people, no more, I say. Not the saint and the sinner, for 'tis well understood.

The good are half bad, and the bad are half good; Not the rich and the poor, for to count a man's wealth.

You must first know the state of his conscience and health. Not the humble and proud, for in life's little span.

Who puts on vain airs is not counted a man. Not the happy and sad, for the swift-flying year.

Bring each man his laughter and each his own tears. Not the two kinds of people on earth I mean. Are the people who lift and the people who lean.

There are about two lifters to every ten leavers. No man is so poor that he cannot do something to better that unjust proportion.

The Reign of Law

Germany's recent history runs back 1,906 years; the German empire dates from 1871.

When the United States was formed and long after, there was nothing that could be called Germany. Half of what is now Germany was ruled by Austria. Twenty minor kingdoms and dukedoms stood on their own feet. A dozen free cities were answerable to nobody. Prussia, then just emerging from the march of Brandenburg, was quite as apt to fight against Saxony as with it. The kingdoms that the Germans were divided, some with Austria, some with France, some with Sweden or Denmark.

In 1860 there were two German confederations hostile to each other, and a half-German cities and states, each standing on its own. Dominant among them was Prussia—the Russia of William and Bismarck. Ten years later there was one Germany, of which in 1871 William I. crowned himself emperor.

Till then there had been only anarchy in Germany since the Roman eagles vanished. For 1,900 years as often as two German barons met they clashed, and when they clashed they fought. That is anarchy.

Since 1870 there has been German law for Germany.

So within our time the reign of law has been extended over Germany, displacing the rule of violence between German states.

Monday—Italy's Late Arrival.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1896.

March went out like a lion, a howling blizzard raging over Duluth yesterday for nearly twenty-four hours. The storm began yesterday morning with the wind at thirty miles an hour. Then it gradually rose, and through the afternoon sailed along at a clip of from thirty-two to forty miles. The snow began about noon, and during most of the afternoon it was impossible to see more than a block. All night the wind howled and the snow kept coming down. At 7:30 o'clock this morning the wind was at its highest, reaching a velocity of fifty-two miles an hour. After that it gradually subsided and the snow ceased. The lowest point in temperature was 14 deg. above zero and the thermometer registered 5 deg. below zero and the wind blew all night at from fifty to sixty miles an hour. All the street car lines were blocked out early last evening and had not been cleared entirely at noon today, and the Lakeside and Woodland lines may not be open until tomorrow.

Dr. Floyd Davis will leave tonight for his home at Des Moines, Iowa, having concluded his analysis of Lake Superior water for the city and prepared his report thereon.

Inlet C. Morris, president of the Itasca Mercantile company at Grand Rapids, and family have left on a trip to California. He expects to be away three months and may visit Alaska before their return.

Ex-Court Officer Gillon and J. J. Ross will engage in the grocery business on Superior street, near Sixth avenue west.

R. S. Colman, the lowest bidder for the contract of furnishing riveted steel pipe for the new water plant system, has offered to take his pay in bonds if their legality is determined. The amount of his bid is about $117,000.

The ice on the lake shore is piled up about twenty-five feet high at Fifteenth avenue east for a distance of about 100 feet out in the lake. It presents a beautiful appearance.

A war to the knife between the Inman and Singer tug lines this season is predicted, the agreement reached last year having been broken.

The right type of man will start a grove of fig trees in a desert

Every Pessimist Needs an Oculist

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Cheer—don't jeer—the man thinks that he can win—help him to try. Those who can't conceive for themselves must believe in others. Of course you don't consider it possible—but your own sterile career confesses that you are unfit to pass judgment. You are incapable of originality, so you are incompetent to value it. Little men always oppose what they can't suppose. They never stand for things they don't understand.

The history of human achievement is a record of bitter battles with the forces of General Doubt.

Progress is an eternal struggle between wheels and brakes.

In each generation, an eager few insist upon moving ahead and a pin-headed majority persist in holding them back.

Your sort never invented an electric light or schemed out an automobile or saw orange groves hiding under desert sands or kept a business from going to pot.

Your mind doesn't work that way—it's a blockading intellect—a derailing brain, constantly seeking to throw enterprise off the track.

You're one of the bigoted asses who won't look beyond yesterday. Your future is embalmed in the past; precedent is your sole guide-book.

You're a numskull or a coward—without courage or convictions—minus imagination or aggressiveness—probably both.

You call yourself a conservative—"safe and sane"—but you're insane—sub-normal.

Your development has been arrested—you didn't reach full growth.

You don't realize that we abolished discouragement when we dispensed with tallow dips; both belong to darker ages.

Get a new light on affairs. What further proof do you demand of our power to do anything to which we devote our hearts and strengths and wills?

Your very home indicts you of stupidity—its telephone, its gas-range, its heating equipment, are examples of the worthwhileness of seeking to better conditions.

The very street cars that pass your door, the sewer pipes under the pavement, attest the foresight of a handful of optimists who in their day, met with the same rebuffs that you offer constructive effort in your time.

Confidence, not discouragement did it all—confidence does everything.

Civilization itself is evidence of confidence undaunted by fool opinions.

You're a confidence weevil—a miserable little insect persistently attacking hopeful undertakings in the inception—a pest depredateing the world's idea crop.

Pessimism is nothing less than conceit.

Folks who have no faith in others are simply too vain to accept any possibility for which they do not deem themselves efficient.

You reject as unfeasible whatever you can't personally comprehend.

A pint cup spills half the quart that's poured into it; it can't hold more than its capacity, nor can you measure notions bigger than your nature.

The mole is certain that there are neither sun nor stars—that's because he's blind.

Some knowledge is impossible without vision.

Every pessimist needs an oculist.

A Lean Year for Foreign Missions

WE have no money for foreign missions this year. The salvage of heathen souls cannot interest a civilization struggling to do God's work among the starving bodies of Europe.

There are homeless multitudes in Belgium and Servia and Poland whose plight deafens our purses to the spiritual peril of the black brethren.

Send your money for the rescue of lives—pay your tithe for the feeding of babies and the clothing of women and helpless old folk in the blighted Kingdoms of Grief.

We have neither resources nor time to dissipate on evangelists who count a Hottentot chief higher than an outcast child. Philanthropy is bankrupt before the appalling woe and desolation across the Atlantic. To send one dollar into the wilds during this frightful hour of white man's need is maudlin sentimentality and any missionary of any church who would deny the bereft and famine-pressed over yonder, to finance a gospel in the jungle, is no true servant of the Master.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD

Preparing For Hay Fever

In that eminently scientific journal, the Annals of Otolaryngology, Rhinology and Laryngology, for June, 1916, Dr. J. L. Goodale presents a valuable article upon pollen treatment in hay fever. Having determined by skin inoculation tests which particular pollen is accountable for a given individual's trouble, Goodale proceeds to immunize the victim against that pollen by administering a prolonged series of gradually increasing doses of the pollen hypodermically.

WILLIAM BRADY, MD

In order to find out which pollen is responsible a number of scratches are made upon the patient's skin, and different pollen extracts rubbed in. The extractive pollen alone produces a characteristic reaction. The exciting pollen being thus identified, the initial dose for immunization is determined and the dilution which just fails to excite the characteristic skin reaction in a second series of scratches inoculated with varying dilutions of the exciting toxin. Hypodermic doses are then given every two to six days. The time required for the course of treatment varies in different cases with the type of pollen sensitization and the individual patient's general condition.

Persons subject to hay fever had better stop searching for an empirical "cure" and abusing our noble, if unsatisfactory, profession. Here is the logical, common sense way to overcome the malady. Hay fever is nothing but a "sensitization" to some particular variety of pollen, and the obvious relief lies in a process of immunization against that pollen.

Now, let no one write for further particulars. We have told all there is to tell right here. We cannot give the address of any specialists, nor the cost of the treatment, nor anything else than the facts as stated. Your family doctor can answer your questions, can administer the treatment as well as anybody else. If he won't do it, then let him refer you to some one who will. Surely that would be fair enough.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Why are some doctors still prescribing it?
Answer—A physician who diagnoses a heavy cold would just naturally have no clear conception of the treatment. Some physicians prescribe tablets and proprietary medicines without knowing just what ingredients they contain. Why do they do it? Well, we suppose they don't know any better.

Glasses Do Cure Headache.
Several weeks ago we expressed a desire to hear from readers who have had experience in wearing glasses for the relief of headaches. The response has been lively. We only wish we could print all the letters. While a cured patient is proverbially ungrateful, and a disappointed one always loves to knock the doctors, nevertheless we have received over two hundred letters praising various oculists and opticians, and only four of the other kind. So we conclude that carefully fitted glasses do cure headaches—which is something like the conclusion of the fellow who said, "The world do move."

Membranous Croup Is Diphtheria.
Will plenty of fresh air keep a child from having membranous croup?
Answer—Membranous croup is an obsolete synonym for laryngeal diphtheria. Fresh air opens the airways, but it will not prevent diphtheria.

PROVIDES NAVAL AUXILIARY AND EXTENSION OF COMMERCE

Shipping Bill Now Before Congress Is Constructive Work of Highest Economic Importance; Involves Nation's Welfare in Commerce and Sure Protection in Event of War.

By MAJ. J. C. HEMPHILL.

If the United States should be compelled to go to war tomorrow it would not be possible for it to strengthen its navy by the purchase of vessels from other countries or from the owners of ships in this country because there are few ships to sell and these few could be obtained only at enormous cost, which even this marvelously rich country would not be justified in paying under severe necessity. If the bill now being considered by the committee on the merchant marine had been passed by the last congress it "would have been possible to have bought one hundred thousands of tons of excellent merchant vessels at extremely low prices, as the committee was informed by Secretary McAdoo at his recent hearing. The prices then available ranged from $10 to $60 per gross ton. Three British and one German ship of the merchant ship order were sold at the average price of $64 per gross ton. In February, 1916, two British ships and two Norwegian ships of the same general character were sold at the average price of $38 per gross ton. What the price would be now, if it were possible to buy ships at all, it is not possible to say.

The bill introduced in the house at the last session, which was clearly an emergency measure to meet an unparalleled condition, failed to pass, and the bill now awaiting congressional action is designed to be a much more constructive and permanent measure. It creates a shipping board of permanent character with very large powers of regulation and supervision, with authority to purchase or construct ships fitted out as commerce carriers and suitable at the same time as auxiliaries of the navy. This is a most important consideration if the navy is to be an effective fighting unit. As Admiral Benson, one of the most capable and trustworthy officers in the navy, has explained, there are not enough vessels in our merchant fleet to give sufficient notice to the navy in time of war, and "we would require for the navy, as it exists today, something like four or five hundred thousand tons more of naval auxiliaries than we could possibly commandeer from the present merchant shipping."

The bill provides for a shipping board with enough money to build or purchase—preferably to build in our own shipyards—a fleet of merchant vessels adapted to the needs of the navy as auxiliaries and at the same time so designed as to serve as commerce carriers in time of peace.

A Naval Reserve.
The creation of such a fleet would give the United States a naval reserve personnel from which the government could recruit the naval vessels in time of war, and this is a matter of vital importance. The shipping board would have the authority to lease or charter the vessels of the auxiliary fleet, or to sell them to American citizens, with a reservation that the government could take them back in case of need upon terms fixed by the board with the approval of the president. The board would have also the power to organize a corporation in such corporation, or all the stock, in behalf of the government, for the purpose of operating such of the ships as the board might think desirable in the interest of American commerce. The government would not operate the ships directly but through the corporation and not in competition with established ship lines owned by American private citizens which are furnishing satisfactory service at reasonable rates. It would not be required that the shipping board should organize a corporation to operate the ships through that corporation; but it would be allowed that it should do so if the conditions of our commerce made it necessary in the public interest.

The fact that the government as the chief stockholder would have the right to operate the merchant fleet organized under the bill in the opinion of Secretary McAdoo, would make it unnecessary for the government to do so.

It would be with these ships as it has been with the national banks. Under the new banking and currency law the government had the right to take all the stock in the Federal reserve banks, and this authority was conferred on the government, the national banks themselves took the stock. The objection made to the bill is that the government should not engage in commerce, that the building of ships for commercial uses is no part of the proper functions of government and that the enactment of the bill would be, in fact, equivalent to the subsidizing of shipping lines against which the Democratic party has always protested, and would be the first step and a long step towards government ownership of public utilities. The mere fact, however, as Secretary McAdoo pointed out at his hearing that the government would be the chief stockholder, or the sole stockholder, in the auxiliary fleet would not convert the government into business. The government owing all the stock of the Panama Railroad company which operates a line of steamships between New York and Panama, but the government does not operate that line or the railroad directly, but through a board of directors, selected as directors are chosen in all other corporations, by the vote of the stockholders. The bill would be the same with an corporation organized under the bill before congress to operate the auxiliary fleet provided in the bill.

What Weeks Bill Did.
The objection to the participation of the United States in such an enterprise would put the government in business in competition with private shipping concerns should congress, and particularly the senate which passed the Weeks bill in 1914 by a unanimous vote, little did we know that the United States was to detail a number of fighting ships to carry the mail and commercial cargoes between this country and South America under the direction of the secretary of the navy, and at an expense to the treasury out of all proportion to the value of the service that could possibly be rendered. The reason assigned for so extraordinary an expense of the navy was that private capitalists would not invest their money in such an undertaking and that the necessities of the country demanded the establishment of shipping lines which would give the United States communication with the countries of South America, communication which must be secured if the United States is to extend its trade into one of the richest fields in the world. The necessity is greater now than it ever was and the bill before congress would make it possible for the United States to occupy this field under conditions which would assure success without in any sense changing the character of the government and its purposes, and would at the same time provide the government with the means of taking care of its interests in case of war with any foe that might offer.

A Plain Proposition.
Secretary McAdoo has given the most intensive study to this problem and knows the pressing necessities of the situation. If the congress could not be influenced to the course he advised in his hearing by the committee on merchant marine, it would not be because in the resurrection though one should rise from the dead in its very presence. The bill is constructive work of the highest economic importance. There is no politics or partisanism in it. It is a plain proposition for the extension of the commerce of the United States into countries where there are immense possibilities for American enterprise, and it involves not only the welfare of the United States in commerce but its sure protection in the event of war.

COMBING OUT THE DOPE WITH THE TEETH OF INTERROGATION

Beell, the Old Master, the Greatest Dope Destroyer in the History of Wrestling, Will Tackle Joe Stecher, the Greatest Athletic Freak of the Age—Big Sportsmen's Show to Be Held in Duluth Curling Club—Gossip and Comment.

(BY BRUCE.)

"What can Beell do with Stecher?" Multiply that query several hundred times and you have the general trend of conversational opening that is being heard on the streets, in hotel lobbies and in places where men congregate.

That's a most difficult answer to give. Well, then, what can Beell do with Stecher? That's a most difficult answer to give. Well, then, what can Beell do with Stecher? That's a most difficult answer to give.

Why Managers Are Employed. Tom Jones, manager of Jess Willard, arrived in Chicago yesterday completely done up as the result of his labors in connection with staging the big fight.

What about Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb? There's the other big question. The wisest and most shrewd followers of the wrestling game have confessed that Stecher has them guessing completely at sea, as it were.

Stecher is the greatest freak, the greatest sensation and the greatest mystery the wrestling game has ever produced. What will he do with the 22-year-old kid do against Beell?

When the men walk from their corners the spectators open their eyes wide and look upon the face of a high school boy, slim of body, neatly built, frank of countenance, and completely built, frank of countenance, and completely built, frank of countenance.

Is it any wonder that hundreds eagerly ask "What will he do? What will he do? What will he do?"

Incipient plans of the show to be staged here Aug. 8, 9 and 10, under the auspices of the Minnesota Fish and Game Protective League, are expected upon and carried into effect.

As it planned at the present time, the show will be held in the Duluth Curling Club. On the curling floor will be scenes of camp and war life.

AMERICANS CHASE VILLA WITH MOTOR TRUCKS

The Above Illustration Shows a Shipment of Jeffery Army Trucks for Use on the Mexican Border to Haul Aeroplanes—As May Be Seen, the Wings of the Aeroplane Are Put in the Truck and the Body Is Trailed.

Chicago, April 1.—Hurry-up war orders have demonstrated what American motor truck makers can do in the way of quick mobilization of commercial vehicles at the Mexican frontier. The White company, Cleveland, Ohio, the Thomas B. Jeffery company, Kenosha, Wis., and the Packard Motor car company of Detroit have been awarded contracts for furnishing the trucks requested by Gen. Funston for the campaign to capture Villa.

Col. A. S. Smith, United States army depot quartermaster, says he believes that speed in delivery is a prime factor on which awards are based and he attributes the selection of two companies to the desire of the government to experiment in trying out different types of machines. "The speed with which American truck companies can be mobilized to supply the sudden needs of the United States army was demonstrated this week when a long-distance call came from the war department to the White company resulting in the dispatching of a special train load of White army escort trucks to the Mexican border within twenty-four hours after the order was placed. Bids were opened at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning and by 3:30 that afternoon the order was sent to the factory for twenty-seven chassis and one truck, which left 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. On Thursday morning the bodies and parts for these trucks were shipped and that evening the entire personnel of White Truck company No. 1, consisting of one truck master, three assistant truck masters, twenty-eight chauffeurs, one mechanic and a helper, left for the Mexican border.

Kenosha, Wis., April 1.—One of the first motor truck companies in the United States army left here last week for the Mexican border. The body is composed almost entirely of civilians recruited within a few hours after the receipt of a hurry-up order from Washington and was organized under the direction of Col. A. D. Kniskern, chief quartermaster of the central department of the army. The basis of the new unit is made up of twenty-seven Jeffery quads and one armored truck.

speed they never witnessed before. Five thousand units have been reserved for the delegates by the entertainment committee for the Chicago auto derby. "Speedway park" President Reid got the order yesterday from Mayor Thompson's committee.

After determining on who shall be standard bearers for the Republican party the delegates will watch the greatest spectators in the world contest for $30,000 in prizes. The race runs the last day of the convention.

Chicago, April 1.—Ray Harroun, one time international speedway champion, has become the owner of the three big Maxwells which have been campaigned for two seasons. These are the predecessors of the smaller Maxwell racing cars now in Indianapolis. Along with the cars themselves, Harroun has acquired the tools, jigs, patterns and so on which will be used in manufacturing his vintage motor.

New York, April 1.—Harry S. Harkness will compete this coming season on the speedways with the three Deage cars which were driven by Duray, Hahiot and Guyot in the French Grand Prix at Lyons in 1914. The three cars arrived in New York yesterday and are now being overhauled and fitted with new bodies. Carl Limberg, who will manage the team, will drive one of the cars.

Chicago, April 1.—So many have asked for entry blanks for the Chicago amateur drivers' race to be held May 20, that elimination will be necessary, and to weed out the slower machines the committee in charge has set up the entry miles per hour as the mark every car must make in order to qualify. It is believed that there will be at least fifty entries.

Philadelphia, April 1.—A movement is on foot in this city to revive the Fairmount park races that were so popular a few years ago. A hostile city administration prevented a continuation of the races, but with a new mayor in office it is believed the people will have their wish gratified.

Chicago, April 1.—After a rather long sojourn in South America, E. A. Moross, Detroit, Mich., has announced that Latin America is ripe for racing and that he intends making a racing team south of the equator soon. The racing contingent will go by way of Cuba and Panama.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—The first three official entries made for Indianapolis speedway, 300-mile race this year, were made by E. S. Duesenberg, the Duesenberg cars, three in number, with O'Donnell, Henderson and D'Alene as drivers.

CHAUFFEUR READY TO CAPTURE VILLA.
A patriotic native of Neenah, Wis., places nobly to the momentous occasion, volunteering his services to the Kinzel Motor Car company to capture the elusive Villa.
He writes: "I am in a position to drive one of your trucks in a search for Villa. If you can let me, let me know by return mail. I have worked in a garage twenty years, run a Ford for myself and have good habits. Please state terms and responsibility."

MANY CARS WILL GO ABROAD THIS YEAR

Every Forty-Second Person in U. S. Now Has an Automobile.

"The fact that in the United States every forty-second person of its 101,200,000 population owns an automobile leads some to wonder where the immense planned production of 1916 is going to be sold," remarks H. S. Daniels.

It is my guess that a greater percentage than ever before this year will go abroad, the relative export of planes and commercial trucks depending upon the length of the European war. "What I hear from the factory indicates that at least automobile dealers in the belligerent countries are looking for an early termination of the conflict, in which event they expect business to boom. Most of the cars in France, Germany and Russia have been seized for army use and an immense number destroyed, while many of the automobile factories are badly disorganized. "But makers in America are not depending upon foreign demand. Representative manufacturers have practically their whole possible output sold to dealers and the latter certainly are not taking the risk of contracting for more than they can dispose of."

More Price Increases.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—Owing to the increasing cost of material and of labor, The Nordyke & Marmon company announces an advance in price on the Marmon models 3 and 4. This advance to be effective immediately. Two hundred dollars has been added to the price of each model, bringing the five-passenger car to $2,900, the seven-passenger car and the three and four-passenger roadster to $2,950.

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—The Saxon Motor Car corporation's six-cylinder roadster and touring car will sell at $815 instead of $785. The reason for the increase in price is stated by officials to be due to the increased expense of manufacturing the car.

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

The Midland trail, a highway to extend from San Francisco to Washington, D. C., is the latest piece of modern roadway to cross the continent, and Kentucky will be traversed by this new highway. Officials of the executive committee named by the promoters have circulated a communication, with a map, showing the states, cities and towns that will be traversed by the new road. Leaving San Francisco, it will come to Salt Lake City, thence to Denver, Pueblo, Kansas City, St. Louis, Louisville, Lexington, Winchester, Ashland, Huntington, Charleston, Richmond and on to Washington. The distance is 2,826 miles. From St. Louis to Louisville it will run via Vincennes and cross the river at New Albany.

Oakland, Cal., April 1.—Oakland is to see that the Lincoln highway is marked as far east as Salt Lake City, with signs pointing the way, and is denoting the number of miles to this city; the western terminus of the great road.

The Lincoln highway committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is active in the work, and already a large portion of the necessary money has been raised. More will be forthcoming from the motor power show that is to be held in Oakland's $1,000,000 municipal auditorium, beginning April 24, when 20 per cent of the gross proceeds will be given to the chamber of Commerce for the highway work.

Tallahassee, Fla.—Attorney General T. F. West has received notice from the supreme court of the United States at Washington that the court has decided the case brought to test the constitutionality of the general road law of the state of Florida. It was contended in this case that the statute requiring certain residents of the state to labor on the public roads a certain number of days each year was in violation of the Federal Constitution, the claim being made that to require one to labor on public roads without compensation was involuntary servitude. It was also claimed in this suit that to require one to labor on the public roads without compensation deprived him of his property and liberty without due process of law. The court upheld the statute generally, holding that it did not violate the Federal Constitution, and that it was valid and enforceable.

Judge J. M. Lowe, who has been president of the National Old Trails Road association for the last five years, announces that the national headquarters of the road in the Midland building, Kansas City, Mo., will be closed April 1 and that he would resign from his office at once. Lack of financial support for the road is the cause.

Apache trail. The house committee on appropriations takes the view that for the government to assume in maintaining this highway would be to set a dangerous precedent. After the January floods Carl Hayden, congressman from Arizona, introduced a bill appropriating $20,000 for the repair of the Roosevelt road. The bill was referred to the appropriations committee who reported against it.

Because the Indians of the Umatilla reservation in Oregon seek to block a move to place the Mission-McKay road under the jurisdiction of the county court, the matter will be taken up with the bureau of Indian affairs. The road, about twenty miles in length, has been in use for many years but has never been turned over to the county, which refuses to spend money on roads not in its jurisdiction.

The Huntsville Chamber of Commerce, Huntsville, Ala., is organizing a movement to bring the western branch of the Dixie highway from Winchester to Huntsville, and away from Chattanooga. The failure of Rutherford county, Tennessee, to purchase the turnpikes of that county is expected to aid the movement. The advocates of the Huntsville route sent a delegation to the meeting of the Dixie Highway association March 20.

Approximately $2,000,000 will be distributed by the state of Ohio to the various counties this year for good road purposes, so State Highway Commissioner Clinton Cowen has announced. Half of the money will be available in March and the remainder some time in August. This money will be for main market roads, for inter-county roads and for maintenance of these roads.

Billings, Mont.—Montana counties expended last year on roads and bridges a total of $2,545,603.93, according to figures compiled by C. R. Melton, secretary of the state highway commission. This is an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the amount expended last year and an increase of almost $2,000,000 over the amount expended in 1913.

RACING NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

Des Moines, Iowa, April 1.—The Des Moines speedway announces the complete program of events for the season of 1916. The racing season will open on Memorial day.

The big event of the year for the Des Moines speedway will be the 300-mile free-for-all on June 28 with minimum speed requirements, a technical committee to determine the qualification of drivers, and a purse of $10,000. Bob Burman, Billy Chandler and Fred Buesenberg are prominent among those who already have entry blanks for the June 28 event.

"The fact that in the United States every forty-second person of its 101,200,000 population owns an automobile leads some to wonder where the immense planned production of 1916 is going to be sold," remarks H. S. Daniels.

It is my guess that a greater percentage than ever before this year will go abroad, the relative export of planes and commercial trucks depending upon the length of the European war. "What I hear from the factory indicates that at least automobile dealers in the belligerent countries are looking for an early termination of the conflict, in which event they expect business to boom. Most of the cars in France, Germany and Russia have been seized for army use and an immense number destroyed, while many

The Locomobile Policy

The policy of The Locomobile Company of America is to continue to build a limited number of motor cars of the very highest excellence.

To make a finer car, a more expensive car; not a cheaper car or more cars.

To use even finer materials, to develop even finer workmanship.

To maintain and develop the highest efficiency in our manufacturing organization, rather than increase its size.

To continue to build six-cylinder motor cars with four speed transmissions; large cars and not small cars; and not more than "Four Cars a Day."

To introduce into our product an even more luxurious quality, an even more aristocratic note.

To make the LOCOMOBILE even more distinctive and more desirable.

To have the price of the LOCOMOBILE result from its high quality, simply a function of cost, and higher as the cost is higher.

NOTES FROM THE FACTORIES

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—An investigation made among the local motor car manufacturers shows that there has been little change in the freight car shortage situation during the last four weeks. Several manufacturers say the situation is worse rather than better, one or two only say there is a very slight improvement.

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—The Chalmers Motor company has begun the construction of a new four-story manufacturing building to be known as Building No. 2. Only parts for Chalmers models of past years are to be made in that structure.

now being erected to the motor department, also a one-story stockroom between the motor and assembly rooms. Gradually other enlargements will be made and by the end of July it is expected that there will be room to give employment to at least 2,000 men.

Jackson, Mich., April 1.—R. T. Walsh has been appointed advertising manager of the Briscoe Motor corporation. Mr. Walsh is one of the best-known men in the automobile advertising field. For several years he was advertising manager of the Maxwell Motor company, and previous to this connection he was assistant advertising manager of the Ford Motor company.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 1.—The name of Locomobile as applied to motor trucks built by the Locomobile company of America, this city, has been changed to Riker, the new name being a distinct recognition of the work of Andrew L. Riker, now vice president of the company, and who has been in charge of engineering since the four-cylinder Locomobile car was brought out in 1904.

Wilmington, Del., April 1.—The Princess Motor Car company of Detroit, Mich., has been incorporated under the laws of Delaware, with a capital of $1,000,000, to manufacture motor cars and all parts. The incorporators are O. C. White of Detroit and Isaac N. White and Frank W. Barbee, both of Pittsburgh, Pa.

St. Louis, Mo., April 1.—Russell E. Gardner, president of the Chevrolet Motor company, this city, received recently a contract from the Chevrolet Motor company of New York for the manufacture and delivery of 200,000 bodies to be built in one year and costing approximately $4,000,000.

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—Additions to the Studebaker corporation plant here, involving an expenditure of $1,000,000 for building and equipment, are now practically completed. It means that production will soon be increased to at least 400 cars a day, instead of 300 as now, and that this year's output will probably be 100,000 cars.

On Tuesday, March 21, another record was broken at the big Willlys-Overland factory, Toledo. On that day, orders were received for 2,243 cars, the greatest daily record for orders yet established by them.

Kanonska, Wis., April 1.—The Thomas B. Jeffrey company, this city, has increased the wages of 2,000 employees 10 per cent and reduced the working hours to fifty a week for day work and fifty-five for night work.

New York city, April 1.—W. McK. White has resigned as sales manager of the Loider Motor company, Detroit, Mich., to form the company of Holden and White, Chicago. This company will act as general sales agent for four manufacturers of railroad supplies.

 OFFER MAXWELLS TO CHASE VILLA.  El Paso, Tex., April 1.—Owners of 140 Maxwells, living in and around El Paso, have offered their services and cars to Gen. Pershing of the U. S. army for use as scouts in any area in which troops. The owners have all signed an agreement to place their cars at the disposal of the army.

"SAFETY FIRST" MOVEMENT GROWS

Organization Starts Campaign to Educate Drivers and Pedestrians.

Few movements for the good of the general public have attained greater national importance and influence than that of the "safety first" movement, which has been instituted by various societies and organizations in the last year. The slogan "safety first" has become one of vital human meaning and great work has been done to reduce accidents and the chances of accidents by the use of this slogan.

SUN NEVER SETS UPON THE AUTOMOBILE

The sun never sets on the land of the automobile. Like Pegasus' ancient chariot, the automobile follows the sun around the globe, and from the reports of the globe reports of the invasion of new lands by the motor car. Four years ago there was not a motor car in Hongkong. Today there are eighty, seventy-four of which are American made. It is estimated that 70 per cent of all the cars in the Chinese empire are American.

CHALMERS "FITS" WILLARD.

Huge Pupilist Finds Car "Big Enough" Behind Steering Gear. Within a few minutes after concluding his fast argument with Frank Moran Saturday evening, Jess Willard and his manager, Tom Jones, stepped into a Chalmers six and were whisked away to their hotel.

lard has had constant need for a car, but experienced some trouble in securing a machine with sufficient space behind the steering wheel to accommodate his huge frame. Manager George Stone of the New York Chalmers branch came to his aid with the offer of a new six, and the car has been at his disposal for several weeks.

Willard is an expert driver, having owned several well known American cars. He is planning a cross-country tour for the coming summer and intends to make the trip in his Chalmers.

BIGGER SITE FOR FORD.

Six-Acre Tract in Detroit Acquired From Diocese. Detroit, Mich., April 1.—The Ford Motor company has acquired six acres of land and the buildings which made up the St. Francis Orphans' Home for Boys. This property is located on Woodward avenue and constituted a new or duplicate of the parent plant to be erected by acquiring the land, the Ford company now owns property extending about 2,700 feet along Woodward and about 2,600 feet along Manchester avenue.

ENGLISH GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL GASOLINE

London, England, April 1.—Claiming that gasoline must be economized, the British authorities are about to take possession of all stocks and control all sales to the public. Under this scheme the commercial vehicle users, and the army and navy, will have a preferential oil, followed by doctors and other professional men. Private motorists will come last.

FARMERS "NOT SO POOR."

It is pointed out by G. C. Frey of the Kieselcar that the 2,000,000 automobiles reported in service in the United States at the close of 1915 represented only a little more than one-third the value of the corn crop. This throws light on the ability of the average farmer to buy a car.

ARMORED MOTOR BATTERY.

Equipment of New York National Guard to Cost $100,000. New York, April 1.—An armored motor battery is being organized and mustered into the New York National guard at the armory of the twenty-second engineers.

The equipment for the battery built like those on European battlefields, will cost more than $100,000. The funds were given for the purpose of Elbert H. Gary, Henry C. Frick, James M. Wallace, Dudley Otis, H. Col. William F. Thompson and Lieut. Harry G. Montgomery, who will command the outfit.

The Gala Going of the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers Will Enchant You

The peppery pick-up of this energetic car has put color and tang into popular-priced motoring that was never there before.

There's delight in every revolution of her engine—and there are 3400 revolutions per minute every time the crankshaft attains its maximum speed, which is the highest ever developed in an American stock car.

Her glad, gala going springs from the terrific speed of an engine that was built, however, for much more than mere car speed.

Great force unites with obedience. There are sparkle and response in this 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers that you'll look for in vain in most cars with high-speed engines.

By checking the awful kick of her motor down to a point that corresponds to 60-mile-an-hour speed, her engineers were able to give you instantaneous pick-up and 18 miles of fervent flight for every gallon of gas.

You save $150 to $200 per year in gasoline bills and add many miles to the life of your tires by driving the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers.

Her riding comfort matches her economy of performance—and both spring from the same causes. This is why: her heavy, hardened crankshaft is balanced to the weight of a hair; a perfect balance of power is required and delivered by each of her six cylinders; and finally all useless weight, pressure, and friction have been removed from all reciprocating parts and bearing surfaces.

There is undreamed-of riding comfort in the even, pleasant stream of might that flows at any and every speed to her rear wheels.

One rejuvenating jaunt with your foot on the accelerator of this ruly, spirited creature, and you'll know why she has cast her spell over 740 American cities.

Until you know how it feels to release the delicious rush of power from a 3400 r. p. m. engine, you'll never know the delight of real motoring.

The performance of this engine gave me the surprise of my life—and I expected a lot from her.

She's off like a hare after every crossing stop with never a sign of effort or hint of fret. She slips from speed to speed like a dream-car. She hits the hardest grade with the lightest heart. I know, because I've put her to every conceivable test.

And what she'll do for me, she'll do for you.

Motor Car corporation has shipped 3,787 cars or 2,337 more than during these corresponding months in 1915. This is an increase in shipments of 144 per cent.

With nearly doubled facilities for both manufacture and assembly, the Maxwell plants in Detroit are now producing daily more than 300 cars, a rate which will be greatly increased before the close of March.

The Kalamazoo, Mich., April 1.—The States Motor Car Manufacturing company, capital $500,000, has been organized here and will immediately begin the manufacture of four and eight-cylinder pleasure cars and a light commercial wagon.

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—In five years, from 1910 to the end of 1915, the Hudson Motor Car company has added a total of 84,600 square feet of floor space to its plant.

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—Two stories are being added to the plant of the Hupp Motor Car company, and will provide nearly 26,000 feet of additional space.

DULUTH-PORT ARTHUR ROAD LEADS THROUGH THE PICTURESQUE LAKE SHORE SCENERY

This week's issue of the Motor Age contains the following interesting account of the Duluth-Port Arthur highway.

"Motor travelers through Minnesota this season will find a new road running along the rugged shores of Lake Superior, through deep forests and between rocky ranges of mountains 600 to 800 feet high. The road will lead from Duluth to Port Arthur, Conn. It is 170 miles to the boundary, where connection will be made with the splendid Canadian road, extending at least sixty miles farther.

"The Minnesota state highway commission has supervised the road. The state will pay 80 per cent of the cost on the average and the counties the remainder, except that two years ago Lake county put out a bond issue of $40,000, whose proceeds largely are being distributed on the new road. The work cost $150,000, a sum which does not include the older portion between Duluth and Two Harbors a few miles north of Duluth.

"It is no easy task to create the magnificent gravel top highway which Minnesota will complete next season.

John H. Mullen, deputy engineer, returned recently from a motor tour over the road. He describes the highway as averaging sixteen feet between ditches with gravel eight feet wide. The route through the pine forests is cleared forty feet wide. It is all new location from a point fifteen miles east of Two Harbors as far as the boundary.

"Engineering required deflections from section lines to get around the mountains, through timber and rock formations, which added to the scenic value for touring. The consistency of the road is about 40 per cent pebbles, 30 to 40 per cent sand, 10 to 20 per cent clay.

"In its efforts to make the most of the lake region of the state for motorists and to open up new sections the highway commission finished an extremely difficult work on a road from Carlton, near Duluth, thirty miles northwest to the Aitkin county line last fall. It was said that such a road could not be built, but the state engineer, G. W. Cooley, has accomplished the feat which included over-coming five miles of swamp.

NEW FORM OF AUTO CONTEST POPULAR

Assembling of Parts By Employees of Rival Cars Is Exciting Sport.

San Francisco, Cal., April 1.—A new form of automobile contest that promises to spread from coast to coast has been invented by members of the Oldsmobile and Buick sales agencies here. It is an assembly contest, in which twelve trained men from rival sales agencies vie against each other in piecing together two machines, which have been previously disjoined into as many component parts as possible.

The initial contest was staged at the Empress theater here, and pulled off mid-sevens of wildest enthusiasm. The curtain went up on a clutter of automobile parts defying description. Ponderers were off, lamps on the floor, radiator leaning against a post, the axles out, the transmission torn asunder; in short, instead of there being cars, there was simply a chaotic mass of parts.

At the shot of a revolver twelve men sprang to their work, and then began a chapter out of Grimm's fairy tales—mechanical fairy tale, in which a dozen nimble young men in overalls apparently waved wands and caused objects about them to be transformed. Hermann the Great himself would have looked on with wonder.

"Presto change!" Two minutes flat, and the Oldsmobile, a four-stroke complete upon the floor. Twenty-one seconds later, and the Buick followed suit, deflated but not disarrayed. Because of the interest in the contest, it is predicted it will spread all over the country, a more sensational form of competition having seldom been witnessed by theater patrons.

FORD MAN INVENTS FRONT WHEEL BRAKE

Ray H. Young, an inspector in the Ford Motor company's plant, is the inventor of a front-wheel brake which can be attached to any automobile and which has proved highly successful in a number of tests. He has made application for a patent and recently was informed that the application will be granted.

The brake for front wheels is operated by the foot pedal and is applied simultaneously with the application of the rear-wheel brakes. Both front wheels are equipped with brake drums like those on the rear wheels. A rod runs from the foot pedal to a rocker shaft on which are attached the brake arms holding the brake shoes. When the foot pedal is pushed down the shoes are thrown against the drums.

The simplicity of the arrangement, and the fact that it can be operated simultaneously with the rear-wheel brakes, makes it the most successful device of its kind ever invented. In the opinion of those who have seen it in operation, the greatest advantage to be obtained from a front-wheel brake is the elimination of skidding. Also, because the greatest proportion of the weight of a machine is on the front wheels, brake control is highly effective when applied to the front wheels as well as to those on the rear.

It gives greater security to the driver, who can be reasonably assured at all times that he will be able to control his machine by one set of brakes or the other. Because double brakes prevent skidding and skidding, they will prove beneficial in reducing tire wear.

- Greater luxury,
- Greater ease of operation,
- Greater smoothness,
- Greater flexibility,
- Greater endurance;
- Appreciating these things, is it not perfectly logical that the Eight-Cylinder Cadillac should enjoy a larger ownership than any other model of high grade car in the world?

"TIME PAYMENT" PLAN POPULAR

Manufacturers Have Arranged to Co-operate With Dealers.

More than the usual amount of interest is being manifested in the newly formed Guaranty Securities Corporation of New York since it became rumored about that its proposed "time payment" plan for automobile dealers had attracted the attention of bankers and financial experts whose names are linked only with big operations.

The time payment plan is not new to the automobile industry, as several manufacturers already have completed arrangements with their dealers whereby they can operate on a deferred payment basis. But today these people are predicting the announcement of a sensational plan that will virtually revolutionize the marketing of motor cars.

Therefore when the gossip first began to spread about financial circles that a new plan was under way that would greatly affect future methods of buying and selling automobiles, it created nothing more than the usual comment.

They base their predictions on the fact that this new company is capitalized on the basis of handling $50,000,000 worth of automobile paper this year. This together with the prominent men who are said to be associated with the company has created the impression that the new selling plan is to become one of the big factors in the automobile business.

One of the features of the Guaranty Securities plan is that it embraces dealers handling various makes of cars. It is not limited to any one particular class. On the contrary, it is said to be uniform for all and national in its scope.

AUTOIST HITS MAN AND SPEEDS AWAY

An automobile which struck John Hoffman, 38, as he stepped from a curb and started across Lower Lake Avenue last night, sped away without offering any assistance to the injured man, who was left lying in the gutter.

Patrolman Leding found him later and took him to St. Luke's hospital in the police emergency. His right leg was broken. Police are looking for the automobile.

The final test of the new Case 40 comes when you put to work those parts beneath the hood. When it comes to a long, hard pull, or to a steep climb, you will realize how faithful this car is. And then after you have owned it a long time and driven it 100,000 miles, you will appreciate the Case standard of construction.

Proofs such as these are already known by Case owners and accepted as a matter of course. They are familiar with Case ideals, and they know just what the Case standard has saved for them in money and how much it has meant in genuine satisfaction.

EVERYTHING IS SCOTCH AT BANQUET OF LEWIS SOCIETY

Scotch dishes, Scotch music, Scotch dances and even the Gaelic language were in evidence last night at the Stewart hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, when 100 members of the Lewis society held their fifth annual banquet.

The menu cards for the banquet read "trench, soup, turbot, haddock, salmon, and golden gillies," but the diners enjoyed the various dishes immensely, anyway.

Following the banquet, Alex Macrae, president of the Duluth Lewis society, gave an address of welcome, opening the program of entertainment. The numbers included: Bagpipe selections, John McLean and Robert Mowbray; Gaelic song, John H. Matheson; address, Simon Clark; Highland fling, Miss Daisy Macaskill; reading, Mrs. T. R. Hancock; song, Mrs. P. M. Young; reading, Thomas Chalmers; song, Miss Marion McLennan; address, Don E. McLennan; Highland selections, Miss Katherine Macaulay; song, John H. Matheson; Scotch reel, Don E. McLennan; John Smith, John H. Matheson and Dr. A. Graham; Lewis quartet, Capt. Murdo McLennan, D. M. Morrison, Don E. McLennan and Alex Macrae. Miss Mina Macaskill was accompanist.

After the program the "lads" and "lassies" danced the Highland fling and schottisches, with bagpipes assisting the orchestra.

COMPROMISE IS OFFERED

Firemen May Have $10,000 and Double Platoon in Three Years.

Commissioners Will Call Election If Offer Is Refused.

If members of the fire department file the initiative petition for a double platoon system the city commissioners will stand pat and place the issue before the voters at a special election this spring.

This was initiated by the commissioners following a conference with a delegation of ten firemen in the council chambers yesterday afternoon, when a compromise was offered in place of the double platoon system.

Leaders of the fight declared last night that the offer would be rejected and indications now are that it will be up to the voters of Duluth to decide whether or not they want a double platoon system.

Compromise Offered.
The compromise offered the firemen at the conference yesterday included a promise to appropriate $10,000 as an additional fund for the fire department fund when the 1917 budget is made out in the fall, $10,000 more in 1918 and the final installment of $10,000 in 1919. It is up to the firemen, according to the offer of the commissioners, to use the $10,000 appropriated next year, either for giving a blanket raise of 15 a month for every man in the department or for hiring a dozen men, so that the present employees would get off one day every five instead of every six days, as at present in the second year the men would have one day in four, while in the third year, when the $30,000 appropriation is made, the double platoon system would go into effect.

Money Not Available.
Members of the council explained that the city will not have sufficient funds with which to establish a double-platoon system. They pointed out to the firemen that such an enormous increase for one department alone would cripple the entire city and that all the divisions would suffer considerably during the year as a result. A gradual scale of additional appropriations is possible, they said, and this plan was a compromise to the establishment of the double platoon in the first year.

"It will do you no good to carry an election calling for installation of the double-platoon system," Commissioner Voss told the firemen. "That wouldn't raise the money. The council hasn't got the money to install the system point blank, and the only way we could get it would be to cut down the number of firemen, or reduce the salaries. We must work out the problem along some practical line, and it seems to me the offer we are making is the most we can possibly be expected to make."

Should the platoon system controversy go before the voters of the city and carry, it is the opinion of the commissioners that the council, to carry out the wishes of the voters, would be forced to reduce the fire department force or cut the salaries of the members.

The conference with the firemen lasted an hour, after which the members of the delegation agreed to submit the proposals to the employees of the fire department and submit their answer at an early date. Chief Randall was present at the hearing.

PART OF CODE COMPLETED

Finished Section Relates to Freight and Passenger Elevators.

Permits and Inspection Are Required By Proposed Regulation.

Members of sub-committee No. 3 are the first to complete their section of the proposed building, electrical and plumbing code.

That part of the code relating to freight and passenger elevators, inspection and operation, was completed yesterday by the sub-committee, of which E. W. Burbeck is chairman. The meeting was held at the general code committee's headquarters in the Palladio building.

A draft of the section governing the construction of elevators has been completed by Edward Semple, secretary of the general committee, and this will be submitted by Chairman Burbeck when all the other sub-committees get together to discuss the various sections for the purpose of combining them into the combined building code.

According to the draft of the section just completed by sub-committee No. 3, the code will include "all passenger and freight elevators, hoists, lifts, derricks, dumb-waiters or any mechanical devices which employ ropes, cables, pulleys, or platforms, whether permanently or temporarily fixed in position, for the purpose of conveying building materials or any other load in a building or structure, above or below the grade line."

Before installing an elevator of any kind, application must be made to the building inspector, while the latter must inspect same when completed. The elevator receives the approval of the inspector, then it can go into operation.

The measure, which consists of twenty pages, includes the following sub-heads: Inspection and test load, authority of inspectors, records of inspection, and enclosures, fireproof enclosures and their construction, freight elevator enclosures, cables and counterweights, guides and guide posts, overhead sheaves, beams and floors, depth of pits, safety devices for car or platform, automatic speed governors, lights in shafts, mechanical and electrical brakes, hand-ropes operated elevators, windows in hoistways, sidewalk elevators and license to operate elevators.

The members of sub-committee No. 3 follow: E. W. Burbeck, chairman; G. A. Parker, vice chairman, and R. Thayer, John Burnett, Clem Nowak, D. E. Black, Edward Krause and John Smith.

PAIGE

The Standard of Value and Quality

You Must Place Your Order Now If You Want "Immediate Delivery"

Once again, we must urge you to act quickly in placing your order for a Paige Fairfield seven passenger "Six-46."

Don't delay. Don't put the matter off one day longer than is absolutely necessary if you would avoid disappointment later on.

Already the factory is flooded with orders for this wonderfully popular model.

Despite the fact that our manufacturing facilities have been tripled, we are facing an immediate shortage of Fairfields, and the spring retail season is only a few weeks off.

Just stop for a minute and consider the significance of the statement when we tell you that, so far in 1916, we have marketed more seven passenger cars than any other manufacturer in our price class.

Also, ponder over the fact that during March we shipped 25 solid train loads of the Fairfield model exclusively.

Last year, you will remember, there was a long Paige "waiting list."

Hundreds of people delayed their purchases until the last minute—and were then compelled to accept sixty and ninety days delivery—or compromise on a "second best."

So, be fair to yourself. Protect your own good interests. Go to the Paige dealer—place a cash deposit in his hands—and make sure that you will receive the car of your choice.

It is by no means our purpose to "stamped" motor car buyers into early or ill-advised purchases, but we know that a shortage is coming and offer this information in a sincerely helpful spirit.

And now let us say a word about the car itself.

First and foremost, we want to remind you that the Paige Fairfield "Six-46" is a tried and proven success.

When you buy a Paige "Six-46" today, you are buying a car which has passed the experimental stage. You are buying a car of known quality—known ability.

In a word, the "Six-46" is an eminently safe automobile investment.

It is a good car—not merely because we say so—but because its owners have conclusively established this goodness in the grueling tests of more than a year's actual road work.

Here, then, is one substantial reason for the overwhelming demand which the "Six-46" enjoys. And there is another—basic reason which has made this record possible.

Time and time again, we have stated our policy of scrupulously avoiding any expression in Paige advertising which might savor of exaggeration or misrepresentation. We make an honest product and we propose to sell it in an honest way.

But, facts are facts, and we boldly and fearlessly claim that the Paige Fairfield "Six-46" represents more actual dollar-for-dollar value than any other motor car on the market.

If this appears to be a broad statement we invite you to check us up by inspecting the car, riding in it, and conducting any comparative investigation which you may care to make.

Understand, we do not claim to make the only good motor car, nor do we ask you to believe that our Fairfield is the best American make.

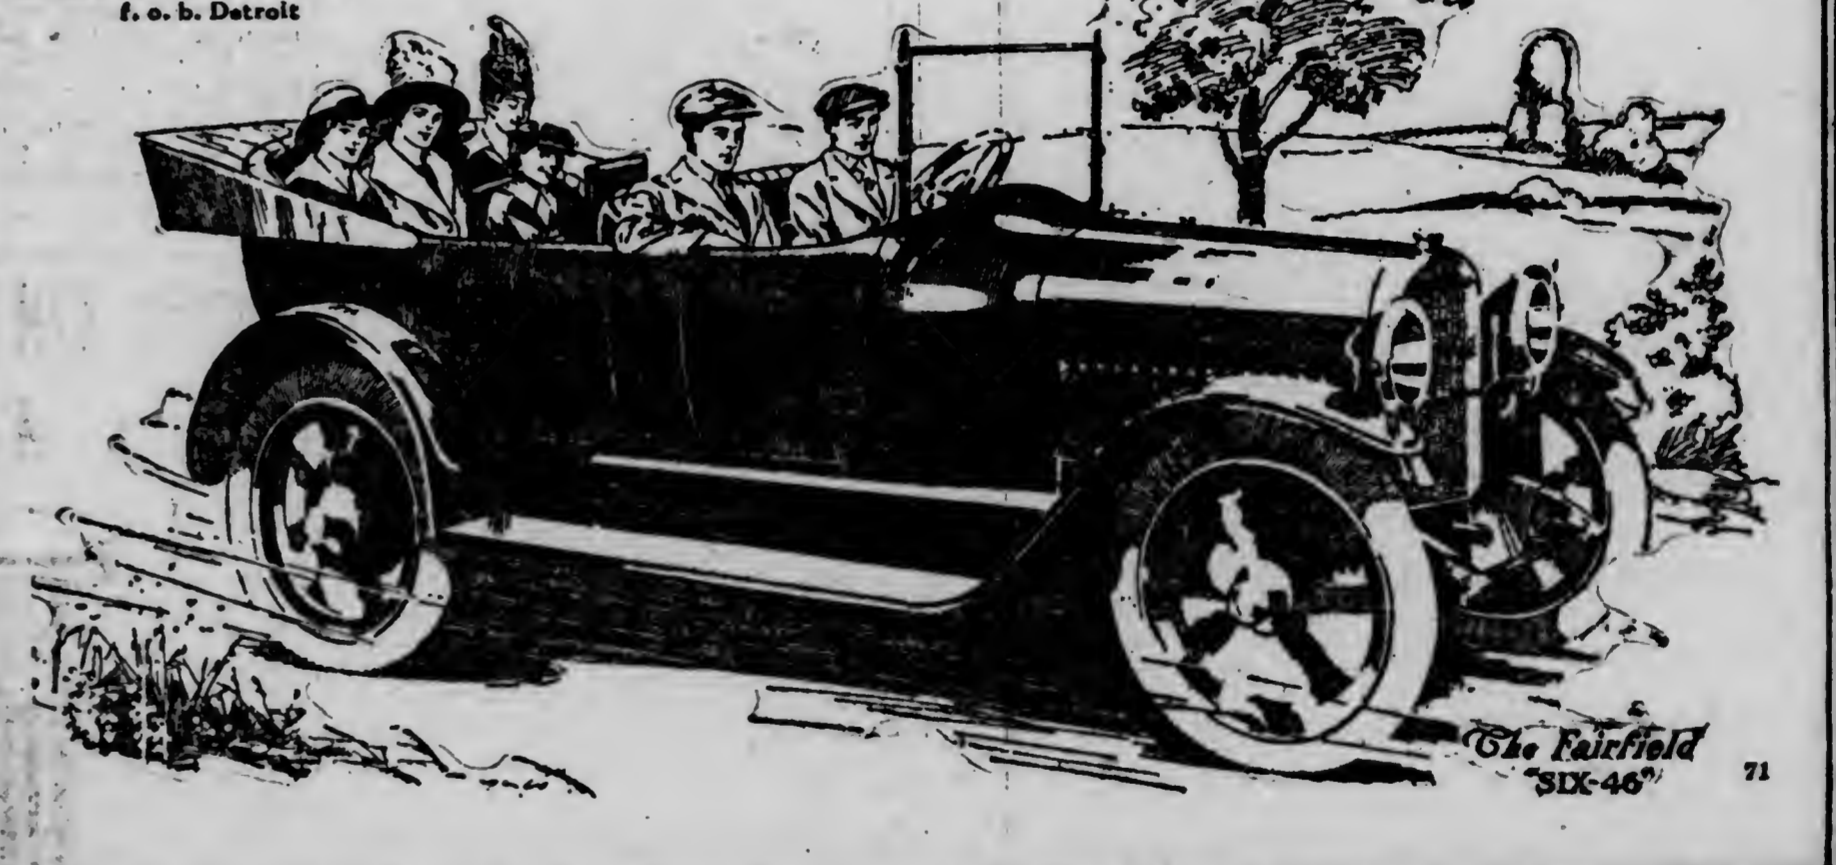

But we do most emphatically insist that the "Six-46" offers a greater value for its price—$1295—than any other automobile produced in this country or abroad.

Furthermore, you will heartily agree with us if you will permit the Paige Dealer to give you one thorough demonstration—just one.

But, please don't forget—you must act quickly. Get your order in now—before it is too late.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the university chapter of the National Security League, resolutions were passed in opposition to the Hay defense bill now before the senate, pronouncing the bill entirely inadequate. A poll of student sentiment was decided upon through the Daily. Each morning for a week blanks are to appear on the front page of the paper upon which the students are to answer certain questions put to them regarding national defense. The faculty and student members of the club are opposed to any half way measures and urge the students to keep in touch with their congressmen and do all they can to show him the sentiment of the folks back home.

Prof. A. J. Todd discovered pictures in a deserted part of the Sociological museum which are valued at several hundred dollars. There is a mystery connected with the pictures for no one knows when or whence they came. They are views of child labor, housing problems and immigration groups. There are several dozen in all, each about 12 by 18 inches and framed in a plain black frame. The pictures have been hung in the corridor near the sociology department and are to be the beginning of a series which will be hung from time to time if student interest is keen enough. The discovery of books, valued at over $20,000, found in the attic of the same building about a year ago. The books had been there since the construction of the building over six years ago.

The city of Minneapolis has turned to the agricultural college for help. She has been having trouble with her milkmen for many years and has had several laws governing the quality of phrine. The classrooms are but half full and the libraries are quite empty while the seekers of culture roam aimlessly over the campus knoll and along the river bank, choosing to derive their education in the first warm sun rays and southern breezes of the year. The record of cuts is rising at an alarming rate, giving promise of numerous visits, on rainy days, to the offices of the deans and administrative board, giving promise of numerous visits, on rainy days, to the offices of the deans and administrative board, giving promise of numerous visits, on rainy days, to the offices of the deans and administrative board.

The campus celebrities are to see themselves as others see them on Friday and Saturday nights when the sophomores will present "The Campus Follies." There are to be four large choruses made up of sophomores men and women, each chorus representing some phase of university life from the Minnesota Magazine to the Vanity Fair girls.

Spring has swept over the campus and transformed all of the erstwhile students into indolent worshippers at her shrine.

SCHMAHL'S EYE ON U. S. SENATE

Clapp Said to Have Declined Not to Be Candidate.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 1.—The Tribune says: The United States senatorial situation in Minnesota was all muddled up again yesterday. Two days ago it was assumed that Frank B. Kellogg would make a three-cornered fight for the Republican senatorial nomination. Last night the outlook was that Kellogg, Eberhart, Julius A. Schmahl and C. A. Lindbergh would be the contestants.

A Minneapolis man who is closely associated in a business and personal way with C. A. Lindbergh, Sixth district congressman, said that Mr. Lindbergh had definitely made up his mind to enter the senatorial contest and that Senator Clapp had informed Mr. Lindbergh that he would retire from the field in Mr. Lindbergh's favor.

The report that Julius A. Schmahl has senatorial ambitions is a new one. The secretary of state for a long time has been threatening to run for governor, but each day he has become more and more impressed that Governor Burquist has the nomination well in hand.

Wednesday Mr. Schmahl announced that he would be a candidate to succeed himself.

But when he heard that Senator Clapp would not be a candidate for reelection, Mr. Schmahl began at once to figure just what chance a certain "well known German" might have in such a field.

Spring Term will begin at the Duluth Business University Monday April 3.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NOTES
 The subject for study this week is "The Consecration of Time," the scripture reference being found in Ps. xc, 1-11.

Suggestive Thoughts—Time is a factor in all parts of our lives. If it is not consecrated our lives cannot be. You will have other days, but you will never again have this day. It is your last chance at this special portion of time. Time is the only possession which comes equally to all, but the ability to use it well is very unequally possessed by all. Time is like a horse which, eaten by one animal, becomes wool, by another hair, by another quills.

At Hope Evangelical church, Fifth street and Sixth avenue east, the Sunday school begins at 10 o'clock and the preaching services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Rev. C. B. MILLER BROS. -LADIES TAILORS- (Second Floor) 405 EAST SUPERIOR STREET.

STYLES will hold the attention of the feminine world the first three days of next week, and from then on there will be a mad rush in the endeavor to make things seem "what they ain't," i. e., a last year's hobbie skirt posing as a boufant and fluffy hoop skirt, or trying to use your husband's last year's derby disguised as a Merry Widow sailor.

Imagination will play a large part in these transformations if they do take place. Imagination seems to be coming back into its own again; it has been unnecessary for so long. From the advance showing of materials and color combinations it would seem as if most anything might "go," but it will be easier to judge of this latter within the next few weeks, also to see how far they'll go.

Easter is still three weeks away and during that time church duties and clothes will hold the attention of a large number of Duluth women.

Bed Time Tales

By Clara Ingram Judson

RIGHT and early the next morning the youngest South-breeze always could be found feeling as cheerful and happy as he was last evening," said the youngest South-breeze to himself.

He was not long in finding the answer that question, because he could hear Billy's happy song long before he reached the live oak tree where Billy would be found.

"Hello there, Billy Robin," he called gaily. "You seem to feel better this morning."

"Feel better?" exclaimed Billy Robin. "I should say I do! I was just hoping though you had a good many friends, could tell you good-by before I start!"

"Good-by?" Billy Robin asked, feeling as if he were in a daze. "Surely you are not leaving us, Billy?"

"Surely, Anne," said Billy. "I am hoping to get off today but I may not make it till tomorrow. And I can hardly wait to start!"

"But Billy Robin," said the youngest South-breeze, surely you do not want to leave us? Wouldn't you rather spend your summer in the South?"

"I don't know," said Billy. "I am glad to go, but I like the South in the cold winter time. For summer, give me my own garden and all my friends! I can hardly wait to see you."

"To see them all?" asked the youngest South-breeze. "You speak as though you had a good many friends."

"That I have," replied Billy Robin. "I have a good many friends. I have had a happy north all this long cold winter. I guess he will be glad when I get home. I have a good many friends and Tommy Tittle-mouse. I'm a great friend of Tommy's, and Friend Carl and all the other birds."

"I have many friends in my summer garden," said Billy. "I can hardly wait to see you."

"I see that you have," said the youngest South-breeze wistfully. "I'd like to know them, and be rushed off to find 'Of course you would,' agreed Billy Robin eagerly, and you are going to see your mother around here."

"Good-by!" asked the youngest South-breeze in a daze. "I'll tell her just where I live. Then when she takes you all north, as you surely will in a few weeks, she can send you right to my very garden. And you may live there to get something out of my friends. Will you like that?"

"Will?" exclaimed the youngest South-breeze, and he rushed off to find his mother.

She called at once and Billy had a long wistful conversation with her. Just what Billy said, Mrs. South-breeze never knew. She was quite satisfied with Billy's story.

So the youngest South-breeze blew off to attend to his work and Billy went on with his preparations for his trip.

With the Musicians

It will no doubt interest musicians all over the country to hear Henry Rothwell's ideas on the subject of building up an orchestra for the purpose of fostering American talent and ambition. Mr. Rothwell formerly conducted the Paul Symphony orchestra and his idea is that such an organization should remain together during the summer and not disband and scatter over the country, as most orchestras do. Strict routine and constant working together are the essential factors for the finest artistic development of an orchestra. Engagements could be secured in parks, thereby affording the best in music to all classes. In the winter the symphony orchestra should tour extensively, presenting concerts in all the larger cities and becoming known as an institution devoted to the furtherance of American merit and ambition. The ideal of an institution of this kind would have to be well endowed and maintained on a large scale.

The Strand theater in New York, home of moving pictures, claims to have the largest musical library of any theater in New York. It is not in the United States, according to an article in Musical America. "There are without a doubt institutions all over the world that have larger symphonic or operatic libraries than the Strand," says B. A. Rolfe, managing director of the house. "But, taken as a whole, I am certain that no other theater in New York has a larger orchestral library. It is a single feature of the Strand which is a hundred compositions. We must have music descriptive of every human emotion imaginable. No matter what the emotion is, we must be able to describe it musically. In order to do this we have to dig into compositions long forgotten, and we must also keep right up to the minute. Our library contains classics by old and modern masters, as well as popular music of all kinds and descriptions."

So absorbed has Paris, and, for that matter, all France, been in the more serious phases of life in war time, that but scant information has trickled through regarding what is actually going on in the music world of the country. Many of the musicians there are in a sad plight financially, just as is the case in Germany, in England and even in neutral countries, but there is movement and operatic activity, and there has been generally supposed, according to details recently received through private sources. The Opera Comique, for instance, has been running on a regular schedule for several months, producing most of the works that constitute its staple articles of musical diet, and even venturing to stage a novelty now and again. This season's two principal works are "Le Caid de Noe" by Xavier Leroux, the composer of "Le Chemineau," and "Le Tambour" by Alfred Bruneau, whose "L'Attaque du Moulin" was introduced in New York by the Metropolitan forces at the New theater. Then reviews have been announced of "The Polish Jew," "Sapho" and "La Charmante Rosalie." Then, to add a special pinch of anti-bellum operatic salt to the season, Mary Garden is taking her place once more on the scene of her debut triumphs. For having come back in war time and flitted out her Paris home as a hospital for the wounded, "our Mary" is more popular than ever with the Paris public. The operas chosen for her appearances at the Opera Comique are "Tosca," "Sapho" and "Moliere," and one in which she has never had a chance

It will no doubt interest musicians all over the country to hear what Henry Rothwell's ideas on the subject of holding up an orchestra for the purpose of fostering American talent and ambition. Mr. Rothwell formerly conducted the St. Paul Symphony orchestra and his idea is that such an organization should remain together during the summer and not disband and scatter over the country, as most orchestras do. Strict routine and constant working together are the essential factors for the finest artistic development of an orchestra. Engagements could be secured in parks, thereby affording the best in music to all classes in the winter the symphony orchestra should tour extensively, presenting concerts in all the larger cities and becoming known as an institution devoted to the furtherance of American merit and ambition. Of course, an institution of this kind would have to be well endowed and maintained on a large scale.

The Strand theater in New York, home of moving pictures, claims to have the largest musical library of any theater in New York, if not in the United States, according to an article in Musical America.

There are without a doubt institutions all over the world that have larger symphonic or operatic libraries than we have at the Strand," says B. A. Rolfe, managing director of the house. "But, taken as a whole, I am certain that no other theater in New York has a larger orchestral library."

Have You a Daguerreotype or Tintype in Your Family?
New York Has New Craze; Early Pictures of Duluthians

MRS. A. E. WALKER (AT RIGHT).
Taken at Manistec, Mich.

MRS. HARRIET CAREY.
From a Tintype Taken at Age of 16.

TINTYPE OF MRS. WILLIAM I. PRINCE (AT LEFT).
Taken at New London, Wis.

Seventy-six years ago, in March, 1840, the first daguerreotype gallery in this country was opened in New York. This style of portraiture flourished until 1860, when it was succeeded by the ambrotype, a collodion picture on glass, which was in turn succeeded by photographs on paper.

Now, after all these years, New York society is daguerreotype mad and is willing to pay almost any price to photographers who will revive the process. Meanwhile, New York is taking its daguerreotypes from long unopened chests and trunks and putting them in cabinets with other precious things. Perhaps it isn't affection for mother, father, grandfather, grandmother, Aunt Sarah and Uncle Jonas that is responsible for their pictures, but the light of day again as much as it is family pride, for a daguerreotype was an indication of a certain financial standing that everyone could not boast.

Most of the daguerreotypes of adults are persons who have passed away, but some members of the present generation have daguerreotypes of themselves at tender ages.

Among Duluthians who have daguerreotypes of themselves are Mrs. Helen L. Gage and Mrs. Sarah F. Stewart. Mrs. Gage's was taken in Syracuse, N. Y., when she was 2 or 3 years old. Added to the list of posing is the photographer was the equally great trial of keeping a position for several seconds, and the small subject shows that she was both tired and cross. The daguerreotype is still perfect, but unfortunately cannot be reproduced in a newspaper cut.

Mrs. Stewart's daguerreotype was taken about the same time as the tintype shown on this page.

Among the ambrotypes of Duluthians is one of Mrs. W. W. Hoopes that was taken when she was 9 months old by G. G. Mumford, the leading photographer of Philadelphia.

Tintypes Came Next. Ambrotypes were followed by tintypes, not the cheap kind that were taken whenever a person happened upon a "gallery," but tintypes that were real portraits. These were often out into cases like those containing daguerreotypes and the best ones are wonderfully clear. Some were large enough to be suitable for framing, as the one of Mrs. Harriet Carey, which was taken when she was about 16 years old.

portraits with the eyes shut, for it was considered at that date that the clear sunlight upon the face was necessary for a result. In reply to a question to M. Daguerre, "Can not you save my son-in-law of eight years as his opinion that it would be impracticable, because in obtaining his results on still objects the time necessary was from fifteen to thirty minutes, and he thought it impossible for any one to maintain an immovable position for that length of time."

When the process was perfected to the point where it was practicable for portraiture, the time varied from one to three minutes according to the time of day and the strength of the light. This was reduced to ten seconds and later to five seconds.

EAT LESS MEAT AND TAKE SALTS IF KIDNEYS HURT

Says a Tablespoonful of Salts Flushes Kidneys, Stopping Backache.

Meat Forms Uric Acid, Which Excites Kidneys and Weakens Bladder.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The women, your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before each meal for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate of soda, and is the best and most natural for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; and, get about four ounces of the salts in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and uric acid clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

MAKE PLANS FOR FOURTH DAY IN CONGRESS

Batchelor Would Stage Second Naturalization Day Program.

Preliminary plans are already being made by Recreational Director Batchelor for the celebration of the second annual naturalization day on the fourth of July.

At the first celebration last year the program was carried out successfully, although only a short notice, and this year Director Batchelor plans to make preparations far enough ahead so that a most comprehensive program can be carried out.

All the naturalized citizens of Duluth will be invited as the official guests of the day, while Director Batchelor will secure the assistance of all the civic and fraternal organizations in the city, with a view of forming a co-operative body that will assist him in following out the tentative plan. Two or three well known speakers will be invited to deliver the orations of the day.

A feature of the celebration will be the second annual Herald relay race which will be staged in the morning of the fourth for all the school boys of the city. Last year the trophy donated by the Herald was won by the Lincoln school and it is expected that several strong teams will be organized by the other schools to wrest the trophy from the victors of last year.

The course will be different from last year, it being the plan of Director Batchelor to start at Twenty-fourth avenue east and Superior street, continuing down to Third avenue west and Superior street.

It is expected that the program will be a most successful one and that a most comprehensive program can be carried out.

ACTIVITY IN BUILDING

Permits for First Three Months Show Substantial Increase.

Permit for Morgan Park School—West End Office Building.

A gratifying record was set in building operations in this city during the first three months of the year. Permits issued at the building inspector's office from Jan. 1 to April 1 numbered 245 with the cost of improvements involved placed at $222,905. This compared with 267 permits for $338,827 during the same period last year, an increase of more than 50 per cent being this shown.

Despite the unfavorable weather conditions, a good record was set in building last month. There were 114 permits issued for improvements estimated at $37,000, as against a total of 152,125 during the corresponding month last year.

A feature of the week in the trade was the taking out of a permit for $116,000 yesterday for the new school being built at Morgan Park. The contractor for this job, Louisberry-McLeod company, has made a good start upon it. According to the terms of the contract the building is to be ready for occupancy for next fall's school term.

Jacobson Bros. have begun work on the Hugo Manufacturing company's factory building in West Duluth. In view of the absolute necessity for additional facilities in connection with the company's increasing business, it is being made a rush proposition.

George H. Lounsbury & Co., contractors for the boys' Y. M. C. A. building at Second street and Lake avenue are making progress with it. It is expected that the plans for the heating, plumbing and electric wiring will be ready to go out for figures next week from the office of E. G. Gernan, architect.

Plans for Nelson Bros. store and office building to be erected at Twenty-first avenue and Superior street will be ready to go out to contractors for bids next week from the office of J. J. Waugon, architect. The building will have a frontage of fifty feet and while it will be two stories in height at the outlet, the foundations will be made of sufficient strength to carry additional stories. The cost is estimated at $200,000. It will be of fire proof construction.

A number of large building proposals are scheduled to go out from architects' offices for the next two weeks, and judging by the work now in sight, an exceptionally active season is assured right up till the fall months. Among the plans on file at the Duluth Builders' exchange for figures is one for an addition to the school for the blind at Fairbault, Minn.

Clyde R. Penton has obtained the contracts for supplying Best metal weather strips at the laboratory and office building of the Minnesota Steel company at Morgan Park, and for the hotel being built at Gary-Duluth for G. A. Mahler.

The Callan & Hopkins company has obtained the contracts for roofing and sheet metal work at the Hugo Manufacturing company's factory for the Claude Bunn building at Fairbault, Minn., and for the new Joseph Seifert home.

Building permits issued during the week follow:
To O. F. Stocke, two dwellings on the south side of Tenth street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues west $ 4,000
To C. B. Brinn, dwelling on the east side of Lakeview drive, between Ladd's court and Sively road 4,000
To Jens Salza, addition to dwelling on the south side of Seventh street, between Third and Fourth avenues east 200
To E. Linstad, addition to dwelling on the south side of Glendale street, between Fifteenth and Fifty-first avenues west 200

History of Exchange Given; Meeting Has Many Strong Features.

Duluth was well represented at the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges held in New Orleans this week.

A concise report was presented by N. J. Upham, chairman of the National Realty associates, according to the convention number of the New Orleans Daily States. Henry Nolte was also on the program for an address on the ethics of real estate selling. It was limited, too, the members of the Duluth delegation were doing good advertising work for their city and that they were being heard in the various discussions.

Walter Collins Piper of Detroit presided when the large gathering was called to order on Tuesday morning in the convention hall of the grand Wald hotel.

Reviewing the work of the exchanges, he said that it embraced a membership of 107 exchanges in leading cities of the United States and Canada with an aggregate membership of nearly 8,000 realty men.

"At the first executive committee meeting in Los Angeles I made an earnest plea for financial support to carry through special work," he said.

"A committee consisting of Charles Laughlin of Cleveland, Dean Vincent of Portland and Samuel Thorpe of Minneapolis was appointed with that object in view. With their work and that of

EMBARKS IN THE REAL ESTATE BUSINESS

G. A. MAHLER.

G. A. Mahler, formerly with the Whitney Wall company, has embarked in a general real estate business on his own account, with offices on the fifth floor of the Providence building. Mrs. Mahler, having resided here twelve years, prior to his connection with the Whitney Wall company, he was associated with the Duluth Telephone company. He feels optimistic regarding the outlook for the real estate business in Duluth during the present season.

HOUSES IN MUCH DEMAND

Majority of Transfers During Week Consist of Residences.

Anything That Is Offered at a Bargain Is Snapped Up.

Residential properties, mainly in the Eastern sections of the city accounted for all but a small proportion of the realty transactions during the last week.

Fresh negotiations were reported to have been opened up in connection with some prospective West end and West Duluth business frontages, and it is regarded as probable that a valuable central Superior street property will change hands in the near future.

Dealers aver that the inquiry for houses is improving, and that anything regarded as being offered at a bargain attracts prompt attention. The closing up of high-class house sales is expected during the present month. Yesterday the residence of Mrs. Mary A. Herland at No. 2123 East Fourth street was sold through the Field-Frey company to George Ingersoll, at a consideration of $7,400. W. B. Howe represented the purchaser.

A block of thirty-seven lots located in Sharp's and the Belmont Park additions on the Hillside over the end of Central avenue, was sold for the Gopier Realty company and others to Charles Ellisson. The property was bought for re-sale, but it is understood that arrangements have been made by the purchaser to build a number of houses. This property is reported to have been on the market for a number of years without a tangible offer being received for it. The disposal of it on-bid now is regarded as illustrating in a measure the improvement that has recently developed in the West Duluth realty market.

The Richardson, Day & Cheadle company reported the sale to John Foreman of two lots at Forty-eighth avenue west and Fourth street. Earnest money was received on the sale of a lot on the lower side of Eighth street, between Eighth and Nineteenth avenues east, and of a lot at Gladstone street and Forty-third avenue east. Twenty acres of land near the Noppening sanatorium were also disposed of through that office.

Grading inquiry for Lakeside and Lester Park property was advised by Charles F. Craig & Co. Contracts were entered into covering sales of two houses at Lester Park and of a Lakeside building.

The Hoopes-Kohagen company sold two lots in the Park Drive addition to Mrs. J. Phillips, and nine lots at Pine City, Minn., were sold to W. H. Hamlin.

is expected during the present month. Yesterday the residence of Mrs. Mary A. Herland at No. 2123 East Fourth street was sold through the Field-Frey company to George Ingersoll, at a consideration of $7,400. W. B. Howe represented the purchaser.

WE HAVE THE EXCLUSIVE SALE of this beautiful home, 1911 East Fourth street. This house was built by day labor and under the immediate supervision of C. E. Nystrom, architect, and nothing was omitted to make it as complete as possible, as it was built for a permanent home. There is no more beautiful lot in the city than this house occupies. It slopes gently to the south and overlooks the lake and nothing can ever obscure the view. The first floor consists of large reception hall, running from the front to the rear, with open stairways; has large living room with fireplace, dining room. The kitchen is fitted with cabinets, cases, etc., and everything most convenient. The second floor contains four large bedrooms and five closets and bathroom with tile floor and walls; also outdoor balcony large enough for sleeping porch. There is a large attic which can be converted into rooms. Full basement with cement floor, partitioned off for fuel rooms, storage room and laundry. Hot water heat, with two systems, one for heating house and one for heating water. House is finished in birch throughout in imitation of Circassian walnut. Electric lighted and piped for gas, with fine fixtures, some of which were made especially for this house. Built only a few years ago, costing $8,500, and architect says it cannot be duplicated now for $9,500. Grading of lot and walks cost $500, and full lot, 50x140, is well worth $3,000, making a total of $13,000. Can now be bought for $10,000—$2,500 down and balance on reasonable terms. Considering the location and the fact that it was built by day labor for a permanent home, makes it without doubt the most attractive home purchase and best bargain in the city.

A BEAUTIFUL HOME IN BRICK

This is a brick building, designed to make a moderate cost home. The first floor has extra large living room with connecting dining room. Kitchen is handy to the dining room as well as to the front of the house. On the second floor are four good size bedrooms and bath with closet for each room. This house will cost, in Duluth or vicinity, about $8,000. Neatly designed, trim, snug and home-like in our ideal that is to prove most popular these days. The majority of people can't afford to live in a large place—it costs too much for fuel, lights and furniture; also it is too much work to take care of.
Home builders save money in the long run by investing a little extra at the start. It is short-sighted economy to attempt to get along without good plans and specifications. Avoid freak designs. Compact, conservative home buildings are the best.

Prosperity! Prosperity Everywhere!

It has struck Duluth to stay. What's the use of paying rent? If your landlord can afford to own a home to rent to you, then it stands to reason that you can as good or better home at the same or less cost. He pays upkeep and taxes on your money and makes a profit. Get a lot and build a home. Do it now. Sit by your own fireside. We'll make you a loan covering one-half of the cost of house and lot for a term of five years at lowest rate of interest. We have several lots on which we will build to suit you. CARLTON COUNTY HAS SOLD BONDS
Cloquet, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a recent meeting of the Carlton county commissioners they sold $38,000 worth of road bonds to the Capitol Trust & Savings Bank of St. Paul. The bonds are in denominations of $1,000 each and become due and payable from one to ten years from April 1, 1916.
The bonds were bid in at $1,005.50 per $1,000 par value of the bonds and accrued interest, which are to bear 4 1/2 per cent, payable semi-annually. (3536)
The money realized from the sale of these bonds will be used in graveling the Duluth-Moorhead road, officially known as State Rural Highway No. 11, a considerable portion of this road was gravelled during the past winter, as it was found that the gravel could be distributed a great deal cheaper by hauling on sleds and distributed as soon as the spring thawed and the balance will be gravelled the present summer.
The graveling of this road almost became a necessity at once, for as soon as it was built it opened up a strip of country that a good road was badly needed and travel started at once, and should the graveling not have been done the sub-grade would soon be cut up in a bad condition.
DULUTH VISITOR MAY RUN FOR CONGRESS
State Senator F. M. Duxbury of Caladonia, will arrive in the city tomorrow as the guest of his son, L. S. Duxbury, and will spend several days

NO DECISION IS REACHED

Conference on Switching Rates Is Barren of Results.

The hearing before Judge Ira B. Mills of the state railroad and warehouse commission in the matter of switching rates in the city of Duluth, held yesterday at the Commercial club, resulted in no definite decision, except that the Northern Pacific road, the corporation involved, obtained leave to re-submit a schedule of rates to the commission. After wrangling all morning and a part of the afternoon, the attorneys and reparators advocates found that they could reach no agreement. The attorney for the Northern Pacific road declared that the notice of adjustment of rates sent out had been broader than intended; so time was asked to issue new notices and to file a new petition.
The trouble began when the switching charges in force up to the end of December, 1915, were changed, the road raising them considerable and dividing the city into five instead of three switching districts. This was fought in September, 1915, the state railroad and warehouse commission ordered the old rates re-established. This order was appealed from to the district court, but since that appeal has been pending, the rate commission of the commercial club and the attorneys for the railroad got together and reached an agreement. The compromise rates being less than those of the new schedule and slightly more than those of the old schedule. Most of the shippers and receivers in Duluth agreed to this schedule, but the ice company declined that, they were getting the worst of it and objected. Also other shippers objected because it was agreed in the compromise that shippers would waive their claims for reparation, which many of them refused to do.
It is expected that in the new petition, the compromise rates will be specified.

Twenty-first avenue east, from Superior to Fourth street, will be ordered paved at the council meeting next Monday.
A resolution authorizing the improvement will be introduced by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, it was announced this morning.
In addition, several ordinances, appropriating approximately $11,000, will come up for passage, while other measures will be advanced to second reading. Indications are, however, that the session Monday will be a quiet one.
The ordinance appropriating $9,000 for the construction of the rock bridge over Tiesler's creek for dredging the annual reports, $186 for the purchase of steel filing cases for the municipal court and $126 for the purchase of police caps, all will come up for passage Monday.
Second reading will be given the ordinance appropriating $2,500 as salary for Francis Sullivan, special attorney in the street car paving case; $250 as salary for Frank Grasswiler, special counsel in the armory referendum appeal; $385 for the purchase of a street sweeper; $1,100 for an electrical pump to be used at the West Duluth station and $400 for changing the partitions in the main office of the water and light department.

Five Directors Will Be Elected
Annual Meeting of Commercial Club Set for April 12.

The annual election of directors of the Duluth Commercial club and the annual meeting of the club and of the public affairs committee, will take place at the club rooms on Wednesday, April 12. The balloting on directors will begin at 11:30 a. m. and the polls will close at 6:30 p. m. All resident members in good standing are entitled to vote.
The terms expire this year are: R. T. Hugo, D. B. McDonald, J. R. McGiffert, John A. Stephenson and David Williams. Nominations of their successors must be made in writing, signed by three members of the club before Monday, April 10 at 11:30 a. m. The terms of directors are two years each.
The annual meeting of the club and of the public affairs committee will be held in the evening of the annual day, following a supper which will be served at 6 o'clock. This meeting will be held in the club rooms.
The chairman of the public affairs committee for the ensuing year will be chosen, and other officers elected.
The annual review of the business of the club and committee will take place and the work of outlining business for the coming year will also come up.
The by-laws committee has been at work for several weeks revising the working basis of the club, and has prepared a number of amendments to the by-laws which will be submitted to the club members for approval at the annual meeting.
It is proposed to amend section 1 of article 6 so that the word "standing" shall be eliminated from the provision permitting the president to appoint committees, which will extend his privileges to a much broader degree. It is also proposed to amend section 2 of article 6 so that the payment of dues shall not be mandatory, but will be left to the board of directors to determine the method and time of payment. Another amendment leaves it to the board of directors the decision of when a member in arrears shall forfeit his membership. Another amendment is to the effect that all reports of committees must be made in writing at the next meeting following the assignment of a subject to the sub-committee.
The greatest and most startling plan sale ever held in Duluth will start soon. New plans, $94. Watch daily papers.

ON THE IRON RANGES

THEY LOST ONLY ONE GAME OF BASKET BALL THIS SEASON

Left to Right, Front Row: Ruby Kernan, Esther Pelto (Captain), Mrs. O. Nordlund. Back Row—Nina Peterson, Nellie Tennant and Athelyn Amundson, Coach—Cainan. Two Harbors, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Two Harbors City Girls' basketball team has made a good record this year, having lost but one game and that to the Moose Lake girls' team. They have furnished much amusement during the winter for local basket ball fans.

LACK OF CARRIERS MAY HURT MINING

Chisholm, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—After preparing for a summer of great activity it looks as though, because of inadequate facilities for handling of ore down the hills, that this district will not produce much more ore than during average years. Equipment for all mining projects, ordered with the expectation of using it in a record-breaking production, is now arriving and it may not be used to service throughout the season. Six locomotives ordered for the Chisholm Northern are properties and intended for use in stripping and open pit mining operations. It is now decided will not turn a wheel during the summer.

Among the mining officials located in this district it now appears that the subsidiary company of the Steel corporation is the only one likely to maintain a production schedule, due to the foresight of the corporation in chartering lake vessels even before the boats had up for the winter. The Sherrill Finance company will be able to ship a little more than average production as that company will have its own line of vessels to rely upon, but if other boats could be secured mining men assert there would be exceptional activity at the Sherrill group of mines.

Equipment for stripping operations at the Harlow open pit is being overhauled at the Harlow pits and every thing is being placed in readiness for work at the pit as soon as the weather conditions will permit. Although the ore on the west end of this property has been exhausted there still remains considerable surface to be removed from the ore body and a small stripping work is being done on the north bank of the pit. Stockpile grounds are crowded at the Steel corporation group of mines and the company officials are anxious for opening of navigation which will permit shipment of ore and relief of congested conditions around the shaft houses.

A 124 locomotive was shipped from here on Wednesday together with two others from different points on the line to the Nevada mine at Pittsburgh.

Farmer's Wife Buried.—The funeral of Mrs. William H. BAND MATTER IS AGAIN UP IN AIR

Hibbing, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—After tabling the communication received from the village council asking that they make an appropriation which would insure the services of the Hibbing concert band this summer, the park board, and its meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to take up the communication for further consideration. The action of the board again causes a temporary delay in the plans of the band management and may mean the absence of band concerts this summer.

In some quarters it is stated that the council will, after giving the park board a reasonable time to decide on the band question, take the matter of an appropriation into their own hands and grant it. The park board went on record yesterday, as favoring a motor truck for Conrad Park to be used in his department.

WANT POSTOFFICE AT MUD CREEK MINE

Tower, Minn., April 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert Kitta has gone to the Mud Creek mine, where he has charge of the men who are making preparations for the reopening of the property. With the completion of the new railroad to the property, and the opening of ore which will follow there will, in all probability, be a busy season there. Application has been made for the establishment of a postoffice at that point, to be known as Semer.

with attacking Jacob and John Messner while the latter were directing men digging up a gasoline tank in the rear of the place, will have a hearing in municipal court Monday. Messner was charged with $200 bonds. It is alleged that Close and his wife, during the difficulty, poured hot water on the men digging up the tank. The Messners are soon to move from the building and it is said that there has been no love lost of late between Close and his tenants.

CHISHOLM PARK BOARD TO FIGHT

Chisholm, Minn., April 1.—Though members of the park board are reluctant to talk about the action of the council in dissolving the board it is rumored that legal proceedings may be instituted to show that the council acted without power and that the appointment of the park board by the city council was entirely in conformity with the provisions of the statutes. One member of the park board is said to have consulted with a local attorney who advanced the opinion that the board was legally constituted and should continue to hold their office. Just what action if any the members of the park board intend to take, members will not divulge but it is generally anticipated by persons open to their criticism of the council's action, that the board will not regard the dissolution order while it is based upon what their advisers state to be a mere technicality.

Mrs. Metzger, who with her two boys and a school girl, were sleeping in the rooms on the second floor, states that was the last Duluth saw of summer last year.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

No verdict but "perfect day" will do for the current season. The weather is improving, however, that the history of the year is not going to be repeated. It starts on April 1, continued real summer heat throughout the month and then that was the last Duluth saw of summer last year.

A year ago today was beautiful. The sun rose this morning at 7:45 and will set this evening at 6:38, giving twelve hours and fifty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions: "During the last twenty-four hours rain or snow fell over the lake region and rain from the southwestward to Texas and New Mexico, and also over Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. Heavy rain fell at Abilene, Tex. Cooler weather prevails in the Upper Mississippi valley, the south and north valley states and the greater portion of the Rocky Mountain region."

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the McCabe and Vermilion iron ranges: Fair and colder tonight with low temperatures about 29 degrees, and no rain. Duluth-Superior and along the north shore of Lake Superior on the iron ranges, Sunday partly cloudy weather. Moderate north-city winds.

stuff was missing, and so it was up to policemen to look for the pork chops, wieners and mackinaw. If they happen to see the jug of whiskey, that will be recovered also.

It all started when Hjalmar Nelson of Knife River came to the city to see the sights and to paint the town red in one or two spots, at least.

He was fully equipped. Both hip pockets were loaded with flask, and the pork chops and wieners also were tucked in his vest. Hjalmar didn't want to trust any Duluth restaurants or cafeterias.

To make a long story short, Nelson imbibed too much of the whiskey, lost the mackinaw, and the precious pork chops, say nothing of the wieners.

IN MORE TROUBLE.

A. Walkush, Jr., Issuer of Worthless Check, Wanted in Home Town. A. Walkush, Jr., is sorry he ever saw Duluth.

Several months ago he came here from Laysmith, Wis., to see the bright lights, but within a few hours he was under police surveillance.

Laysmith authorities said Walkush had signed the name "A. Walkush" to several checks, and had cashed them. His name is a duplicate of the name of a checkbook he is alleged to have written were drawn from his father's bank account.

After this controversy was straightened out, the young man returned to Duluth, but he soon came to grief, and was sentenced to sixty days at the work farm for trouble in connection with a worthless check, according to police.

He served the sixty days, and since then has been living here. Last night Chief R. D. McKercher received a message from Laysmith, Wis., saying that Walkush, Jr., was wanted there.

It was a matter of but minutes to round up the young man, and today he will go home.

CARRIED TOO FAR.

John Larka Loses Watch and Roll: Thought It April Fool Joke at First. It isn't fair to play an April Fool's joke, and then to get serious about it. That's what happened to John Larka of 277 1/2 South First avenue east last night and he is poorer by $38 and a watch in consequence.

Early this morning Larka awoke, and put his hand under his pillow, to make sure that his watch was there intact. His purse and his watch were gone.

He sat up with a start, and then smiled. "April Fool's day," he thought. "Somebody is playing a joke on me." An hour or two later, the money was still missing, and the watch was gone. He came to police headquarters, told Lieut. G. E. Gellon, and now the police force is looking for the Joker.

DULUTH AND SUPERIOR ROBBERS MAY BE SAME

The two robbers who entered a dentist's office, livery barn and two confectionery stores in West Duluth last evening are believed to be the same men who held up a Superior business place in Superior during the last week. Two of the stores were held up a week ago this evening and three other places were robbed on Tuesday evening.

The men tally with descriptions given by the victims of Superior robberies with those given by the victims of last evening's robberies. Superior police have been on a lookout for the men but had failed to get any track of them.

EFFECT ON DAIRYMEN

Hostetter and Silberstein Differ Widely as to Milk Ordinance.

Duluth's proposed milk ordinance calls for requirements that will prove prohibitive to many dairymen and drive them out of business, declares A. Hostetter, district supervisor of agricultural agents, who is opposed to the measure in its present form.

Mr. Hostetter says that he appreciates the importance of having a clean, wholesome product and the necessity of protecting families and especially children from the dangers of impure milk.

But this is a new country, says Mr. Hostetter, "agriculture is just in its infancy. Everything possible, within reason, and in fact, must be done to foster industry and to encourage activities. This is especially true of the dairy business."

The required tests in this ordinance are proper and just. The demands for cleanliness are proper. But the clause requiring the dairymen to provide a separate milk house removed from the barn is extreme and should not be enforced at this time, he says.

Mr. Hostetter suggests that before the measure is passed that the council submit the ordinance to the dairying department of the state university. "Commissioners should not think it advisable to submit a copy of the measure to the state university authorities."

The consignment is in charge of Mrs. Lopp, who has been devoting all her time to the collection of tobacco and pipes for the men in the allied trenches.

Mr. Lopp, who accompanies his wife, has collected more than 200,000 pounds of smoking tobacco and 425 gross of corn-cob pipes for the men in the allied trenches.

TO BE INSTRUCTED AS "GASOLINE CAVALRY"

Appleton, Wis., April 1.—Members of the mounted orderly section of the Second Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, are to be instructed in running automobiles as well as riding horseback.

While the instruction in horsemanship will be paramount to the "gasoline cavalry," the cavalry will be ordered to be instructed in running automobiles as well as riding horseback.

"Hiding, scouting, sketching and shooting will be the chief subjects this spring for the orderlies," said the regimental adjutant today, "but in addition to that every man must learn to handle an automobile."

WISCONSIN LIGHT, HEAT & TRACTION COMPANY

to purchase the property of the Wisconsin Light, Heat & Traction company within the confines of the city.

The matter has been in litigation for a long time and finally the Wisconsin supreme court upheld the railroad commission holding that the city might purchase that portion of the plant within the city.

MINING KINGS BEING MADE TODAY. Government figures show the following returns on capital invested: Railroads... per cent 8; National banks... per cent 5 1/2; Insurance... per cent 11; Lumbering... per cent 14; Manufacturing... per cent 20; Mining... per cent 182.

The day of wild cat is rapidly passing. Today mining is on a sounder basis than ever before. Promoters realize the best way to finance a mine is to DO IT HONESTLY. State laws are strictly regulating mining activities.

But, you say, a man has to try a lifetime to win. Not true. Bradstreet and Dun's commercial agencies state that only 36 per cent of legitimate mining investments fail, as against 64 PER CENT IN GENERAL COMMERCIAL LINES.

Don't go on with your eyes and pocketbook closed to the honest opportunities in mining. Make your mining investment with the same judgment and foresight you use in your business, and you'll stand a BETTER chance of winning.

The Beecola Mining company, Wallace, Idaho, owns a property nearly ready for production, in the famous Crow-Aldene district. It HAS to be absolutely legitimate, under Idaho laws. Company's by-laws will not allow it to contract debts without money IN THE TREASURY. You use in your business, and you'll stand a BETTER chance of winning.

Don't get your neighbor's word for it that all mines are fakes. Think for yourself. Has your decision on FACTS—not somebody's ready-made opinion. Get your share of the tremendous fortunes in the making right NOW. Send today for full details. Western Investment company, 340 Plymouth Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.

ZEPPELINS DROP BOMBS ON FRANCE, ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND; MANY KILLED

Raid By German Airships Extends Over a Wide Territory.

Squadrons of Airmen Pursue Activities for Three Successive Nights.

Berlin Reports Much Success in Destruction of Industries.

Paris, April 3.—A Zeppelin appeared over Dunkirk last night and three bombs which killed two civilians.

Dunkirk, the northernmost town of France, is a strongly fortified port on the straits of Dover. During the war it has frequently been shelled by a long range German gun.

Ten Killed in Scotland. London, April 3, 3:55 p. m.—Ten persons were killed and eleven injured in Scotland in Sunday night's Zeppelin raid. It was announced officially this afternoon that there were no casualties in England.

Details of last night's Zeppelin raids over Eastern Scotland and the northern and eastern counties of England have not been given out officially, but from such reports as have been received, it is evident the Zeppelins covered a wider area than during the visitations of the two previous nights. Trains and street cars were held up and lights were dimmed for several hours. The Zeppelins were about from 9 p. m. until after 1 a. m.

Berlin Reports Success. Berlin, April 3, 12:45 p. m.—The official German account of Sunday night's Zeppelin raid (Continued on page 4, fourth column.)

SPY'S PLANS ARE SEIZED

Scotland Yard Men Have Incriminating Correspondence of Von der Goltz.

Will Shortly Be Made Public By British Foreign Office.

Washington, April 3.—A quantity of correspondence belonging to Horst von Der Goltz, the alleged German spy who has said to blow up the Welland canal, has been seized by Scotland Yard detectives and will be made public shortly by an announcement today by department of justice officials.

It is understood that the correspondence contains details of plans to blow up the Welland canal and of invasion of Canada from the United States. The letters now in possession of the British authorities are said to contain the names of persons in this country hitherto unmentioned.

Obtained Full Statement. It was this correspondence, it was said, that enabled the British authorities to obtain a full statement from Von Der Goltz as to his activities in the United States. While Von Der Goltz's declaration in New York recently to department of justice agents have covered main features of his work in this country, it is the opinion of officials that other details will be disclosed with the publication of the correspondence.

Officials here also have been informed that the correspondence contains the names of those who aided Von Der Goltz in obtaining an American passport in Baltimore and that names of other persons who might be of assistance, if necessary, to assist in obtaining other passports probably will be disclosed in the correspondence.

BITTER FIGHT IN MICHIGAN

"Wet" and "Dry" Struggle Reaches Climax in Thirteen Counties.

Presidential Primary Law Is Also Given Initial Trial in State.

Detroit, April 3.—A bitter struggle waged in Michigan for weeks between "wet" and "dry" forces reached its climax today when voters in thirteen counties cast their ballots at local option elections. Many of these counties were storm centers over the prohibition issue at previous elections.

In 1914 Michigan county, which contains Lansing, the state capital, went "dry" by a majority of 1,108, and Jackson county, with the city of Jackson, voted "wet" by a majority of more than 1,000. Much of the intense fighting today centered in the fight in those counties.

Michigan's presidential law, enacted at a special session of the legislature in 1912, was given its initial trial today. (Continued on page 4, fourth column.)

PEACE OF HOLLAND IS NOT IN DANGER

All Apprehensions Regarding Impending Embroilment Are Unfounded.

The Hague, April 3, via London, April 3.—(Delayed)—The Associated Press is again authoritatively informed that all apprehensions regarding any impending embroilment of Holland with any foreign power are wholly unfounded, but a considerable section of the public persists in believing that the expected coming offensive by the allies, supposedly planned at the Paris conference, holds the possibility of danger to Holland's neutrality. Public anxiety has been considerably allayed but has not wholly disappeared in the absence of a statement from the government to clear up the situation. An alarming bulletin published on Friday was not issued at the instance of the government.

Small Run on Bank. The Hague agency of the Bank of the Netherlands was the scene of a small run for specie in exchange for money, especially on the part of money changers who have been apprehensive of a return of the panicky conditions of the early days of the war, of which, however, there is so far no indication. The Amsterdam Bourse reflected a feeling of uneasiness. After a temporary recovery it closed depressed. Government bonds were again fractionally lower.

The Dutch minister of foreign affairs when asked by the Associated Press representative what his views were on the situation replied: "Optimistic of course. There is nothing to worry about."

ATTACK ON VERDUN BY A VAST TEUTON FORCE IS BELIEVED IMMINENT

NEW PHASE OF GREAT BATTLE IS BEGINNING

Violence of Late Attacks Foreshadows Attempt to Rush Fortress.

New Batteries of Large Caliber Moved Closer to Front.

Heavy Fighting Continues All Night, Says French Report.

Paris, April 3.—A new phase of the battle of Verdun has begun and the belief prevails that the violence of the latest attacks foreshadows another attempt by the Germans to rush the fortress with vast forces. New batteries of large caliber have been moved up closer to the French front and the German infantry has been retrained and reorganized.

Fighting Continues All Night. Paris, April 3, 12:45 p. m.—Fighting continued all night in the Verdun region east of the Meuse, between Douaumont and Vaux. The issue turned generally, the war office announced this afternoon says, in favor of the French, who gained ground in the northern part of Callette wood which was occupied by the Germans yesterday. West of the river a bombardment was carried on near Haumont without effect.

The statement said that in yesterday's fighting the Germans lengthened their front of attack to about three kilometers (two miles).

All But One of Sub-Committee Present Their Recommendations.

Action on Nomination Postponed By Full Senate Committee.

Senator Fletcher, Democrat, made a report merely recommending confirmation. Senator Walsh made a long report and Senator Chilton, the third Democrat, will submit a report tomorrow. Senators Cummins and Weeks made reports against confirmation. Senator Walsh declared in his report: "The real crime of which this man is guilty is that he has exposed the inequities of men in high places in our country."

PROMISED PROMPT ANSWER BY BERLIN

German Admiralty to Send Out Queries to Submarine Commanders.

Washington, April 3.—American Ambassador Gerard at Berlin cabled today that the German government had promised him a prompt reply to his inquiry regarding the destruction of the British steamship Sussex and other steamships on which Americans were endangered. The Berlin foreign office, Ambassador Gerard stated, had referred his inquiry to the German admiralty. The American ambassador's dispatch indicated that instead of waiting for the German submarine commanders to report, the admiralty office would send out inquiries to the submarine base.

LORIMER WILL TAKE STAND IN HIS DEFENSE

State Expects to Conclude Testimony for Prosecution By Tuesday Night.

Chicago, April 3.—With but three or four witnesses to be examined for the prosecution, the state expects to complete its case against William Lorimer, former president of the defunct La Salle Street Trust & Savings bank by Tuesday night. It was said at the conclusion of the trial today. Lorimer is being tried on charges of conspiracy in connection with the failure of the bank in 1914. Attorneys for the defense have announced that it will take two weeks to present their side. Lorimer will take the witness stand in his own defense and will contend, it is said, that C. P. Munday, former senior vice president of the bank, recently convicted of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the bank's failure, was its active head and did not consult Lorimer about loans.

BANDIT CHIEFTAIN SLIPS THROUGH NET CLOSING AROUND HIM

Mexican Reports Say Outlaw and Followers Are Moving Toward Chihuahua to Get Garrison to Revolt.

United States Cavalrymen Searching Remote Wildernesses Far From Communication With Army Field Base.

El Paso, Tex., April 3.—Francisco Villa has again become the man of mystery. Almost within the grasp of the American cavalry after the battle of Guerrero the bandit is reported today to have slipped through the net closing about him and to have covered the trail of his flight. Mexican officials in Juarez failed to get information of the brigand's whereabouts.

Mexican reports had it that Villa and another band of his followers were moving on Chihuahua with the intention of getting the governor of the de facto government to revolt and join him against the Americans. These reports were scouted by Mexican Consul Garcia.

To Destroy Scattered Bands. While the bandit's main command was scattered at the battle of Guerrero, it is believed here that Villa has several other large bodies of men disposed at convenient positions in the continental divide. While the search for Villa continues, Col. Dodd will also seek to destroy these armed bodies of Villa forces which are a constant menace to the American line of communications.

There is no light on the recent operations of the Carranza forces against the Villa bands. Traffic over the Mexico Northwest railway is becoming more active since the advent of the American expeditionary force, from the Chihuahua and Madera districts.

Searching Wilderness. Columbus, N. Mex., April 3.—Today details of the pursuit of the bandit are lacking. Military authorities are inclined to believe this means that Col. George A. Dodd's American cavalry are still searching for the bandit leader in some remote mountain wilderness. Communication with the field base at Colonia Dublan.

There was no official confirmation of numerous rumors of developments in the pursuit. Among these was one that Villa had been captured and another that the bandit chieftain, seeing (Continued on page 4, third column.)

FIVE STEAMERS FALL PREY TO SUBMARINES

Four British and One Norwegian Ship Sunk in Various Localities.

London, April 3.—The British steamship Perth has been sunk. Six members of the crew were lost and eight were landed. The Perth was unarmed.

There are three British steamships Perth. The largest, 1,799 tons gross, was owned in Melbourne. Another of 1,695 tons, was from Dundee and the third, 823 tons, was owned in Glasgow.

Four Others Sunk. London, April 3.—Three British and one Norwegian steamer have been sunk by submarines of mines. Two of the British boats, the liner Achilles, and the Ashburton, were on their way to London from Australian ports. The British steamer Gold Mouth was on voyage to London from Perth with 11. The Norwegian boat was the Peter Hamre. She was sunk by a mine and her crew of fifteen, only one man escaped.

Four members of the crew of the Achilles are missing, two of the crew of the Gold Mouth were wounded when landed, and five members of the crew of the Ashburton were taken to a hospital suffering from shrapnel wounds. Scotland and the northern southeastern counties of England have received visitations from airships which dropped bombs at various places.

Number of Minor Skirmishes. There have been a number of minor skirmishes in the vicinity of the village, two scouts reporting today that they encountered two of the bandit's outposts yesterday and fought for five minutes without casualties.

American air scouts are now flying over the entire Villa territory and are carrying dispatches from the front to the field base and field headquarters. Motor trucks also have been able to penetrate the mountain waste almost as far as the territory occupied by the cavalry under Col. George A. Dodd.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Heavy masses of troops are still being hurled by the Germans against the defenses of Verdun, which are being tested to the limit at vital points. The French are offering tenacious resistance and according to Paris have succeeded in pressing back the crown prince's forces from Duncourt, Douaumont, where steelclammer blows had badly dented the French lines within the last few days.

The gain claimed is in the northern part of the Callette wood, which the Germans penetrated from 9 o'clock yesterday. Fighting continued there all night and the general result was favorable to the French, though bulletins asserted, additional ground in the northern part of the wood being reclaimed.

Zeppelins were over eastern Scotland and the northernmost and eastern counties of England from 9 o'clock last night to after 1 o'clock this morning in the third great raid by the German air fleet in as many nights. The latest raid is known to have been over a wide area, but details as to damage and casualties are yet lacking. In Friday and Saturday nights' raids 59 persons were killed and 160 wounded.

Sunday night raids declares that latest furze, large iron works and industrial plants on the tree and on the port establishments of Blidlesborough and Sunderland were hit, inflicting heavy damage and causing explosions to occur and fires to break out.

The French city of Dunkirk, on the Straits of Dover, also has suffered a Zeppelin attack, an airplane dropping three bombs, which killed two civilians.

Sinking of the British steamer Perth, of 1,799 tons, with the loss of six members of her crew, is announced from London.

The German government has promised to his inquiry in regard to the destruction of the cross-channel steamship Sussex and other vessels on which Americans were endangered.

Paving Bidders Must Show They Can Get Material.

Former Trouble Over East Superior Street to Be Avoided.

When bids on paving East Superior street are opened tomorrow morning, contractors will have to show signed affidavits to the effect that they can obtain the materials they specify for the proposed pavement.

This step was taken by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, to avoid another controversy over the awarding of the contract. Each list of specifications furnished by the works division contains an affidavit, passed by the local department, on which the contractor must state the name of the material and the company that has agreed to furnish it.

Several contractors have already submitted bids on paving the roadway and it is expected that the figures will disclose a keen interest in the local job.

One Quarrel Enough.

Bids on paving East Superior street were opened several weeks ago, but these were rejected by the city commissioners, because of a controversy that arose between the contractors. The Barber Asphalt company refused to sell the Lake Trinidad asphalt to E. A. Dahl, one of the low bidders, who threatened to enjoin the city from awarding the contract to the General Contracting company of Minneapolis, whose bid was about $1,000 higher. To avoid this trouble in the new specifications, the affidavits were added and the contractors given an opportunity to submit proposals either on oil or lake asphalt.

As the East Superior street owners have voted in favor of a Lake Trinidad asphalt, it is expected that the contract will be awarded at an early date.

HOTEL OWNERS SEEK LICENSES

Eight Proprietors Make Application to Council Under New Ordinance.

Eight hotel owners will make application to the city council this afternoon for licenses to operate hotels under the new hotel ordinance, which went into effect last Saturday.

The first application was made by Oscar Wick for licenses to operate hotels at 322 West Second street and 629 West Superior street, while seven others came in this morning, according to City Clerk Borgen. They follow: Charles Hill, 613 West Superior street; Lawrence Peterson, 423 West Superior street; M. Lawrence, 319 West Superior street; E. P. Le Flohn, 241 West First street; E. A. Carlson, 214 South First avenue east; Harry Johnson, 529 1/2 West First street; and Julius Fenne, 528 West Superior street.

The applications will be turned over to the safety commissioner, who must first obtain reports on the sanitary conditions of the hotels and on the character of the applicants, according to the ordinance. After these reports are made to the council, then the application is either granted or rejected.

CLERKS MAY HAVE TO ENTER CAMPAIGN

Thirty-Five Court Officials May Not Hold Over as Supposed.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some thirty-five district court clerks who did not expect to have to enter the campaign this fall may be required to do so if they wish to hold their positions. This danger threatens as a result of mandamus proceedings instituted in the state supreme court by John J. Abel of Wright county.

The legislature has sought to make all county offices of four year terms expire at the same time. Clerks of the district court have enjoyed four year terms, but in some counties the terms expired one year, and in some counties another year. In fact, about half the clerks are to be elected at each general election. In seeking to make all county offices expire at the same time, the legislature attempted to continue those district court clerks whose terms expire this year in office for two years.

The clerk of the district court of Wright county expected under this law to hold over for two years more. However, John J. Abel attempted to file in Wright county as a candidate for district court clerk, John A. Berg, the county auditor, refused to accept his filing on the ground that according to law there is no vacancy in the clerkship this year.

Mr. Abel then filed mandamus proceedings. The supreme court issued an order requiring Mr. Berg to show cause why he should not accept Mr. Abel's filing. The argument will be heard April 7.

TO MEET CONDITIONS AFTER GREAT WAR

Anti-Dumping and Unfair Competition Laws Agreed Upon.

Washington, April 3.—President Wilson and Majority Leader Kitchin of the house agreed today on the general terms of anti-dumping and unfair competition legislation to meet conditions after the European war. The ways and means committee will put them in the revenue bill which Mr. Kitchin told the president would be ready for the house about April 30.

The anti-dumping legislation will be along the general lines of that eliminated from the present tariff law. On foreign goods to be sold in the United States at less than the market price in the country from which they are shipped, the new provision will impose an additional tariff to bring the selling price in the United States up to what it would be if the goods were sold at the market price in the foreign country.

The unfair competition legislation will be along the same lines as the unfair competition sections of the present law applying to unfair competition in the United States.

WORKS HEAD TO RETRENCH

Six Employees Will Be Cut Off Payroll Soon, Says Farrell.

Removal of Snow and Ice Costs City About $10,000 "Extra."

An enormous expenditure in removing the abnormal quantity of snow and ice has caused Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, to outline a program of retrenchment and economy for the remainder of this year.

This morning Commissioner Farrell announced that six employees would be cut off the works division payroll in a few days, so that their salaries could be saved for the remainder of the present year. In this way, he said, the department will be able to make up for the large sums expended in removing snow and ice. It is estimated that it has cost the city from $7,000 to $10,000 more than in other years to keep the roads and streets open to traffic from last December until the present time.

According to Commissioner Farrell's announcement, the superintendent of bridges, one street commissioner, a member of the office force and the repair crew of three men at the armory will be dropped from the department.

It is the plan of the works head to have the engineering department inspect all bridges, thus doing away with the position of bridge superintendent entirely. The work of inspecting streets has been reappointed, so that it can be done by one commissioner or less, and this program will be followed out by the end of next fall. An additional man was placed in the office to assist Secretary Culver early this winter, but the work here has also been apportioned so that the present force can get along without any additional help. The crew at the armory has been employed all winter repairing and painting the equipment preparatory to opening the street and road maintenance work and sprinkling this spring.

DULUTH YEGGS SUSPECTED OF ST. PAUL MURDER AND HOLDUP

Believed to Be Same Bandits Who Operated at West Duluth.

Descriptions, Especially of Crippled Crook, Tally in Both Cases.

The two bandits who held up and robbed owners of four business places in West Duluth Friday evening are believed to be the same men who Saturday night attempted to hold up and rob a saloon proprietor in St. Paul, and during the attempt shot and killed one of the customers in the place. They are still at large, according to the latest information received from the Twin City police.

Two men, corresponding to the description of the men who held up Dr. E. W. F. Boerner, 404 North Central avenue, the Roach Bros. Hivery, C. G. Frost, 511 Ramsey street, and Mrs. E. Sundberg's store, 4532 Grand avenue, entered the saloon of H. Brown, 558 Broadway St., St. Paul, at 10:30 Saturday evening. One of the men stopped at the door and the other walked up to the bar and demanded that everyone in the place hold up his hands.

Proprietor Makes Fight.
Brown, who was behind the bar, dropped out of sight and crawled on his hands and knees to the front where he had a revolver. Joseph Young of Minneapolis, related the incident and was on the floor. The bandit then ran to the door, but was followed by Brown, who, in a running fight, exchanged about a dozen shots with the bandit. The highwayman escaped through an alley.

The St. Paul police were furnished with a description of the men, in which, they claim, corresponds with the description of one of the holdup men who took part in the Friday evening robberies in West Duluth. The St. Paul police claim to have found an artificial hand, dropped by one of the robbers when running away from the saloon. One of the men who took part in the local robbery is described as having his left arm amputated about three inches above the wrist. This man is 20 years old. Both formerly resided in Duluth and are ex-convicts.

Third Man in Auto.
C. J. Erickson, druggist at 401 North Central avenue, is certain that the two bandits who operated in West Duluth Friday evening had an accomplice who drove an automobile. The two men, he believes, intended to rob his place, but were frustrated in the attempt because of there being a man behind the counter and several young fellows on the sidewalk.

These two men got out of the automobile, which stopped in front of the store, said Mr. Erickson this morning, "my attention was attracted by the noise the machine made. It was either an 'old' Buick or a Ford. One of the fellows came into the store and stood in front of the cash register. He had both hands in his pocket. I was a little slow in coming forward from near the prescription case when I did I walked in front of him and, standing behind the counter, asked what he was doing. He stepped from the pool hall below. The man asked for change for a dollar, and showed about $5 in change and asked him what he was doing. He showed me a dime and, grabbing a handful of each, I counted it out to him into his hand. He never watched the change.

Plan Is Frustrated.
In the meantime his partner, the one with the crippled hand, stepped into the doorway and asked if he had any more change. The man then stepped out into the street and, after a word to the driver of the machine, the two drove off. There probably were more than 200 people on the street without a half block from the store. There was only a few minutes after-wards that the men robbed Dr. Boerner's office.

The police of the Twin Cities have scattered broadcast descriptions of the men, and every police official in the Northwest has been furnished with a copy.

TRIAL OF DAVE CAPLAN BEGINS

Charged With Murder of Hagerty, One of Victims in Times Explosion.

Arrested at Same Time With Schmidt Who Was Found Guilty.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 3.—David Caplan, charged with the murder of Charles Hagerty, one of the twenty persons that lost their lives when the Los Angeles Times building was destroyed by dynamite, Oct. 1, 1910, was placed on trial today in the superior court here before Judge Frank R. Willis. Judge Willis presided in the case of Matthew A. Schmidt, convicted on the same charge Dec. 30, 1915, and sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin penitentiary. His appeal is pending in the state district court of Los Angeles.

Caplan obtained a severance when the trial of Schmidt was in progress, but refused permission to be present at the trial.

Arrests Unexpected.
The arrests came seemingly out of a clear sky. Schmidt was picked up on Broadway, New York city, Feb. 15, 1915, and five days later Caplan was arrested at Port Orchard, Wash., on the other edge of the continent. Donald Vose Meserve, who lived at Home Colony, near Port Orchard, supplied information to a detective who necessary information. Home Colony is a settlement of persons of radical views. Caplan was raising poultry on a small ranch he owned at Port Orchard. Before that he had lived about on the Pacific coast.

A good deal of the state's case against Caplan necessarily was brought out at the trial of Schmidt. It was testified that the trail of the men who dynamited the Times building was picked up at the Fenwick Iron works in Los Angeles, where a suitcase with telltale evidence was found. Caplan, according to this testimony, was supposed to get this suitcase from the Fenwick building checkroom, but somehow failed to do so. The suitcase evidence led to discovery of dynamite in a vacant house; that Caplan ran to a powder works and the assistant manager of the powder company identified Schmidt and Caplan as the men who bought the explosives. Caplan also was identified as the man who rented the house where it was found.

Many Witnesses.
Two hundred witnesses were subpoenaed by the prosecution in the Schmidt trial, including Orville McManis, the informer who supplied the state much of its case against John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James B. McNamara. James pleaded guilty to murder in connection with the Times dynamiting, and is now serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary. John pleaded guilty to dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron works in Los Angeles, and is serving a fourteen-year sentence. In general, the same witnesses who appeared against Schmidt are to appear against Caplan.

Nineteen indictments charging murder still stand against Caplan, McNamara and Caplan. McNamara still is under indictment for dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron works, but was let loose after the McNamaras pleaded, and disappeared until the night of the explosion. He worked meanwhile in a mine in Honduras as a day laborer.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Rines of Mora filed today for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, the office vacated by the resignation of Walter J. Smith, and which was temporarily filled by the appointment of C. Gooding of Rochester. It has been generally conceded that Mr. Gooding would be a difficult opponent, but Mr. Rines was a candidate in the primary for the state auditorship, and was beaten by a narrow margin only because of the removable popularity of the successful candidate, J. A. O. Proulx. Mr. Rines is regarded as one of the strongest men in the state. He is a speaker of the 1913 legislature and made a record in that office which is believed will be a hard one for his successors to beat for years. That house, chiefly, it is admitted, through the good judgment shown by Mr. Rines in making committee appointments and by his urging of expedition, left a record of being the most progressive body in the history of the state, and with the most accomplished of any that the state has had. He held the respect of the members and to him was attributed freely the chief credit of its success.

DUTCH NEED WHEAT FROM UNITED STATES

The Hague, April 3. via London.—Holland's reserves of wheat are practically exhausted and the Associated Press is informed on the very highest authority that the government intends to buy 100,000 tons in America in addition to the normal 60,000 monthly, in order to form the needed reserve. Several Dutch ships have been requisitioned under the new ship law to bring these supplies from America.

Friday night's Zeppelin raid over England followed: "During the night of April 1-2 naval airships renewed the attack on the east coast of England. For a period of one and one-half hours explosive and incendiary bombs were thrown on blast furnaces, large iron works and industrial establishments on the south bank of the river and on the port establishments of Middleborough and Sunderland. Large explosions, fires and demolitions were caused and the successful effects of the attack were clearly noticeable.

crossed the coast. The other turned back. "For the present we know that six persons were killed and about 100 injured.

"Eight dwelling houses were demolished, a serious fire was caused in a French polishing shop."

Heavy Loss of Life. With rare exceptions the big air raid of Jan. 31, when the casualties were 100 killed and 117 injured, the Zeppelin raids of 1916 and Saturday night caused greater loss of life than any previous aerial attack this year.

The total casualties for the two nights, according to an official report, were 63 killed and 166 wounded. There is some compensation for this sacrifice, however, in the fact that the public find satisfaction in practical proof afforded of a great improvement in the defensive methods dealing with aerial incursions. For the first time since the inception of this method of warfare on the British coast, not only has one raiding Zeppelin been brought down and its crew taken prisoner, but the official report recounts an aerial fight between a Zeppelin and a British airplane, Lieut. Brandon, who, mounting to a height of 3,000 feet, over the raid and dropped several bombs on it with effect.

The machine of Lieut. Brandon was hit several times by incendiary bullets from the Zeppelin. It is still unknown whether the Zeppelin in this slight was the L-15, which was brought down off the Thames estuary, or another craft which is believed to have dropped its machine gun, patrol tank and other parts.

British Airman Attack. There has been constant agitation in the newspapers for British airmen to attack Zeppelins and the fact that this has been successfully done gives promise of still greater achievements in the same direction.

Saturday night's raid was much less serious than that of Friday night. Only the most meager details of the attack, however, are yet available. It is believed that only one Zeppelin succeeded in passing the coast, the other being turned back. Sixteen persons were killed and 100 injured, of whom six were women and children, and about 100 injured.

Lieut.-Commander Brethaupt, commander of the wrecked Zeppelin L-15, in an interview with the Associated Press, disavowed any desire or intention to kill civilians in air raids, but he admitted that he could speak in favor of the more important military objects of the raid. He asserted that the German commanders were able to define buildings below which he would not drop bombs, but he determined how close the bombs would go to the objects at which they were dropped.

Would Not Willingly Kill Children. "I do not think you would find an officer of the German army or navy who would willingly participate in the killing of women and children."

Lieut.-Commander Brethaupt, commander of the Zeppelin L-16, which was shot by fire in the raid Friday night on English towns and later sank in the Thames estuary, replied thus to the Associated Press when asked to explain the psychology of German air raids on defenseless cities and the killing of harmless civilians.

Lieut.-Commander Brethaupt, who at first was inclined to total reticence, however, said that he could speak in his own language quite free from emotion, but that he could not do so in the presence of British captives in the detention quarters.

Asked whether he knew of any location of the airship during raids in which he had participated, Lieut. Brethaupt said that he had seen the airship during raids in which he had participated, but that he could not say whether the bombs fell where they were intended to fall, except in some instances.

Commander Brethaupt said he was acquainted with numbers of British flying men, and did not feel any pity for them, but was doing his duty in fighting them. He said that he had seen the airship during raids in which he had participated, but that he could not say whether the bombs fell where they were intended to fall, except in some instances.

J. Tomashek is foreman and Percy Hackett will be timekeeper. About forty men will be employed at the start, increasing the crew as necessary.

"PEG O' MY HEART" HITS POPULAR NOTE

Charming Irish Comedy Again Finds Favor at Lyceum.

"Peg o' My Heart," that quaint, quiet but irresistible comedy-drama of J. Hartley Manners, which has delighted Duluthians every year for some time, began a week's engagement at the Lyceum yesterday and the manner in which the play was received speaks well for both players and their vehicle. "Peg" has maintained its place throughout the country as a few choice productions and each year finds it making the same theatergoers and playing to pretty much the same audiences as of yore.

Probably the greatest virtue of the play is its wholesomeness. The characters possess originality and freshness that make them popular at once. It is a play strong in heart quality, but its sentiment is such that it appeals to all classes of theatergoers. The idea of the whole production is summed up in the title and "Peg" is the chief character. He appeared an ideal Irish crooner.

Fog's experiences make up a clever story, simple but interesting. Having had a father more like than capable—in a wordly sense—Peg finds herself cast in the midst of aristocratic relatives in England by the terms of a will. Being altogether unoppressed and unguided, she makes a sort of break and shocks her snobbish relatives, who are unable to see the real value and genius of the girl beneath her boyish exterior. In about the same degree that Peg's remarks shock her relatives, they interest Jerry, the titled young guardian, and he readily falls for her.

The cast is excellent throughout and Miss Florence Martin as Peg proved irresistible, with the power to produce laughter or tears with her Irish brogue, keen sense of humor and charming personality.

Lillian Kemble-Cooper, as the conventional daughter of the aristocratic Mrs. Chichester, contrasted strongly with Miss Martin as Peg. Bruce Tilden as Jerry played his role well and ably assisted Miss Martin in bringing out the best in the scene, which both appeared. He appeared an ideal Irish wooer. York Erskine as Alaric, the silly and pampered son of Mrs. Chichester, struck just the right note. Madeline L'Estrange as the proud and haughty Mrs. Chichester played well in an unappreciated role.

The production was put out under the direction of Oliver Morosco and its scenic effects are excellent and the stage settings are appropriate and artistic. The production will undoubtedly do a good business during the whole week at the Lyceum.

Theater Gossip.

Headlining the all-girl show, which opened at the popular New Grand today for the first JAPANESE PRIMA half of the week DONNA AT GRAND is Mme. Sumiko Japaneese prima donna, who has been singing in New York, Boston, Chicago and many other big cities in America and Europe. Mme. Sumiko presents a cycle of songs with fine scenic investiture and is assisted by four Japanese dancing maidens and B. S. Takano, formerly musical director of the Imperial theater, Tokyo, Japan. Her repertoire is made up of selections chosen with due regard for vaudeville, the lighter and more melodious forms of music. She offers that wistful Japanese melody, "Chon Kinn," the favorite melody of "The Geisha," which was sung in Ensh. Then follows the Japanese dance of welcome by the four pretty Japanese girls, a series of songs and dances. A delightful offering with dancing, singing and wide display of women's finery is contributed by Three Anderson Sisters. These three dainty daughters of Sweden have plenty of personal charm and are exceptionally proficient in their chosen co-ordinate arts of song and dance.

Pauline Saxon, known as the "Sis Perkins girl," is a comedienne of parts with a fund of humor that is contagious, and her characterization of the rube girl is one of the funniest bits of the vaudeville stage.

The Misses May and Addis offer a singing and dancing act. Their songs are new and right down to date and their chatter is witty and full of brightness.

William Humphreys is featured in "Hunks," a three-act drama which toplines among the film stories. Another of the "Sis Hopkins" comedies, "When Things Go Wrong," and a Selig drama, "Making Good," balance an excellent entertainment.

The story of "Martha's Vindication" in which Norma Talmadge and company are playing at the Rex, tomorrow night, is old in subject but new in form. To shield a girl friend, whose lover is killed before she can marry her, Martha assumes the responsibility of the child. A pair of worthless characters who run a "baby farm" accuse the innocent woman of the motherhood, and she is about to be found guilty at a "church trial" when her friend, now the wife of a wealthy deacon of the church, acknowledges her baby.

The story, done by Triangle Fine Arts actors, is well handled, and a large Sunday attendance voted it a good play. The Keystone comedy, too, was up to the standard.

Tomorrow for three days and evenings Frank Mills will be seen in "The Moral Fabric," another Triangle picture that has won favor in New York and elsewhere. It is a startling as well as an interesting story of how a rich woman is lured from her husband and how she pays the penalty. The new Keystone comedy will close the two hours of motion picture entertainment.

Hall Caine's novel, "The Bondman," has been widely read and the story of William Farnum's new motion picture in CAIN'S PLAY is sufficient to call up delightful memories of the book and its thrilling story. At the Lyric yesterday, where the William Fox picture is to be seen until Wednesday, large audiences attested to the popularity of both actor and play.

In neither is there any disappointment. One finds that few changes are made in the original story of "The Bondman" as it came from the pen of Mr. Caine, and Mr. Farnum and his company of capable actors, make the story and its characters fully alive, and it is one of the best things William Farnum has done since he joined the Fox company.

The Fox studios pay close attention to light effects and the grouping of scenes, and have the added advantage of an actor of William Farnum's ability in this satisfying piece of motion picture art.

Wednesday closes the Farnum engagement, and Thursday the brother comes—Dustin Farnum in "Ben Blaine." Julius Steger, the dramatic star, who opened a three-day engagement yesterday at the Lyceum in "The Blindness of Love," a strong Melodrama, to "wonderful" in five acts, was greeted by capacity houses at each performance.

The story of this feature is in keeping with the types that have made Mr. Steger popular as an artist of pathos and tenderness. He essays the role of an itinerant piano tuner, after his fortune has been swept away through the profligacy of a son to whom he is blindly devoted.

The son leaves in order to avoid arrest, and after an absence of five years makes good. He returns to find his father, who has sold everything he owned so that he might clear his son's name, in abject poverty.

A happy reunion follows. Mr. Steger is supported by an unusually strong cast in which George Le Guere, the juvenile actor, and Grace Valentine, an artist of ability, are featured.

Novel and Impressive Exercises in Cloquet M. E. Church.

Cloquet, Minn., April 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beautiful services were held in the First M. E. church last night. After a few remarks in connection with the twenty-third Psalm by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Parish, the psalm was beautifully illustrated by stereoscopic views shown by Omra Skagerberg. While the pictures were being shown, Rev. Mr. Parish read the psalm very impressively. The pastor's idea of showing the pictures was to give the congregation a living impression of the psalm.

A few facts about John Henry Newman's hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," were given. This hymn was composed on Sunday, June 6, 1825, while the author was on a shipboard, after having a severe sick spell and not satisfied with his Christian experience. The pictures were shown while the choir softly sang "Abide With Me" was shown while the choir sang. This hymn was written by Henry F. Lyte at the close of the twenty-fourth year pastorate at Brickham England.

Dr. Rankin at the time of composing this hymn was pastor of the First Congregational church at Washington, D. C., and became impressed with the meaning of the word "God," which is "God Be With You" that he composed this most popular parting hymn.

OCEAN CRUISE FOR NEXT JULY

Duluth Naval Militia Receives Orders to Prepare for Trip.

Capt. Eaton Expects to Send 250 Men and Twenty-Five Officers.

The work of the naval militia next summer will be much more extensive than formerly and will be a part of the preparedness program outlined at Washington, according to details of orders issued from the navy department.

ment and received in Duluth today by Capt. Guy A. Eaton, commander of the Duluth naval militia. The orders call for a participation by the Duluth naval militia in the battleship mobilization on the Atlantic coast. The Duluth contingent will probably leave here July 12 or 13, preferably not on the 13th. Capt. Eaton says—and will return about Aug. 1. Duluth is expected to send about 250 privates and twenty-five officers.

Ocean Cruise New Venture. The cruise on the Atlantic will be a special venture, and will have nothing to do with the annual cruise on the Great Lakes or the periodic cruises of the Duluth naval militia held throughout the early part of the summer. The latter are expected to begin as usual about May 1.

The cruise on the Atlantic will consist of the mobilization of about nine battleships of the U. S. Atlantic reserve fleet. The complement of each of these vessels will be made up of a certain number of officers of the regular navy and a reserve complement of enlisted men of the regular navy of approximately 40 per cent of the commissioned complement of the various vessels. The remainder of the complement, both officers, and enlisted men, will be made up of naval militia officers and enlisted men. In no case will the complement of officers or enlisted men be exceeded. Those naval militia officers who cannot participate in this battleship cruise will be given opportunities to take cruises at other times.

In arranging the details of this cruise, each state will be informed as to the exact number and rank of officers and the exact number and rate of enlisted men of their organization who will participate in the cruise, the vessel they will man and the point of embarkation. No Lake Rendezvous. There will be no rendezvous of naval militia vessels on the Great Lakes. Naval militia officers and enlisted men in the organizations on the Great Lakes who do not participate in the battleship mobilization may make individual cruises on the vessels loaned to their organizations, but such cruises must not interfere with the battleship mobilization. The details of these cruises will be arranged later.

The navy department predicts that fully 50 per cent of the strength of each naval militia organization will take part in the battleship mobilization.

MARINE CAPTAINS GET INCREASE.

Pittsburgh Fleet Masters Share in General Wage Advance.

The wages of the captains of the Pittsburgh Steamship company have been marked up, following the general advance made by the company. The matter was practically decided at the first meeting last week, and Harry Couly, president of the company, has notified the masters of the change. The captains will receive checks monthly hereafter.

The managers of other big fleets have or will take similar action, although the wages of some of the captains were increased last season. The advance will amount to 10 per cent or more in some cases.

PITTSBURGH MASTERS PROMOTED AND SHIFTED

HOME RULE IN ROAD-BUILDING IS ANARCHY AND WASTE.

There is a movement on foot, backed by an organization calling itself the "Minnesota Highway Home Rule association," to repeal the Dunn road law, abolish state supervision of road-building, and return to some anomalous, anarchic state of township control.

If any such move as that should succeed,
it should be paralleled by the absolute repeal of every penny of state aid. The state should never spend a dollar on roads in the routing and building and maintenance of which it has no say.

Roads can't be built without system any more than anything else. Minnesota could no more expect to acquire a correlated road system by the township plan than a man could expect to build a house by putting a crew of unskilled workmen on the job without plans or directions.

The township should do township road work, with the work of the several townships correlated by the county. The county should do county road work, with the work of the several counties correlated by the state. The state, with its broader vision, should generally supervise and suggest uniform methods promoting efficiency and economy.

There should be more centralized organization of road work; not less. If anything is done to the Dunn road law it should be in that direction—the direction of more coherent and better planned work—rather than in the direction sought by this "home rule" movement, which is the direction of anarchy and waste and inefficiency.

The Herald notes the charge that this "home rule" movement is backed by a conspiracy of bridge contractors, but it knows nothing of that. It is very plain, though, that it is a stupid movement with stupid aims, and that it ought to be defeated at all costs if Minnesota is ever to have a real road system.

It looks as if we are to have another year without a Hague peace conference.

THE TARIFF COMMISSION BILL.

This country inevitably is coming to the tariff commission plan. Nearly everybody is for it, because nearly everybody is disgusted with political manipulation of a question that never for a moment should have been in politics. While The Herald has felt that there will be disappointment in the working of the plan—most of those advocating it have in mind something analogous to the interstate commerce commission, when the Constitution makes that impossible—it can see utterly no harm in it, and some possibilities of good.

The administration tariff commission bill, now before the house, seems to cover the ground fully. It provides for six commissioners at ten thousand a year each, no more than three of whom can be of the same political party. The first appointments are to be made so that one will expire every two years, after which the term will be two years. The duties of the commission are as follows: to investigate the administrative and fiscal effects of the customs laws of this country, the relations between the rates of duty on raw materials and finished products, the effects of advalorem and of specific duties, all questions relating to the arrangement of schedules and classification of articles in the law, the tariff relations between this and other countries, commercial treaties, preferential provisions, the effect of export bounties, preferential transportation, the volume of importations compared with domestic production and of conditions, causes and effects relating to the competition of foreign industries, including cost of production and dumping.

In short, the bill empowers the commission to cover the whole field of the tariff in all its ramifications. The information it gets it is to lay before the president and the chairmen of the ways and means committee of the house and the committee on finance of the senate.

Properly constituted, such a commission will investigate the situation and, without partisan or doctrinaire restrictions, make recommendations for the best interests of the whole country. So far, so good. The rest will depend upon congress and the country. The commission's reports will be considered first by the ways and means committee of the house, which makes tariff bills. If this committee gives fair weight to the recommendations of the commission, all is well. If it pigeonholes these recommendations and goes on in its old rolling way, making the tariff the football of party politics, sectionalism and commercial greed, there will be no gain at all. If there is a public sentiment strong enough to compel fair consideration of the commission's reports, then there may be a great gain.

But so far as a tariff commission bill can, this bill goes. It probably will pass.
It would be a good sign if it passed unanimously. If there is a party division on it, it will mean simply that Republicans wish to prevent Democrats getting credit for this answer to an overwhelming public demand.

Smuggling is said to "appeal to a woman's sense of economy"—and doubtless to a man's sense of "con."

THE CASE OF THE FIREMEN.

The firemen in Duluth want the double platoon system, which would make their lives and their work much pleasanter, but which would cost the city thirty thousand dollars a year more.

The commissioners, after thoroughly studying ways and means, have offered this compromise: Ten thousand dollars additional now, which would employ enough more men to give all the firemen one day off in five instead of one in six; ten thousand dollars more the next year, which would hire enough men to make it one day off in three; and a similar sum the third year, which would bring in the full double platoon system.

The firemen are talking of rejecting that compromise and going before the people on an initiative election, trying to get them to vote the full program at once.

While there is manifestly widespread sympathy with the case of the firemen, and a feeling that they ought to be helped as much as possible, our advice to them is to think this offer over very carefully before they reject it.

Coming before the people with a flat refusal from the commissioners to help them at all would be one thing. Coming before the people after rejecting what seems to be a pretty fair offer of compromise would be another thing entirely.

The commissioners are quite emphatic in their statement that in view of the present condition of city finances this is the best that can be done. Doubtless they will have figures and facts, in case of a campaign, to back up this statement.

The firemen will be making a mistake,
we fear, if they reject the offer of the commissioners without giving it very full and very careful consideration.

These repeated charges that our army aeroplanes are obsolete bring faint memories of the days when American aeroplanes were all just Wright.

THE FATUITY OF IGNORANCE.

The hirsute old fishwife of East Superior street, in her new role of critic of the army is enjoying herself immensely, chiming in the chorus of leucolopathic invertebrates who can feel no safety unless at least half the population is armed and in uniform to protect them from imaginary foes.

Also, she is providing some amusement to others, which helps to lighten a drab and dreary world.

In the first column of her editorial page
Saturday morning appeared this remarkable criticism of the United States army:

There is not with the troops in Mexico camp kitchen such as provide for the great armies of Europe. Our men still cook at camp fires, with the old camp stoves. Yet the field kitchens with the German, French and British troops are no longer novelties save to progressive America.

In the fifth column of the same page, in a somewhat belated account of the occupation of Vera Cruz by American troops, this appears:

The natives could not imagine an army existing in any other way (than as the Mexican armies exist), so when they saw row after row of our MOBILE CAMP KITCHENS with big, strapping soldiers baking bread and cooking rations they looked on with eyes popping and mouths agape.

If the United States army were half as big a joke as some of the critics who are filling the air with shrieks of woe out of their abyssal ignorance, it would be a scream.

Here we are once more at the time of year when publishers have to tell Uncle Sam some interesting things about his publications.

A MORATORIUM ON RENT.

One odd-by-product of the war in France is that it is no longer cheaper there to move than to pay rent. For a year and a half, to lessen the financial complexities of the situation, there has been a moratorium on rents, and tenants have no longer had to turn their centimes and francs over to their landlords. That certainly reduces the financial complexities of the tenants, but it can't much improve the situation for landlords.

Tenants pay nothing; landlords get nothing.
That may help make war popular with tenants—except those whose loved ones it has stolen. It can scarcely make for enthusiasm for war among landlords.

Longing

Editorial in the New York World.

In Britain, France, Germany and all the other warring nations there are rumors of approaching peace. They may or may not be true, but how eagerly must they be seized upon by millions of wives and mothers and daughters who have waited long for the good news.

We wonder how many Linden Julies there are today in Europe.
Linden Julie was a woman who stood every day for forty-five years under the trees that border the Unter den Linden thoroughfare in Berlin. Her sweetheart, tall and young, marched off to the war with France in 1870, brother and never returned. His name was not among the wounded or killed. When the troops returned victorious from the war and marched up the Unter den Linden, Juliet stood there with joy and love in her eyes to welcome her hero. He did not come. She went the next day, and the next; and all the days since then for forty-five years, she stood waiting, never losing faith that he would come. She grew white-haired, haggard, bent and feeble with the dragging years, and everyone in Berlin knew her as "Linden Julie." She died a few months ago.

When peace comes after this war what a mockery the cheering multitudes of blar-ning bands, the tossing flags will be to millions of women whose husbands, fathers, brothers and sons have never returned. Even the place and manner of their death will be unknown. They are simply "missing" among those we read of in dispatches like the following description of a French drive against German trenches:
"Above all was blackness but at its lower edge the curtain was fringed with red and green flames marking the explosion of shells directly over the ditch and parapet in front of us. Out of that blackness fell a trickling rain of pieces of metal, lumps of earth, knapsacks, rifles, cartridges and fragments of human flesh."

An Interesting Coincidence

New York World: The three United States senators who are most active in making Mexican mischief are Fall of New Mexico, Borah of Idaho and Gallinger of New Hampshire.

Senator Fall has extensive mining interests in Mexico. His purpose in helping to create a situation that would compel armed intervention requires no explanation.

Senator Borah is one of the numerous Republican aspirants for the presidency, and is evidently hoping for a Mexican issue.

Senator Gallinger is the old guard leader of the Republican minority in the senate.
All three of these eminent statesmen are fearless and uncompromising in their attitude toward Mexico. But curiously enough, all three of them are for Germany and against the United States on the armedmerchantman issue. They were among the fourteen senators who opposed the tabling of the United States resolution.

Associated with them in the business of infaming public sentiment against Mexico are all the leading progressive newspaper editors in the United States, headed by the Hearst papers and the Chicago Tribune.

Readers may draw their own conclusions from this statement of fact.

Seeing the World.

I always wanted to see the world—I had no chance before.
Nor I don't suppose I should 'ave if, there
I used to read the tourist books, the shipping news also.
An' I 'ad the chance of goin', so I couldn't
'elp but go.

We 'ad a spell in Egypt first, before we moved along.
Crossed the Red Sea, where we 'got it hot an' strong;
We 'ad no drink when we was dry, no rest
when we was tired.
But I've seen the world an' Spink, which I 'ad off desired.

I've what'll last me all my life to talk about an' think;
I've sampled various things to eat an' various more to drink;
I've strolled around the dark bazars, which makes the pay to fly.
(An' I 'ad my fortune told as well but that was all my eye).

I've seen them little islands, too—I couldn't say their names—
An' towns as white as washin' day an'
mountain spoutin' flames;
I've seen the sun come lonely up on miles an' miles of sea;
Why, folks 'ave paid a 'undred pound an'
seen no more than me.

The sky is some'ow bluer there—in fact, I
'ave 'ad it on the tongue;
As any sun could be so 'ot or any sky so blue;
There's figs an' dates an' suchlike things
an' all kinds of treat;
An' black folks walkin' up an' down as natural as you please.

I always wished to see the world, I'm fond of life an' change.
But Abdul got me in the leg; an' this is the reason;
That when you see Old England's shore all wrapped in mist an' rain, Why, it's worth the bloomin' bundle to be comin' home again.—London Punch.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Marching On.

I have read a hundred essays on the Causes of the Fight, and every country's in the wrong, and all are in the right;
the bones of countless butchered men are bleaching in the light, and Death goes marching on. The war was forced on yonder king, who couldn't dodge the scrap; and it was forced on 't'other king, who is a peaceful chap;
and meanwhile over every foot of Europe's soggy map, King Death is marching on. It seems a shame, when all the kings were suffering for peace, that war should spring its wrinkled front, and all its dogs release, that generals should wade around in blood and fur and grease, and Death go marching on. And still the soldiers fight and slay, their little wage to earn; and where the vine and fig tree were, the lured beacons burn; the sleepless children watch and wait for dads who won't return, and Death is marching on. It must have been spontaneous, the great and bloody game, if anyone's responsible, no man will take the blame; old Europe's littered with her dead, her blind and halt and lame, and Death goes marching on.

Humor and Pathos of the Tariff

By Bloughton Cooley in the Chicago Herald.

When future critics search early American literature for humor that is indigenous to the soil, they will not find it in the works of Mark Twain, or Bill Nye, or Artemus Ward, but in the schedules of the protective tariff and in the arguments of its supporters. Henry Clay pleaded for a protective tariff because American wages were too high to permit manufacturers to compete with Europe. McKinley, Dingley, Aldrich and those who have succeeded them to their cloaks claim that American wages are due to the protective tariff.

One of the rarest bits of humor, however, put by an economic funny man is the resolution adopted at the recent meeting of the Grain Growers' association in Minnesota.

Whereas, This convention is composed of grain growers of the State of Minnesota, and do believe in protecting our industries and interests, be it resolved, That we go on record as favoring the repeal of the reciprocal provision in the Underwood tariff bill, which will permit importation of Canadian wheat free in competition with our own wheat, which is raised on more expensive lands, and upon which we must pay correspondingly high interest on our money.

Who of all the American humorists, from Artemus Ward to Mark Twain, uttered anything so delicious as that? Note the distinguished provisos for not subjecting American-grown wheat to the competition of Canadian wheat: "It is produced on less expensive lands. Heretofore we have been able to shut out foreign wheat on the sake of American labor, and then have imported the cheapest foreign labor to make the American protectee goods."

But the Grain Growers' association, in a moment of temporary frankness, asks protection for the landowners. Land in Minnesota is worth more than land in Manitoba, therefore, the Minnesota wheat grower should have a higher price for his wheat than the Manitoba farmer.

Yet why is Minnesota land worth more than Manitoba land? There is no evidence that the soil or the nature has laid a heavier burden upon the Minnesota than upon the Manitoba. If there be any difference, indeed, it is the Minnesota land that has the greater advantage. What sort of Alceon-ian philosophy is this that would place the handicap on the lesser favored?

But, granted that there be found enough devotees of this topsy-turvy political economy to shut out Canadian wheat because the land south of the border is worth more than the land north of the border; then what?
If the Minnesota gets more for his wheat,
he will have a larger return for his labor and capital, and others wishing to share in his good fortune will try to buy or rent Minnesota land. This will still further advance its price, while tending to reduce Canadian lands, and according to protectionist logic will necessitate a still higher tariff on foreign-grown wheat.

This we shall have the spectacle of an ever-increasing compensation to the farmer for dearer land, and an ever-increasing land value because of the higher price of wheat. The philosopher's stone could be expected to do more.

The Minnesota wheat grower says he cannot pay interest upon the present value of his land unless the price is what he has advanced. But what makes the value of his land? Is it not the fact that the wheat produced there commands a certain price on the market? The price of the land is the capitalization of its income, and if the income from the wheat will not pay interest on its cost, it is ripe for the plow.

While the land will not pay interest on its cost, it will be amply for $100 or $50 an acre. The farmer gets down the price of his land to a legitimate basis he will still receive a full return upon the labor and capital expended in his business, and his tools. The only difference will be that he will not receive quite as much for the use of his land. But what is he to do with it? He can't sell it, for it is worth more than he can get for it. He can't use it, for it is worth more than he can get for it. He can't expect to do more.

At its barest terms, the resolution of the Minnesota Grain Growers' association amounts to this: Resolved, That congress place a tax upon the bread eaters of the United States to make our land worth $60 instead of $30 an acre.
Is it possible that men who know enough to know that it is ripe for the plow will lay a tax on the bread eaten by the American people in order that the owners of the richest gifts of nature may be still further enriched? It seems almost incredible to think that intelligent men would make such a proposal. They could not have realized that the owners of the richest gifts of nature and justice. Indeed, had they seen their proposal in its true light they would have hidden its hideous features under a kinder cloak.

A strange obsession controls the protectionists. It would be pathetic were it not that it would be highly amusing were it not so tragic. In nothing else are they so lacking in reason. Had the Creator made national boundaries, as protectionist statements do, and had the nations been bound to honor the engineer who tunnels, they would honor the engineer who tunnels.

ments, that trade is the life of industry.
They know that the nations are bound to trade with the world. Free trade is the natural right of man. It cannot be encroached upon by any man-made law. It is the life of the world. It is the life of the world. It is the life of the world. It is the life of the world. It is the life of the world.

The Reign of Law

By "The Innocent Bystander."

IV.—Italy's Late Arrival.

Italian history goes back to the legend of Romulus and Remus. The Italian government—more infant compared with the United States—was created in 1861 or thereabouts.
Italy never had been a government. Never.
Rome saved Italy. Italy had nothing to say about the government of Rome. There was no Italy under the Caesars, only Rome.
When Rome went to smash, there was no Italy. For 1,600 years a German king after another claimed to be emperor over some loose domain of which Italy was part. But though he ruled Italy he seldom governed the Italians, and Italy had no part in his government.

In our time there was Venetian government, Sardinian government, Neapolitan government, the government of the papal states, and so on—Austria interfering with them all—but no Italian government. And there never had been any Italian government. Then came Victor Emmanuel rallying about Sardinia more and more of Italy. The kingdoms of Italy fought one another and Sardinia, until in 1861 Italy was united. Italy was accomplished in the crowning of its king and the establishment of its parliament.

Then for the first time in the history of the world there was a government which was all Italian and comprised nearly all of Italy.
So within our own time was the reign of law extended over Italy, displacing the rule of violence.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments By and About Newspapers in the Upper States.

Always.
The successful business man isn't the only person who is willing to swear that advertising pays. The Stillwater Gazette has found another willing witness, for it says:
"You can always secure an admission that advertising pays, from the fellow who has been arrested and locked up, is ashamed of himself, and fears his friends and neighbors will read it in the evening paper."

To Whom It May Concern.
The Chisholm Meamba Miner is responsible for a bit of wisdom in this form: "The fellow who identifies himself with some good cause and lives up to its teachings will be a better man and citizen for the few hours he devotes to its meetings."

The Nerve of Some People
The nerve of some people! Here comes the Elk River Star-News with this: "The officials have the power to enforce most any law passed by the legislature, but they are usually quite lukewarm about some of them.
It might be well, in the adoption of progressive legislation, to provide penalties for the neglect of officials to enforce them."
What would you do? Start a revolution?

Prof. Taft Is Proved Right.
We are strongly reminded of Prof. Taft's remark that Providence has kept an eye watch over our country's welfare. The reminder is this, from the Red Wing Eagle:
"Roosevelt charges President Wilson with being responsible for the loss of more than 200 American lives because of his dilatory Mexican policy. At that, the American people are thanking God that Wilson and not Roosevelt has been president during these trying times; for they have had enough of the badly-raging Roosevelt to know that, if he had been president under the same circumstances, he would have had the life-blood of thousands instead of hundreds of Americans shed on Mexican soil long before this."

It Was a Clench.
It was a clench that the editor (note the word) of the Little Falls Transcript was involved in trouble when he published the following: "Some sweet day the specific terms,
'woman teacher,' 'woman lawyer,' 'woman doctor,' 'woman lecturer' and all such whatnot will be passed. God speed the day! The overworked sex society has got to go. And here is what the Melrose Beacon said in response: "And yet—anyone would know, after reading our editorial paragraph, that the Transcript has a 'woman editor,' even if there were none of the usual suffrage-fem-inistic hot-shots."

Yes, Verily.
An unmistakably accurate statement of popular feeling is given thus by the Ada Herald: "The Bonifazi Sentinel says that one knows what Eberhart, Van Sant, Jacobson and Fred Stevens, the four delegates-at-large from Minnesota, will do at the Republican national convention after they cast their own complimentary vote for Cummins.
With Wilson's nomination on the Democratic ticket assured, no one seems to give a hallujuha what they do, either."

Order Your Ancestors Robes.
Order your ancestors robes, brethren! The great day must be near when even one man can be found like this chap described by the Lakeland Standard: "A good citizen of Lakeland enumerated the other day a few of the numerous things which he enjoyed for the taxes he paid. His taxes are more than $100 a year. Why," said he, "the schooling my one child gets is worth twice that at a year to me. Next year there will be two children getting the beginnings of an education. The next year there will be three.
That, I have a sidewalk of cement all the way from my home to my office, or to the depot, or to the southern-most part of the town. I have the privilege of sewer and a splendidly lighted street as well as convenient and splendid lights in the home. If people would stop and think of what they get for the taxes they pay they would grumble less and be less tempted to 'mooch' when the assessor comes around."

NORTHEASTERN GETS REDUCED FIRE RATE

Commissioner Works Induces Companies to Agree to His Demands. Northern Part of State Put on Same Basis as Southern.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—All Northern Minnesota is to have the basic fire insurance rate enjoyed by Southern Minnesota. This is the burden of an announcement made by Samuel D. Walker, state insurance commissioner, who a year ago undertook the task of giving all Minnesota as low a basic rate as that prevailing in the southern portion of the state.

Twins Cities in Southern Area. Until last fall Southern Minnesota, including the Twin Cities, enjoyed the lowest basic rate. Central and Northwestern Minnesota were paying a higher rate, and the sixteen northeastern counties were paying the highest rate.

General Inspection Company. The general inspection company, after some negotiations, agreed to lower the rate in Central and Northwestern Minnesota to agree with the Southern Minnesota rate. The agreement was made on the condition that the company grant credit reductions on existing rates.

One-story brick buildings reduced from 60 to 47. Two-story reduced from 63 to 49. One-story frame reduced from 1.01 to 95. Two-story reduced from 1.20 to 1.00.

Requests were made last week for special reports as to weather conditions and prospects for seeding in the various parts of the state by Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration, and yesterday reports were received from several counties in different parts of Minnesota as follows:

Le Sueur county.—Frost not yet out of the ground and no seeding done. Tilled fields are waiting to be planted. There is a lack of good seed corn in the vicinity. Cannot say when seeding will begin. Houston county.—A backward spring and a heavy winter made during the past week have caused a fire in St. Raphael's Catholic church, near the state capitol, Sunday morning. IS PLEASED WITH WORK

Good Material for Salesmen in Class, Says "Y" Secretary.

Lauds Student for His Essay on Profession of Selling.

Students taking the course in salesmanship at the Y. M. C. A. will be giving their examinations next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. A. L. Turner, educational secretary of the "Y," is very well pleased with the work of the present class and he says employers throughout this territory give the students a high rating because of their efficient work. Following is one of the class exercises written by E. F. Killeen, which Mr. Turner says is one of the best he has received:

Greatest of Professions.
"Salesmanship is in many respects, the greatest profession in the world today. It employs more men, it disposes of greater financial values, and concerns more closely the daily comfort of humanity than any other profession."

"The most fruitful days of selling enterprise are to come. The ever-increasing introduction of new commodities offers in itself a wide field. The sale of old commodities is daily increasing, owing to the growing wants of society."

"When these points are brought to our minds we are prone to believe that success is easy in the selling field. Statistics, however, show the opposite to be true. Seventy-five per cent of those who begin in the selling game end with failure. Ninety-five per cent of those who start in business end in bankruptcy. It is said that only four out of every one hundred men are successful in life."

"It is vitally essential that the salesman be educated to the requirements of his profession. The course that we have just completed has given us a foundation, as it were, upon which to build our future success. We have profited only insofar as we have gained knowledge."

"Through our course of study we have followed the process of the sale. From the raw material, through the series of manufacture and marketing, to the consumer, salesmanship is everywhere evident."

"Salesmanship is the art or science of selling goods at a profit. The three elements in the sale are the goods, the buyer and the salesman."

Steps of the Sale.
"In tracing the steps of the sale we must consider the importance of each one individually. The first step is to gain an audience. This we must gain through the prospect's attention. After these elementary steps, which are nevertheless important, the real work begins. To arouse interest, then to create desire, that is what sells goods, that is what makes business—the desires, as well as the needs of society. Convincing our prospect that we are trying to serve him, and prevailing upon him to place his order, are the next steps. After closing the sale we should convince him of his wisdom in buying from us by increasing his desire. The get-away should be prompt and businesslike, and it is then that we should make a good impression in order to be remembered."

"Each step in the sale should be accompanied by a growing confidence, both in our ability to sell and in our goods."
"We must have a thorough knowledge of our goods and of our house. It is equally important that we have a fair knowledge of human nature, that by observation we may know what kind of a man the buyer is. The art of suggestion is the best means of arousing interest and creating desire, the two most important points of the sale."
"After the sale we must do all we can to see that our customer is satisfied. See that he gets the goods he wants when he wants them. In other words, give him service. That is the secret of business success—service."

Part Man Plays.
"Let us consider what part the man himself takes in selling his goods. The man's personality, more than any other thing, will make or break a sale. Character is what a man is. Reputation is what the people think he is. Personality is neither of these. It is the outward expression of a man's character. It is a radiation as it were, indicating his real qualities."

"A good personality is founded, first of all, on good health. Thus it is necessary to develop our bodies in order to attain success with our minds. Set rules of health, applying to every case, have never been defined and never will be. The way to attain health is to eat, sleep and exercise. As to the way of doing it common sense is the best guide."

"The man who would be successful must develop, early in life, good habits. From these he will acquire a system of action that will be of great benefit in later years."

"A man's personal appearance also enters into the sale to no small degree. If a man is of pleasing appearance the buyer will think him in a good position to give service and will in most cases favor him. In regard to personal cleanliness, common sense will tell of its importance. Our dress should be neat and inconspicuous. Carlyle said that he is best dressed whose dress no one observes."

"Politeness, punctuality, cheerfulness, self-assertion and enthusiasm are all necessary to success."

Energy and Enthusiasm.
"We should develop enthusiasm. Energetic men are the only ones who ever attain prominence. If salesmanship is to be our life work, we should put all our energy into the making of our success. A story is related of a newspaper reporter who called upon a prominent business man to get an interview as to how he attained success. The business man told him that the secret of his success was written on the outside of the door. On going out the reporter found the word 'push' written in large letters."

"The course that we have completed has given us a working knowledge of the art and science of selling goods. We should be glad at all times to avail ourselves of an opportunity to learn."

"To have a thorough knowledge of our work, to go at it with vim and energy, with the one thought of giving service means success."

"If we place our ambition high, we shall have to work the harder to attain it. But attain it we will, if we remember that the secret of success is work."

SCHWAB PURCHASES ANOTHER BIG PLANT

BALTIMORE, April 3.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel company, has purchased the Baltimore Sheet & Tin Plate company, the $3,000,000 enterprise recently promoted by J. E. Aldred. The purchase will result in tripling the originally proposed size of the plant. Reports of the deal from New York were confirmed by J. M. Jones, president of the tin plate company here. In less than a year the Schwab interests have become the owners of the Detroit & Harvey Machine company, the Maryland Steel company, and the $3,000,000 Aldred concern. At Sparrows' point from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 will be spent in improvements.

NEW MARK IN CONVENTIONS

Current Year Promises to Eclipse All Others for Gatherings.

Duluth Gaining in Fame as Host City—Big Meetings Scheduled.

For years Duluth has been growing in fame as a convention city, but the current year bids fair to mark the record for the number of people attending them. It is already assured that Duluth will entertain many more thousand people during 1916 than in any previous year in her history; and every bunch of them will be of the live character—even the gathering of the state association of funeral directors, which will take place in August. About 300 are expected to attend this gathering, it is announced. Probably the most important gathering of the year, because of its national importance and also because Duluth is the rowing center of the universe anyway, will be the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. Dozens of the leading rowing clubs of the United States and Canada will send their crews here for the two days of rowing, which will take place Aug. 11 and 12, and national championships, most of which are held now by Duluth crews, will be decided for the ensuing year. Thousands of fans and tourists are expected to be present at that time.

Elks and Eagles Coming.
When the annual convention of the Elks' state association meets here on June 14 and 15, the Duluth Elks will have their hands full playing host and other business men in the city will be drafted to help out. It is estimated that fully 5,000 Elks and their wives will attend this gathering, which, while there will be lots of business to transact, will be more of an outing and relaxation than anything else. Just preceding the Elks convention, and, in fact, one day being simultaneous with the opening one of the Elks, will be the annual gathering of the Eagles of the state, who will meet here June 13 and 14. There are a lot of Eagles in Minnesota, and it is said that most of them will come to Duluth at that time. Many of them are Elks also, and it is likely that they will make a stay of three days to a week here, attending both conventions.

Grocers of State.
The Minnesota Retail Grocers' General Merchants' association will have its annual meeting in Duluth on July 18, 19 and 20, and it is expected that there will be a liberal representation from all parts of the state, for when the association met here a number of years ago the members declared that they had the time of their lives. The Sons of Norway will hold their biennial meeting in Duluth in July, and delegates and others are expected from various parts of the United States and Canada. The Minnesota State Game Protective league will hold its first annual meeting in Duluth on Aug. 9, 10 and 11, and it is expected that sportsmen from all over Minnesota will be present.

FORGER PUT ON PAROLE.

Ludwig Jensen Admits He Passed Forged Check.
Ludwig Jensen, alias Louis Jensen, 27, was paroled by Judge Cant of the district court under a suspended penitentiary sentence Saturday afternoon, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery in the second degree. Jensen was brought here from Chicago by the authorities. He admitted that he had passed a forged check drawn on the St. Louis County State bank on Dec. 31 last for $38.88 on John Anderson. The prisoner was paroled to the custody of F. E. Resche, probation officer. Jensen told the court that he had made good the amount of the check. He agreed to lead a straight life in the future.

IMPOSE ON KESKI'S GOOD FELLOWSHIP

Men He Aids Accused of Stealing His Money and Clothes.

After enjoying the hospitality of Oscar Keski, lumberjack, two men who said they were his fellow countrymen, robbed him of $8 in cash and two pairs of trousers last night.

Overjoyed at hearing news from the home folks, Keski ordered a big dinner for his friends, who were "broke." Then he toasted their health in many "bummers" of beer.

Finally he went to the Cliff hotel, West Michigan street, with them, and engaged a separate room for them. He fell asleep in his own room and awoke to find the "friends" at his bedside. His money was gone, they were wearing two pairs of trousers, which looked very familiar to Keski, and they were just about to leave.

Fairmount Oscar Olson caught the two and found $8.35 in Reiholm's pockets. The $5 bill which Keski had had was missing, but after a long search it was found tucked into an empty beer bottle, which had been tossed into the closet of the room.

Before Judge F. H. Cutting, in municipal court today, Olson and Reiholm pleaded not guilty to petty larceny. They were held in $100 bail for a hearing tomorrow morning.

The co-operation of earthly and heavenly forces for the good of those who love and reverence God is set forth by the writer of the eighty-third psalm in the words: "Mercy and truth have met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other. Truth shall spring out of the earth, and righteousness shall look down from heaven."

WIDOW TELLS OF ASSAULT

Lodger at Cabin Said to Have Fired Two Shots at Woman.

So crippled and paralyzed that she had to be assisted to the witness chair, Mrs. Abbie Reon, aged widow, who lives in a log cabin two and one-half miles from the Lakewood pumping station, appeared in district court this morning and related the story of the brutal assault alleged to have been made on her by George Chobotar, 35, erstwhile friend of the family, who once shared his home with her since her husband's death.

On the evening of Jan. 27 last, it is charged, Chobotar assaulted Mrs. Reon with a loaded shotgun. Two shots were fired, but both went into the cabin floor. Then it is claimed, she was driven out into the snow and cold. She stumbled along for a distance of about fifty feet where she dropped. Before she was picked up and brought back into the cabin, the fingers on both hands were frozen.

Chobotar had been making his home at the widow's place, and on the night in question one became angry because she had prepared nothing for him to eat. She told him that she was not feeling well and that there was plenty to eat on hand that he could help himself.

WIDOW TELLS OF ASSAULT

Lodger at Cabin Said to Have Fired Two Shots at Woman.

So crippled and paralyzed that she had to be assisted to the witness chair, Mrs. Abbie Reon, aged widow, who lives in a log cabin two and one-half miles from the Lakewood pumping station, appeared in district court this morning and related the story of the brutal assault alleged to have been made on her by George Chobotar, 35, erstwhile friend of the family, who once shared his home with her since her husband's death.

On the evening of Jan. 27 last, it is charged, Chobotar assaulted Mrs. Reon with a loaded shotgun. Two shots were fired, but both went into the cabin floor. Then it is claimed, she was driven out into the snow and cold. She stumbled along for a distance of about fifty feet where she dropped. Before she was picked up and brought back into the cabin, the fingers on both hands were frozen.

North Dakota Republicans Would Like to See Less Candidates. Party Feeling in State Reported to Be More Harmonious Than Usual.

Bismarck, N. D., April 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of the numerous Republican candidates for state offices in this state and the general feeling that there is more party harmony than usual there is said to exist a sentiment favoring an elimination conference along the lines of the similar Minnesota G. O. P. gathering prior to the primary in that state in the last gubernatorial election. Some claim that the Socialists under the guise of the Non-partisan league placed a so-called Republican ticket in the field in this state for the June primary.

campaign conducted in such a peaceful manner that there will be no bitterness to smother over between the primaries and the election in November. Three Seek Governorship. There are three candidates for the nomination for governor, Burdick of Williston, Eric of Grand Forks and Smith of Plaza. Each is independently seeking the honor, in addition to the man selected by the Non-partisan league. Elther one of these, it is contended, could easily defeat Frazier, the non-partisan candidate, at the June primaries if in the field alone, but if the regular Republicans are to be divided over these men the Non-partisan league man may win in June. Burdick sought the gubernatorial nomination two years ago against Hanna but was beaten as Hanna was awarded a second term. Burdick then announced his intention to again seek the office. He is strong in the northern and western counties. Fraine, who is lieutenant governor, announced a long time ago he would seek promotion to the executive chair. He has a lot of strength in the eastern counties and served as a lieutenant-colonel in the Spanish-American war. There is a remarkable similarity between the political careers of Burdick and Fraine. Each is a lawyer, each has served in the lower branch of the legislature, each has been lieutenant governor and it is natural that both are ambitious to be governor.

Editorial Candidate. Smith is an editor at Plaza and has a string of eight papers in the state. He is a strong contender for the non-partisan candidate for governor. His candidacy is not taken as seriously as that of Burdick and Fraine. Whether either Burdick or Fraine would withdraw in favor of the other or in favor of a third man is not known, but it is felt that if the three men could be gotten together the situation might be clarified to some extent. The same is true of the other state offices and an effort will be made to withdraw so a slate can be selected that can assure the nomination of Republicans instead of Socialists at the June primaries.

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a clean, "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Buy get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company.—Advertisement.

Greening Trambull, who recently failed, announces that he'll open a nickel and dime store for dolls. Mrs. Emma Nash has received a souvenir card from her niece who writes: 'In one of your pieces you break in into my life, say things are breaking fine for her.'

The Irish Fellowship club on March 14, aroused a lot of favorable comment. The following are very fair examples of the kind of comment the state press is making on the men who betrayed the nation by their vote on the Gore resolution:

Grand Rapids Herald-Review: There is evidence of a decided inclination among Republicans of this district to follow the lead of the party from Congress. The party has any number of desirable men for representative and there is no reason why one of Miller's type should be retained. The people of the district, without regard to party, are ashamed of him, personally and patriotically.

Donnelly Star: If the people of this district are so disgusted with the Minnesota representatives who voted against the honor of the United States, what are they going to do about Albert B. Cummings, who has been threatened ever since he withdrew from the governorship but nobody can tell about Mr. Lindbergh? He is likely to do anything—and get away with it.

They are also talking Samuel Van Sant, former governor, for the senatorial nomination. The former governor was second to Eberhart in the presidential election ticket, and it is claimed by his friends that had he or they done so, they would have had the vote.

Hokah Chief: A primary which will call out more than half the voters of the state, the first time it is used and at a time when there is no more than the election of a "ring" in the legislature, but it seems certain that he would be lost in the present progressive age, a period of which he is distinctly not a part.

St. Peter Herald: Sentiment in favor of Robert W. Hargadine, state fire marshal, for the Democratic nomination, is beginning to be manifested. Mr. Hargadine was secretary of the Democratic caucus committee in the days when John A. Johnson was before the people. He was the man selected to manage Governor Hammond's primary campaign. He is a man of high character and ability, and it is admitted that he is of gubernatorial size.

DULUTH'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 6—Caring for Defective Children.

Several years ago directors of the board of education began work on the problem of caring for children who were not normal, mentally or physically. It was not until a year ago, however, that the first class for defectives was established under the direction of Mrs. Susie B. Vincent, at the Nettleton building, Fifth avenue east and Sixth street. Since then the work has broadened until three expert instructors are kept busy, and more are planned for 1917.

In 1913, at the request of Supt. R. E. Dandell and directors of the board, principals and teachers prepared a tabulation designed to show the number of mentally defective or backward children, and the number who were physically impaired.

Behind in School Work. They learned that several hundred children were lacking in one way or another, and the figures so impressed them that the survey was repeated, more fully, the following year.

The 1914 figures showed: That 124 pupils at the Endion school were over age. That 191 at the Lakeside were over age. That 40 were over age at the Merritt, 35 because of illness, and that 5 were over age at the Irving.

That 80 were retarded at the Salter, and 3 were mentally defective. That 55 were over age at the Washington. That 125 were over age at the Adams, 14 being defective. That 102 were retarded at the Lincoln. That 140 were over age at the Longfellow. That 232 were over age at the Jefferson.

That 200 were over age at the Washington, 7 being mentally defective. That 168 were over age at the Longfellow. That 236 were retarded at the Irving. That 140 were over age at the Longfellow, 16 being physically defective and twelve mentally defective.

In addition to the foregoing, the following schools were over age: Cobb, 24; Lowell, 37; Emerson, 37; Franklin, 130. The Bryant school, Fairmount, Jackson, Lester Park, Madison, Monroe, no report.

It was found that in some cases children were behind because they had not started school when 6 years of age. In others, children were of foreign parentage, and thus were handicapped in mastering the elements of English.

Ninety per cent of the retardation was due to defective sight, defective hearing, and other physical defects, malnutrition, irregular attendance, truancy, continued sickness, indifference...

CHICAGO PHYSICIAN ENDS LIFE BY POISON

Chicago, April 3.—Dr. Theodore B. Sachs, until recently head of the board of directors of the Chicago municipal tuberculosis sanatorium, was found dead of poison yesterday. His demise, apparently premeditated, came as a dramatic climax to a controversy over his management of the sanatorium. His friends, in public statements, asserted that charges of gross mismanagement broke his heart, and that every penny possibly available was expended in his care and better judgment. Dr. Sachs left a statement in which he said that the institution was "conceived in a boundless love of humanity" and that every penny possibly available was expended in his care and better judgment.

The Importance of Skin Care in the Springtime

Infectious skin diseases are irritating, unpleasant, unsightly and dangerous. There never was a greater mistake made than trying to cure such disorders with pastes, lotions, or creams, rubbed on the outside. You can't cure skin diseases that way, because they are the direct result of infected blood, and you can't rub or soak poisons out of the blood. The annoyances of skin troubles are worse in spring than any other time. The perspiration that starts with the first warm days intensifies the smarting, burning sensation, and makes the trouble almost unbearable. There is only one way to relieve them, and that is through the blood, which must be thoroughly cleansed and purified. There is only one remedy that you can rely upon to do this, and that is S. S. S., the surest and best blood cleanser known. S. S. S. acts with sure effect directly upon the blood taken internally, it goes right into the blood vessels, drives out every bit of poison of whatever nature, kills the germs that starve and impoverish the blood, restores the skin to its proper condition and gives you healthy bone and tissue building blood. Even the worst cases, such as scrofula and blood poison, yield promptly to this efficient vegetable remedy. It doesn't matter how long you have had skin trouble, or if it has developed into chronic sores that you had given up all hope of curing. Take S. S. S. when all else fails. It brings relief. CARS LIMIT RAIL EARNING Northwestern Roads Show Surprising Increases Despite Equipment Shortage.

Northern Pacific and Milwaukee Have Big Returns in First Quarter.

Railroads in the Northwest are said to be showing surprising results in their current traffic returns. It is concluded that a record volume of business is being offered by shippers in nearly all classes of freight, and that the tonnage moved was not heavier than in the corresponding period of the year ended in the first quarter of 1915. For the first eight months of the year the Northern Pacific reported net earnings after all charges of $1,488,862, an increase of $6,827,992 over the corresponding period last year.

Milwaukee's Good Showing.
The Milwaukee road reported gross earnings of $7,411,239 in February, as compared with $6,472,696 last year. Its net earnings were $1,463,329, an increase of $57,817 over the same month of 1915. For the eight months of the year the road showed net earnings after taxes of $22,977,973, compared with $16,163,803 up to the same period a year ago.

For March the Milwaukee railroad's loadings are estimated to have shown an increase of over 5 per cent. The traffic feature was the heavy movement of lumber eastward and westward.

Commenting upon business conditions over the system, the road's president, A. J. Karting, said recently: "Our shortages are not serious, the worst being a bumper shortage in the Northwest. The car situation in Puget sound territory is again normal, but in Oregon and Washington people still fear congestion later."

May Build More Cars.
"The company has about 1,000 freight cars under construction, and will build more if needed. It has engaged for the next rail season for next year. The only new construction contemplated is fifteen to twenty miles in Clallam county, Wash., an equal amount near Bellingham, Wash., and perhaps more than that amount in extensions south of St. Mary's, Idaho, all through timber regions, with aim in Washington and in cedar in Idaho. All lumber manufacturers want more logs. The lumber industry is the best to revive, but it has had a very distinct revival. Prices have advanced on an average of $4 per 1,000 feet or more to record level."

"We spent a good deal on maintenance of equipment in February and March. Higher operating cost accounts for comparatively low net returns throughout both months. March, last year, was excellent in gross and net returns, comparison is better than it seems. Electrification is developing more economies than the most hopeful. The second electrified freight division, making total of 225 miles, will be in operation in two weeks, and the remaining 215 miles next fall."

SHADOWS HUBBY AND OTHER WOMAN

Superior Woman Causes Arrest of Pair in Duluth Hotel.

A woman turned amateur detective Sunday afternoon and caused two arrests.

She followed her husband, John Blomgren, 38, an engineer, from Superior to Duluth, where Blomgren was a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Anna Johnson, 34. Mrs. Blomgren "shadowed" their until they registered at a downtown hotel, and then telephoned to Gustav Lahl, lieutenant of detectives.

At her suggestion they were arrested and held at police headquarters on a serious charge. Later police dropped it, however, and substituted one of a discreetly conducted. After this was done they were released in $50 bail.

After the arrest Mrs. Blomgren telephoned to the other woman's husband, who lives at Allouez, and told him of the alleged "evidence" she had obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. Blomgren separated about a year ago. The wife intimated, according to the police, that a divorce action would result from yesterday's affair. The two defendants forfeited bail when they failed to appear in municipal court this morning.

EXPECTS SHORT TOBACCO CROP

A short tobacco crop in the territory south of the Pennsylvania-Ohio state line is predicted by John Fitzgerald, buyer for a large tobacco concern, who is in Duluth on a visit to his sister, Mrs. W. C. Allen, at 1830 Jefferson avenue.

This season, owing chiefly to lack of fertilizers, it is thought, he said, that the yield in South Carolina will be only about 60 per cent of what it was last year. A year ago the crop in that state was reported at 140,000,000 pounds. In North Carolina and in the eastern portion of Virginia, 150,000,000 pounds of tobacco was grown last year, and in the Kentucky region the output is estimated to have exceeded 160,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Fitzgerald estimates that the yield of cigarette tobacco, which is chiefly in Eastern Carolina, will be about 85 per cent of last year's crop. The Burley region of Kentucky, he said, stands alone in the promise of a prosperous year. The Burley and chewing tobacco is largely grown in that territory, and it is thought that the crop will be enormous. Growers in the northern part of Tennessee have already contracted for the sale of their tobacco to the Italian government direct, and to the French government through agents. The quality of the tobacco is generally regarded as inferior, being used mainly for chewing purposes. It is sold by the yard instead of by the pound.

Planters in the cigar tobacco regions of Pennsylvania and Ohio are looking forward to a good season as the early promise is for a heavy crop.

BANKING FUNDS IN ABUNDANCE

Chicago Federal Reserve Has Plenty of Money for Increasing Business.

Chicago, April 23.—General business activity continues throughout the Chicago district with an abundance of banking funds for April available, according to a report issued today by C. H. Bosworth, chairman of the Federal reserve bank of Chicago.

The report, in part, says: "Increased costs in manufacturing and the augmented volume in trade will soon bring about a reduction in the available money supply and there will be a slight raise in rates. The spring demand on agriculture institutions may not be realized, due to a reported volume of outside money which has been loaned on first mortgages at low rates and higher valuations."

Flown reports a shortage of seed corn, but careful testing and selecting of seeds may offset. Sleet storms destroyed some damage, but the outlook is reported favorable. Michigan advises fruit prospects are good and that the wheat crop was fairly well protected during the winter. Sections of Illinois and Indiana report some damage to the wheat crop, but it is difficult to judge the extent at this date. Livestock shipments are running heavier than a year ago and values are the highest since 1910."

WALTER SMITH'S TRIAL

Former State Treasurer to Face Jury on Next Tuesday.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—The trial of Walter J. Smith, former state treasurer, on a grand larceny charge, is scheduled for Tuesday morning in the district court here.

Assistant County Attorney P. J. Ryan says that the presentation of the state's case will not take longer than one day and is based on documentary evidence.

Robert S. Pickett, former clerk in the office of the former state treasurer, who has been indicted on three charges of grand larceny, will be the chief witness for the state.

H. P. Keller, former mayor of St. Paul, who is defending Walter Smith, announces he is prepared for the trial with an adequate defense for his client and that he does not anticipate a conviction as the defense will offer testimony of the most convincing kind.

The former state treasurer will be tried first on the indictment charging him with the misuse of $18,900 obtained from a warrant for school funds for Atkin county.

BRAINERD LIQUOR RAIDS SUCCESSFUL

Brainerd, Minn., April 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Henry Squires, Sheriff Claus A. Thorin and Assistant Officer E. R. Boyd of the Indian department raided Arthur Boppel's Nigot, a soft drink establishment, finding three quarts of whiskey in a bag. The fixtures were seized by direction of City Attorney D. A. Haggard and stored at the city hall. Policemen Chesney and Anderson and Special Officer Boppel searched the premises. Boppel, father of Arthur Boppel, and ten-gallon whiskey kegs were found in the cellar, one empty and the other containing about five gallons of whiskey. Some beer and wine were located, which was also seized.

REPORT ON GASOLINE INQUIRY ABOUT READY

Washington, April 3.—Finishing touches were today being put on the preliminary report of the Federal government's inquiry into the rise in the price of gasoline. It will be placed before congress this week. The first report to congress, it is understood, will not fully support the recent announcement of the department of interior that more gasoline was being produced and on hand than ever before.

A second report will present the reasons why the commission attributes the price increase. A third report, dealing with any facts relating to any discrimination by manufacturers or producers is contemplated later.

No Offer to Gerard Officially.
New York, April 3.—No offer of the nomination for governor of New York it was stated today by William Church Caborn, chairman of the Democratic state committee. It was learned, however, that Ambassador Gerard had been informed of political conditions in this state and officially had been requested to consider acceptance of a nomination.

PER CAPITA COST SHOWN

City Pays $37.59 Per Year to Educate Each School Pupil.

Annual Report of School Board Shows Rising Expenses.

It cost $37.59 to educate each of Duluth's 14,411 school children during the year ended in June 1915, according to the annual report of the board of education, which will be issued within a few days. This is $4.41 more than it cost for each one in 1913-1914 and $2.71 more than the per capita cost for 1912-1913.

"Incidentals" were 26 cents cheaper per child last year than in 1913-1914, but that is the only one of the items that shows a decrease.

Here is a comparison, showing the cost for each item, for the past three school years:

| | 1912-1913 | 1913-1914 | 1914-1915 |
|-------------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| Text books | 1.12 | 1.06 | 1.06 |
| Supplies, etc. | 1.28 | 1.28 | 1.28 |
| Teachers' salaries | 24.85 | 24.50 | 24.50 |
| Incidentals | 1.13 | 1.13 | 1.13 |
| Fuel, light, water | 1.53 | 1.49 | 1.62 |
| Total | $33.91 | $33.46 | $37.59 |
| Regular and shop amount | 25.00 | 25.00 | 25.00 |
| Superior | 8.91 | 8.46 | 12.59 |
| Grand total | $33.82 | $33.15 | $37.59 |

Text books cost the school district a total of $9,588.37, which was an increase of $1,000 over the expenditure on this item in 1913-1914. Money expended for supplies, outside of textbooks, amounted to $22,257.23, which was an increase of nearly $6,000.

Increases in teachers' salaries are responsible for a considerable portion of the advanced cost also, as shown by the report.

Men teachers in the city schools are paid an average salary of $128.10 a month, the report shows. In the previous year the average for each teacher was $122.76 and for the year before that it was $118.75.

Women teachers average more than $40 a month less than the men in the matter of salaries, the report shows. In 1914-1915 women received an average of $82.75 a month. The previous year received them $80.00, while the year before that it dropped to $76.21. This estimate includes the instructors in the high schools and grades, the special teachers and the principals.

The percentage of attendance was better than in the two previous years, being 86 per cent as compared with 85 per cent in 1912, 1913 and the first part of 1914.

BANDIT IS OPERATING SOUTH OF CHIHUAHUA

Late Information Received By Funston Indicates His Presence in Neighborhood of Satevo, Moving South.

Additional U. S. Soldiers Sent Into Mexico to Guard Line of March, Now 300 Miles Long.

San Antonio, Tex., April 4.—Official admission of the belief that Villa has fled far beyond the American forces and now is operating south of Chihuahua, was made at Gen. Funston's headquarters today.

It is proven beyond doubt that Villa is on his way south, perhaps toward Parral and even Torreon, the campaign against him cannot be carried much further unless the railroads between Chihuahua and the border are made available for the movement of troops or enough more troops sent into Mexico to strengthen greatly the lines of communication.

More Troops Sent Into Mexico. Washington, April 4.—Gen. Funston advised the war department today he was sending more troops into Mexico from Columbus to protect the line of communication with Gen. Pershing.

So far Gen. Funston has not suggested reinforcement of Gen. Pershing's forces, except merely to protect the extended communication lines, and there was no confirmation today of (Continued on page 10, third column.)

Cardinal Mercier's Pastoral Letter Has Been Made Public.

Says There Will Be No Peace Until Independence Is Assured.

London, April 4.—Cardinal Mercier's pastoral letter which evoked a remonstrance from Governor General von Bissing last month, has just been received here.

Let us even suppose that the finish of the issue of the gigantic die now being fought in Europe and in Asia, minor should be uncertain, one fact is already established in civilization and history—the moral triumph of Belgium.

We shall win, but we are not yet at the end of our sufferings, France, Great Britain and Russia have pledged themselves to make no peace until Belgium has recovered her entire independence and been largely indemnified.

Commission to Soon Report on Twenty-Eight-Year Old Dispute.

Washington, April 4.—Final arguments were begun today before the international joint commission in the twenty-eight-year-old dispute between various American and Canadian interests over the level of the Woods of the Woods, lying between Minnesota and Canada.

The Lake of the Woods drainage area and tributaries cover 6,000 square miles all of which will be affected by the commission's report.

The commission is not empowered to make an award but will report to the two governments for such action as they may wish to take.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Sentenced to Penitentiary for Period Not to Exceed Five Years--Early Request for Parole Hinted.

Plea of Guilty to Second Degree Grand Larceny Charge Accepted as Loss to State Was Made Good.

St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter J. Smith, former state treasurer of Minnesota, today pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree grand larceny and was sentenced to serve an indeterminate term of not more than five years in the state penitentiary at Stillwater.

Smith heard Judge F. N. Dickson of the Ramsey county district court pronounce sentence. A moment later, however, he had recovered his composure, he shouldered his coat and he walked back from the judge's bench to the seats inside the courtroom rail where his wife, his daughter, Marcella, and his relatives sat.

Smith was called for trial today upon an indictment charging him with first degree grand larceny. The plea to a lesser charge was accepted by the state because all money obtained by Smith through his speculations in the state treasurer's office was made good.

There were three first degree grand larceny indictments against Smith. They were based on abstracts covering $28,952 in state school funds, covered accidentally discovered Feb. 7.

Smith was accompanied by his attorney, Thomas R. Kane, of St. Paul, and Victor L. Power, mayor of Hibbing, when he entered Judge Dickinson's courtroom.

Former Treasurer Nervous. The former treasurer was nervous. From time to time he smiled weakly at friends in the room. These smiles were infrequent and but momentary.

Mr. Kane informed the court that Smith wished to withdraw a previous plea of not guilty to the second degree charge. County Attorney R. D. O'Brien of Ramsey county said that as there had been a county seal that as the stolen funds the state was willing to accept this plea.

The court said there was no difference in the two degrees that would affect possible action by the parole board and said the plea would be accepted.

The court clerk turned to Smith and asked if he withdrew his former plea. "Do you, Walter J. Smith, plead guilty?"

DRIPS GAIN TWO COUNTIES

Late returns from the thirteen counties which voted on the local option issue yesterday made certain that prohibition forces increased the area of dry territory in Michigan, Baraga and Clare counties shifted from the wet to dry column.

The prohibitionists retained all their counties where the question was before the people—Ingham, Mecosta, Roscommon and Wexford—the counties which retained their saloons are Delta, Iosco, Jackson, Lake, Manistee, Ogemaw and Schoolcraft.

Lansing, the state capital, and which was considered the storm center of the election, gave the prohibitionists their largest majority, 2,415. The city of Jackson overcame a dry lead which the rural districts piled up and Jackson county stayed wet by 479. Delta county in the upper peninsula yielded the anti-prohibitionists their largest majority, something more than 1,600 votes.

OLD RESIDENT SUMMONED

B. C. Bartlett, Early Duluth Settler, Dies at Age of 82.

Lost Hostelry in Hinckley Fire; Funeral Set for Wednesday.

Benjamin Clements Bartlett died early this morning. He was 82 years old. To the younger resident of Duluth and to the newcomer that statement may mean little, but to the older generation and to those who have made Duluth their home for years, it means a great deal.

Benjamin Clements Bartlett was a member of the Old Settlers' association, proprietor of the old Commercial hotel, and a resident of Duluth since 1851.

When Mr. Bartlett became proprietor of the Commercial hotel, on Fifth avenue west, it was the leading hostelry in the city, as well as at the Head of the Lakes.

Long after coming to Duluth, Mr. Bartlett held his Hinckley property, and when the great Hinckley fire came on Sept. 1, 1894, his hotel was destroyed.

Mr. Bartlett was ill but a short time. At the time of his death he was at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. H. Myers, 2505 East First street.

He was born Aug. 26, 1834, and retired from active business life several years ago. Funeral services will be held from the Myers residence tomorrow afternoon. The services will be private.

Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery. He leaves four daughters and three sons. The daughters are Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Douglas C. Moore, Mrs. S. S. Ramsey and Miss Clements Bartlett, all of Duluth. The sons are George D. of Duluth; Thomas W. of Usk, Wash.; and Hiram S. of Billings, Mont.

MILK PRODUCERS OF CHICAGO ON STRIKE

Twenty-Eight Plants Are Shut Down; Famine in Sight.

Chicago, April 4.—With the forced shutting down of three more milk plants today, W. J. Kittis, secretary of the Milk Producers' association, announced that the strike declared by 10,000 farmers and dairy men shortly after midnight last night has caused twenty-eight plants to quit business.

The milk shortage is very good. He said that travel in the West is very heavy, with the promise that it will increase as the season advances.

According to Mr. Clapp, the railroads of the country have all the business they can handle.

Making storerooms of the freight cars upon the part of speculative brokers is largely responsible for the congestion at freight terminals, said Mr. Clapp. Brokers have received orders that only require them to get the commodities on cars.

Responsibility ceases there. The result has been that many of these brokers have secured cars when no other arrangements had been made for handling the goods. Under the circumstances it was inevitable that a tie-up should result.

The movement of freight is immense. When a congestion is lifted it often occurs that the rush of freight is so great that a resumption of the cars is taken place.

Mr. Clapp stated that the demand for rush freight shipments is just now keeping the railroads of the country busy.

W. J. Blatchley, district passenger agent at Washington of the Pennsylvania lines, is also with the party.

Woman Delegate at St. Louis Convention

MRS. BIRD E. HOBDY. There will be four women delegates from California at the St. Louis convention. One of them is Mrs. Bird E. Hobdy of El Centro, who has been actively interested in politics since women's suffrage was granted in California.

producers are on strike to force the dealers to pay them the $1.55 price schedule instead of the $1.33-1.34 schedule per hundred pounds which has been in effect for some years.

The new plants that have been closed are at Ridgefield, Woodstock and Kerrick. Striking dairymen, Mr. Kittle said, went to Reddick and Ringwood today to picket the plants there.

The strike is reported to be working a hardship on Chicago. While enough milk is on hand and being received to fill a normal demand in residential districts for today's supply, and possibly tomorrow's, no promises are given for Thursday. Already orders of large downtown consumers have been curtailed.

Steps have been taken by the health commissioner to inspect the new districts from which milk is being brought into the city by the dealers. He has warned them to pasteurize the milk they buy.

BUSINESS STILL HEAVY WITH ROADS

Group of Pennsylvania Railroad Men Here; Duluth Agent Arrives.

C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, and Chester E. Clapp, western superintendent of the Union line of the Pennsylvania system, are here today.

Mr. Kimball came here with J. M. Neuman, traveling passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, who is to represent the Pennsylvania system in Duluth in the future.

According to Mr. Kimball, the passenger business is very good. He said that travel in the West is very heavy, with the promise that it will increase as the season advances.

According to Mr. Clapp, the railroads of the country have all the business they can handle.

Making storerooms of the freight cars upon the part of speculative brokers is largely responsible for the congestion at freight terminals, said Mr. Clapp. Brokers have received orders that only require them to get the commodities on cars.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER STEADILY RISING

Large Tracts of Land About La Crosse Are Flooded.

La Crosse, Wis., April 4.—A rise of nine-tenths of a foot in the Mississippi river here, compared with yesterday, brought the river above its banks in many places and flooded large districts of lowlands. The river is pouring into Riverside park, just created on the waterfront at La Crosse at a cost of $100,000 and threatening to wash away the mounds.

Pettibone park, on the Minnesota side of the river, is under water. Important islands, hundreds of acres in size, have entirely disappeared under the water.

All the southern half of Banks island, several square miles in area, cannot be seen and the river at that point has become a great lake three miles in width between the Wisconsin and Minnesota shores. No serious damage to private property along the river front has yet occurred, but crews of men are at work strengthening the defenses of bathhouses and other buildings near the river.

The river is filled with debris of wood, small buildings broken hanks and other articles picked up along the banks above here.

Another rise of a foot is expected by tonight, increasing the flooding of a considerable residence section in North La Crosse.

Serious damage to the new power plant of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light & Power company, the local public utility, on the Chippewa river, was confirmed at the offices of the company here today. A force of 800 men has been thrown out of work and contractors have lost much of their equipment.

PAVING TO BE FULL WIDTH

Minnesota Avenue Work Will Be Partly Done This Year.

Improvement From Bridge to End of Car Tracks Next Year.

Minnesota avenue will be paved this year from Thirty-eighth to Forty-third street, while the entire west side of the avenue, from Twelfth to Thirty-eighth street, will be paved next year.

This decision reached by the city commissioners after an inspection of Minnesota avenue made shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. The news will be welcomed by the property owners at the Point, as there has been a consistent campaign among the residents to have the original paving plan carried out. This will give Minnesota point a full width pavement from the bridge to the end of the street car line.

As a result of this decision, the resolution adopted by the commissioners a week ago, calling for a fifteen-foot pavement on the east side of Minnesota avenue, from Thirty-eighth street to the end of the car line at Forty-third street, will be rescinded by the commissioners and a new measure introduced, calling for a thirty-foot pavement. The car track will be laid in the center of the street, with a four-foot walk on the east side of the roadway.

In the fall of 1914, the property owners filed a petition for a forty-two-foot street from Twelfth to Forty-third street. There was no protest and the improvement was ordered in the following spring. It was decided at that time to pave only the east side of the street to Thirty-eighth street, because of objections raised by the street car company to the heavy expense it would have to bear in moving the tracks and laying new ties. It was understood at the time that the extension to Forty-third street would be laid in the fall and the west side paved this year. Last fall, when the improvement was ordered by Commissioner Farrell, officials of the car company protested and asked for a postponement until this spring.

When Park Point property owners heard that the extension would be only fifteen feet wide, they protested, and a delegation was sent to the council meeting last week and again yesterday. John H. Brigham, attorney, represented the owners at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

After a lengthy discussion, the commissioners agreed to make an inspection of Minnesota avenue this morning with a view of determining what action would be taken.

Roasts Minnesota National Guard

Senator Nelson Says It is Trying to Hamstring Army Bill.

Washington, April 4.—The Minnesota National Guard is trying to hamstring the volunteer army bill, declared Senator Knute Nelson in the House of Representatives today. Nelson, in a speech, said that the bill would reduce the potential military strength of 200,000 men who would otherwise be called into service.

The Minnesota National Guard is not confining itself to sending telegrams, Adjutant General Fred B. Wood has given John Doyle Carmody a commission to see that the volunteer army provision is killed. I am very sorry to see the Minnesota National Guard acting in this way.

Why Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions

The sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines at the corners of the eyes, and a "sneaky ray," which is unusually active during the spring months. Where the skin is so affected by this influence, if cold cream, or any other ointment, mercurized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, the cap easily overcomes the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, the cap easily overcomes the trouble. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or two, with all the defects. No bleach could so effectively remove freckles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, free from looking to the outer skin, in case of a skin disease, the outer skin, a solution of salicylic, 1 cc., dissolved in 10 cc. of water, makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective.

Associated Charities Has Fund to Purchase Glasses Needed

School children who are in need of spectacles will be furnished with them without expense, according to arrangements which have been made by the Associated Charities co-operating with the school nurses and local eye specialists.

Miss Edna G. Meeker, secretary, today announced that the auction committee of the Central high school had placed at the disposal of the Associated Charities a fund of $100 which the glasses will be purchased when needed.

"The school nurses will make an endeavor to find and report cases where children attending school are in need of such attention," said Miss Meeker. "When eye specialists who are co-operating with us will make an examination to determine the kind of spectacles needed. No charge will be made for this service."

Miss Meeker declared that she had received assurances from the King's Daughters that as soon as the present fund is exhausted it will be replenished with a contribution from that society.

Clothing Needed

House cleaning is approaching, declares Miss Meeker, who declares that the Associated Charities is in the way of old clothing, especially in the way of old furniture. Constant demands for clothing and furniture are being made on the society.

A recent report for the month of March, 1916, shows that there has been a considerable amount of clothing in Duluth over a year ago. Only eighteen transient men applied to the office for assistance in comparison with 102 for the corresponding month of last year.

Miss Meeker declared that the employment situation has shown much improvement and that fewer people are out of work. As a result the society handled fewer new cases last month than for March, 1915.

During the last month, there were forty-seven new cases as compared with 102 for the corresponding month for the previous year. The forty-seven were men and twenty-eight women. The report shows that the number of recurrent cases handled during the month of March, 1916, are given as follows:

"CENSORSHIP" OUT

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, this morning received word that the National Board of Censorship has changed its name to that of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures.

In a response received by Mr. Silberstein, W. D. McGuire, executive secretary of the organization, said in response to a public opinion poll the national board eliminates the word "censorship" from its title. "The new name is a more accurate indication of the nature of the board's work because the word 'censorship' implies a type of official control and supervision that is deeply repugnant to the American public opinion. It has come to the point where it would rather go out of existence than seem to stand for a kind of bureaucratic supervision that works in secret and enforces its decisions in public without ever giving the public a chance to decide for itself."

An Easy Way to Increase Weight

Good Advice for Thin Folks

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods, rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, instead of the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been found to be the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-balancing and tonic effects the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce with increased weight and checks all out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely safe and does not irritate the bowels. Drug store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain in weight is desired.

HUSBAND WAS SUBJECT TO FITS

Widow Testifies in Suit to Collect Accident Insurance.

In an attempt to prove that her husband, Bert Olson, was mentally unbalanced last Christmas when he took his own life, Mrs. Alma Olson took the stand in district court this morning and testified that he had been subject to epilepsy for two or three years. On several occasions, she said, he had experienced fits.

Judge Cant's division, Mrs. Olson is seeking to recover $1,000 from the Midland Insurance company on an accident policy held by her husband, who is believed to have committed suicide. He was found in a snow bank at Thirty-second avenue east and Superior street early Christmas morning with a bullet wound in his breast.

The insurance company this afternoon asked leave to amend its answer so as to set up as a defense the claim that Olson made fraudulent representations to the company in his application for insurance when he stated that he was not subject to epilepsy. The case may go to the jury late today.

How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growths

(Beauty Culture)

It is not longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delatone paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement.

"DRY," ONE LONG WHISTLE; "WET," TWO LONG BLASTS

The Herald has arranged to have the results of the Superior election conveyed to Duluthans tonight. The polls will close in Superior at 8 o'clock and by 8:30 o'clock the results should be known, at least approximately. By 9 o'clock it should be definitely known whether Superior will be "wet" or "dry." Superior uses the voting machines, and there should be little delay in arriving at the totals.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock The Herald will supply the information to the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, and the big whistle of the company will blow one long blast if Superior is to be "dry" and two long blasts if it is to be "wet." This will be repeated at 9 o'clock. The 8:30 whistle will indicate the probable outcome, and the 9 o'clock whistle should give the definite result. The Herald will also notify the telephone centrals, and through them all telephone subscribers can get the information.

ONE-CENT TICKET SCHEME SPREADS LIKE PRARIE FIRE

Duluthians Feverishly Bite at Bait of Something for Nothing.

Street Railway Manager Emphatically Denies Connection With It.

Purporting to sell street car tickets for 1 cent each, a company which opened offices yesterday morning in the Mesaba block, is doing about the biggest business of any concern in Duluth, not barring even the "style show" section of the city. It did not get fairly started until yesterday afternoon, but since then it has spread like a prairie fire.

The concern is called The Cut Rate Car Fare and Advertising company, and W. H. Dillerbeck of Chicago is manager of it. Herbert Warren, general manager and vice president of the Duluth Street Railway company, denied most emphatically that the company had any connection with it, but says that the tickets are good for them.

The plan of the company is on the street car fare. Every time the company hands out twenty-five tickets, the person who receives them has not only already paid $1, but has started three others out on a ticket selling campaign. It is true that he gets back 15 cents on his purchase—but not from the company, for he gets that back by selling the coupons handed out to him, to his friends.

The plan is outlined in a circular issued by the company as follows: Company's Plan Outlined. "All that is required of you is to buy from one of your friends who already holds a coupon-book issued by the Cut Rate Car Fare & Advertising company, a coupon, which costs you 25 cents. Then call at our office and by paying us the additional sum of 75 cents you will receive one of our coupon-books containing three coupons, valued 25 cents each. You are then prepared to sell coupons to your friends. When you have disposed of these coupons, the holders have called at our office and purchased a book similar to yours, you will then receive twenty-five 6-cent car tickets, good on any line in the city. In other words, you will have invested 25 cents of your own money, but will receive in return from us twenty-five 6-cent car tickets.

You may think that after having sold three coupons your claims for the car tickets may not be acknowledged by the Cut Rate Car Fare & Advertising company, in the event that the coupons are not redeemed by their respective holders. Not at all. If such should be the case, and of all three coupons one or two should be redeemed at our office, you will receive your proportionate share, viz: One coupon, which costs you 25 cents, of the amount of tickets due for each coupon redeemed. Time limit on coupon-books thirty days.

Table with columns: No. of tickets, Cash paid, Cash received, Profit. Rows 1-7 showing increasing numbers of tickets and profits.

The plan explains that the books of coupons issued are good only for thirty days, and within that time not only must the coupons be sold, but third or two-thirds, as the case may be, they must have started their endless chain, or the book cover is not redeemable. If only one person to whom you sell a coupon out of your three.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY DISEASES

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a remedy for diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of even the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription for special diseases, makes friends quickly because of its mild and immediate effect. It is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound. Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two and fifty cents and one dollar. However, if you wish first to test the great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Duluth Herald.

for instance, buys a book of coupons, you will get eight tickets; if two buy, you get 16 tickets; and if the three buy, you get 24 tickets. This town is going 'hippy' on the plan," said one man this morning. It was up there at 8 o'clock and 678 books of coupons had been disposed of. Four men are as busy as they can be taking care of the business, and the lineup in the halls is increasing. "That few believe the plan will ever work out and yet they are all 'taking a chance' testifies, if nothing else, to the gambling spirit that pervades the American public. "That the company cannot lose is shown by a glance at the scheme from the following angle: When the company gives out twenty-five tickets every time it gives out tickets, it has obligated itself to the extent of $1.25, but only on condition that three times as many more books are sold. "What will be the outcome" is the question everyone is asking. The inevitable end will be that everyone will be no buyers. When the plan spreads—and it spreads with rapidity, increasing by geometrical progression, and not arithmetical—the list of coupon sellers will be up to the limit, and there will be no buyers.

This club will not be so big, but will be composed of those boys who will be leaders in next year's club.

MRS. JULIUS G. LAY. Mrs. Julius G. Lay, the beautiful wife of the American consul general at Berlin, was the unconscious center of an international incident not long ago. Mrs. Lay went to London to make some purchases, and while there quite innocently made some comparisons between articles on sale in the London shops and those to be had in Berlin. It started on the sensitive ears of the English to whom everything German is anathema. Reports Mrs. Lay's "German sympathies" became so exaggerated that before long it was reported that she was a German woman. Quite unconscious of the excitement she was creating, Mrs. Lay returned to Berlin, where reports of English feeling toward her followed her and caused her great surprise. Far from being German, Mrs. Lay before her marriage was a New Yorker and her name was Anne Howard.

WILLING TAXPAYERS. London Chronicle: One of the most interesting cases of voluntary taxation is the ancient Athenian "liturgy" (which means something very different from the "liturgy" of today, the etymological meaning of the word being "public work.") The liturgy is a special contribution made to the state by a wealthy citizen or group of citizens. It was the equipment or maintenance of a warship. The liturgy was fundamental to all sorts of shifts. But in the palmy days of Athens it was considered disgraceful for those upon whom it was imposed to do no more than the law exacted, and sometimes rich citizens would volunteer a liturgy from public spirit or to win popularity.

Every Family Needs This Splendid Remedy Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Recommended for Constipation. When a remedy has stood the test of critical analysis and strong competition for over a quarter of a century and establishes itself as the indispensable household remedy in thousands of homes, it is pretty good evidence of its efficacy. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market since 1839, its use being gradually extended until now it is generally regarded by druggists as the staple family laxative. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs, free from opiate or narcotic drugs, gentle in its action and positive in effect. It costs only fifty cents a bottle and can be purchased in drug stores everywhere. Mr. Frank Klima of 2309 Ashland Ave., Baltimore, Md., wrote Dr. Caldwell recently that he had tried about everything without being helped until he got a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he considers the greatest known remedy for indigestion, constipation and stomach troubles. Actress Says Good Complexion Is Woman's Crowning Glory

Tomorrow—Old Friends. The daughter of an acquaintance of mine, a girl who had never done anything more strenuous before than help her mother direct the maid, took a business position recently. She is engaged to be married, and probably wanted to earn some extra money for her trousseau. But instead of advancing that simple explanation, her mother puts it this way: "Margaret is doing a little work in town this winter. She simply couldn't stand the wind out here another winter. You know we live on a hill where it's fearfully windy, and it makes her so nervous."

TODAY IN HISTORY.

First Telephone, 1877.
 Bourne of France got the basic idea of the telephone in 1854, but did not get it practical. In 1860 Philip Reis of Germany devised what he called a telephone, and which reproduced sounds at a distance. But Alexander Graham Bell produced a practical working telephone patented March 7, 1876, though he was closely followed by other inventors, especially Elisha Gray, and the patent has been prodig-ously litigated. Long distance telephony was first used in 1885.
 Though for several years experimental lines had been operated between New York and Boston.

THE SPRING CLEAN-UP.

Presently, weather and other conditions being suitable, Duluth will have its annual spring clean-up week—also paint-up week.
 In the past pretty much everybody has joined readily in this work. A good many haven't waited for clean-up week. Others have paid no attention to it, only to have their attention rudely called to it afterwards by the discovery that the city has certain useful powers over those who are negligent.
 There are many reasons for the spring clean-up, most of which will occur readily to everybody. One body of reasons are public—it is a matter of public duty, for instance, for every householder to do his share toward bringing the city into the glad summer-time, when it is to entertain thousands of guests, looking its very best. The temptation is to dwell on this body of reasons; but we are not going to do it because every citizen capable of appreciating such reasons is pretty sure to clean up anyway.
 But there are selfish reasons, too, reasons that ought to appeal even to those who are beyond the reach of considerations of civic pride.
 In the first place, there is self-respect: a man can't think quite as much of himself as he should if he is content to live in squalor and dilapidation that a few hours' work would straighten out.
 In the second place, there is the pleasure and comfort of living in surroundings that are spruce and clean and decent, and yours will be after you get your spring clean-up work completed.
 In the third place, there is the effect upon the value of your property—a bad effect if it is left in disorder, a good effect if it is cleaned up. A house and lot in dirt and disorder is distinctly worth less in actual cash than a house and lot that has been cleaned up and repaired and painted till it looks like a real place where respectable human beings live.
 Everybody is going to clean up this spring.
 Some will do it because they ought to.
 Some will do it because they want to.
 Some will do it because they have to.
 Every citizen has his choice—he can clean up because he ought to and wants to, or later, because he HAS to.
 But there is going to be a spring clean-up anyway, and when the date is announced we guess pretty nearly everybody is going to pick one of those first reasons for cleaning up, leaving nearly nobody to clean up because they have to.

Will Superior look—and feel—natural after today?

GOOD WORK.
 It is estimated that it has cost the city from seven to ten thousand dollars more than in other years to keep the roads and streets open to traffic from last December until now. Local article in The Herald last evening.

It is easy to believe that that is so. The householder who has had to shovel his own walks during this winter of the deep snows will have no difficulty in believing that the city has been under an extraordinary strain, financial and otherwise, to keep its thoroughfares open.
 And it is only fair to add this tribute to Bert Farrell, commissioner of public works:
 that never in the history of the city has this work been handled more diligently, intelligently and effectively than it has been during the past winter under his direction.
 The present condition of Superior street and First street alone is a striking evidence of good work well done.

Let us hope that the flitting out of that last snow storm convinced winter of the futurity of trying to hang around any longer.

SUBSIDIES IN SPAIN AND AMERICA.
 Until early this year, when it was abolished, Spain had a ship subsidy system, provided in 1909. The flourishing condition of Spanish shipping made the subsidy idea a joke, so the government did away with it.

That isn't the notable thing about it, though.
 One notable thing about it that the shipowners did not protest the abolition of the subsidy, but cheerfully approved it.
 A still more notable thing is that before the decree of abolition was promulgated, according to a report by Consul General Hurst of Barcelona, "many shipping companies voluntarily relinquished their right to this subsidy, THINKING IT UNJUST TO ACCEPT FROM THE PUBLIC TREASURY AID WHICH THEY DID NOT REQUIRE!"
 How this reminds one of the way the beneficiaries of the tariff subsidy in this country acted toward the proposal to reduce it after it was evident that they no longer needed it, and therefore could no longer honestly ask for it! It is so different!
 Even Spain can teach us lessons in public spirit and common honesty.

One somehow wonders how long it will take to find out the results in Superior this time.

THE VIEWPOINT.
 Isn't it odd that the people who despair of the Republic are always the partisans outside the breastworks, striving to climb in?
 Or perhaps it isn't so odd, either.

No genius has yet turned out a rubber boot that won't wear holes in the heels of the boy's stockings.

HAVE A GARDEN!
 If you haven't one already, by all means have a garden this year, if it is only a four-by-six plot of radishes, a two-by-two bed of nasturtiums, or a six-foot row of sweet peas.
 There is interest in a garden, there is health, there is pleasure, there is profit.
 Even if, like some people, your radishes cost you ten cents apiece and your cut-flowers a nickel a bloom, still that was because you could afford it, and the money you have sunk has been put into a pleasant hobby. You might easily have wasted it in worse ways.
 The proper use of a house and lot is to make the lot—in summer—as much a part of the home as the house. Smooth, green lawn in front, with perhaps shrubs at the sides; vines on the porch; perennials covering the foundation walls; a kitchen garden at one side in the back; flower beds for annual and perennial blooms conveniently situated wherever they will fit in; a long sweet pea trellis along one border of the lot; hollyhocks or even tall nasturtiums filling the background at the end of the grounds; something like that is the way to make your lot a part of the home, as it should be.
 Anybody with a patch of ground, however small, can have some kind of a garden, even if it is only a tiny one. Anybody with a patch of ground going uncultivated is missing something. An hour's work a day with hoe or rake or garden trowel is better for the health than anything in any drug store. Have a garden!

Of course the Colonel's discovery will not replace Charles Sumner Bird, the ministry of Bull Moosey in Massachusetts.

THE COLONEL'S MEASURE.
 Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, returning from Europe, brings an interesting report of the German attitude toward Roosevelt.
 Though he has thundered against Germany and German policies and tactics—or did awhile ago before the presidential contest became acute—the Germans, according to Judge Lindsey, are disposed to excuse his harsh words and to hope that he will defeat President Wilson.
 Strange? Not particularly.
 Not so very long ago Col. Roosevelt was thundering against malefactors of great wealth.
 Now his bandwagon is full of them,
 shouting lustily for his nomination.
 They have found his bark worse than his bite. Germany doubtless figures it the same way.

The "Virginus Affair"
 How many high school pupils of today could tell anything about the "Virginus Affair"? And yet it has been only forty-three years since that "affair" came within an ace of getting us into war with Spain; and the newspapers of this country were full of it for months.
 The death last week of the Rev. Duncan H.
 Hind in Ontario recalls the Virginus affair.
 The expedition which sailed from New York in 1873 on the steamship Virginus to land men and munitions to aid the Cuban revolutionists who were then engaged in the "Ten Years' War" with Spain. The ship was captured by a Spanish cruiser and taken to Santiago, and although the ship was flying the American flag, her captain, Joseph Fry, and thirty-six of the crew were shot. The next day twelve more men of the expedition were shot. The third day one hundred men of the expedition, nearly all of them Americans, were condemned to be shot, but the carrying out of the death sentence was postponed for a few days.
 Hind was a telegrapher and in a moment when he was not watched by his Spanish guards he managed to get to a telegraph station and sent a message to Kingston, a British port, telling of the peril to the survivors of the ship's company. Lying in Kingston harbor was the British sloop-of-war Niobe. Her captain did not wait for instructions, but as soon as he got the message he hastened to Santiago, trained his guns on the town and fort, and, wasting no time in the discussion of international law, he told the Spaniards that if they shot even one of the Americans he would blow the town off the map. The British captain saved the Americans and sent word to Washington.
 Spain was then a republic, under President Castelar. President Grant demanded the return of the Virginus and the survivors of the crew to America and an apology. For some time war seemed imminent, but the Spaniards acceded to the demands of the United States.

Rippling Rhymes
 By Walt Mason
The Golden Rule.
 Remember that we are all brothers,
 so let's be good and kind to others, acknowledging their rights; why make Jones hotter than a hornet, by playing on your flute or cornet, when he would sleep o' nights? Why keep a swarm of hungry chickens, which cause more trouble than the dickens, as golden spring days pass, committing crimes no man can pardon, by scratching in the neighbor's garden, destroying garden sassa? Why keep a dog that is so batty it thinks it is outclassing Patti, or even Annie Case, when it spends all the evening howling, and pouring diabolic yowling, in torrents through its face?
 While of our goodly deeds we're speaking, we're stirring up much bitter feeling by little, thoughtless sins; we keep a cow that makes Brown madish; because it eats his early radish—why bark that neighbor's shins? In pious work our zeal is splendid; to see all vice and sorrow ended we go down on our jeans; and then we keep a rooster nutty that crows until it jars the pitty from neighbors' window panes.

In the Ring Again
 By Hayward.
 Washington, April 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was in February, 1912, that Col.
 Theodore Roosevelt cast his hat in the political ring, and again in March, 1916, he has issued a manifesto from Trinidad, British West India, in which he makes it manifest that it is his intention to lead the forces in opposition to the re-election of Woodrow Wilson. And it is a shrewd reckoning he makes. The Progressive party is as loyal to him now as ever, and daily are gathered under his flag Standpatters like Gardner of Massachusetts and Harlan of Illinois. The man who beats the Colonel for the "rooster" in the Bay is the only American who has his hands before his victory is achieved.
 Can any "two-spot" defeat him? It is almighty doubtful.
 Roosevelt did not intend to be a candidate in 1912. He had resolved to send Taft to the slaughter and hold himself in reserve for the Bay in February, 1912. At looked like Champ Clark had the Democratic nomination nailed down and Teddy believed that he could beat Champ. That is why he shed his hat into the ring. He was depending on that inveterate asshead that has so often directed the action of the Democratic party, and admired by Roosevelt, that he had made a blunder. Had he known Wilson would be nominated, there would have been no Bull Moosey but the only American who has become the head of the party and by now no opposition could be mustered against his nomination.

The Reign of Law
 By "The Innocent Bystander."
 V.—Our Venerable Mother Country.
 England is venerable compared to the United States. But the British empire is an affair of yesterday—or of tomorrow.
 England was ruled by violence almost to the period of the American Revolution. A Lancashire man was a foreigner in Sussex.
 The United Kingdom dates only from 1707, and was there after that before the Scotch became reconciled to the union.
 Even within England the reign of law was recent. The people had spent 100 years breaking heads to know who was boss and another 100 years knocking off crowns to find out who should obey.
 As the name of the law was first taken by Victoria in 1877, empress of the Indies.
 Otherwise it was the United Kingdom and its dependencies, the Dominion of Canada, formed a group of self-governing commonwealths, became a constituent member of the British empire.
 And in 1900 the Australian federation, formed of a group of self-governing commonwealths, became a constituent member of the British empire.
 And in 1910 the South African federation, formed of a group of self-governing commonwealths, became a constituent member of the British empire.
 And some time since then, the old order changed. Instead of the kingdom and its dependencies, there came to be a group of peoples, a voluntary union, held together by custom, tradition, association, sentiment.
 As the name of the law was first taken by the present generation, chiefly since the war war—the reign of law has been extended over the British empire, resting solely upon the will of the people.

Better Doctoring
 Editorial in the Kansas City Star.
 How is the family in moderate circumstances to get competent medical treatment? The very rich, of course, can get the best specialists in public hospitals. The poor get the same specialists in public hospital service. But what about the family that lives in the cottage or small house?
 It can't afford to go to half a dozen specialists for a diagnosis, and it doesn't wish to get its medical service for nothing.
 This is the question that Dr. Richard C. Cabot, the distinguished Boston physician, discusses in the April issue of the American Magazine. There was a time, as Dr. Cabot points out, when the family doctor could bring to bear on his patients the whole body of medical knowledge. But medicine has made such progress that that time has passed. The resources of biology, chemistry and physics are now at the command of the doctor who would make a scientific diagnosis. No one man can possibly have the knowledge and the equipment to make all the necessary tests. The work of a group of specialists is required in much modern medical practice.
 "But you go to a doctor's office," Dr.
 Cabot writes, "you may complain of nothing more than a headache or a stomach ache, and your suffering there may be needlessly an X-ray examination, chemical tests such as very few experts are capable of making, the consultation of experts in diseases of the eye, the ear and the throat, and the study of the improvement or aggravation of symptoms at different times of the day and under different dieting and temperatures. This study demands the conditions found in a hospital, and nowhere else to be had without great expense."
 The doctor who works in a hospital in the morning in connection with a group of specialists may feel that every patient has had the best service that scientific medicine in its present stage of development can offer. But when the doctor receives his pay patients in the afternoon he is "applying the methods of today to the conditions of the past." He is tempted to deal single-handed with a situation that requires the knowledge and equipment of a group.
 The patient who is under the care of a group of specialists in a hospital is in a curious combination of ignorance and misinterpretation," he writes, "the general public still believes that it is a luxury to consult a private physician to one's house, and mistakingly to go to a hospital as a patient. Exactly the opposite is the truth. Those who attend the best of our hospitals, free of charge for their trifling fees, are really the aristocrats among patients. Those who call a physician to their houses or visit him at his office are the unfortunate poor bit of service."
 What is the remedy for this condition?
 Dr. Cabot tells of an interesting experiment in the University of California, where 7,000 students pay $5 apiece each year to a health fund. This supports the university hospital with its staff. As student who goes to the hospital staff and gets a thorough overhauling without additional charge. In this way the doctors get the patient in the early stages of his illness. He is able to lead off a serious illness. There is no incentive to delay the doctor for economical reasons.
 One of the reasons for the great success of the University of California is their elaborate diagnostic staff. Before a patient is operated on he is regularly put through a most thorough investigation by a group of specialists.
 If the medical profession were properly organized it ought to be possible for the facilities to be open to the patient at a small fee. Groups of medical men might co-operate to work at various centers.
 A patient, instead of sending for the doctor, might go to the medical center in his district for diagnosis and treatment.
 It might be necessary to furnish public centers for the treatment of patients who were educated to the stage where a group of say, a thousand families might agree to pay a certain sum yearly to the support of the center, and to have medical attention in the event of illness.

Political Straws in the Minnesota Breezes Campaign Subjects Discussed by Minnesota Editors.
 The Barks of Complaints.
 President Wilson's courage is given the following commendation by the Hutchinson Leader: "Being at a loss for something else to criticize, some find fault with the president because he has been known to change his mind. It is an indication that he has a mind—and that he keeps it open to new facts and information—something the hide-bound partisan would not dare to do for fear of being charged with inconsistency."
Sam Doesn't Seem Worth a Cent.
 It isn't going to be unanimous for Burn-cott while Iverson's friends feel as the Waverly Star and Tribune says: "Standing squarely upon his platform for a business administration, law enforcement, reduced taxation, development of resources, etc., Samuel G. Iverson is still in the fight for governorship despite the fact that the other candidates were frightened out of the race when Governor Burnquist took office. Iverson has said 'Don't change national policies at the first sign of powder smoke.'"
The Awakening is Coming.
 There's to be a day of realization later on,
 which is forecast thus by the Belgrade Tribune: "Although Senator Cummins carried Minnesota, and granting him the lead from several more Western states, we believe the senator will discover before many more months that he has taken himself too seriously."
He Will Be.
 Amid all the fuss of political opposition,
 the people are to be fooled. The Montevideo Leader says: "Lincoln said, 'Don't trade horses while crossing a stream,' and someone else has said, 'Don't change national policies in time of danger.' Our president can be trusted for his courage, loyalty and devotion to duty."
"Safety First."
 Still another name for our most vocal ex-president is supplied by the Economy Star:
 "Some interested party is sending out
 'boom' boiler plate articles about Coleman DuPont, the powder trust magnate, for Republican nomination for president. We have no doubt that he would be a safer man to intrust with the presidency than old Pow-derhorn Roosevelt."
Don't All Speak at Once.
 Listen to the chorus of explanations that will not get this from the Red Wing Eagle:
 "Here's a conundrum for those who are interested in military affairs: If $131,000,000 a year paid for an army and navy result in having neither army nor navy, as is claimed, how much will the proposed army of 140,000 men cost?"
It'll Be Interesting to See.
 We refuse to try to answer the following question from the California Herald: "The watchful waiting will solve the mystery:
 'Now that Cummins has the Minnesota delegation, what are the delegates a-going to do about it?'"
Looking Facts in the Face.
 Prejudice is one of the natural accompaniments of our presidential campaigns, and it is always reassuring to find so dispassi-onate and clear a statement of conditions as this from the Republican St. Peter Free Press: "If the Republicans expect to elect the next president they must nominate a man whose temperament and disposition inspires confidence that he will live up to real spirit of our Constitution, which guarantees the enjoyment of fair treatment to every citizen, without prejudice and regardless of religion or nationality.
 "It can hardly be claimed that men like
 Roosevelt and Root come under this head.
 They may be intensely American—from their mother's viewpoint; but their patriotism is clouded by a partisan feeling and a racial prejudice that bodes no good for the well-being of the country, and should either of them be nominated for the presidency it would take more than ordinary efforts to prevent thousands of Republicans from supporting the Democratic ticket."

The Illiteracy Test
 Chicago Journal: The house of representatives is at work on a bill to bar from this country all immigrants who cannot read and write. That is a pretty good measure of the piffing utility which characterizes most of the recent deliberations of congress.
 The United States has received many millions of immigrants and wrongs from its foreign-born citizens during the last year and a half—but not from those who would be excluded by the literacy test.
 The foreign-born residents who defend the sinking of the Lusitania are not illiterate.
 The men who denounce President Wilson for insulating the rights of Americans at sea are not illiterate.
 The men who in every controversy that arises between Germany and the United States take the side of the least just president all can read and write.
 The settler mongers on whom von Bernhardt and his ilk rely to start civil war in the United States in certain eventualities are well-educated men.
 Illiteracy, as President Wilson so finely said, proves that a man has lacked opportunity in the land from which he has come, not that he will misuse opportunity in the land to which he is going. If we are to restrict immigration we need to find a better means for separating the sheep from the goats than is furnished by the spelling book.

The Case Against Brandeis.
 New Republic: The Brandeis hearings are closed, and all that is left is for Mr.
 Brandeis to ask the people might read the testimony. His opponents have had every conceivable opportunity to present every bit of evidence, rumor, and suspicion that could be found to throw an unfavorable light upon him. They have been able to draw upon great legal ability to formulate this case. In the nature of things they have had the assistance of the newspaper headlines, for a "charge" is "news" and a refutation is dull.
 They have had all the tactical advantage of the law. The advocates of Mr. Brandeis have done nothing that they might so easily have done, started a counter-attack upon Mr.
 Brandeis' enemies. They have not tried to develop the case in a sensational way. Had they felt less sure of themselves, they could,
 for example, have put President Lowell, Mr.
 Taft, Mr. Root on the stand and cross-examined them merely to show that no one of these gentlemen has any exact knowledge on which to base his suspicions. They have not done this because they who followed the testimony knew that the case against Mr.
 Brandeis had collapsed by its own weight.

When the Cows Are in the Grass.
 There's a lot of satisfaction
 For a farmer in the spring,
 When the snow melts from the meadow,
 And the birds begin to sing;
 When the cottonwoods are humming
 To the breezes as they pass,
 And the green grass is willer,
 And the cows are in the grass.
 In the long, sweet grasses growing,
 By the windin' river's brink,
 Where the lappin' ripples dimple
 When the cattle come to drink;
 Where the rushes fringe the margin,
 And the gray snickerfeeder sips,
 From the eddy where the willer
 Dips its graceful finger tips.
 In the springtime when the grass comes
 In the meadow plot again,
 When the stanchion stalls are empty
 And the cows go luzzin'
 Down the long lane toward the river
 Where the sweetest grasses hide,
 Tell you what, it sets a feller Feelin' mighty good inside.
 For I allus love the springtime,
 When the cows are in the grass,
 And the winds go down the meadow,
 Singin' love songs as they pass;
 When the daisy blooms are dotin'
 Meadow reaches like the stars
 Dot the heavens in the evening
 When the cows are at the bars.

"A Plague on Both Your Houses"
 Editorial in the New York World.
 As has happened frequently since the beginning of the war, Great Britain once more seizes the opportunity when German lawlessness makes a particularly outrageous commit itself to new aggression upon the rights of neutrals.
 The order in council just issued authorizes the capture of merchant vessels bound from one neutral port to another, whether their cargoes are contraband or not.
 By this decree a blockade which is not a true blockade of Germany becomes effective as a long-distance blockade of neutral ports in Holland and Scandinavia.
 There never has been a formulation of law as to blockades that did not confine them to enemy coasts and harbors. No doctrine of continuous voyage ever later drawn in the United States or elsewhere has upheld the claim now asserted at London.
 Britain makes its own law, as Germany does, and American property to the one becomes as negligible as American lives to the other.
 In 1812, when the Napoleonic wars had produced a situation equally intolerable to the United States, Nathaniel Bacon, speaking of the question of war in domestic rights at sea, was hardly able to decide where our blows should fall. "The devil himself," he said, "could not tell which the worst, the government of England or that of France."
 If we are more exasperated by German assassination than by British robbery, it is for the reason that the one crime is more atrocious than the other, and not because either offense lacks anything in premeditated disregard of neutral rights.

Just a Moment
 Daily Strength and Cheer.
 Compiled by J. J. Spurgeon, the Omaha Star.
 "I will strengthen thee,"—Isa. xl. 10.
 When called to serve or to suffer, we take stock of our strength, and we find it to be less than we thought, and less than we need. But let not our heart sink within us while we have such a word as this to fall back upon, for it guarantees us that we can possibly need. God has strengthed our souls with His strength, and He will give us strength. There is no telling how much power God can put into a man. When divine strength comes, human weakness is free for a hindrance.
 Do we not remember seasons of labor and trial in which we received such special strength that we wondered at ourselves? In the midst of danger we were calm, under reurement we were resigned, in slander we were patient. The fact is, that God gives unexpected strength when unusual trials come upon us. We rise out of our feeble selves.
 Cowards play the man, foolish ones have wisdom given them, and the silent receive in the selfsame hour what they shall speak.
 My own danger has been calm, under God's promise makes me brave. Lord, strengthen me "according to Thy word."
 —C. H. Spurgeon.

"HOME RULE CLUBS" ON ROAD WORK DEFENDED

To the Editor of The Herald: In a statement recently published in various papers throughout the state, Mr. George W. Cooley, state engineer, is quoted as follows:

"On the eve of elections voters have been informed that various townships are being canvassed and the boards asked to pass resolutions in favor of the so-called home rule."

Acting for this association and its township home rule clubs, representatives over 100,000 rural voters, who denounce the statement of the engineer for the highway commission as a malicious falsehood, deliberately uttered to defame public attention from the very just criticisms directed against himself and associates by indignant citizens of every county in Minnesota.

This association and its affiliated home rule clubs were not formed, as Mr. Cooley says, upon the eve of an election, but were organized at the annual town meetings since the expense of the association is covered by voluntary contributions of $2 from each local club, and not by any private interest.

At the recent town meetings the voters were asked by this association to express their opinion upon these two proposals: first, that the right to appoint engineers to plan and supervise road building for the various counties be taken from the state highway commission and given to boards of county commissioners; second, that the power to purchase road and bridge building material remain where it now is, with local boards elected by the people, and not concentrated with the state highway commission as proposed in the Warner bill introduced at the last session of the legislature.

May we ask if the appeal we have made to the voters assembled in town meetings is in any way irregular or subject to suspicion? May we ask if consent for such an appeal must first be obtained from the high and mighty one who assumes to be guardian for all rural Minnesotans? May we ask this overly suspicious person in whose interest he is acting? May we ask for whose benefit it is proposed to spend the purchase of millions of dollars worth of road and bridge building material concentrated under the control of a commission for which he is engineer?

We cannot see what difference it will make to those interested in the sale of bridges and building materials whether the plans for road work are prepared by an engineer appointed by the county or made by an engineer appointed by Mr. Cooley, but we can see which men interested in the sale of these materials might have an interest in having their purchases for the entire state collected under the control of a single engineer, and we can see how such a condition might result in the engineer having an interest, not entirely unimportant, not altogether altruistic.

To the Editor of The Herald: I would be very much obliged if you would allow me sufficient space in the Open Court to state my views and opinions on the articles that you have so kindly published in regard to the case which involves Roy J. Holmes' student as an English instructor.

In regard to the stand taken by Supt. Denford and Principal Young, I suggest that they had better make some effort to show their opinions on the matter to the taxpayers of Duluth.

INHERITANCE AND IDEAS. To the Editor of The Herald: If you please, why is it hereditary influence is so little taken into consideration when the various such important elements in the cause of the war or peace?

For instance, would not the necessary teaching at the proper time, before the child sees the light of day? Just as the child inherits his flesh, blood, bone and color of his skin, so does he inherit his intelligence, his desires for good, bad, or indifference, as well as more or less desire for acquiring property, and the like.

May the time soon come when the child won't bear witness of the violent passions of the parents, of some post-benast nature and desires, or habits, totally alien to his own personality, all concerned in representing such unions and good genes.

Systematized play for school children during recess periods and after school, so that they will be better equipped for study, is being considered by the board of education this year for the first time.

School Playgrounds. Ten municipal playgrounds are being planned for the city, to be established during the coming spring and summer.

Municipal Playgrounds. Four municipal playgrounds also are to be operated, and they are expected to care for the children from seven other schools.

Some idea of the progress made in play in the schools, is given in Mr. Batchelor's report, in which he states that the grade school hockey teams played sixty-three games during February—R. D. McC.

FARMERS DON'T LIKE ORDINANCE

Declare Proposed Milk Measure Will Hurt Small Dairyman.

Hope for Old Courthouse Site for Public Market.

Certain features of the proposed milk ordinance now pending before the council were criticized yesterday afternoon at the quarterly meeting of the St. Louis County Federation of Farmers' Clubs at the courthouse. No formal resolutions covering the subject were adopted, however. The trend of the discussion seemed to be that the proposed ordinance would work a hardship on the small dairyman to the advantage of firms engaged in the wholesale milk and cream business. One farmer declared that he had tried several times to procure a copy of the proposed ordinance at the city hall, but that he had been unsuccessful. "The only copy I could find in town," he said, "was in the office of the Erickman-Russell company."

When Health Breaks

the cause is often found to be improper habits of living—principally wrong eating. Many foods, especially white flour products, lack certain necessary mineral elements, phosphate of potash, etc. These valuable energizing elements are abundantly supplied by the field grains, but thrown out in the milling process to make the flour white.

The delicious, pure, easily digestible food,

Grape-Nuts

made of whole wheat and malted barley, supplies all the rich nutriment of the grains—including their vital mineral elements—most necessary for both mental and physical health.

"There's a Reason"

Grocers everywhere sell Grape-Nuts.

To make him realize that he is leaving good friends when he moves to Vancouver, B. C., H. W. Brown, retiring agent for the Pittsburgh Steamship company, was a guest of honor at a dinner at the Kitchi Gammal club. He was presented with a watch as a reminder that he should regret his move. Mr. Brown has been agent for the Pittsburgh company here for many years and has gained many friends. Last evening the informal toast list produced many remarks of regret, coupled with the best wishes for the luck of the guest of honor. Mr. Brown will be associated with J. W. Norcross of Toronto, and Roy M. Wolvin of Winnipeg in shipbuilding business on the Pacific coast. He will be succeeded by C. A. Marshall, Worrell Clarkson of St. Paul, Samuel B. Sheldon, H. C. Strom and Fred W. Young.

They want to be taken to Minneapolis at the earliest possible moment. They were taken to the United States court and begin serving their sentences.

TO FRAME NAVAL BILL

Hearings Before Committee Ends With Final Appeal By Secretary Daniels.

Republican Members Assail Daniels and Criticize His Program.

Washington, April 4.—The house naval committee brought to an end yesterday its prolonged hearings on the 1917 naval appropriations bill. Secretary Daniels closed a three-day statement before the committee with a final appeal in support of the administration's five-year building program. A sub-committee will begin immediately framing the bill. It became known that a determined effort would be made to provide for six capital ships, two dreadnoughts and four battle cruisers, as a compromise between the recommendation of the secretary, and of the navy general board. Mr. Daniels parried all efforts yesterday to get from him a statement as to what relative place among naval powers the United States should occupy. He said the five-year program he had mapped out would not put the country in second place, in his judgment, and that the present congress could not be asked to make up for the deficiencies of twenty years past. At the close of the European war, he said, he believed that opportunity would come for international limitation of armament, and with a strong building program adopted by the United States would be in a better position to urge that movement successfully than if its arms were weak.

Specifications Revealed.

Representative Callaway, Pennsylvania, Republican, assailed the secretary's recommendation for a gun-armored cruiser. He asserted that the specifications for navy armor piercing shells were so high that they could not be met by manufacturers, and also declared he had reason to believe the specifications for navy air-lung guns and other materials had been revealed during Mr. Daniels' administration to the Russian and German governments. He suggested that Rear Admiral Strauss, chief of ordnance, be asked to produce a letter to the Krupp company of Germany.

Admiral Strauss was summoned later and read the letter in question. It was in reply to an offer made before the war by the Krupp company to supply 14-inch guns for the United States navy. The secretary said that the offer could be provided, but the company's bid would have attracted attention.

No Information to Russia.

Both the secretary and the admiral said they had no information of any plans or other information having been imparted to the Russian government. Butler's assertion that the armor-piercing shell specifications were given to the department, chief of ordnance, and delivered large quantities of shells that had passed the tests.

Secretary Daniels replied at length to criticisms of himself, implied or direct, during the hearing. He said that Admiral Fiske, former aide of operations, and became involved in a warm controversy with the secretary. He said that he had repeatedly requested it, to the secretary's great embarrassment.

First Difference.

"Our first difference," said the secretary, "was over the wine mess affair. Admiral Fiske, who was greatly annoyed, said that navy officers would go to using cocaine. My only regret was that I did not issue it on March 5, when I came into office, instead of waiting."

Although he resolved to ask for Admiral Fiske's resignation, the secretary said he changed his mind when Daniels created the office of chief of operations to supplant the aide system, and intended to allow the admiral to serve as aide until the office expired.

The admiral resigned, however, before the new law became effective. Representative Callaway directed attention to Admiral Fiske's statement that he had resigned because of the difference with Daniels on the preparedness question. The secretary said that he had given the admiral to him for the resignation. Representative Britten asked that certain letters from Admiral Fiske and his general board to the secretary warning him that the navy was unprepared for war, be placed in the record.

Not to Be Subject Gossip.

Mr. Daniels declined to do so, saying he had no intention of permitting correspondence between the board and himself to be made the subject of gossip.

Representative Oliver of Alabama, Democrat, made a statement sharply attacking Representative Britten. He said the Illinois member's attitude throughout the hearings had followed the single line of criticizing the secretary of the navy.

Representative Britten and the secretary clashed again when the former asked if a Democratic congress had not cut down the recommendation of a Republican secretary for three battleships to one. "If you want to go into politics," Secretary Daniels said, "I will be glad to discuss the subject." Several members interrupted to say politics should be excluded but a general debate on the subject followed. Representative Britten asserted that Secretary Meyer had recommended the construction of eleven battleships during his administration. "That is more than you have done, Mr. Secretary," he said. Secretary Daniels replied that Mr. Meyer had cut down his recommendation on the subject from three to one in the last general election, and then "recommended everything in sight."

Not a Dollar for New Ships.

Chairman Padgett said that while Mr. Meyer had recommended three battleships at one time, the estimates for the same year did not show a dollar for new ships. Shortly afterward Mr. Padgett ruled out any further political discussion. "Isn't it true," demanded Representative Britten, "that Secretary Daniels, that a copy of one of our war plans with Japan had been lost during your administration?" "The secretary said, 'You personally have not lost a set?' Representative Britten asked. "No, sir." "How long would it take to put the navy into condition to fight an efficient enemy?" asked Representative Britten. "We could fight now," with what we have, Mr. Daniels said. "I'm not talking about the fleet," said Mr. Britten, interrupting Secretary Daniels' effort to illustrate conditions in the navy by showing what had been accomplished in forty-eight hours when the fleet was ordered to Vera Cruz. "I'm talking about putting the reserve ships in fighting trim. How long would it take to get 15,000 men trained and put them on the reserve ships?"

COURT EASY WITH AMATEUR GAMBLERS

Two Draw Suspended Sentences; Four Go Free.

The evidence was too "strong" against Nick Garlick, 33, alleged gambler, in police court yesterday, and he was found guilty while four others went free.

Garlick's friend, David Witka, 35, also was adjudged guilty, but the court decided to suspend sentence in both cases, and the amateur poker player was released because he was wearing more than a badly worn deck of playing cards.

Others were playing cards in the New York hotel, 438 West Superior street, Sunday night. Nick Garlick, David Witka were in one room, while Tony Bender, 21, George Sheehan, 31, Nick Gerner, 28, and Joe Gunk, 26, were in another.

All six deposited $10 bail, and were tried yesterday afternoon. Three of the four were set free, because of lack of evidence, and Sheehan's bail was declared forfeit, because he failed to appear.

George Sheehan learned that his friends had been set free, he hurried into court to get his $10, but it was too late. The attorney, W. Monahan, raided the hotel at the "request" of the proprietor, who wanted to stop the card games, he said.

Simple Way to Get RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet face and rub it in. The blackheads will brisily wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dirt and secretion from the pores of the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only causes irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clear and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

The Fashion Show

The Fashion Show of the Duluth Retail Stores is a revelation.

Last night crowds surging from shop to shop along Superior street feasted their eyes on the beautiful wearables exhibited in the windows and inside the stores.

The merry show will continue and many of the charming dresses, suits and hats will be seen on happy live beings parading the streets next Sunday.

This is Dress Up Week in all America. A button manufacturer in Rochester, N. Y., originated this Dress Up idea and it has spread like wildfire over all the land.

The Columbia Window Exhibit is the talk of the town. Here beneath the mellow glare of innumerable nitrogen lamps are shown the new things for men and for boys.

Dress Up—it's the best of all Spring Tonics.

'NEW' IS THE WORD. Even if the bay is still an almost unbroken ice field, this is April the fourth, and the warm rays of the sun are fast ruining Old Winter's trenches.

The time is for wearing the heavy stuff has gone.

A new Hat will sweep the wintry cobwebs from your brain.

A new suit will raise your vision from the dirty snow remnants to the new spark of life in the trees and bushes.

A new shirt and tie will lend bright hues to the scheme of things and remind you that Nature herself is soon to abound in exquisite colors.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

GETS DIFFERENT KIND OF "TIME"

Emil Koski Is Sentenced for Stealing Two Watches.

Emil Koski was convicted of stealing a watch yesterday and sentenced to sixty days at the work farm. Today he was convicted of stealing another timepiece and sentenced to three months at the county jail.

In trying to find watch No. 2, police learned about watch No. 2, and the evidence was strongly against Koski, although he denied his guilt strenuously. First, on March 31, police said Koski picked Louis Carlson's pockets, taking a watch. They couldn't find the timepiece Koski has a watch on his person, but it wasn't Carlson's. On April 1, Andrew Hanson also complained of being robbed of a watch. He gave police the numbers of his timepiece, and they corresponded to the numbers on the watch which had been taken from Koski.

After reading the autobiography of Mike Gibbons it is easy to understand why he is the greatest fighter in the world. Sayings of Famous Men. By Jess Willard—I have never appreciated what a great writer this Rudyard Kipling must be. The other day Tom Jones told me that Kipling received a word for what he wrote about. That's more than Jack Curley received for writing my history. I certainly got to get some of that guy's dope and look it over. By Macky McFarland—Well, I see where J. P. Morgan, Jr., landed the alms $10,000,000. They always told me that Mr. Morgan was an awful smart fellow. That sure ain't my idea of a smart fellow. By Henry Kaufman—After looking the National League players over I must say that I don't think much of them. Were it not for the fact that I do not wish to appear conceited, I would state that I will make all them guys look like 80-year-old guys blindfolded trying to play on a cold day. But I don't think myself. I don't like to do it. I think it's right. I am a great baseball player, but then I guess everyone knows that. I hate to talk about myself. By George M. Cohen—I have just been reading Gibbons Roman Empire. It's a very clever little thing, isn't it? By Francisco Villa—The guy who said Arthur Duffey was the greatest runner in the world, is a — liar! By Ned Ten Eyck—One very nice thing about Duluth is that the ice cream here is great. By Garry Herrmann (Owner of the Cincinnati Baseball Team)—I am in baseball because I love to see the other teams play. By Charles Somers, (late owner of the Cleveland Baseball team)—I sold my team because I love the sport. By Charles Chaplin—I consider walking one of the most beneficial exercises. By the Flat Hunter—Columbus was not the only discoverer. By the Office Boy—Give me a pass? By Connie Mack—(Whispering) I think we will win the pennant this year—or next. By the Fight Manager—He lost. (The next week)—We won. By Tom Jones (fairly story)—I have nothing to say. No finer example of courage and persistence has ever been exhibited, than that shown by James J. Corbett in publicly picking Jess Willard to beat Frank Moran. For nearly two years Mr. Corbett has been picking fighters to win, only to see them beaten. Yet nothing daunted, he has gone on making his choices. Finally, after years and years of misses, he has placed a bet on the man who has placed a bet on the faint of heart! Persistence, though art crowned with success! The courage of the man!

CAN SCISSORS GRINDER DEFEAT FREDDY BEELL?

JOE STECHER.

plon, Jay Gould, in the challenge round next Saturday.

STAGE SET FOR CONTEST BETWEEN JOE AND FRED

BY BRUCE. All is set for tonight's meeting between Scissors Grinder Joe Stecher of Nebraska and Freddy Beell of Wisconsin. The two men, types of a widely differing wrestling school, will meet in a finish catch-as-catch-can contest in the Duluth Auditorium, and the match should prove the most interesting by far that has ever been wrestled in Duluth. Stecher, a mere youth in years, has swept the country by a series of sensational victories. Beell, the old master, a tried and true veteran and the hero of 100 winning contests over the great before in the history of the sport, has been the interest aroused in any match that is being made up tonight. Beell, a wrestler with a universal following and the greater favorite that stepped on the local mat, is scheduled to meet the greatest opponent of his entire career, save possibly one— and that one—Frank A. Gotch. Beell has met and defeated Gotch, Cutler, Westergaard and scores of other great wrestlers. The wonderful speed, remarkable cleverness and all-squat little farmer early placed him in the wonder class among American athletes. Now this wonder man is being called upon to meet the greatest test of his career. The Greatest Test. In many ways Stecher faces the greatest test of his career in Duluth tonight. If this tall and ungainly man walk onto the mat and defeat Freddy Beell as he has defeated others, then the chances of Frank Gotch will appear rather slim against the boy who right now is setting the athletic world aflutter by the brilliance of his performances. On the other hand, should Beell do what many of his staunch admirers confidently expect him to perform, make a wonderful comeback, but due to conflicting dates it was postponed to Wednesday. This will make it possible for a big crowd to turn out and the athletic associations of the two institutions will then be put on a sublimely high level. Both Coach Blake of Central and Daugherty of Cathedral declare that they will put up a great fight for a victory. The two teams appear to be very evenly matched, although the dope favors Cathedral, due to the fact that the Catholics were winners in the last clash. The lineups will be as follows: Central—Cathedral—Mason... Fitzpatrick... Karon... Quinn... Gogins (captain)... Lee... Rosenberg... Farah... Shaw... Dog Team Race. All-Alaska Sweepstakes Will Be Run Beginning April 11. Nome, Alaska, April 4.—The ninth annual all-Alaska sweepstakes dog team race, the great sport event of the North, will be run April 11, over the snow trail from Nome to Candle and return, a total distance of 412 miles. Announcement of the date of the race was made yesterday by the Nome Kennel club, under whose auspices the race will be run. The trail is in excellent condition for fast racing. It is probable that six or seven dog teams will be entered, including those of Leonard Seppala, whose Siberian wolf dogs won last year's race in 78 hours and 37 seconds; Robert Brown, Doning and Blatchford, Bowing and Belzenc, Paul Kjegstad and the Dunbar J. Aasen. Two famous drivers, whose dogs always have been close contenders, will not be represented this year. John Johnson, who established the record of 74 1/4 minutes and 20 seconds in 1910, and A. A. (Scotty) Allan, driver and part owner of the Allan-Berling team, which won in 1911 and 1912, are in the United States. Atlantic Coast Bowling Begins. Washington, April 4.—With the district commissioners and prominent citizens throwing the first ball down the alley, the Atlantic Coast Bowling association opened its second annual tournament here last night. Nearly 200 teams have entered the tournament from all parts of the Atlantic coast, contesting for prizes amounting to more than $7,000. Only five-man teams contest in the opening sets.

Basketball Boxing

weather conditions, so that his pitchers can get the kinks out of their arms. Defeats World's Champion. Pittsburgh, Pa., April 4.—Pierre Maupome of St. Louis defeated Charles R. Ellis, world's three-cushion billiard champion, in the opening block of their match here last night, 0 to 22, in sixty-two innings. They will also play tonight and Wednesday night. Coaches Johns Hopkins. Baltimore, Md., April 4.—Hank Brennan was made head coach of Johns Hopkins football squad yesterday. He succeeds Charles Brickley, who returned to Harvard. Badgers Will Enter. Des Moines, Iowa, April 4.—It was announced today that the University of Wisconsin will enter the Drake relay meet here April 22. Entries have been made from Wisconsin for the four-mile and the one-mile event. TAXI AND JITNEY MEN ORGANIZED Charter for Union Is Received From State Federation of Labor. Taxi and Jitney drivers of Duluth were last evening granted a charter in the State Federation of Labor, and the name of the Jitney organization was changed from the Duluth Jitney association to the Duluth Taxi and Jitney Drivers' union. E. G. Hall, president of the state federation, presented the charter and it was accepted by O. E. Thompson, head of the Duluth union. Fifty drivers were later admitted as charter members, after which the following newly elected officers were installed: President, O. E. Thompson; vice president, John Anderson; secretary, Carl Peterson; treasurer, R. A. Marsh; trustees, Gilbert Iverson, L. Anderson and Edward Bergstrom. SEVENTY CIVIL CASES. Municipal Court Has One of Longest Calendars in Its History. Seventy civil cases are on the calendar in municipal court yesterday. It is one of the longest calendars in the history of Duluth's municipal court. Fifteen of the actions are to be tried before a jury. They are: Otto Wainola vs. Milo Kojonen; Mitchell Vincent vs. Mary Dunphy; Frank Joseph vs. Hjalmar Laine; Gier Petersen vs. the city of Duluth; N. B. Thompson vs. M. L. Dobbie; Jacob Peterson et al vs. John Saari et al; W. E. Murhead vs. Herman Hill; J. H. Shea vs. John R. Melning; Featherstone Flow company vs. John Hall; Charles Mattson vs. Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway; J. G. Spelman vs. M. M. Barr; Ernest Fossell vs. John R. DeWard; L. J. Selig & Co. vs. Rade Grodzinski. Following the custom of municipal court judges of rotating, Judge F. H. Cutting will be in charge of the criminal court during the next two weeks, while Judge Smallwood will hear civil actions.

"STEVE" JONES RE-ELECTED

Popular Executive Again Heads the Duluth Curling Club. Frank Crassweller, R. J. McLeod and W. S. Telford Made Directors.

Stephen H. Jones was re-elected president of the Duluth Curling club at the annual meeting of the members, held last evening in the rooms of the club. Frank Crassweller and R. J. McLeod were also re-elected members of the board of directors, with W. S. Telford succeeding W. H. Ritchell, who, because of business reasons, declined to serve longer as a board member. No definite step was taken on the matter of grading the curlers of the club into three classes, A, B, and C. This method of ranking games more even was suggested at a meeting held last week. The idea is to place the old players in class A, the slightly less expert players in class B, while the green men will be placed in class C. Delimitation will be taken on the suggestion later, when a committee will be appointed to handle the matter. Arthur B. Brown, an officer of the Duluth Amateur Hockey association, gave a talk on hockey, reviewing the season. Mr. Brown stated that arrangements have been made to secure a professional coach for the amateur league teams during the next season. It was announced during the meeting that a membership campaign would be put on some time before the opening of the fall season. The directors of the club desire to bring the club membership up to the 1,000 mark. The report of the treasurer showed that the curling club has enjoyed a very fair year. While the membership has dropped somewhat, the report showed that revenue was derived from various other sources. Members of the club freely expressed the opinion that next season would prove one of the greatest years in the history of the club. Several innovations are planned for the curling program.

FULTON'S FUTURE UP TO HIMSELF

Must Make Good Showing Against Reich to Climb. New York, April 4.—Official notice was received by the state boxing commission that Fred Fulton, the Minnesota heavyweight, had been signed to meet three men in this city. Fulton is to fight Al Reich April 28, Jim Coffey on or about June 1, and Frank Moran on or about July 1. A syndicate headed by John J. Mack is promoting the series of boxing exhibitions with the expectation that it will result in a meeting between Fulton and Willard later in the year. According to the contracts, filed with the boxing commission, Fulton is to receive $5,000 to fight Reich, $5,000 to fight Coffey and $10,000 to fight Moran. Whether the last two matches will be fought, it was stated by the commission, is dependent upon Fulton's showing against Reich, and if the Minnesota boxer makes good the percentage will be arranged so as to give him about $50,000 for the three matches. Fulton's manager has posted $1,000 and the syndicate $2,000 with Tom Andrews, a Western sporting writer, as guaranties.

AMATEUR BOXERS ARE FIGHTING FOR TITLES

Boston, Mass., April 4.—Three national champions appeared to defend their titles at the opening last night of the national amateur boxing championships. Tony Valian of this city, holder of the 115-pound title, went through to the semi-final by winning a rugged bout from William Jones, also a Boston entrant. Adolph Kaufman of Brooklyn, title holder of the 155-pound class, entered the semi-finals without opposition. Canadian and Kansas City boxers made the best showing of the out-of-town entrants. The feature of the night was in the 115-pound class, when John Perry of this city and Joe Chevalier of Montreal stood toe to toe and exchanged punches for three rounds before Perry was given the decision. By disposing of E. Meyers of the Union Settlement A. C. of New York in one round in the 145-pound class, Roy Helton of Kansas City scored his eighth consecutive knockout. Most of the bouts went the usual three-round limit.

GOTCH SUSPENDS WRESTLING TO LOOK AFTER CROPS

Humboldt, Iowa, April 4.—Frank Gotch today put aside all thought of wrestling and devoted himself to crops. The champion, who arrived this morning from California, inspected his farm property in this locality and arranged with his overseers for the spring work. He will remain here until the 15th, when he will go on the road with a circus.

LAST GAME WEDNESDAY

Central and Cathedral Quints Will Close Season Here. Clash Will Decide Championship of Lake Superior District.

The last and most important basketball clash of the season at the Head of the Lakes is scheduled for tomorrow evening in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium when the local Central and Cathedral high school quints fight it out for the championship of the Lake Superior region. Both of these teams have made remarkable records thus far this season. They have met twice and each has won a wonderful comeback, but due to conflicting dates it was postponed to Wednesday. This will make it possible for a big crowd to turn out and the athletic associations of the two institutions will then be put on a sublimely high level. Both Coach Blake of Central and Daugherty of Cathedral declare that they will put up a great fight for a victory. WILL WORK ON INFIELD

Owner Blume to Have Diamond Improved; No Word From Schreiber. Just as soon as the snow disappears from the infield and outfield of Athletic park, Owner Blume will start the work of preparing the ball park for the practice season of 1916. The candidates for the team are due to arrive in Duluth the latter part of next week. Practice will begin at the park not later than Monday, April 17. An attempt will be made to improve the infield before the opening of the season. The outfield is in good shape, but there are some rough spots on the diamond that could be remedied. No word was received from Schreiber today. This bird is keeping Owner Blume and Darby O'Brien on the anxious seat. If Bunny should send in a signed contract there would be smiles and carrollings of joy upon the part of the magnate and manager. Schreiber will prove a very valuable man for the team—if he signs. He is wanted and there will be disappointment should he fail to cast his lot with the Dookal outfit. With infield candidates in the hands of Schreiber would make a great man for the garden. The Dookal believes that Schreiber would make a great man for the garden. The Dookal believes that Schreiber would make a great man for the garden. TWO PAVINGS ARE ORDERED

East and West Ends Get Concrete Improvements.

Lower Efficiency of Pumps Saves Money on City Contracts.

 WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.
 Ordered Fifty-eighth avenue west paved, from Main to Hoosevelt street.
 Ordered the paving of Twenty-first avenue east, from Superior to Fourth street.
 Heard first reading of an ordinance appropriating $600 for the beautifying of the grounds around the pumping stations and reservoir.
 Passed the ordinance appropriating $6,000 for the construction of a stone bridge over Fischer's creek.
 Authorized the payroll for the last half of March.
 Accepted the offer of the Platt Iron works to waive its balance of $1,014.90 due on the two pumps sold Sept. 11, 1915, if they are taken at the lower efficiency.
 Proceeded with the vacation of Hoosier and Everett Park additions at the steel plant.

Two concrete pavements were ordered by the city commissioners yesterday afternoon.
 Twenty-first avenue east, from Superior street to Fourth street, and Fifty-eighth avenue west, from Main to Hoosier streets, were ordered improved with one-course concrete pavements, the estimated cost of each being $10,226 and $7,217, respectively.
 Commissioner Merritt, utility head, introduced the ordinance appropriating $600 for beautifying the grounds adjoining the Lakewood and Woodland pumping stations and the Thirty-fourth avenue east reservoir.
 Reduced Price on Pumps.
 The offer of the Platt Iron Works, waiving all claims to the balance of $1,014.90 still due on the two Woodland pumps sold Sept. 11, 1915, if they are taken at the lower efficiency, was accepted by the commissioners. This gives the city the two pumps for $1,014.90, the price of one. The company has guaranteed a higher efficiency for the pumps but the machines failed, although they are working in fine shape at the lower efficiencies, Commissioner Merritt explained.

 Commissioner Merritt was given permission to spend $360 during the year for overtime wages to men employed after working hours.
 The Simplex Wire & Cable company was awarded the contract to furnish the city with underground cable for the fire department on its bid of $388 and the United States Cast Iron Pipe company the contract to furnish the 36-inch specials for the new main to be laid underneath the bridge over Fischer's creek on its bid of $176.
 Pay Workmen's Compensation.
 Michael Derrig and John Wades, both of whom were injured while in the employ of the city, were awarded compensation under the state laws on the recommendation of the city attorney. The former was awarded $32 and the latter $125.
 Four cement and five plank sidewalks were ordered laid this year in addition to the 172 authorized two weeks ago.
 Sanitary sewers were ordered in Medina street, from Seventh street to 103 1/2 block 12, Sharp's addition, and on Olney alley, Fifty-eighth alley and Olney street.
 An arc light was ordered installed at the corner of Twenty-second avenue east and First street.
 The council passed the ordinance authorizing the printing of the annual reports, $186 for the purchase of steel filing cases for the municipalities, $126 for the purchase of all police caps.
 Second reading was given the ordinance appropriating $2,500 as salary for Francis Sullivan, special attorney at law, $236 for the purchase of a street sweeper, $1,100 for an electrical pump to be used at the West Duluth station and $400 for changing the partitions in the main offices of the water and light department.

St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—Declaring that she is not mad and that the laws are only for the rich, Mrs. Annela Dukek, confessed slayer of Rev. Henry Jajowski, a Catholic priest, was taken to the state hospital for the insane at St. Peter Monday.

HEALTH TALKS

Food and Fermentation

It takes the average dyspeptic or indigestion victim from one to five years to learn that so-called "digestive tablets," "popsin," and other alleged aids to digestion are utterly worthless, so far as curing the dyspepsia is concerned.
 Then perhaps it takes him another year or two to find out that "starches" and "sweets" are not necessarily the only foods which will ferment in the stomach or bowel.
 If something critical does happen in all this time, say a frank appendicitis or an attack of honest-goodness gallstone colic or something else which establishes the real nature of the "stomach troubles" at last, the poor sufferer may ultimately discover a "diet" upon which he can get along with a fair degree of comfort. This diet may be ever so scientific and rigid in its limitations, but it always has this characteristic: It doesn't overtax the individual quite so much as his customary bill of fare.
 The fact is that most of the fullness, distension, flatulency, fermentation, gas, bloating and embarrassment which the heart which dyspeptics suffer is caused by overeating. If more food is consumed than the stomach can assimilate, the excess remains unabsorbed, and of course undergoes bacterial fermentation, with the production of various by-products, such as gas, organic acids and toxic ptomaines.
 There are various conventional modes of treating such a condition. First, the use of digestive ferments, which is generally a disappointment. Second, the use of intestinal disinfectants which are supposed to prevent fermentation, but don't, for the reason that anything strong enough to prevent bacterial fermentation will likewise prevent digestion, and as a practical fact no agent has yet been found which will disinfect the intestinal canal. Third, taking salines or other cathartics; this works all right for a time, but for a time only. Fourth, taking drugs which stimulate the secretion of more gastric juice; a mere makeshift, of no permanent effect. Finally, dieting.

 Dieting does the business. And can we outline a suitable diet? Only by due consideration of the patient's individual requirements and his individual condition. The diet must contain sufficient food to meet the patient's demands and sufficient variety to supply the essential elements of nutrition. A ready-made diet is almost as bad as ready-made medicine. Human beings are seldom exactly alike.
 The one fact that applies in most cases of fermentation and flatulency is intemperance—hasty eating and overeating.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Water Is a Good Beverage.
 I notice physicians recommend six or eight glasses of water per day. Is it desirable for one with intestinal indigestion and stomach trouble to drink so much of that? Would not the fermented food be diluted and carried into the blood, causing headache, intoxication, etc.?
 Answer—That would not make any difference, or rather such a person should drink even more water just before or in the course of a meal is an aid to digestion.
Asthenia for Warts.
 Will tincture of iodine cure warts if applied every day?
 Answer—Pain the wart and a little of the surrounding skin every third or fourth day only. It will cause them to disappear—perhaps.
Asthenia Fever.
 Would anemia cause one to have a temperature of 100 deg. afterwards?
 Answer—Rarely. The anemia may be from tubercle.

APPORTIONS COUNTY TAX

Sum for Distribution Is $2,501,058.07; Duluth Will Get $264,510.

Hiibbing Will Get $771,441; Independent School District Duluth $209,779.

Distribution of the February, 1916, apportionment of current and back taxes will begin today. County Auditor Odin Halonen has spread the apportionment on his books and during the next few days, County Treasurer George H. Vivian will be busy paying out money from St. Louis county's strong box. The amount available for distribution at this time is $2,501,058.07, which will be divided among the various tax districts of the county after the state, county and school districts have taken their share.
 The amount ready for disbursement represents collections on the last half of the 1915 real estate taxes and the personal property taxes collected during the first two months of the present year. The county treasurer's books show that the back taxes which were not paid in February, May and October, the actual distribution of the money, as a matter of practice, does not take place until March, August and December. The latest apportionment of current taxes. Before any warrants are drawn, however, the auditor's books until a later date have been paid since the last apportionment.
 Hiibbing Gets Most.
 The village of Hiibbing will receive a larger share of the apportionment than the city of Duluth. One reason for this is that a portion of the amount paid over to the various villages represents the delinquent taxes and penalties on the 1915 tax squabble with the authorities of Hiibbing. The taxes were not paid until a later October apportionment had been made last year.
 Of the total amount to be apportioned in the February, 1916, distribution, the state will receive $1,700,000; the county, $470,000; cities and villages, $112,229.25; towns, $22,910.34; school districts, $115,000.

Nujol Will Help You Now

Later it may be useless

WHEN constipation has become so serious that an operation is needed—NUJOL will do no good.

But if people recognized the seriousness of constipation in its early stages, there wouldn't be so many of these surgical cases!

Nujol, which is nothing but a very carefully refined white mineral oil, is effective in nine out of ten cases of occasional or periodic constipation. It is also remarkably effective in cases of chronic constipation. However, such cases are not cured in a day or a week, especially when the intestinal tract has been weakened by the constant use of laxatives and cathartics.

Nujol is not a drug, but a lubricant. It softens the intestinal contents and facilitates the processes of normal evacuation.

In this way, the relaxed bowel muscles are restored to proper tone, and permanent relief is obtained from a condition which is a constant and ever-increasing menace to your health.

Write for booklet, "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If Nujol is not sold by your druggist, we will send a pint bottle prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

DULUTH "DRYS" TO GUARD THE POLLS

Stand Ready to Prevent Local "Wets" From Voting in Superior.

Fearing that Superior "wet" workers may try to have Duluth residents vote in the Wisconsin city "wet" and "dry" fight today, prohibitionists have called upon Duluth "dry" workers to do out-post duty at the polls.
 The Superior no-license committee, in charge of the anti-liquor fight, requested the Duluth prohibitionists to help them prevent illegal voting, and local leaders immediately arranged to comply with the suggestion.
 Superior men believe that the presence of Duluth men at the polls would stop any effort to have Duluthians vote for the "wets" because of the danger of being recognized.
 The first draft of petitions to be circulated by 400 workers to initiate a local option fight in Duluth, were submitted to the "dry" attorney yesterday and will be ready for turning over to the circulators in a day or two, it was announced.
 Five names were added to the list of men comprising the "steering" committee in charge of the "dry" fight. They were Bishop James McGorlick, Rev. J. J. Daniels, W. L. Smithies, Henry Stevens, business agent for the Carpenters' union, and E. N. Edes, state engineer. They expect to secure 5,000 names on a petition in four hours.
 The petition will demand that the council submit the local option issue to voters at the primary June 15. It provides for a "dry" Duluth on July 1, 1917.

GERMAN OFFICIAL IS IMPLICATED

Assisted Von der Goltz to PASSPORT AT REQUEST OF Von Pappen.

Washington, April 4.—Photographic copies of letters said to have been written by Capt. von Pappen, the withdrawn German military attaché, to persons in this country asking them to aid Horst von der Goltz, the alleged German spy brought to New York a week ago by Scotland Yard detectives, are in the possession of the United States government. These letters, it is said, were written at the time Von der Goltz was shaping plans to blow up the Welland canal. On was addressed to a German government officer in this country, and me with such response that Von der Goltz was able to leave the United States with an American passport issued him under the alias of Bridgeman Taylor. The name of this official, who still is at his post in this country, has been carefully guarded. In the last few days, Von Pappen is understood to have explained that the bearer, Von der Goltz, was a responsible and trustworthy person in the confidence of the writer and as such was commended to the good offices of the recipient. Officials here expressed the belief that this letter established beyond question the fact that Von der Goltz's activities in trying to bring about an invasion of Canada and planning the destruction of the Welland canal, were indorsed by Von Pappen as Von der Goltz claims.

LICENSE GRANTED EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

Three Commissioners Overturn Policy Opposing New Agencies.

City commissioners yesterday afternoon granted an employment office license, altering a policy that has been in force for the last two years.
 Although the members of the council have always taken the stand that there are enough employment offices in Duluth and that an increase is unwarranted, by a vote of 3 to 2 they granted S. O. Carlson a license to open an office at 215 West Michigan street. Commissioners Farrell and Merritt opposed the license.
 Others who applied during the last two years were turned down, as was Mr. Carlson himself about three weeks ago. But when his application was read again yesterday, Commissioner Silbert, head of the safety division, recommended the granting of the license. He declared that large wholesale houses of the city had written about the honesty and veracity of the applicant, while logging and lumber companies were also recommending him.
 "I am opposed to any more employment offices," said Commissioner Farrell, "and shall vote against the application."
 He was supported by Commissioner Merritt, while Mayor Prince and Commissioners Voss and Silberstein voted in favor of the application.

 The application of J. H. Wright for a transfer of J. P. Van Daler's saloon license at 319 West Superior street was held up for a week pending an investigation. Other licenses granted yesterday follow: Saloon renewals—George D. Larson, 209 West Superior street, being a transfer from S. D. Ives at the same location; Ragnar Sjoglund, 101 East Michigan street; C. N. Infanzato, 1426 Commonwealth avenue; Frank Gardner, 113 West First street; Sam Olson, 514 West Superior street; Vito Vitullo, 131 South Central avenue; C. F. W. Korth, 620 Roosevelt street; A. Henrickson, 416 Central avenue, and Frank Horgan, 110 West First street.

ARE CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Internal Revenue Collectors Said to Have Been Grafting.

Have Been Receiving Pay From Manufacturers of Tobacco.

Washington, April 4.—Treasury officials said today that Carl E. Whitney, a New York lawyer, had fled charges that a number of deputy internal revenue collectors in that city are involved in the recently discovered tobacco frauds.

More than 100 deputy collectors are in New York, but only a part of the number are suspected of participation in frauds involving hundreds of clear and cigarette manufacturers in which the government is believed to have lost $20,000,000 in uncollected internal revenue. Mr. Whitney made his charges to Assistant Secretary Malburn, but declined to give the names of deputies involved. He is counsel for some of the cigarette manufacturers, and officials here understand he will use his information about the deputies if his clients come to trial. An investigation is being made by John Z. Lowe, collector at New York.

Receiving Regular Payments.

According to treasury officials, Mr. Whitney charged that collectors have not only been receiving regular remittances weekly from manufacturers, but in some cases have approached manufacturers who were not evading the law, and pointed out the ease with which they could escape payment of revenue duties and offered to co-operate with them to this end for small considerations weekly.

The alleged frauds were unearthed, it was said today, through a transfer from New York to Philadelphia of John Sinsel, a revenue agent stationed at New York for some time. Mr. Sinsel was succeeded at New York by L. G. Nutt, who soon after assuming office became acquainted with the alleged workings of the manufacturers and deputy collectors and investigated.

MILWAUKEE IN THROES OF A HOT ELECTION

Both Nonpartisans and Social Democrats Confident of Winning.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4.—After a relentless campaign, election day began in Milwaukee this morning at 6 o'clock with both parties confident of substantial majorities. Mayor G. A. Bading, nonpartisan, seeking re-election, is opposed by Daniel A. Hoan, Social Democrat. The weather during the early polling hours was clear and crisp. Many business houses allowed their employees ample time to vote early in the day.

The question of issuance of bonds for the purchase of a municipal lighting plant, police stations, permanent harbor improvements and public school facilities also are being voted upon. Women are voting upon the question of school bonds. Paper ballots are being used.

A justice of the supreme court and several circuit judges are to be chosen. The election of delegates to national party conventions is practically without any contest in the Democratic and Prohibition parties while on the Republican ticket Governor Philipp and Senator La Follette have complete lists to choose from.

brother, former State Senator Harry Cheadle, promptly recognized one another and had a pleasant chat.

"How do you do, Mr. Cheadle?" was the Montanaian's greeting.

"Very well, thank you, Mr. Cheadle," replied the Duluth school head.

Then they discussed their last meeting and the changes that had resulted since in Duluth and elsewhere in more than a score of years.

"I was offered the position of being a Duluth school teacher the last time I met Supt. Denfeld," remarked Judge Cheadle in discussing their meeting.

bounds in Fergus county and Lewis-town is rapidly putting on metropolitan ways, the frontier customs having gone with the cowboy, the Indian and other evidences of border days.

Fergus county last year produced about 12,000,000 bu. of wheat, or far more than all Montana raised a few years ago. Grain elevators dot the Judith basin, as that part of Montana is called, where a few years ago there were only sheep herders' tents, cow camps and an occasional ranch. The small farmer has come into his own, is tilling the soil and raising fine crops without irrigation, something undreamed of a few years ago. The big cattle and sheep ranches have been cut up into smaller farms and the country is rapidly being permanently settled.

The Montana man, when asked about the report that he might be nominated this year as a Republican candidate for governor of his state, replied he guessed that was a trifle premature. He admitted his name had often been mentioned, but added that since he had left the district court bench and resumed his practice of the law in Lewistown after twelve years on the bench he had tried at more political preference and guessed he would continue to do a private citizen. Judge Cheadle expects to leave this afternoon for Rochester, Minn., to join Mrs. Chertea there, and the two will then return to their home in Lewistown, where what Montanians fondly call the "Treaty" and great agricultural possibilities.

Brokers Look for Stiffer Market

Liquidation Is Thought to Have Put Stocks on Firmer Basis.

New York brokers are optimistic as a rule regarding the stock market situation. It is thought that the liquidation of the last two weeks, has resulted in placing the market upon a better basis through the passing of floating securities into stronger hands.

Commenting upon the position of the market, Rensdorf, Lyon & Co., New York brokers, say in their weekly review: "The fact that the majority of Wall street men look for a break with Germany over the submarine question is one reason why the decline will be of short duration, should it occur, as any event that is generally expected has been largely discounted by the adjustment of values."

"The conference of the Entente allies, which ended last week, resolved to confirm all the measures taken to realize unity of action, which will guarantee by their unshaken will, to continue the struggle to victory for the common cause. This means that the end of the war is a long way off and should be a factor of our industrial enterprises. This indicates a long period of uninterrupted prosperity, which will ultimately have considerable bearing on the value of the better class of securities."

"The fore-runner of other contracts of great magnitude that will follow along these lines."

"If we look at the situation from all angles, we find that the dominating factor at the present time is the fear of the termination of our diplomatic relations with Germany. The action of the market shows conclusively that is what the large interests are preparing for. Should it come, a few days in effect, we are of the opinion we would see the beginning of a buying movement in our securities which would extend from one end of the country to the other. Many of our industries, which are running at full capacity now, would be compelled to expand and enlarge their output. From an investor's viewpoint, all securities whether railroads or industrials of the better class, are selling comparatively low considering their earnings and their prospects. Nearly all issues are selling at less than the figures quoted six months ago and now have the accrued profits of that period which have been very large, and are, therefore, much better prepared to handle the enormous business of the future."

Maternity! The Word of Words

It is written into life's expectations that motherhood is the one sublime accomplishment. And if there is anything, no matter how simple, how apparently trivial it may seem, if it can aid, help, assist or in any way comfort the expectant mother, it is a blessing. And such is a remedy called "Mother's Friend."

You apply it over the stomach muscles. It is gently rubbed on the surface, and makes the muscles pliant; it relieves the strain on ligaments, natural expansion takes place without undue effect upon nerves. And as the time approaches, the mind has a pleasant period of repose, of gentle expectancy, and the mother is ready for the birth of her future child. That this is true is evidenced by the fact that three generations of mothers have used and recommended "Mother's Friend." Ask your nearest druggist for a bottle of this splendid remedy. He will get it for you. And then write to Bradlee & Co., 497 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most interesting book of information. It is mailed free. Write today. It is a book you will enjoy.

ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given the same remedy to a great disappointment. All physicians, however, agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. S. Schittae expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that anti-rheumatic tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of rheumatism in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unexpressed in headache, neuralgia and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

LOWER BID SUBSTITUTED

General Contracting Company Will Get Superior Street Contract.

Bid Is Nearly $2,000 Lower Than Its Former Offer.

The General Contracting company of Minneapolis will be awarded the contract to pave Superior street from Sixth to Twenty-third avenues east.

This announcement was made shortly after the bid was opened today by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, after the bids opened this morning had been compiled by Secretary Culver. The Minneapolis concern submitted the lowest bid on a Lakeland Trinidad asphalt, the material recently selected by the property owners, and the works commissioner said that he will introduce a resolution at the meeting next Monday awarding the contract. This action will finally settle a controversy that began when the original bids on the improvement were opened in February.

The bids opened this morning followed a "Trinidad Lake asphalt" General Contracting company of Minneapolis, $1,553,415, and Fielding & Shepley, St. Paul, $1,439,480. The original bid by A. Dahl & Co., $46,672, Mexican oil asphalt "Fielding & Shepley," $46,813, and E. McDermott, $17,142 for 2,000 tons of asphalt. In view of the fact that Mr. McDermott failed to include affidavits in his proposal, showing that he can obtain the material specified, and also failed to submit affidavits to secure the material, his bid will not be considered. An opinion by the city legal department after the bids were opened.

Much lower bids were received in comparison with the original bids. It can be seen that the General Contracting company offers to do the work for $1,553,415, while its first bid was $46,813. E. McDermott's bid was $17,142, just $17 less than the offer of the Minneapolis company opened this morning. By substituting this bid of the General Contracting company, the city and property owners will save approximately $2,000. Mr. Dahl failed to bid on Trinidad Lake asphalt, having been unable to secure affidavits to the effect that he can obtain the material from its manufacturers. Each list of specifications contained affidavits, this being Commissioner Farrell's plan to avoid future controversies over paving contracts.

Arthur Leahy, vice president of the General Contracting company, announced this afternoon, that if he is awarded the contract, the concrete base for the pavement will be laid by D. H. Clough & Co. of this city, after which his company will lay the asphalt. Mr. Leahy superintended the laying of the East Superior street pavement from Eighth to Sixteenth avenue east, about nine years ago.

Bids on paving East Superior street were first opened in February, but were rejected by the city commissioner, because of specifications that arose between the contractors. Commissioner Farrell has then authorized the opening of the new bids, which were opened this morning.

COPPER SALES ARE IMMENSE

Most Producers Refuse Orders for Early Delivery.

Shattuck-Arizona Heavily Traded In on Wall Street.

Nearly 100,000,000 pounds of copper is reported to have been sold by producers at the end of last week, and there are said to be inquiries in the market for fully as much more.

The French government took the bulk of the metal sold, but sales to domestic consumers were also large. Practically all the metal disposed of was for delivery during the second half of the year. Several million pounds of copper, as well as a round lot of spelter, are reported to have been sold to the French government for April and May delivery at slightly over 28 cents a pound. Italy has also come into the market within the last few weeks, the copper metal market here having been placed yesterday.

As a consequence of this heavy buying in the strongest position of any time in its history, the price of copper has advanced to 42 cents, and large producers reporting that they will be unable to contract for any deliveries next month.

The effect of the strength in the metal market was seen yesterday in the stock market, where the quotations of some of the leading stocks on the Boston market.

Shattuck-Arizona Traded. Shattuck-Arizona, in which Duluth interests are largely interested, has been heavily traded in on Wall Street. That has been due mainly to the green reports coming from the mining operations at the company's mining property. It is estimated that 45 cents received last year, and the advance of silver to 60 cents compared with under 50 cents will reduce the company's operating cost, expressed in pounds of copper, approximately 1 cent a pound. Shattuck is now producing at the rate of 19,000 pounds of copper per annum, and if present metal prices continue will show for 1916 between $12 and $17 per share. The present dividend rate is $5.

Copper production by the company is at a rate of more than 50 per cent ahead of a year ago, and lead and silver output is 32 per cent greater.

The engineering department is now working on processes to develop the 3,000 tons of tailing ore which the company's property contains. It is expected that this deposit, which since the war has greatly appreciated in price, will be made available during the current year.

Plans are under consideration by the company's management for the development of other property in its territory, which, if consummated, will make Shattuck the biggest factor in the Biabee section.

Actress' Marriage Result of the War

MRS. HAROLD DETMOLD ROBERT—(FERNE ROGERS)

A romance of the war is the recent marriage of Ferne Rogers, who heads the road company now giving "Princess Pat" to Harold Detmold Robert of New York. Miss Rogers was formerly known as "The Sleeping Beauty" at the Drury Lane theater in London when the war broke out. She expressed such strong pro-german sentiments that the other members of the company refused to appear with her, and she had to resign. On her return to New York she met Mr. Robert, who is connected with a German importing house, and a month ago they were secretly married. The news came out when Miss Rogers was sent to a hospital and the authorities began to investigate the matter. Mr. Robert spent a great part of his time by her bedside.

More than 1,000,000 bu grain are being shipped in the month of April, as compared with less than 300,000 bu in a year ago.

The agricultural department at Washington, from inquiries made of flour mills and grain elevators, estimates that the total crop of last year, 144 per cent, or 146,000,000 bu, was put for milling, and 73 per cent, or 107,000,000 bu, was fed to livestock.

The unusually heavy snowfall of last winter, and the high percentage of absorption due to the rate at which the frost left the ground, have put the soil in Minnesota in particularly favorable condition for seeding, according to reports from some parts of the Northwest. With Chicago based, however, the market appeared to lack leadership, and it became dull and drab. Then news of rains over the Northwest, and the backwardness of plowing and seeding throughout the Northwest, and the Chicago market, however, the market appeared to lack leadership, and it became dull and drab.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Trading Animated in Morning Session and Good Gains Scored.

Market Becomes Irregular After Noon and Closing Is Heavy.

New York, April 4.—Yesterday's advance in specialties, especially war shares, were resumed at today's opening with gains of 1 to 4 points in Baldwin Locomotive, New York Air Brake, Studebaker and Willys-Overland. Shipping shares were higher by a point, with marked activity in Mercantile Marine preferred and common. Coppers were prominent, but slightly irregular. Utah and Anaconda showing slight reactions, with Kennecott unchanged, but zinc issues were strong. Industrials, notably Crucible, promise of further prominence and some minor specialties were fractionally higher. Reals were again backward.

Trading was animated on the stock market early today, dealings in the first hour approximating 200,000 shares with continued activity up to noon. Price changes were irregular, however, some specialties, notably Crucible, showing a few leading rails, falling under yesterday's final figures, while others supporting were again backward.

Further irregularity was manifested by leading preferreds in the early afternoon, Crucible, Industrial Alcohol, Kennecott, America Locomotive and Anaconda continuing to over 2 points. Reading was the firm feature of the day.

Shipping led the further decline of the final hour, the only exception to the general downward movement being common, which extended its gain. The closing was heavy.

MOE TROOPS NEEDED TO CAPTURE VILLA

SUPERIOR VOTES OUT SALOONS BY A MARGIN OF THIRTY-THREE BALLOTS, AFTER HOT ELECTION

ALL RUMORS OF MISTAKES GROUNDLESS

No Errors Yet Found in Totals First Announced.
No Chance That Mail Votes Will Alter Result.
Will Put City's 165 Saloons Out of Business.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the results of the Superior "wet" and "dry" election remained unchanged, despite numerous rumors to the contrary. Several times during the morning reports were circulated to the effect that on looking over the mail votes the results had been changed, giving the "wets" a majority.
The fact, as given out by official sources in Superior, is that the mail votes have been counted in all but three of the precincts. It is stated that the uncounted mail ballots can have no bearing on the final results. The vote will be officially canvassed this afternoon.
One rumor to the effect that the liquor interests in their struggle for existence, will seek to have the entire Ninth ward vote thrown out because of the hooding being kept open after the closing hour, is still unconfirmed. In this ward many voters were in line at 8 o'clock when the hour of closing the polls arrived. These men were all voted before the machine was officially closed. It was nearly 9:30 o'clock before all of these men in line had voted. Leading men on both sides claim that the judges were justified in leaving the machine open for voting until the last man in line at the regular hour of closing had voted.
Superior joined the ranks of "dry" communities at the election held yesterday by giving "to license" a majority of 33 votes out of a total of 6,653 votes cast, following one of the hottest campaigns ever held in the city.
The "wets" carried four of the ten wards by large majorities, but the consistent majorities piled up by the other six wards wiped this lead out and placed the city in the "dry" column.
Thousands of people lined the principal streets of Superior last night to hear the returns. When the final results were known shortly after 9:30 o'clock, the outcome being determined by the returns from the Ninth ward, millions of people who had gathered for the "wets" into a 33 victory for the "drys," a great shout went up from the watchers.
Managers of the "wet" campaign plan to contest the results. Votes which were cast by ballot, but not counted, will be made the point of issue, by testing the validity of the law permitting voting by mail. On these (Continued on page 10, first column.)

DRYS MAKE SOME GAINS

Results of Local Option Elections in Illinois Show Many Changes.
Many Saloons Will Be Eliminated; Many New Ones to Open.

Chicago, April 5.—Almost complete returns of the local option elections held in various Illinois towns and townships yesterday indicated today that between 350 and 400 saloons will be eliminated in the near future and that former dry territory which before the prohibition victories in 1912 sheltered about 250 saloons, again will permit the sale of alcohol.
The saloon interests won back Bloomington and Chicago, indicating that between 350 and 400 saloons will be eliminated in the near future and that former dry territory which before the prohibition victories in 1912 sheltered about 250 saloons, again will permit the sale of alcohol.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

CHARLES A. LINDBERGH.

LINDBERGH ENTERS RACE

States He Will Be Candidate for United States Senator.
Coming to Minnesota to Explain Why He Seeks Position.

Washington, April 5.—Representative Charles A. Lindbergh today formally announced his candidacy for United States senator, to succeed Moses E. Clapp, and issued a statement of the reasons which have prompted him to enter the race.
Following Mr. Lindbergh's announcement of his candidacy, he entered politics and official work independent of the political rules. The rules practiced do not benefit the public, he said. I received no assistance from the regular, and at that time the only school of politics. Entering as I did, I received no assistance from the regular, and at that time the only school of politics. DEMOCRATS MAKE DECIDED GAINS

Outvote Republicans By More Than 20,000 in Chicago.

Chicago, April 5.—The Democrats made decided gains throughout the city and they outvoted the Republicans by more than 20,000 votes, according to complete returns from yesterday's administration. The Democrats elected three new city councilmen and their candidate for the municipal court bench, Leo L. Doyle, and it is believed the suicide of Dr. Theodore B. Sachs, former head of the municipal tuberculosis sanatorium, last Sunday, was a potent factor in the defeat of several administration candidates. The Democratic vote in the new council will be 32, as against 29 in the old. The Republicans will have 36 votes, as compared with 39 in the outgoing body, while the Socialists retain the two votes they had. The vote cast yesterday—457,334—was especially heavy for an "off" year. Heated fights within the Republican and Democratic parties is believed to have been responsible. The woman vote fell considerably below expectations.

FRENCH GAINING GROUND IN FIGHT BEFORE VERDUN

Violent Attacks Made on Germans in Vaux-Douaumont Region.
Several Engagements Result in Advance South of Village.
Teuton Troops Sustain Heavy Casualties in Latest Assaults.

MUST ANSWER TO CHARGE OF CONTEMPT MADE BY HOUSE

H. S. MARSHALL.

London, April 5.—In evident determination not to permit the Germans to retain the ground they won recently in the Vaux-Douaumont region, northeast of Verdun, the French are continuing their violent attacks there. Paris today reports that ground was gained north of Callette wood in several engagements fought last night.
The advance reported is in the immediate neighborhood of yesterday's battle ground, south of Douaumont village. The French lines with strong forces, but according to the French war office were swept back with heavy losses. Previous attacks on the German lines in Callette wood had resulted in considerable ground gained, but lost there in the furious German drive of April 2.
More Ground Gained.
Paris, April 5.—(Noon).—The French gained ground north of Callette wood northeast of Verdun in the course of several engagements during the night, the war office announced this afternoon.
Germans Lose Ground.
Paris, April 5.—Yesterday's fighting around Verdun, the Germans lost considerable ground, and again sustained heavy casualties, notwithstanding the new formation of their attacking parties.
At 2 p. m. after the ground had been battered by several hundred tons of projectiles, a thin line of riflemen debouched from Chauffour wood, just northwest of Douaumont. The German lines were broken and the riflemen (Continued on page 10, second column.)

EXPRESS EMPLOYEES STEAL MANY GOODS
Three Men Under Arrest at St. Paul Charged With Looting.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald).—Three men are under arrest here charged with looting the Adams Express company. They are charged with taking goods valued at $1,500 during the past six months.
The men, Lloyd and Carl Farland and Peter Poll, were employed by the express company and the manner in which they concealed the systematic taking of goods kept the police from suspecting them. Detectives uncovered some of the goods, said to amount to $800 worth, which had been disposed of by the men, which led to their arrest.
Captain Drowned.
Norfolk, Va., April 5.—The schooner Elsie A. Bayless of Bangor, Me., went ashore at 4:30 o'clock this morning near New Inlet, N. C. Capt. Thayer was drowned.

ATTEMPTS TO DELIVER MILK CAUSE TROUBLE

Chicago, April 5.—Attempts to deliver milk to the plants of the big distributing concerns who are resisting the demands of milk producers in the Chicago district for higher prices led to several clashes today.
From Elgin there was a report that a farmer, not a member of the milk producers' association, had slashed the hand of a picket, who sought to prevent him from delivering milk to a plant.
A mass meeting was called for today at Elgin by the farmers' organization, at which the farmers said an appeal for 1,000 pickets to prevent delivery of milk to the distributors would be made.

SPANISH AND BRITISH STEAMSHIPS SUNK

London, April 5.—The Spanish steamship Vigo, of 1,137 gross tons, was sunk in the Bay of Biscay by a German submarine, according to a Lloyd's report. The crew were set adrift in a boat and later were picked up by the British steamship Polo and taken to Gibraltar.
Lloyd's also reports the sinking of the British steamship Bendew, with the loss of one of the crew.

HIDING SOMEWHERE WITHIN TERRITORY OF 1600 SQUARE MILES

Gen. Pershing Anticipates Long Hunt and Has Ordered Detachments of Infantry to Train in Mountain Climbing.

Carranza Forces Active in Eliminating Bandit Bands; United States Troops Have Second Engagement.

El Paso, Tex., April 5.—The problem of locating and capturing Villa somewhere within an area of 1,600 square miles confronts Brig.-Gen. John Pershing today.
Information from the front states that the American troops have been disposed to the best possible advantage, but the task of running down the Mexican bandit in an ever-widening territory as the brigand moves southward into the Mexican interior becomes increasingly difficult.
More troops are necessary in the word that reaches here. Gen. Pershing has ordered that detachments of infantry be trained for mountain climbing. He anticipates a long hunt and is preparing for it.
A Torreon dispatch places Villa at Malca, ninety miles southwest of Guerrero. SAYS SERBIA STILL EXISTS

Minister to Paris Denies That Country Has Lost Its Sovereignty.

Temporary Military Occupation Only Passing Phase of Conflict.

Paris, April 5.—Dr. M. R. Vostitch, Serbian minister to France, made to the Associated Press the following statement concerning the quoted declaration by M. Radolovic, the Bulgarian premier, to the American minister at Sofia, that Serbia has ceased to exist as a sovereign nation:
"Premier Radolovic's assertion should not be taken seriously as it is contrary to the facts, and contrary to the elementary principles of international law relative to the means whereby the sovereignty of a nation can be extinguished."
"Within the last century Prussia was invaded, Berlin occupied and Prussian territory divided, but no one asserted that Prussia's national sovereignty was extinguished. Any such claim as to Serbia is infamously for, while her territory is invaded, it is a military occupation and one of the first principles of international law is that military occupation does not constitute political sovereignty."
"Serbia as a nation, retains complete sovereignty and continues to carry out all governmental functions. The temporary military occupation is only a passing phase of the vast conflict."
"We believe that the Serbian army, reconstituted, will soon have a part in expelling the invader, but if a single foot of Serbian soil remains under the military authority of the invader, it will remain for a future congress of nations to determine whether its political sovereignty as a part of Serbia is terminated."
"Even Germany, which invented the theory that treaties were scraps of paper, never had the effrontery to assert that Belgium or Serbia no longer had a sovereign existence. I am quite sure that M. Radolovic will not have to wait very long to see how unfounded is his theory that Serbia does not exist."

MUCH ROAD WORK DONE

Reports From Sixty-Nine Counties Show Expenditures of $1,787,936.

State Aid Takes Prominent Part in Improvement and Maintenance.

Complete reports of proposed road work in Minnesota for the season of 1916 have not been prepared, but reports from sixty-nine of the eighty-five counties compiled by George W. Cooley, secretary of the state highway commission, show the following amounts of road work:

Year. Near some of the larger centers of population, it is found necessary to provide a more lasting surface than gravel, on account of the excessive cost of maintenance due to motor vehicle traffic, but in general this class of construction meets with better satisfaction, as it provides an all-weather surface at comparatively low cost, and therefore allows for more mileage of improvement.

State Road System. The state road system covers all of the main roads in the state, and its maintenance is quite a problem. The value of any road organization may be gauged largely by its ability to maintain travel over the important lines and this branch of work is given particular attention in Minnesota.

While most of the counties in this state are carrying their work along under current tax levies, several have bonded and are making very substantial improvements of their road systems. Even in such counties the policy is to build gravel roads, although five or six miles of concrete roads have been built in Wisconsin county, which has a $500,000 bond issue for this year.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes items like Clearing and grubbing, Turfing, Grading, etc.

Total construction, $1,469,821.55. Maintenance, 9,989 miles, $468,888.38. This does not represent all of the work on state roads, but is practically 75 per cent of the same.

DRY PETITION IS CIRCULATED

Ten Men in Each Precinct Opening Fight for No License.

Movement Will Be Pressed to Finish From Now On.

The petition demanding a local option election in Duluth is being circulated today. Following hard on the heels of the victory won by the "dry" in Superior yesterday, the "dry" in Duluth are beginning their campaign to put this city in the no-license column and leave no oasis at the Head of the Lakes. They propose to strike while the iron is hot, and to that end the work of obtaining signatures to the necessary petition to call such an election will begin today in a most systematic and careful way. The steering committee has appointed a captain and ten men in each precinct of the city to get the signatures. That means that the work of obtaining signatures to the necessary petition to call such an election will be carefully checked up so that there will be no question of the legality of the petition on the ground that signers are not legal voters.

The law requires 20 per cent of the vote cast at the last general municipal election, to make the petition legal; and in this case that means that 2,656 must be represented among the signers. The workers propose to get a good many more than necessary.

WILL INCLUDE MERCHANTS

Safety Head to Check Up on Distribution of Sample Packages.

Amendment to Ordinance Will Make License Necessary.

Duluth merchants no longer will be exempt from the bill-posting ordinance, if an amendment to be introduced next Monday by Commissioner Silberstein is passed by the council. In addition the amendment will prohibit the distribution of sample packages by unlicensed persons.

Complaints made recently to the commissioners have caused the safety head to order an amendment to the bill-posting ordinance which, in its present form, exempts all local merchants from the provisions and makes no regulations to cover the distribution of packages and samples. The measure prohibits only the distribution of circulars or advertising matter at a cost of a license, which is $100 a year.

According to Commissioner Silberstein the measure excluding merchants will be stricken, while further protection will be given the licensed bill-posters by including packages and samples of food along with circulars.

"Licenses will be required to use his name. In this way that distributor succeeds in doing business without a license."

"The men who have obtained licenses under the present ordinance, are compelled to compete with unscrupulous distributors, who seek and find a loophole for evading the measure."

PICKIT GETS SAME SENTENCE AS SMITH

Accomplice of Former State Treasurer Also Pleads Guilty.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only a few hours after sentence of Walter J. Smith to the penitentiary yesterday, Judge Dickson of the Ramsey county district bench sentenced Robert C. Pickit, Smith's accomplice, to serve time in the same prison.

So far as the prison sentences go, the court treated the two men equally, although in each case sentences of five years of hard labor in the Stillwater penitentiary.

Pickit, like Smith, pleaded guilty. Pickit's indictment was for second degree forgery.

Pickit's attorneys asked that he be permitted to plead guilty to third degree forgery, in view of his confession, and this was permitted by the court.

In 1905 he married Miss Alice Blight, daughter of Atherton Blight of Philadelphia. He entered the British diplomatic service in 1878, served in Madrid, Paris, Vienna, Sofia, Bucharest, Tokio, Budapest and was secretary of the embassy at Washington from July 1898 till November 1901. BELIEVES IN ELIMINATING THE HYPHEN AND IN DOING HIS SHARE IN CAMPAIGN

As his contribution toward the campaign for eliminating the hyphen in the United States, Dr. D. D. Murray of Duluth has had printed and is distributing 10,000 little cards bearing the following message:

"You are an American if you were born in the United States, were born, or what country your ancestors came from.

"You are an American if you are a naturalized citizen.

"You are an American if you came from a foreign land, and your father was naturalized before you reached 21 years of age.

"The hyphen has no place in your nationality."

Duluth, Minn.

On June 12 of last year, Dr. Murray wrote a letter to The Herald on the need of more vigorous efforts to inculcate in the minds of the residents of the United States in the duties and privileges of citizenship. This letter was widely commented on, and he has followed it up with a little private campaign to make "better Americans."

"There is a patriotism of peace as well as a patriotism of war," said Dr. Murray this morning. "and in times like these every good citizen should do everything in his power to encourage patriotism. We should not leave it to the newspapers and statesmen to do this. Every citizen can do his share to foster the idea that America is a great nation, and worthy of the best we can give her."

DR. D. D. MURRAY.

HAS SPECIAL PRIVILEGE

Superior Man Files Claim to St. Louis County Lands. Makes Selection Under Permission Given Him By Congress.

Officials of the United States land office at the Federal building were surprised yesterday afternoon when Hugh P. Strong of Superior, presented the notice of a special act passed by congress, authorizing him to make entry upon any homestead making it unnecessary to comply with the existing land laws. He selected a number of small islands and tracts in St. Louis and Aitkin counties, making up 160 acres.

The notice presented by Mr. Strong was passed for his special benefit April 6, 1914, and its existence was unknown to the land officials here up to this time.

By virtue of the provisions of the act, Mr. Strong had two years from the date it was approved to make his selection and file, and in making his selection and filing yesterday he availed himself of his privilege just before the time expired.

The appearance of Mr. Strong marked the culmination of the famous Pettijohn scrip case, which had been dragging through the courts since 1894. The case was carried to the United States supreme court and later came in for special legislation by congress.

The trouble began over the ownership of section 30 in township 62, range 10 west, about twenty-five miles east of Ely. In 1885 under an Indian law William T. Pettijohn, a resident of Minneapolis, who was a half-breed Chippewa, was given scrip entitling him to a piece of land that he might select. He chose this tract. The scrip was assignable, and Mr. Pettijohn transferred it to the Buffalo Land & Exploration company.

In the meantime Mr. Strong had made entry on the same tract under the homestead act in 1896, after having lived on the grant for five years, a patent was issued to him.

After being deprived of the property, although he had proved up on it according to law, a special act was passed by congress entitled "An act for the relief of Hugh P. Strong of Superior, Wis."

This act provided that Mr. Strong should be entitled to select any 160 acres subject to entry under the homestead law "without the necessity of establishing, maintaining or proving residence and cultivation upon the same."

Reported at Ashland I. W. W. Will Agitate at Barksdale Plant.

Ashland, Wis., April 5.—It is currently reported that the I. W. W., or Industrial Workers of the World, will seek to organize the large number of men employed at the Barksdale plant of the Dupont Powder company near here.

Forest Edwards of Ashland, an I. W. W. worker, when asked if such plans were in contemplation, sidestepped the question, but the rumor persists.

Mr. Edwards announced that Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, the woman lecturer for the I. W. W. organization, well known in Duluth, is coming to Ashland in the near future to voice her sentiments on the labor question. She figured prominently in the Patterson, N. J., and other strikes.

ASKED TO DISCUSS HOLMES DISMISSAL

Supt. Denfeld and Principal Young Unable to Address Club.

Munger Improvement club members yesterday invited Supt. R. E. Denfeld of the city schools and Principal Leonard Young of Central high school to meet with their organization Monday, April 10, and to discuss school problems. Particular attention was to be paid to the controversy regarding Roy J. Holmes, English department instructor, who was not re-engaged for 1915 by the board of education.

Pressure of business preparatory to departing from the city for several days would prevent both Mr. Young and himself from attending the meeting. "We are always ready and glad to address civic clubs on matters of general interest," he said, "but it happens that we both will be engaged next Monday night."

JURY DID NOT SEE "JOKE"

Chobotar's Assault Upon Crippled Widow Not Considered "Humorous."

Prisoner Found Guilty; Two Indictments Still Pending.

George Chobotar's sense of humor is of a brand which neither County Attorney Warren E. Greene nor a jury in Judge Emory's division of the district court can appreciate. Yesterday afternoon after due consideration a jury refused to consider assaults which Chobotar admitted having made on Mrs. Abbie Reon, aged and crippled widow, shaking near Lakewood, in the light of a "joke" and found him guilty of the crime of assault in the second degree. Sentence in Chobotar's case was deferred until this morning when he was ordered sent to the state penitentiary for a term of not to exceed five years. There are two other cases pending against the defendant, but they will not be pressed by the prosecution.

When the foreman of the jury reported the verdict yesterday afternoon, he made a statement to the effect that the jurors felt that leniency and some mercy should be shown by the court when it came to the matter of sentence. Judge Emory has the statement incorporated in the record of the case. The man who was released by Municipal Judge W. H. Smallwood when brought before County Attorney Greene, however, declared that the case was so outrageous that he would not permit the prosecution to carry hearing in municipal court and he brought it to the attention of the grand jury. Chobotar has three indictments against Chobotar. County Attorney Takes Hand. Two of the counts charge Chobotar with having assaulted Mrs. Reon, with whom he was living, and one indictment against him of having used a loaded shotgun to accomplish his purpose. The other indictment that he afterwards set upon her with a carpet beater and struck her several times over the back. The alleged assaults took place at the Reon cabin on the night of Jan. 27 last. Two shots were discharged from the gun when Frank Johnson, a neighbor interested in both, went into the room of the shack. Chobotar's that the whole thing was a joke. He had pointed a gun in her general direction and then fired. He had tapped her on the back with a carpet beater, but it was all in a spirit of friendship and there should have been no hard feelings over the matter. Extortion Also Charged. The third count returned against Chobotar by the grand jury charges him with the crime of extortion. It is claimed by Mr. Reon that he forced Mrs. Reon to sign an order for $200 on M. R. Bush, Lakewood, and that she had money deposited to her credit. When Chobotar came to town to get the order cashed, he was arrested for assault. Chobotar came to work for Mrs. Reon four days before her husband died in April, 1918. He had previously been employed by Mr. Reon. His testimony was that he did odd jobs, made garden, and had been in the wood and water and was handy man about the place. Silk lined spring overcoats, only $14.75, at the "3 Winners" Removal Sale.

"TEACHERS" FIRED ANOTHER PROTEST

Stirred by the recent discussions on the case of Roy J. Holmes, deposed instructor in the English at the Central high school, students of the local institution have again been thrown into whirlpool of excitement for two more beloved "pedagogues" have been most indignantly deposed of. The deposed teachers, the lofty pedestals upon which they had been laboring, were "Three R's" into the blank upper recesses of the pupils. Lee C. Hasey, head of the school English department, was missing from school one day last week. His place was filled by Messrs. Garon and Skull Hrudthud, having served in pedagogical capacity for a long extent of time, covering two whole periods of one kind or another, and being now deprived of such employment without due reason or cause, he retained in their former and foremost positions, in order to preserve to ourselves and our posterity all the rights of life, liberty, pursuit of happiness and the unqualified enjoyment of liberty, fraternity and equality. Amen. "Jakes" and "Skull" have not been restored by a heartless superintendent. MARTIN RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF MONTREAL. Montreal, Que., April 5.—The election on Monday resulted in a victory for Mayor Medic. He received 5,000 votes over Duncan McDonald, who is 5,000 ahead of the third candidate, Alderman Le Pointe. Border City Death. International Falls, Minn., April 5.—E. G. Good, nephew of S. E. Thompson, died Monday night after an illness of several years. The family has resided here for some time, during which period Mrs. Good has been employed in the Thompson store. The remains were shipped last night to Waverly.

WHISTLE TELLS THE ELECTION RESULT

Through the courtesy of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company in permitting the use of its big whistle, The Herald was able to inform Duluthians last night that Superior had gone "dry." The schedule outlined by The Herald in its issues of yesterday was followed as closely as possible. It was promised that a "dry" victory would be announced with one whistle, and that a "wet" win would be shown by two whistles. No reference was implied that Superior, being permitted to wet her whistle, could afford one more root. One whistle it was, however. The first signal given was at 8:35, which was the earliest possible moment when anything like a definite bit of information could be obtained. Then shortly after 9 o'clock, just as soon as The Herald learned the final result, the whistle was sounded again.

SHOWS NEED OF BUILDING

Miller Explains Duluth Civic Center Plan to Committee.

Some Members Favor Erecting Building for Postoffice Only.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 5.—Representative Clarence B. Miller was before the house committee on public buildings and grounds for upward of an hour today explaining the need for a new public building at Duluth, for which he has introduced a bill. Mr. Miller went into detail relative to the civic center plan at Duluth, and discussed also the status of the Federal government in the matter of office buildings.

Some Favor Postoffice Building Only.

In the course of the discussion it developed that some members of the committee were in favor of the erection of a building to accommodate the postoffice only, leaving the present public building for use by the courts, the land office and other government bureaus. Mr. Miller opposed this, indicating that the city had adopted its civic center plan with special reference to the new government building and that if a postoffice only was provided, it would interfere seriously with the carrying out of that plan.

To Ask for Estimate.

It was finally decided to ask the treasury department for an estimate of the cost of a postoffice building and the probable cost of remodeling the present public building for the use of the other government departments.

The proposal for a postoffice building does not represent the judgment of the committee as to what should be done at Duluth," said Mr. Miller, "but the information was requested of the treasury department to satisfy those who favor the postoffice building. The committee will adopt my bill for a new Federal building that will accommodate all the offices of the government."

ESTATES TO BE SETTLED

Four Petitions Are Filed in Probate Court Involving Small Properties.

Letters of administration on the estate of Pauline Krompsky, who died on April 28, 1915, at Aurora, aged 47, are sought by Edward Krompsky, 64, surviving husband, who today petitioned the probate court. The estate consists of a house and lot in Aurora, valued at $3,500. There is no other heirs.

Annie Marie Mable of Independence, this county, filed papers in probate court today asking that a decree of descent of land owned by her father, Jacob Wehlin, who died in 1903, be entered. Wehlin died without leaving a will and his estate was never probated. Mrs. Mable now seeks to have the title of her father's farm pass to the legal heirs, who are a widow and four daughters.

Axel W. Hillstrom of Buell today requested that letters of administration on the estate of his father, Peter A. Hillstrom, who died on March 17, last, aged 74, be issued. Mrs. Lillian Gregor, a daughter, residing in this city. The property consists of St. Louis county acreage valued at $200, about $1,000. Under the terms of the will, the estate will be shared equally between two daughters, Mrs. Charles W. Miffin of Exeter, N. H., and Mrs. Anna I. Halre of Chicago.

PACKAGE FREIGHT TARIFF OUT SOON

Great Lakes Transit Company Expected to Issue Schedules Early.

It is learned here that the Great Lakes Transit company, the new merger of package freight lines, will soon issue its port-to-port tariff and the through tariffs very soon after. The leaders of the company, it is understood, either are in Washington or are about to go there to discuss the matter of operation and tariffs with the members of the interstate commerce commission.

As a whole, the rates are expected to be substantially the same as last year when the railroad controlled lines were running. When the divorcement order became effective the railroad lines cancelled their through tariffs but suspensions of the cancellations have been made by the interstate commerce commission in some, if not in all cases on the grounds of the increase in the rates thereby brought about. This will probably serve to prevent any unreasonable increases which the railroads might attempt.

SAFE-CRACKING IS POOR BUSINESS

Modern Inventions Have Ruined It, Says Old Timer.

"Safe-cracking isn't what it's cracked up to be any more," says Jack McDonald, alleged pickpocket, who started back to Minneapolis today to face a district court judgment.

"These modern inventions have spoiled the business entirely," McDonald said, "and the wise guy picks out an easier graft than that nowadays," McDonald practices what he preaches, police say, because he has gained a reputation as a pickpocket in recent years. Originally, they say, he was a bank robber, or a safe-cracker. He is alleged to have "done time" in Colorado as early as 1901.

A few days ago McDonald was mixed up in a racket-picking case in Minneapolis. He fled to Superior.

Monday afternoon Detective Mead of Superior, with Chief Gustav Lahti and Detective Robert of Duluth, were walking along Superior street, when they fairly bumped into McDonald.

"Hello, there, Mac," said the officers. "We're kind seas you."

McDonald wouldn't admit that he was glad to see them, but offered no resistance.

Detective Alfred Crummy arrived in Duluth today and from here went to Superior to get his man.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

WILL ROW AMID ICE

Boat Club Crew Candidates Will Take to Water Saturday.

Duluth Boat club members, those who have had rowing experience, will get on the water next Saturday, according to the announcement made today by Coach Ned Ten Eyck. It was originally planned to have the men out in the canal today, but delay in completing the float from which to launch the boats has necessitated a delay.

It is expected that all the men will be out on the water before the end of next week. Ten Eyck plans to get the men early at the work of preparing for the greatest rowing year in the history of the club.

A number of new men have joined the squad, bringing the list of crew candidates nearly up to the 100 mark. There will be another cut before the general work in the boats begins. It is not believed that the squad will be reduced very much further, as there are a large number of very promising candidates.

Each of the contestants has won five and lost two games. On Friday evening Dr. Chapman and Bachand will meet and on Saturday evening Urain and Charles Chapman will play. Fans are very much interested in the outcome of the play. It is expected that a large number of followers of the cue game will witness the two contests. The winner will receive the Hatley cup.

OBITUARY

Gen. Cecil A. Lyon, Progressive national committeeman, died at Sherman, Tex., April 4, after an illness of several weeks. Gen. Lyon was prominent for many years in national politics. He was a delegate to the Republican national conventions in 1886, 1900 and 1904 and in 1904 he was made Texas member of the Republican national committee. This office he held until the formation of the Progressive party in 1912, when he aligned himself with the forces supporting Theodore Roosevelt for many years his close friend, and became Progressive national committeeman from Texas. Primarily a lumber manufacturer, he was interested in many enterprises. He was born in Georgia in 1869. His title was won in the Texas National Guard, of which he was the commanding officer, with the rank of brigadier general, at the time of his death.

HEALTH LAWS ARE OBSERVED BETTER

Bakery Inspector Makes Optimistic Report to Health Director.

Duluth business men are observing the city health laws better than ever before, according to the March report of the bakery inspector, filed this morning by Health Director Fahy with Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division.

There are very few health violations, the report states, and these are rectified as soon as the inspector makes any objections.

"During March the bakery inspector made personal inspections of twenty-two bakeries, twenty-two boarding houses, seven candy factories, fifteen hotels, four ice cream factories, thirty-

ASSESSMENTS ARE MATTER FOR COURT

Judge Fesler Rules That Tax Appeals Are Not for Jury.

Appeals from assessments made by the city to the district court are subject to review only by the court and not by a jury, according to a ruling handed down by Judge Bert Fesler in District court yesterday afternoon.

The case is one in which the Steel Plant Land company appealed from a tax made by the city for improvements on Grand and Commonwealth avenues.

Gardner & Davis moved for a jury trial. The court denied the motion. In doing so, Judge Fesler declared that the city charter on this point was not "repugnant to the Constitution nor inconsistent with the laws of the state for the reason, among others, that this proceeding is not an action for the recovery of money, but of specific real or personal property."

DELEGATES ABOUT EVENLY DIVIDED

Republicans of Wisconsin Will Send Split Delegation to Chicago.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 5.—While far from done, reports have been received from throughout the state on yesterday's election, enough districts have reported to indicate quite definitely that the Wisconsin delegation to the Republican national convention will be very near if not evenly split.

Governor E. L. Philipp is leading as delegate-at-large and his followers claim the entire delegate-at-large ticket with the exception of Ellingson.

The Milwaukee County credits La Follette with having carried the Third, Fourth, Seventh, Tenth and Eleventh districts. The national convention will be held in Chicago on the First, Second, Eighth and Ninth and from returns in hand the Eleventh and Sixth district delegates have been split.

Judges Helden, Racine, and Eschweiler, Milwaukee, appear to be running a nip and tuck race for supreme court justice. Justice Helden and Fowler as close third and fourth in the order named.

Enoch claims a plurality of 1,000 in Milwaukee county while Belton has 800. The Republican party has no opposition.

BARROWS, MINN., FIRE.

Home and Soft Drink Place Burns, Family Barely Escaping.

Barrows, Minn., April 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire destroyed the home and soft drinks store of Stanley Goulan here, being caused by a lamp. The loss is more than $12,000. The family barely escaped with their lives. The insurance on the fixtures is $2,000, and on the furniture, $1,000.

RED RIVER CLOSE TO FLOOD RECORD

Fargo, N. D., April 5.—The Red river is very close to the unprecedented flood crest attained in 1897, having passed the twenty-nine foot level last night and is still rising at the rate of an inch an hour.

Reports from the north are to the effect that a large ice jam has been formed.

WIDOWS BELIEVE IN INSURANCE.

In the American magazine is the following: "Wives object to life insurance, but widows never." This somewhat cynical thrust at human nature, used as a slogan by one of the great insurance companies, points to a most serious fact in the American system of family finance—the lack of interest in insurance matters by the women in the family, and her children are the chief beneficiaries from nearly all forms of insurance, certain life insurance, health and accident insurance, fire insurance on the home itself and fire insurance on the furniture in the home. Yet she usually regards it as a dry subject and leaves it to her husband.

It has been known cases where agents had practically signed up a man, only to have his wife step into the room and force him to withdraw. Women are too often ignorant of the true meaning of life insurance. The true meaning of it, with death a distasteful subject, falling to realize that it is really a means of making certain what the man has most need of working for, the material support of his family and that a man has no more idea of dying when he takes out insurance than a factory owner expects his plants to burn down when he insures them against fire. In fact, the only time he forgets about fire is after he takes out a policy.

ably comes through the French from "encouragement," which was the red ink used by Romanus.

It was reported a few weeks ago from London that, after preaching the need of economy to the nation, the house of commons made its first start in this direction by substituting steel for quill pens, which have always been associated here with law and law-making. In the spirit of this revolutionary upset of the quill pen in the house of commons, the palace of Westminster is still a very large consumer of the older article, hundreds of new quills being laid out every day in the many writing rooms, and in London, in the few old-fashioned business offices and in some of the government departments the quill still survives.

A friend of the quill pen, writing of its virtues and of the memories associated with it, says that although the cheap steel pen has pretty well ousted the quill from popular use, it is significant that both members of parliament and journalists, who have perhaps never used a quill before, quickly develop an affection for it. Properly used it is not an extravagant tool, for it may be mended with a sharp penknife over and over again until only the stump remains.

PUGNACIOUS ACTION OF DUTCH ASTONISHED WHOLE WORLD

Baring of Teeth Aimed at Germany as Much as England.

Army Mobilized and Actual Maneuvers Held on Border.

London, April 5.—"Holland bared its teeth to the belligerents on both sides so unexpectedly that the Dutch public was as much astonished as the remainder of the world," said a prominent neutral, just returned from Amsterdam, to the Associated Press today. This person, who enjoys exceptional opportunities of obtaining reliable information, stated that not only was the Dutch army mobilized, but actual maneuvers were held as if to repel foreign landings from the North sea in the neighborhood of Flushing.

The mobilization was accomplished swiftly. Virtually every private motor car in the country was seized. While mobilization took place along the German frontier, maneuvers were held only along the sea coast. To add to the excitement, the Germans massed men and guns along the Belgio-Dutch frontier near Antwerp as if in preparation to repel an invasion from that direction.

The returned neutral is convinced the demonstration was aimed against Germany as much as England. He stated that in Holland against all belligerents had become so pronounced that there was a sudden feeling of hostility toward both Germany and Great Britain which was becoming general throughout the country.

On account of the British blockade Holland is experiencing shortage of food to such an extent that an American commission to the relief of Belgium has been asked to loan some of its supply to certain districts. The Dutch government has determined that food shall be transported to Holland in vessels commandeered by it without reference to any limitation.

Only Frozen Produce in Siberian Market

Dayton News: The markets of Irkutsk, in Siberia, are an interesting sight, for the products offered for sale are in most cases frozen solid. Fish are piled up in stacks like so much cordwood, and meat likewise.

All kinds of fowl are similarly frozen and piled up. Some animals brought into the market whole are propped up on their legs, and have the appearance of being actually alive, and as one goes through the market one seems to be surrounded by living pigs, sheep, oxen, and fowls of all kinds. But, stranger yet, even the liquids are frozen solid and sold in blocks. Milk is frozen into a block in this way and with a string or a stick frozen into or projecting from it. This, it is said, is for the convenience of the purchaser, who is thus enabled to carry his milk by the string or stick handle.

Washington, April 5.—Carload rates on sugar from California points to Montana were today assailed as discriminatory by Montana distributors in a complaint to the interstate commerce commission. The petitioners charge that rates to Montana points are in excess of rates from the same points in California to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha and many stations in North and South Dakota.

Shares Honors With Raderewski

Leopold Stojowski, the Polish composer and pianist who is now living in New York, has come into added fame this year because of the public recognition of one of his compositions by Raderewski, the greatest of pianists. Mr. Stojowski had played the work himself, and it had been much admired but it gained a new public when Raderewski interpreted it. It is full of such beauties as only a pianist would realize, and it is not likely to become popular on the concert stage because it is beyond the scope of all but the master pianists. After playing it, Mr. Raderewski led his fellow-courtyman and fellow-pianist out on the stage to divide the applause with him and with the Danzsch orchestra which had played the accompaniment.

"UNDINE" WILL RETURN.

Pretty Legend Will Again Be Shown at Orpheum-Strand.

The famous Bluebird photoplay, "The Undine," a story of that enchanting legend, will be shown for a return engagement next Saturday and Sunday at the Orpheum-Strand theater. "Undine" is considered one of the most beautiful of pictures and upon its previous presentation at the Orpheum it proved so very satisfactory that many requests for a return engagement have been made at the theater.

So Ida Schnall and a bevy of fifty beautiful water nymphs will again grace the screen here. The picture will be accompanied by the special musical arrangement as in its previous showing.

Theater Gossip.

One of the most disappointed spectators at the recent Davis cup matches, when the American team defeated the English team, was Fred L. Tiden, a member of Oliver Morosco's "Peg o' My Heart" company.

Fred Tiden is a champion tennis player himself and is the proud possessor of forty-two cups to show for his prowess in various tournaments.

He is expected to return to the college days that he attained his skill in tennis, having been a member of the championship two consecutive years.

His chosen profession, that of an actor, did not mesh with keeping in form, as it afforded him plenty of time for practice and the conditions of courts throughout the country. During this time Mr. Tiden won the championship of the south of France, at Monaco, and also that of Switzerland.

Since coming to this country he has entered and won many club tournaments, but his greatest triumph in performance took place in Cleveland during the Ohio state championship games, where he won a prize of $1000. He came up to the finals, when he was defeated after a hard struggle, three sets to one.

NOT AFRAID OF BURGLARS

Miss Malin Sebenius Trails Man Who Entered Her House.

Telephones for Help and Effect Capture of Alleged Thief.

Miss Malin E. Sebenius pursued a burglar who had stolen her jewelry, and helped effect his capture shortly after 8 o'clock this morning.

When Miss Sebenius, who is a sister of John Uno Sebenius, chief engineer for the Oliver Iron Mining company, arrived at her home, 3214 London road, after visiting with her brother, she discovered that some rings and several trinkets, valued at about $100, were missing.

Hurriedly telephoning to Herbert Rowe, manager of the Times building, she started searching the house and premises without success.

She encountered Roy Bodell, 27, alleged burglar, who had slept in the deserted house and who was aroused by her arrival. Bodell did not see her as he hastened to depart, and Miss Sebenius followed him.

After trailing him for some distance, she saw him enter the Duluth & Iron Range railroad yards, and called to some telephone linemen, at 10 o'clock, to help her.

She followed Bodell and the men with him, surrounded Bodell and took charge of him. Bodell was lodged in jail and held without bail on a burglary charge.

"Bodell evidently broke into the house, saw the dairy farm manager," she said the dairy farm manager, "for I was over there at that time. He broke a window in the rear of the building and climbed in that way."

When he found the place deserted, he evidently decided to stay all night, for he used a room that I have been using. Incidentally he donned a new suit of underwear and some other clothes of mine, which were in the room."

"The jewelry which was taken was kept in Miss Sebenius' room, and he evidently ransacked the house, looking for valuables, before deciding to leave."

Bodell said he was a dyer and dry cleaner by trade. He is 27 years old, he said.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as it can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

WANT VOTERS TO DECIDE

Commissioners Will Turn Down Firemen's Counter Compromise.

City Lacks Funds to Make Further Concessions, Says Voss.

City commissioners are almost unanimous in the belief that the voters of the city should settle the controversy over the double platoon system for the firemen.

This means that an election will be authorized, if an initiative petition is filed by the firemen, unless they accept the compromise offered by the commissioners at a conference with representatives of the fire department last Friday. It was admitted at the city hall this morning that the counter compromise to be submitted by the firemen tomorrow, calling for the establishment of a double platoon on July 1, 1917, instead of Jan. 1, next, will be turned down. This means an appropriation of $100 for the last half of 1917 and $30,000 in 1918.

This counter-compromise means an expense of $45,000 in two years, instead of $20,000, according to our plan," said Commissioner Voss this morning. "We haven't enough money to carry out such a plan, and the voters of the city should decide such an important question themselves. We can arrange appropriations to give the firemen the complete double platoon on a gradual scale within three years. Any other plan is an impossibility, unless we cut down the appropriations for the other divisions."

"I am in favor of placing this matter before the voters, and if they want to bear such a heavy expense next year, very well and good."

"Offer is Fair One," said Commissioner Silberstein, "and if it is turned down, I am in favor of placing the matter before the voters. This is a big question and should be decided by taxpayers themselves."

Mayor Prince and Commissioner Farwell have expressed themselves in a similar manner. In that event, an initiative election will be called, the question to be placed before the voters at the same time that the charter amendments go before the people.

The commissioners have offered to give the firemen $10,000 in 1917, so that they will have one day's pay in three, and another $10,000 in 1918, so that the double platoon could become effective in the third year. Figures

EDWARD MAYOR OF KANSAS CITY

Republican to Succeed Henry L. Jost, Democrat, Present Incumbent.

Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—Elected mayor of Kansas City by a decisive majority, which unofficial returns early today placed above 8,000, George H. Edward, Republican, today received the congratulations of friends and political supporters, who hailed the result of yesterday's municipal election as a "death blow to local machine politics." Edward defeated Mayor Henry L. Jost, Democrat, who sought reelection.

Police assigned to election duty arrested more than 30 persons in the early hours of yesterday. Charges were made that the arrests had been ordered by the board of police commissioners of which Mayor Jost is ex-officio member, in order that the men might be deprived of their votes.

When habeas corpus proceedings failed in securing releases for the men who filled to overflowing the city jail.

Still more important, despite all the alarms and excursions and drum-beating of the politicians big and little, things are going on mighty well, after all. Times are good. Business is active. Everybody has a job and is too busy at it to spend much time debating politics.

Why, then, should the ordinary citizen be greatly concerned by an attempt, however fevered and hysterical, to bring about a change in the presidency and to fill the offices with different men whose chief difference would be that they would be labeled "Republican" instead of "Democrat"?

Hughes

Mark Sullivan in Collier's.

There is in the law a phrase known as "judicial notice." It is used in this connection. If a fact or a condition is of practically universal knowledge, it is always held by the courts that a lawyer need not go to the expense and trouble of proving it—the court, as the phrase is, "takes judicial notice" of it.

Now it is fair to guess that if by some chance a litigation should go before the supreme court of the United States, which litigation would involve the fact that Justice Hughes is commonly talked about as a presidential possibility, and that a large section of the leaders of the Republican party want to nominate him, it would be necessary for the supreme court, including Justice Hughes himself, to admit that this fact is of such universal knowledge that the court may "take judicial notice" of it.

Justice Hughes' course up to date would indicate that he is able to read his daily paper without being deeply impressed by the fact of his relation to the next Republican nomination. His is a position where silence gives assent. If he is unwilling that his name should be used, there is a form letter which he can give to the press in ten minutes, and within an hour after the newspapers containing those words are printed all quiet of the subject would be a form of words would be: "I will not accept the Republican nomination for the presidency," or such amplification as he may desire.

Up to date, Justice Hughes has used some such phrase as "I am not a candidate," and stopped short. That phrase in politics is a well understood euphemism. A good many men who have queried that they were "not candidates" have subsequently turned up holding office. Justice Hughes' public expressions about the Republican nomination have so far been of the sort which might be put in his name forward.

That Justice Hughes will be able to go on until June 7 in this attitude is not likely. A certain number of persons are laying plans to, as they say, "smoke him out." If, for example, a delegate is instructed by his constituents to demand from the justice whether or not his name is going to be before the convention with his assent, it will be difficult for the justice to continue to be equivocal.

For all the public knows, Justice Hughes may be a more opposed to preparedness in a large way than Wilson; he may favor a smaller navy and a smaller army, than even the Democratic party he will favor to adopt. Whether Justice Hughes favors such a tariff readjustment as would meet the conditions following the European war no man is not far distant when the great state of Minnesota will be dotted with these community institutions, these social centers, where there shall be for every public interest, social advancement and civic enterprise in which the people are united.

Mexico is a coveted land, rich in material wealth and beauty, but its people live in ignorance and chaos; hence in a state of warfare. Deplorable as the condition is, President Wilson's attitude and policy towards this ignorant and revolutionary people have been the only course to pursue.

advocate. And when did he change his mind on these two subjects, and why? Not until it was time to begin his campaign for re-election, and because he wants to be re-elected. This is the only conclusion that one can draw from the facts.

Your attribution of Wilson's change of mind to growth made by new knowledge would make a first-class April fool joke. Wilson's change of mind on the Mexican question has been so numerous that nobody knows where he stands today, and the same thing is largely true of the submarine question, the tariff and preparedness.

It would be a herculean task for me to undertake to enumerate the almost countless "changes" that have taken place in Mr. Wilson's mind in the past three years. To say that those changes have been kaleidoscopic would not begin to adequately express the truth.

I would be glad to have you write me an opportunity to answer your question on the subject of your condemnation of inconsistency in Roosevelt and praised it in Warren's "You're right" article in the Warren Register.

DULUTH'S ONE-CENT STREET CAR FARE BUBBLE BURSTS

anager of Cut-Rate Concern Is Sought By Police.

rested and Released on Bail, He Leaves His Hotel.

Office Closed and Two Associates Are Also "Checked Out."

One-cent street car fares are off the market in Duluth.

William Ray Bildernack, 33, manager of a cut-rate concern, was being sought by police this morning, despite the fact that he now under $200 bonds for appearance in court tomorrow morning.

They made no effort to conceal their drive to see him, but Bildernack, the young man who never "takes a day's absence," evidently had lived up to his reputation. He was being sought by Bildernack with two others who were connected with him, checked out at the Grand hotel. They have not been in since.

"They've flown the coop, I guess," Bildernack said after a two-hour search. "I don't know where they are, but I had more warrants for Bildernack and his friends."

Bildernack, a debonair, nattily dressed young man, laughed when told that Bildernack had been arrested. He posted $200 bail, the amount after pleading not guilty.

"That is unfortunate," he said, "very unfortunate." "I didn't know that Bildernack had more than one street car fare bubble burst."

And to think, he added, "that Bildernack had the printers add a word to my literature, that is, that he saved this advertisement."

The arrest came after police and attaches of the city attorney's office had studied Bildernack's "one-cent fare" for several hours. His advertising states that the car tickets are good on any line in the city, and that, not true, technically, as the Point line will not honor the tickets.

Manfred H. The chance of getting $1.25 worth of street car tickets for 25 cents, if everything went right, appeared to Duluthians so strongly that the "Duluth Cut Rate Carfare and Advertising Company" had a land office business for two or three days.

Bildernack's plan for two hours familiar to many citizens, is to sell a book with three coupons in it for 75 cents. The coupons are good for 25 cents each, and when the three coupon buyers appear at the company's office and exchange their coupon, plus 75 cents, for another book, No. 1, can claim twenty-five street car tickets, in exchange for his coupon book cover.

Business. Just prior to the arrest, four clerks were working at top speed in the Bildernack office. With its wire cage, and mahogany tables, it resembled a counting house. Little blue check books and neat piles of coupons lay on the table, while silver coins, greenbacks and yellowbacks were piled high in a box.

The man who sold the coupons had the silver rolled up and a clear in the corner of his mouth. People came in flocks. They came in smiling, and left with a broad grin on their face. They were getting something for nothing.

"Gentlemen," said Bildernack gravely to police, "I never gamble, I never shake dice and if I would hold a royal flush every time I would hold a royal flush every time I would. That's my principle in business."

"It's a neat little game," you can read the statute books of this great commonwealth from start to finish, and every other way, but you won't find anything that forbids me from operating on my plan."

Authorities disagree with the young Bildernack, as he has been dubbed by police. They say he cannot legitimately make a profit.

Although Bildernack's scheme was not "on the square," no one admitted that the modus operandi had been worked out by an expert, and that the Minnesota law had been broken. Bildernack had been working over the evidence obtained by police for two days before they were ready to issue warrants.

The company's offices in the Mesaba building have been closed today, and citizens, with coupons to redeem for car tickets, applied in vain.

UPERIOR VOTES OUT SALOONS BY MARGIN OF THIRTY-THREE

ues the "wets" are still pinning their wings on victory.

No Change Likely.

Superior authorities said this morning that such a contest would be held, for whether these ballots are retained or thrown out, the net result will be the same. It is said that the salaried ballots were counted in the salaried result in all but two or three precincts.

The first precinct to give returns was the east part of the Third ward, giving the "dry" a majority of 31 votes. From then on the wards known as "wet" turned in their returns, and in almost every case, an apparent majority of 25 votes. Then the "dry" wards began coming in and gradually were this down to a small majority, which later was entirely wiped out by the "wet" wards.

The following is the result shown by the wards:

|-------------|-----------------|
| For License | Against License |
| 1st ward | 242 |
| 2nd ward | 110 |
| 3rd ward | 87 |
| 4th ward | 111 |
| 5th ward | 313 |
| 6th ward | 304 |
| 7th ward | 493 |
| 8th ward | 171 |
| 9th ward | 242 |
| 10th ward | 295 |
| 11th ward | 298 |
| 12th ward | 182 |

Saloonists Outcast.

The election will put out of business saloons in Superior, paying an annual license of $100. The saloonists' loss is not confined to the city, but extends to the surrounding territory. The saloonists' loss is not confined to the city, but extends to the surrounding territory.

Tomlinson Re-elected.

Fred C. Tomlinson, commissioner of public works, was re-elected by a majority of 222 against his opponent, John Schafer. Mr. Tomlinson carried five wards of the city, but lost his own precinct by a small majority.

The county supervisors and other officials elected yesterday are: County supervisors—First ward, E. A. Clark; Second ward, William H. Green; Third ward, John Bradshaw; Fourth ward, H. M. Parks; Fifth ward, Peter Anderson; Sixth ward, Emanuel Toaster; Seventh ward, Ralph L.

DULUTH'S PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 8—Manual Training, Sewing and Cooking in the Grades.

GRADE SCHOOL COOKING CLASS.

Manual training and domestic science courses as given in Duluth's grade and high schools probably are more important than any other single course—an education.

Nearly 1,200 boys are taking manual training in the grade schools, and many more are studying domestic science in the grade school kitchen.

Boys and for that matter girls, who are interested in electrical or mechanical equipment have a chance to specialize in work which eventually leads into an electrical or mechanical engineering course.

Boys in manual training classes are given lumber to make out of, so that they know what it costs. By computing the cost of the lumber, they learn practical arithmetic. In the same way the girls in cooking or sewing classes are given a certain amount of material value either to the pupil or to the school, as Mr. Geiger says.

There are twenty-nine manual training rooms, eight cooking rooms and eight sewing rooms. Most of the classes, except small ones at the Nettleton and Kenwood schools, accommodate classes of between twenty and thirty pupils. Twenty-six is the average.

The schools having industrial rooms are:

- Bryan—Wood working shop and kitchen.
- Lincoln—Wood working shop and sewing room.
- Salter—Wood working shop and kitchen.
- Lakeside—Wood working shop, sewing room and kitchen.
- Washburn—Wood working shop and sewing room.
- LeWellyn—Wood working shop and sewing room.
- Kenwood—Wood working shop.
- Madison, Jackson and Edson—Sewing rooms.

It cost the city a little more than $8 cents per pupil for material during the last year, but a large part of this expense is incurred later in the high school when pupils make up patterns, making and forging. Sewing and cooking class costs are low, comparatively.

Women Largely Responsible. It means that the modus operandi of the votes of women largely were responsible for dry victories.

Both parties profess to see a victory in yesterday's results. The prohibition forces emphasize the fact that contests were not made in several of the large towns that became dry in the 1912 and 1914 elections while today, women asserted their belief that yesterday's results indicated that the crest of the dry wave had been reached in Illinois and that a reaction had started against the anti-saloon movement.

The principal towns that voted saloons out were Waukegan, Odell, Mokena, Dixon and Amman. Those which went from dry to the wet column included Bloomington, Amboy, Mendota, Geneseo, Carthage, Geneva, Grafton and Herrin.

Anti-saloon forces retained their lead in Belvidere, Canton, Champaign, De Kalb, Dwight, Decatur, Elgin, Freeport, Fulton, Hoopeston, Jacksonville, Sterling, Taylorville, Yorkville, Mattison and Bushnell.

Funston Awards April 5.—Gen. Funston today awarded a report from Gen. Pershing giving more detailed information regarding the fight between a squadron of the Tenth cavalry and a Villa band last Saturday in which the latter was estimated to have lost between thirty and forty men. In the dispatch making the announcement no mention was made of American losses. It is hoped that from the field commander will contain news of the whereabouts of Villa.

It is a five-cornered contest, with Belden, Racine, Fisher, Bon and La Follette appearing as close races. Turner, Milwaukee, appears to be last.

Divided Vote. La Crosse, Wis., April 5.—La Crosse city and county showed the divided vote on the supreme court justice. The county for supreme court justice, the city for the other. With six precincts missing, Thompson and Houser, La Follette delegates for delegates-at-large, and Phillip, Republican convention candidate, have carried the county by 600 special plurality.

The fourth place is in doubt with Sanborn, La Follette and Cook. A Republican candidate, running neck and neck.

Barren from Monroe, Trempealeau, Vernon, Juneau and other counties in the Seventh congressional district are being contested. An investigation showed that he had not been with the detachment.

For hours the American cavalry men followed Manuel Lopez, one of Villa's lieutenants, and his band through a tortuous, winding canyon and almost impassable trails of the mountains of Mexico. Believing that they had eluded their pursuers, the bandits relaxed their vigilance and before they realized it, they were confronted by the troops of

At the conclusion of his address, the chancellor elicited great applause by saying:

"The spirit of union shall lead us, and it shall lead our children and grand children, through the struggles of their fathers, toward a future of strength and liberty."

However, when mighty elements are at issue, the world's melting pot, personal matters do not justify sidestepping when one feels the call to battle.

HAIR COMING OUT? Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp; the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out. It is a stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff. Get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

SPRING BRINGS ITS USUAL INFLUX OF WOODSMEN FROM THE LOGGING CAMPS—MICHIGAN STREET IS THE CLEARING HOUSE

The lumberjack is back from his winter in the woods, and is waiting for a job on the lakes, or along railroads, or on the farms of the Northwest. During the last week the cheaper hotels and rooming hotels along West Michigan street, lower Lake avenue, St. Croix avenue and West Superior street, have been laid out to find sleeping quarters for his majesty the north woodsman.

From the humble swamper or "road monkey" to the top loaders and four-horse teamsters, they have dropped their axe or shovel, or cant hook or reins, and are back for a summer's work as a "laborer."

A "road monkey" in lumberjack parlance, is the lowest paid man in camp. He trims a fallen tree and slashes out a road, so that the logs can be hauled to the skids.

The sawyers rank next, then the cant hook men, then the ground loaders, the top loader, the slight teamster, the four and six-horse teamster. A four-horse teamster ranks above a two-horse man, and in turn is ranked by a six-horse man.

Most of the men on Duluth's streets now, who bask in the sun with their mackinaws over their arms and their caps replaced by cuffed hats, have come from camps along the north shore, or from logging roads between Duluth and International Falls.

Winter logging operations are drawing to an end in Minnesota, after a season that was called unusual by timbermen. Warm weather early in the season delayed the work, but the wind-up was a good one.

Logging was expensive last winter. Snow that for weeks was waist-deep in the woods made the work of hauling out the felled logs slow and costly. Snow and ice roads were in better shape at the extreme end of the season, just before the recent thaw, than at any other time since fall.

The log output was curtailed in many camps, but the larger companies which use steved skidders managed to get out everything they cut.

From now on until the middle or latter part of April, Duluth will be host to several hundred lumberjacks, but then they will lose their distinctive marks, and become merged with the "duck wallpaper" of the deck hand, and the section hand. It is the busiest time of year for police, because every lumberjack is

"flush" with his winter's savings in his pocket. Many of them have learned to seek out a bank and deposit their savings, but protecting the others from the petty thieves is one of the big jobs of the police department each spring.

FOUR ARE ARRESTED.

Disorderly House Raided; Inmates Face Sentences, Lacking Fines.

One more disorderly house on South First avenue east, formerly St. Croix avenue, was raided by police last night and four arrests resulted.

Mabel Johnson, 50; Laura Thorsen, 42; Arthur Nordin, 24; and Hjalmar Hanson, 29, were brought to police headquarters by Patrolmen Danielson and J. W. Johnson. When arraigned in police court today they all were found guilty of disorderly conduct. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed in each case. Ten-day sentences—at the jail for the women, and at the work farm for the men—will be forthcoming if fines are not paid.

The time she met Mr. Sherwood she was estranged from her husband and that he impressed her as being unselfishly trying to assist her. Mr. Sherwood had previously sold Mr. Montgomery the Carnegie lots and he advised Mrs. Montgomery that it would be to her best interests to dispose of the property. She testified that he agreed to do it for her at a very small charge, in fact less than the usual charge.

Mr. Sherwood sold the lots for $2,500, deducted $200 to cover a mortgage and held out $250 for commission. This was a 10-per-cent commission. Mrs. Montgomery asks for a refund of $125 commission. She also represents that as a matter of truth and fact the lots in question were worth $8,000. She claims that she lost $5,500 as a result of the deal and asks Mr. Sherwood to make good the loss. The case will rest largely on the value of lots in Carnegie, which is across the river from the steel plant.

McCoy & Hanson are attorneys for Mrs. Montgomery and H. J. Granlin is appearing for Mr. Sherwood. In the divorce case, McCoy & Hanson appear as attorneys against Mrs. Montgomery.

HAS CHANGED HER OPINION

Mrs. Ellen Montgomery Accuses Former Adviser of Mercenary Motives.

Sues Duluth Real Estate Dealer Who Handled Her Affairs.

When Mrs. Ellen D. Montgomery became estranged from her erstwhile husband, Robert D. Montgomery, three years ago, and her domestic affairs were in a turmoil, she turned to W. C. Sherwood, local real estate dealer, for advice.

Although Mrs. Montgomery won the bitterly-contested divorce action she was then waging against her husband, she has changed her opinion about Mr. Sherwood. Now she charges that her former adviser was inspired by mercenary motives and that after he had won her confidence he induced her to dispose of certain property and charged her 10 per cent commission for handling the deal.

The affair is being aired in a case which was brought on for trial yesterday afternoon before Judge Dancer in district court. Mrs. Montgomery is seeking to recover $5,525 from Mr. Sherwood, claiming that he took advantage of her while handling her business affairs. She trusted him implicitly, she said, and blindly followed his advice in all matters.

Owned Carnegie Lots. The Montgomerys were married on Feb. 20, 1910, and lived together until March, 1912. Robert D. Montgomery was then 35 and was an engineer and surveyor. Shortly after they separated Mrs. Montgomery sued for divorce on the grounds of cruelty. He contested the action and made a fight for the property. Among other things, he claimed he owned forty lots in Carnegie, near Superior, which shortly after his marriage he had deeded over to his wife to be held in trust for him. After the divorce action had been instituted Mr. Montgomery learned that his wife had sold the lots in Wisconsin, a wife may execute a deed to property in her name without her husband's consent. He had Mr. Sherwood, through whom the deal was negotiated, cited to appear in court and show cause why he should not be restrained from disposing of the funds received from the sale. The money was in Duluth and held by the court to be under the jurisdiction of the court. Judge Caut made a division of the fund and Montgomery received a portion of his money back.

Advised to Sell. Mrs. Montgomery testified that at

CLEANING IS IN PROGRESS

Winter's Collection of Dirt and Rubbish Is Being Removed.

City officials are already at work on spring cleaning.

Although they have promised leaders in the "clean-up" campaign to cooperate with them during the special week to be designated for this work, city employees are taking advantage of the present warm weather and executing their efforts toward removing the winter's collection of dirt and rubbish.

Commissioners Farrell and Silberstein have instructed their employees to take all necessary steps for the "spring cleaning," while Mayor Prince announced today that a proclamation designating "clean-up" week will be issued shortly.

Laborers from the works department are busy cleaning all the gutters and catch basins, while the street commissioners have received instructions to begin cleaning streets as soon as it is a little warmer.

This morning J. J. Schinlaub, city fire warden, filed his March report with Commissioner Silberstein, showing that he ordered 400 rubbish piles and 10 ash heaps removed. His complete report for March follows: Collected two chimneys, visited 1,183 buildings and 981 basements, closed three empty buildings, covered one fire extinguisher, and ordered 400 rubbish piles removed, five exits cleaned, one smoke stack repaired, two elevator gates repaired, and seventy-four extinguishers recharged.

New Spring Styles Require the Foundation of Proper Corseting.

The New Warner Models Are Ready.

The Warner Rust-Proof corsets are sensible styles—they are extreme in one way only—they are extremely good value.

There is a Warner Corset at whatever price you wish to pay. We have them as low at $1.00—and they will fit and wear well.

However, today we especially emphasize the new $1.50 and $2.00 models in Warner Rust-Proof Corsets.

The trim drawn-in waistline secured by clever shaping which distributes exuberant flesh comfortably and smoothly is notably good.

Another important feature is the bust modeling, creating the natural rounded curves desired by this season's fashions and almost destroyed by the straight corseting of recent years.

Choose the corset which suits your figure best, but do not take a $1.00 corset or a $1.50 corset if a $2.00 model is best suited to your own figure. Remember that the corset gives the line which makes or mars the silhouette.

Dress Up the Boys

In our rejuvenated Boys' and Children's section we now show the new things displayed in the best New York shops.

No "cheap stuff," but good stuff at reasonable prices.

Columbia c u s t o m e r s will tell you that a pair of Columbia Shoes will last the boy as long as two or three pairs of the "cheap" ones sold in some shops.

So it is with every thing we sell. It is not "how cheap," but "how good" that decides true economy.

This year, more than ever, Mothers must rely on the "Quality Store" when making their purchases. It is wiser to pay a trifle more in some cases than to pay the same price for a lower quality.

Every boy will need a new suit before Easter.

Light spring suits in reliable blue serge and cheerful patterns.

Special school suits and special Sunday suits.

In spite of the general rise in prices due to the war conditions, we show LITTLE COLUMBO $4.90 SUITS in as high a quality as before and continue to give an EXTRA PAIR OF PANTS with each suit.

Other good suits as low as $1.95.

NORTH DAKOTA HAS PLENTY OF LIGNITE

Vast Deposits Are Commented Upon By Federal Bureau of Mines.

Washington, April 5.—Great improvements can be made in the methods of utilizing lignite, in the opinion of the scientists in charge of recent experiments at the university of North Dakota, whose report is published by the United States bureau of mines. In the present work at the university the equipment of the college of mining engineering of that institution is being utilized. The value of the lignite lies in the vast deposits of lignite in the West. Central and Western states. In North Dakota alone it is estimated that the deposits cover approximately 32,000 square miles, many of them being ten to fifteen feet thick. The Federal government also controls great tracts underlain with this material.

It is believed that better results than in the past can be obtained in the manufacture of cheap gas for power and other purposes, and that the making of high grade fuel briquettes can be put on a commercially satisfactory basis. The report is printed as Bulletin 89 of the Bureau of Mines, "Economic Methods of Utilizing Western Lignites."

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Baseball Rowing BILLIARDS BOWLING BASKET BALL Wrestling Boxing

NEWS, GOSSIP, COMMENT AND DOPE OF THE GAME

BY BRUCE.

JOE STECHER is today celebrating his twenty-third birthday. The greatest wrestler in the world is but a boy in years. At an age when most youths are either cultivating or coaxing a little hirsute adornment on the upper lip and counting men of the world as sophomores, this kid has reached the highest point ever reached by any modern wrestler. Alexander came near conquering the world at a very tender age. Joe Stecher, just turned the year mark of twenty-three years, numbers among his victims such wrestlers as Charles Cutler, Jess Westergaard, Americus, Yussif Hussain, Adolph Ernest, Dr. Roller, Henry Ordeman, Joe Rogers, Fred Beell and others. Who is there to step this wonder of American soil? Wrestlers generally improve up to and past the age of thirty years. Stecher will fill out, take on weight and get better. What will the Nebraska boy be when he is in his best stride? Yep, Joe is great; a big, lanky, good natured, grinning kid; but with that rare spark of genius implanted somewhere in his being. Every one in a while some freak specimen of humanity arises to astound the world. Well, this Joe boy is such a human being. No wonder those Nebraska farmers are perfectly delighted at the opportunity of betting their farms on Joe. Who is there to beat him? Gotch, you say. He will go the way of all the others—mark that down.

The Way of a Man.

Fred Clarke went back to Hot Springs this spring and started practicing with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Habit is a remarkable thing. One of these days an ex-member of the Cincinnati team will come back and work out with the Reds.

Christy Mathewson May Quit.

There are bubbling rumors that Mathewson's arm is not working right this spring. Also it is said that the once greatest pitcher of the past decade—perhaps the greatest pitcher of all time—may quit the game. If Mathewson does step out of the game the great national pastime will lose not only one of the greatest performers it has ever produced, but, more than that, one of the greatest striking talents and perhaps the most striking example of all round ability modern baseball has yet developed.

In the days that yored with excessive revelry and riotous pleasure, insofar as baseball players were concerned, the professional baseball player was supposed to be a rough, rough and often priding himself in the screaming hiatus he placed between himself and the gentler members of the great human flock, the man of the professional field was not precisely an example of culture and refinement.

Mathewson is perhaps the most distinctive example of the great change that has taken place in baseball players. A man of brains, who deliberately sought asceticism of the highest sort, a big man in every sense of the word and measured from any standpoint, the athlete who stepped from the portals of Bucknell college and became the mainstay of one of the greatest big league teams, is surely a credit to the game.

The Training School.

Searching for Villa should prove a great training for baseball scouts.

The Chesty Kauff.

When Ty Cobb broke into the big league he was the freshest recruit that has come up from the sticks in many a moon. He was chesty, self confident, lippy, impudent, scrappy and about as conceited as the city relative during summer duty in the small town where she was born and reared. Now another youngster is making his bid for big league honors, and attempting to make his way in much the same manner that was employed by the great and only Cobb. This other example of the swash-buckler school is none other than Benny Kauff of Federal league fame. If Kauff doesn't make good it will prove a sorry day for him. He will be kidded out of the league. Cobb

SAM CRAWFORD IS SWEET HITTER

SAM CRAWFORD.

When Sam Crawford is one of the old vets of the American league. Each spring for the last few years it has been predicted that Sam would be the best hitter of baseball and this spring his hitting has been the feature of the Tigers' play on the training trip.

JOE STECHER DEFEATS FRED BEELL IN BIG TIME

Famous Little Dutch Farmer of Marshfield, Wis., Loses Two Straight Falls to the Nebraska Whirlwind in Fifteen Minutes; Joe Stecher Proves Master of the Situation at All Time.

BY BRUCE.

If Joe Stecher did piece contract work in the same rapid manner in which he completes his wrestling work, he would prove a great guy to put on war orders. Last night young Stecher squared to the mat with Fred Beell in a pleased manner, and then went methodically to work. He was fifteen minutes in actual wrestling time was spent on the canvas by Stecher. He defeated Beell the first fall in eight minutes and the second in seven. The seconds hold, coupled with arm holds, did the work.

Beell looked in grand shape. That wonderful body and those tremendously thick legs and great arms displayed all the remarkable strength of age. Fred Beell, who has been opposed to something like five minutes during the first bout. Then a shout arose from the crowd. Stecher has gone behind. Heads were raised forward. Then it came—the leg scissors. Stecher flashed a left hand to an opponent's head, and Beell was up from the mat. Stecher smiled, as if in appreciation of the good work of his opponent. Beell knelt on his haunches and attempted to break the water lock. Stecher pulled the little fellow to his knees and tried to force him back. Stecher's hand was on Beell's neck, watching warily for the scissors. The men rolled almost completely over. With professional strength man who has defeated the world's greatest wrestler, Stecher held Beell in the mat.

The Wonder Worker.

In the second fall it was much the same way. Beell, knowing that his chance of a long reign as champion of the world was slipping, tried to break the water lock. Stecher pulled the little fellow to his knees and tried to force him back. Stecher's hand was on Beell's neck, watching warily for the scissors. The men rolled almost completely over. With professional strength man who has defeated the world's greatest wrestler, Stecher held Beell in the mat.

HOKEY MEN ARE DINED

Annual Banquet of Amateur League Is Thorough Success.

Warren E. Greene Proves Happy Toastmaster; Moore Scores Hit.

Last night's annual banquet of the Duluth Hockey association was by far the most successful in the history of the association. Nearly seventy-five members of the league, hockey players and followers of the various teams, were present. It was an enjoyable occasion from the moment Toastmaster Warren E. Greene started making 'em laugh until Ned Ten Eyck, the last speaker on the program, gave forth some of the principles of real and successful training.

Toastmaster Greene was in a particularly happy mood and in a most complimentary spirit of mirth, Watson S. Moore gave the longest and most interesting address on the subject of a "Good Sport." Mr. Moore's talk seemed to hit the mark, and he was generally expected to be one of the greatest high school athletes ever witnessed in this part of the country.

Most of the teams at this end of the lake have bowed before either Central or Cathedral, and each of these two local quints has a victory to its credit over the other. Central has made the better record and should the season close now the Red and White athletes would have the better claim to the title. Cathedral, however, intends to show up the hilltop men in tonight's battle, and thus to annex the title.

The contest will be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, Third avenue west and Second street, and will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The game has been arranged for a neutral floor, so that neither team will have an advantage. So great is the interest that has been aroused that it is expected that by far the largest crowd that ever attended a basketball game in this city will turn out.

Ray Einton, well known in the local sporting world, has been selected for one of the referees and the other one will be named this afternoon. The lineup will be as follows:

WENDLANDT IS WINNER.

Fast Handball Games Played in Y. M. C. A. Tournament.

Bill Wendlandt defeated Fred Hanson in the singles of the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament last night by the score of 21-10 and 21-4. Bill Johnson defeated William Drove two out of three games, 21-16, 21-14, 21-14. These games were hard fought all the way and brought out some great handball.

Dr. Floyd Clark is scheduled to meet Bill Wendlandt in the semi-finals of the tournament, the winner of the contest to play Wendlandt for the association championship.

Are You Aiding Nature to Work to Better Advantage?

Unless you lend a helping hand to Nature she will have an unfortunate end. Why shouldn't Nature keep up its constructive work? When the great strain we put on our systems—wrong eating—wrong drinking—wrong hours—is considered, the question instantly clears, and the imposition on Nature is seen. The result—blood disorders. Perhaps Rheumatism appears; or the weakened system contracts Catarrh in a violent form; or one of the many kinds of skin diseases, such as boils, pimples, rashes, eczema, etc., are the signals.

As surely as one of these conditions arises Nature is telling you that your vital life fluid is needing help. Fortunately you can turn to that wonderful blood remedy—S.S.S., as have thousands of other sufferers, and find Nature's greatest aid ready to give you health again. S.S.S. accomplishes for you what no other medicine can, because its ingredients are purely vegetable, extracted from native herbs, roots and barks. It has been known and recommended for over fifty years. S.S.S. goes directly to the blood and assists it in its repair and constructive work. Get S. S. S. at your druggist.

When I was a lad of three years, I had a great many sores on my hands and feet. A friend suggested S. S. S. to my parents, and after using three bottles of S. S. S., obtained from our local drug store, I was entirely cured.

I have used S. S. S. as a tonic for the past fifteen years, and I want to take this opportunity of testifying as to its wonderful merits, and heartily recommending it to all suffering from any blood trouble, be it so severe as to require an effective tonic to build up a run-down system. It is a wonderful medicine and I feel that everyone should know something about it.

went to the University of California, is under contract to coach baseball at the Everett, Mass., high school and will not be here for spring practice. He expects, however, to spend a couple of weeks here soon and make a practice line of the course of training he desires to give the men.

Indianapolis—Herman Bronkie, captain and third baseman on the Indianapolis American association team, has quit baseball, according to an announcement received here from his home in Hartford, Conn. During the last half of last season Bronkie suffered a slump and the contract offered him by J. C. McGill, owner of the Indians, was not as lucrative as last year's. Manager Hendricks of the Indians expects to play Cozy Dolan at the third station.

Bloomington, Ill.—Coach Fred Beebe has cut the baseball squad at Indiana university from forty to twenty-five men and probably will make a further reduction in a few days, after he has had an opportunity to judge of ability of the players in action.

The battery positions seem to be overabundant and Coach Beebe has directed attention in order to select the best material before the team is chopped down to the size it will be maintained throughout the season.

The pitching staff has been composed of Silver, Ridley, K. Kunkle, Smith, Gilber, Eleven have been chosen to pitch in the infield as follows: Capt. Gard, Nash, Withaker, Suttelmeier, Anderson, Erhardt, Eisenhauer, Izenhise, W. Kunkle, Salm and from Bunchman, Gray, Swope, Legler, Bagle, and Davis. There are three candidates for a finger at the beginning of indoor practice. He expects to be back in uniform within a short time.

St. Louis Mo.—Forty men of Washington University's track team have reported for duty and elected Ernest Lusk as captain. Lusk is a sophomore and won his letter last season in the dashes. The schedule for the season follows:

FINALS FOUGHT IN AMATEUR CONTESTS

Canada Grabs Championship in 145-Pound Class at Boston.

Boston, Mass., April 5.—Heavyweight honors in the national amateur boxing championships came to this city last night when Carlo Armstrong, weighing only 141 pounds, received the decision over George Hook of Pittsburgh, a 130-pounder, in the finals of the heavyweight class.

In the 175-pound class Patrick McCarthy of this city slugged away to a victory over Charles Shons of Pittsburgh.

The 145-pound championship went across the border when Eugene Brosseau of Montreal, whom the judges regarded as one of the best boxers of the tournament, outpointed Stark of New York in a close battle.

Adolph Kaufman of Brooklyn relained his title as 155-pound champion by getting the decision over Joseph Landreau of New Orleans. The Southern carried the fight to the last ditch and the award was disputed by some of the spectators.

In the 115-pound class Ben Lindler of New York upheld his title when he defeated Tony Valiano of Boston. The boys were so evenly matched after three rounds of hard boxing that a fourth round was necessary for a decision.

A Canadian attempt to take another title across the border was frustrated by Willie Morris of New York, whose short, jab and right-hand punches him felled Abe Brown of Toronto in the finals of the 125-pound class.

Long range punches and ability to keep out of the way gave Thomas Karry of Kansas City a decision over Johnny Marto of Boston in the 135-pound finals.

SCHREIBER IS SIGNED

Former American Association Player to Be With White Sox.

Henry Schreiber has signed his name to a Duluth White Sox contract. Harry A. Blume, owner of the local club, was in a jubilant spirit when he received the signed contract of the former American association player.

O'Brien and Blume have been after Schreiber for several months and his signing, they believe, will round out one of the best ball teams that has ever represented this city.

"You can say that I am tickled to death over getting this fellow," said Owner Blume. "We can play him either in the outfield or the infield. Schreiber is a crack player and he is going to make a great hit in this league. Darby believes he will lead the league in hitting. I hope he is right."

Herman Vigerist, a young ball player of Menomonee, Wis., has also been signed. The youngster is said to be a sweet swatter and a go get 'em kind in the daisy patch.

With Schreiber in the fold most of the troubles of Owner Blume have vanished. He can now look forward to the opening of the season with considerable expectancy.

JEWISH EAGERNESS FOR EDUCATION

Dr. Lefkowitz Addresses Schoolmasters' Club; Will Talk at Chapel.

In a talk on "Jewish Educational Ideals" before the Schoolmasters' association at the Glass Block tea room last evening, Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz of Temple Emanuel, gave a history of Jewish education and learning from the earliest days down to the present time.

Quoting history, Dr. Lefkowitz outlined, in brief, the methods employed by the Jews in educating themselves. He gave great praise to this country, where the Jew has no obstacle in the way of his search for knowledge. In this country, a Jew for culture and education is what has pushed him along," said Dr. Lefkowitz. "In Russia, in other European countries, even here, has been held down by terror and fear. His complete isolation from the rest of the population, an isolation which is enforced, has prevented him from attaining his search for knowledge. In this country, the obstacles have been removed, and liberated from the bonds of involuntary ignorance, he has grasped with fervid eagerness at the opportunities our public schools offer. It is the first chance he has had to put his plodding perseverance into active practice."

At the close of his talk Dr. Lefkowitz read several selections from Mary Antin's novel, "The Promised Land." On Friday morning Dr. Lefkowitz will address the Central high school pupils during this chapel period.

Rudiments of squad deployment and extended order drill were explained to members of "A" company, Third Infantry, M. N. G., at the National Guard camp, Third Avenue, near Grand and London road, last night. Capt. Elmer W. McDevitt was in command of the company.

Squads of men were deployed in line of skirmish and charged an imaginary enemy, a minute later falling into columns on the double quick and hurrying to cover.

The work marked the beginning of the second and most important part of company drill. Up to this time "A" company men have been confined to close order drill, with all maneuvers in rank, column or line of squads.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Constipation and Efficiency

From the little you may imagine we are going to utter some impressive ideas about the bad effects of constipation on the health, if so you are mistaken. What do you expect?—we reveal in it, as some of our patients probably know by now.

Sometimes constipation seems to make one feel rotten. Apology for the world is hastily offered, but it is the only brief way to express the idea. When a patient comes to the doctor and says he feels rotten, the doctor knows just what he means, and pages of description could not add to the clarity of the idea. Constipation sometimes seems to do that, we say. But it only seems so. Things have the most annoying way of being something else when what they are is something else. Doctors accepted symptoms and appearances without careful scrutiny of all the concomitant conditions, and a word would indeed be a very inexact science. That constipation does not injure the health in itself, that it occurs in thousands of individuals without any apparent ill consequences, every doctor knows. There are people who go through life always constipated, and do not, you might say, nothing at all about it, and yet always maintain a high degree of general good health.

So, then why so many remedies for constipation?

There is one thing a doctor, or a friend, or most anybody can always do if he doesn't know what else to do for an ailing individual—he can suggest a physic. Some old trouble once remarked that he'd the habit against disease consisted in keeping the head and neck dry.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column. If not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady's office, 1111 Broadway, Duluth, Minn. Telephone 1111.

BIG PROBLEM TO BE FACED

What Will Become of Berlin Women Workers After War?

Nearly 900,000 Now Engaged in Various Fields of Activity.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 15.—Nearly 900,000 women are now at one kind or another of work in Germany. They have swarmed into almost every field of activity, no matter how difficult; they are earning more money than they ever had before; many have lost all time dependent upon their own efforts. The probable result of the war is that the women will be left to their homes after the war is being more and more anticipated by the leaders of the women's movement. It is in favor of the men when the time comes.

By far the largest proportion of the women now employed in Berlin are unskilled workers—perhaps 600,000 of the 900,000. Of the remaining 300,000 skilled workers, only a small part are employed in the most important and difficult and strenuous work, but they are not, because of physical handicaps, the equal of their male partners.

But Part of Problem.

Just how large will be the number of women or women left with crippled husbands, after the war, the labor leaders do not know as yet to estimate. That, on the one hand, constitutes, however, but part of the problem, another as puzzling is the question of what to do with those women who, though they later are expected deliberately to hank at retiring to a non-productive life, are unable to do so.

The employer, who is able to hire women more cheaply than men, will be able to change to the old method, and for a time is not going to be able to afford it. A not inconsiderable degree of compulsion is going to be necessary, labor leaders believe, before the problem can be adjusted.

There is hardly an occupation into which women have not swarmed during the past year. The employment of women as street cleaners is all ready an old and familiar condition, and women "motor-men" have become more or less familiar sights even on the busy downtown streets of Berlin.

Women Chauffeurs.

The first woman taxicab chauffeur was noted early last summer, and she has multiplied somewhat since then. The construction company building the new tube under the Friedrichstrasse section of the city, has for months employed feminine hussies, young and old, in shoveling out the sandy underpinning of the street.

Two years ago the streets of the capital were patrolled by men of military age. Their places were taken by boys, and now women are being introduced as fast as the youths grow up to military age and enter the army. It is a common sight on any street to see the color being carried into residences from ticket choppers, and then introduced them as guards. When it was found that their dresses frequently got caught in doors, the companies did not

AID FOR AMERICAN HOSPITAL NEEDED

The American hospital established by Mrs. Mary Borden-Turner for the wounded in Flanders has been doing great work. It was opened on July 23, 1914. Since then 800 patients have been received, of which sixty-eight have died, which is a very low percentage of mortality, considering that only the most serious cases are received. The surgical staff is made up of French military surgeons. The nurses are chosen by Mrs. Borden-Turner and include French, English, Canadian and American trained nurses. Mrs. Borden-Turner is entirely responsible for the nursing staff and shares with the army the expenses of the hospital. The army provides food, light and heat; drugs and certain number of supplies. Mrs. Borden-Turner, having supplied the entire hospital equipment, is constantly able for maintaining the same and for all improvements.

Very urgently needed. In a letter to The Herald, Mrs. Borden-Turner says: "Our ambulances are worn out, and our mattresses and pillows also. Surgical instruments have constantly to be replaced; bandages, dressings, splints, chloroform and ether, and all things of a similar nature, are constantly melt away. And sometimes our courage too is almost at an end, and our have been subjected to the storms of winter and the heat of summer, and our flats of mud, shut in by curtains of rain, must go on and on, struggling with pain and mutilation and death. We need your sympathy and your help."

What is the 7th Point?

From Maine to California, from Texas to Hudson Bay, millions of people have been asking "What is the 7th Point in Sterling Gum?"

In practically every town, city and village in the United States and Canada, the published six points of superiority have brought Sterling Gum fast-growing popularity.

But the seventh point still remains a riddle.

Point 7 What?

Now, we are offering liberal prizes to those who send us the best suggestions for the Sterling Gum Point 7.

Before you make your suggestion for the 7th Point, read the following:

The Following Story Unfolds the Secret of the Famous Point 7

To most people chewing gum is a mystery. They may know that different chewing gums are made from different ingredients. But that is about all. Here are facts which we believe you will be glad to know about Sterling Gum.

Your Sterling Gum is made from the following materials:

The basis is the pure sap of the tropical Sapota Tree—a natural gum.

This natural Sapota Tree sap is boiled, sweetened and flavored. The sweetening is simply pure cane sugar and pure corn syrup.

The flavoring is of two kinds—Peppermint (in red wrappers), Cinnamon (in blue wrappers).

There are some twenty varieties of the mint plant. The Sterling Peppermint is a product of the choicest, smoothest-flavored of these many mint varieties.

The spicy Cinnamon flavor is extracted from the Cassia bush which grows in the tropics.

The sap of the Sapota Tree, the cane sugar, the corn syrup, the Peppermint and Cinnamon flavors all come from a set of some plant or tree. Nature herself supplies these delicious materials from which your Sterling Gum is made.

Requirements for Winning Phrase

When you read the above facts on the materials the Sterling Gum is made of, you will know all that is necessary for you to know in entering this contest.

The first prize will go to the one whose suggestion, based on the above story, most impressively presents the natural purity of Sterling Gum—in the opinion of the judges.

Remember that your suggestion must be in six words or less.

The next best suggestion will win the second prize and so on down.

It is understood that the Sterling Gum Company will have the right to use the 7 Point suggestions sent in by the prize winners.

The contest is easy to enter. Just think up your own expression of the 7th Point. Then write it out in six words or less and send it in as directed in the conditions printed below. Even if you do not win the first prize of $1,000, you stand a chance to win one of the 7,777 smaller prizes.

First Prize $1,000 Second Prize $500

Third Prize . . . $250.00 700 Prizes—each . . . Box of 20 five-cent packages of Sterling Gum.

7 Prizes—each . . . $25.00 7000 Prizes—each . . . Box of 10 five-cent packages of Sterling Gum.

70 Prizes—each . . . $2.50

Conditions of the Contest

Sterling Gum Company employees cannot enter this contest.

If two answers are entitled to the same prize, the full amount of the prize will be paid to each.

All answers must come in on a postal card. On the back of the postal card write Sterling Gum Point 7 suggestion (six words or less) and your name and address. The postal may be mailed in an envelope if you choose.

Mail answers to Sterling Prize Judges Room 319, 405 Lexington Ave., New York City

You may send in as many suggestions for Point 7 as you choose. But each suggestion must be written on a postal card as directed above.

Contest Closes

All answers must be received in New York by midnight of May 15, 1916.

Answers will not be examined by the judges until after that date. The judges, therefore, cannot mail acknowledgments of the suggestions received.

Now put on your thinking cap. Get your family to help you. Send in as many suggestions as you want to. All will be considered in awarding these many prizes. Do not write the Sterling Gum Company regarding the contest or its conditions as all suggestions will be judged by the Prize Committee named above.

TO HAVE YOUR WIFE BECOME A HERALD AD READER IS BETTER FORTUNE FOR YOU THAN AN INCREASE IN SALARY

For the ad-reading housewife makes the family expense money "go farther"—makes it buy more and better things—and, in the course of a year, will have saved a surprising sum, without curtailing home supplies in the least.

The ad-reading housewife simply applies business methods to buying the needed home supplies. She learns when, where, how much to buy at a time. She manages her buying.

And the habit of wise buying—practiced by ad-readers exclusively—leads to wise and systematic and frictionless management of all home routine and affairs. So that the man whose wife becomes an ad reader is, indeed, lucky—for the whole outlook for him is bettered and brightened!

DULUTHAN IMPLICATED IN IRREGULARITIES SCALING STATE TIMBER

John Cashin Is Discharged From Position as Deputy Scaler. Loss to State of About $7,500 Will Be Made Good. Lumber Company Officials Deny Collusion With State Employee.

DEPUTY STATE TIMBER SCALER IS DISCHARGED

JOHN CASHIN.

Irregularities in timber scaling, involving a loss to the state of several thousands of dollars and implicating John Cashin of this city, deputy state scaler, and the Rat Root Timber company of Bricksburg, near International Falls, are strongly hinted at by Oscar Arneson, chief of the timber bureau in the state auditor's office, in a report which he has made to the state timber board, which met Tuesday afternoon in St. Paul.

HENRY FORD DEFEATS SENATOR W. A. SMITH

Secures Republican Nomination for President in State of Michigan. Detroit, Mich., April 6.—Detroit newspapers which compiled returns of the presidential preference primary held in Michigan Monday were agreed today that Henry Ford of Detroit defeated United States Senator William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids for the republican nomination by a margin of from 3,500 to 4,500.

ONLY TOPS OF TREES IN SIGHT

Islands About La Crosse Covered By Mississippi to Great Depth. City Divided in Center By Lake Nearly Mile Wide.

La Crosse, Wis., April 6.—The Mississippi river at 10 o'clock today stood at 12.4 feet above low water mark, the highest stage it has reached since June 12, 1905. It is now three miles wide from bank to bank, with only the tops of trees on the islands in the river projecting above the water, and presenting a volume of water, rushing at a mad pace in which no rowboat can live, which draws thousands to the high places on the banks. The water is filled with floating logs, bodies of small farm animals drowned when the river, at La Crosse, runs in the lowlands, and other debris picked up en route.

FORTIFICATION BILL IN HOUSE

Third Great Element in Preparedness Program Is Presented. Largest Measure of Its Kind Ever Presented to Congress.

Washington, April 6.—The third great element of the national preparedness program was today brought into the house. It is the largest fortification bill ever reported and the first of four annual measures under which it is proposed to spend approximately $100,000,000 for increasing and modernizing the coast defenses, already officially declared to be superior to any in the world, and to supply an ample store of reserve ammunition for the guns.

Provision is also made for mounting 12-inch rifles now in reserve so they will have a range of more than 30,000 yards, or fifteen sea miles. No ship could live within that distance of the guns. The plan will add 16-inch mortar batteries to the present 12-inch emplacements because of the increased protection of modern battleships. In addition it provides for 16-inch mobile howitzers and anti-aircraft guns on railroad cars to defend points not protected by established forts.

TWO BANDITS HOLD UP ROCK ISLAND TRAIN

Secure $115 in Money and Four Watches From Passengers. Muskogee, Okla., April 6.—Two masked men held up and robbed the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific passenger train No. 41, as the train was leaving Howe, Okla., last night, and secured $115 and four watches, commanded the conductor to stop the train to allow them to escape. Posses were formed at Howe and Red Oak to pursue the robbers.

FRENCH TAKE GERMAN POSITIONS NEAR VERDUN; TEUTONS MAKE GAINS

Paris, April 6, 2:10 p. m.—The war office announced this afternoon capture by the French of a large portion of the position north of Avocourt known as Bois Carre or "Square Woods." This ground was captured in the course of fighting which went on all of yesterday afternoon and last night in the Verdun region west of the Meuse on the Avocourt-Bethincourt line.

UP TO BERLIN TO SHOW THE VALUE OF PROMISES ON SUBMARINE WARFARE

Evidence Convinces United States Germany Is Responsible for Disasters. Intense Interest Manifested in Forthcoming Answer to Queries. Many Reports Charge Sussex Was Torpedoed Without Warning.

Washington, April 6.—With the entire marine situation hinging upon Germany's attitude in regard to the Sussex and other serious marine disasters, officials today awaited with intense interest a response from the Berlin foreign office to inquiries made by Ambassador Gerard.

The accumulation of evidence indicating that German submarines were responsible for the disasters is understood to have convinced officials that it is up to Berlin to demonstrate the value of promises given the United States.

TORPEDOED WITHOUT WARNING; MANY LOST

British Steamship Sent to Bottom; Forty-Eight Missing. Queenstown, April 6.—The British steamer Zent has been torpedoed without warning west of Fastnet. CARRANZA'S ADVISER MAY BE NEXT PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

FELIPE ANGELES.

DIPLOMACY TO BE BIG FACTOR

Negotiations Will Play Important Part in Settling the War. New York Minister Throws New Light on After Visiting Europe.

New York, April 6.—The feeling is increasing that diplomatic negotiations will play a larger part than originally expected in the settlement of the war in Europe, according to the Rev. Charles S. MacFarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, who recently returned from a visit to the warring countries. In a statement, Mr. MacFarland said both the Entente powers and the Teutons alike have definite plans for the next few months.

OLD SEXTON HANGS HIMSELF IN BELFRY

New York, April 6.—Under the holy of old St. Paul's chapel, Philip G. Walter, the sexton, hanged himself today. He had recently complained of the monotony of his position after thirty-one years of service at the famous edifice at Broadway and West Street.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

A desperate all night struggle raged in the Verdun region of the Meuse, according to today's Paris bulletin, while east of that stream German attacks on French positions were repulsed. At one point, along the Avocourt-Bethincourt line, however, it was admitted the Germans succeeded in penetrating French positions.

PRESENCE OF AMERICANS IS EMBARRASSING

May Indicate to Washington That Troops Are Following Cold Trail. Delay in Permitting Use of Railroads Accounted for By Feeling.

El Paso, Tex., April 6.—Intimations in Washington that the Carranza government might soon indicate to the American government that the troops pursuing the bandit Villa were following a "cold" trail and that the Carranza government would welcome the return of the United States to their own country, occasioned no surprise today in El Paso.

There have been insistent reports here that the de facto government looked with no favoring eye on a further pursuit of Villa, because the presence of American troops on Mexican soil was proving an embarrassment to the Carranzistas. These reports were not confirmable because the Mexican officials both here and in Juarez said matters of a diplomatic character must be handled by government heads at Queretaro.

ZEPPELIN FORGED TO FLEE FROM ENGLAND

Increasing Effectiveness of British Aircraft Shown in Latest Raid. London, April 6.—The increasing effectiveness of England's anti-aircraft defenses was demonstrated last night when the single Zeppelin which undertook the fifth raid in six days was prevented from penetrating the north-east coast and was forced to five, after the briefest visit of the kind yet made.

SOME BOMBS DROPPED

London, April 6.—A Zeppelin attacked in the northeast coast of England about 5:50 o'clock Wednesday night, but was driven off by anti-aircraft defenses. The official announcement says that some bombs were dropped, but there is no information yet as to casualties or damage.

DULUTH GAVE UP NEARLY $4,000 FOR "ONE-CENT FARES"

One Clerk Got Four Handfuls of Silver as "His Bit."

Attorney Is Instructed to Go Ahead With Jury Trial.

Wallingford of Traction Circles Worked Chicago One Day.

About 5,000 Duluthians who wanted street car tickets at 1 cent per, are "out" between 25 cents and $1. William Ray Bilderbeck, 23, the debonair young man who never "took any chances," has bid a fond farewell to Duluth, and has gone East for a short vacation. With him, police say, went between $2,000 and $4,000, the proceeds of three days of philanthropy. Also, with him, went William M. Selditz and Roland E. Beck, other members of the erstwhile Duluth Cut Rate Carfare & Advertising company. Bilderbeck doesn't want to appear in Duluth for awhile, it developed today, for he has instructed Walter F. Dacey, his attorney, to go ahead with the jury trial of the case against him now pending in municipal court. The trio left a forwarding address at their hotel, as La Porte, Ind., but Mr. Dacey refused to tell whether or not he knew where they were. Worked Chicago One Day. Bilderbeck, Beck and Selditz, police have learned, are the Wallingford "Blackie" Daw and "Onion" Jones of municipal transportation schemes. Before coming here they worked in Chicago—one day. Chief of Detectives Hunt ordered them to discontinue business at once, if not sooner, and the smiling Mr. Bilderbeck didn't stop to argue the matter, at all. Since the departure of the trio, who checked out at their hotel early Wednesday morning, police have investigated the company's methods thoroughly, and have decided that their chief stock in trade was the mahogany counting tables and the cashier's cage in their office.

"Easy Come, Easy Go." "It was a simple and easy go," said a Duluthian who worked as a cashier on the street, and said he was about a month's salary ahead in consequence. When police walked into the offices Tuesday evening, about 5 o'clock, and when Bilderbeck saw them, and said "The job's up," the Duluthian saw that his job was gone, and said: "Help yourself," replied Bilderbeck nonchalantly, waving his hand toward a girl containing several hundred dollars in silver. "You bet," said the native son. "Selling the action to the word, he reached over with both hands, plucked all the coin he could hold, and jumped it into his pockets. He repeated the operation, but Bilderbeck smiled, and turned to the policemen.

He was released under $200 bail, and his attorney asked for a jury trial. It was set for tomorrow morning, and Bilderbeck will come up at that time. The charge is that of advertising illegally, and can be punished by a fine of not more than $100, or imprisonment for not more than three months. The court can declare the $200 bail forfeit, however, if Bilderbeck is convicted by the jury, and fails to appear in court to serve his sentence, when it has been pronounced.

According to some of the leading business men, the date of this luncheon may be changed to some other evening the same week, owing to its conflict with the annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club, which will be held on April 27 at Dornedy's hall.

WEST END BRIEFS.

The Luther Guild of St. Paul's English church will hold their business meeting in the church parlors. A social session will follow the business meeting.

PLAN TO FIGHT SALOONS.

Good Templars Will Help Secure Local Option Election.

At a meeting of North Star lodge, No. 11, Independent Order of Good Templars, to be held tonight at Sloan's hall, Twelfth avenue west and Superior street, plans for taking an active part in a campaign to vote out the saloons of Duluth in a local option election will be taken. Leading temperance men of the West end feel confident that the campaign can be carried through successfully this summer.

A committee to work with the central committee in the local option movement will be selected.

STILL MORE TO FILE.

Race for Commissionership in Third District to Be Interesting.

The race for the county commissionership job in the Third district, which comprises the Sixth and Seventh wards of the city, will probably prove as popular as the one in the Fifth district. Three men have already filed for the position and two or three others are mentioned as possibilities.

Walter A. Swanson, present county commissioner of this district, is in the race for renomination and election. The other two who have filed are C. Anderson and Eliot Berglund. It is intimated that Charles Hoar, former alderman from the Sixth ward, has announced his intention of throwing his hat into the ring and that William Olson, alderman from the Seventh ward will also get into the race.

A Sure Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

At 7:30 o'clock the mouth organ and fact clubs will meet, and at 8 o'clock the regular popular Friday night program will take place. The program will be a mysterious one and will not be announced until the boys meet. Percy Davis and Sherwood Hay are in charge.

Saturday at 12:30 the Intermediate Bible Study club will meet. The outing committee has arranged for a hike Saturday afternoon out to the work farm, where they will be the guests of Mr. Ward. The party will leave promptly at 1:30. Each boy will bring car fare. The party will take the car to Duluth Heights and walk from there.

HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED

Duluth people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This simple mixture removes such irritating food matter that OXY SPOONFULS relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Adler-ika has easiest and most thorough action of anything we ever sold. W. A. Abbott, druggist.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

By Dr. Lewis Baker

"Poorly" writes: "I have chronic constipation and my head aches all the time. I am nervous and don't sleep well. I have fever and my skin is muddy and my tongue coated. My eyes are dull and I feel tired and weak."

Answer: what you need is a good laxative and blood purifier. Clean your system thoroughly with three-grain cathartic tablets (not sulphur). These tablets act on the bowels, aid digestion and purify your blood. Their use will drive away the tired feeling and other symptoms.

"Frustrated" writes: "I have been proud of my hair until lately, when it has acquired an ugly, greasy, stringy appearance and my scalp is covered with scales and itches terribly. What may I do?"

Answer: You should use plain yellow methyl to relieve the scalp of dandruff and itching. It acts as a tonic to the scalp and hair strands and promotes a beautiful, luxuriant growth of hair. Clip the ends of the hair about half an inch to get rid of broken ends.

"Model" writes: "I have been a perfect thirty-eight size until the last few months when I have gained about 25 pounds too much flesh. Please prescribe."

Answer: You will find a very harmless and successful flesh reducer in the use of arbutone tablets, sold in sealed tubes, with directions for home use.

"Nervous" writes: "I am a brain worker but now I am so nervous as to be unable to apply myself to my tasks. I cannot concentrate my mind. Have a constant feeling of fatigue and drowsiness. Seem to have lost all buoyancy; in other words, I don't seem able to draw myself together somehow. What will renew my strength, brace me up, and make me feel like a man?"

Answer: Your condition is the same as that of thousands of other men, who have been restored to new strength and energy, when from worry, exhaustion or overwork, they have fallen into the same way. Three-grain cadomene tablets should reinvigorate

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Building Bldg., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials are necessary. Answers will be filed at any self-addressed drug store. Any suggestion can order of wholesaler.

"Run" writes: "I'm tired of being called 'run' just because I'm so thin. I want to weigh more. How may I add about 25 pounds to my weight?"

Answer: There is the use of three-grain hypo-nucleic tablets to increase your weight. They are the surest, safest and best health, strength and flesh producers I could suggest. You should easily gain twenty-five pounds in weight in a relatively short time.

"Anna L." writes: "I have kidney trouble and have had for some time. I have a baby 3 months old and since she was born I have been bothered. I have been taking medicine but it doesn't seem to act on my kidneys."

Answer: Quite often kidney and bladder trouble follow child-birth, and if your symptoms are the usual ones, such as swelling of the feet, puffiness under the eyes, chills and fever with headache and pains in the back, would suggest that you use halmwort tablets. They are a splendid all-around kidney medicine and tone and liven the kidneys.

"Sufferer" writes: "I am a chronic sufferer from rheumatism. I have tried various cures but none of them have given me relief."

Answer: You will be pleased with the results from the use of the following: 2 drams iodine of potassium, 4 drams sodium salicylate, 1/2 oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. cod liver oil, 1 oz. comp. essence cod liver oil and 6 lbs. of sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal times and again before going to bed. I always prescribe this treatment. It has given very satisfactory results.

"Gayle" says: "I have cold in my system almost constantly. I cough, and my throat and chest are sore. I seem full of inflammation."

Answer: Constant colds are bad for the system. Try to avoid draughts and undue exposure. Get a 2 1/2 oz. bottle concentrated essence cod liver oil and mix with simple syrup according to directions. This should break up severe colds and colds in a very little while, and at the same time rid the system of the cold inflammation.—Advertisement.

The Passing of "Pull"

By Herbert Kaufman

BIG business begins to outsell the little fellow in the purchasing department. It buys by eye not ear—considers facts not claims—takes nothing for granted—reduces costs by reducing chances. Raw products are not processed until found fit. Shortcomings are detected before the goods have a chance to reach the work bench.

Money, hours and reputation are protected by a few simple precautions. Neither labor nor time are invested in faulty materials.

Friendship and pull are obsolete pass-keys, where efficiency passes judgment. The most that glib salesmanship can hope for, is a chance to display wares—after that quality must talk. Influence may secure a hearing but only merit can land the order.

Bankruptcy is inevitable for any plant which does not anticipate possibilities for dissatisfaction and loss in the testing room.

How do you guard your business against the invasion of inferior stuff?

LEE'S SURRENDER TO BE OBSERVED

G. A. R. Sends Out Invitations for Next Saturday Night.

Lee's surrender at Appomattox on April 8, 1865, will be celebrated Saturday evening at the courthouse by Duluth G. A. R. members. Invitations to be present at the Appomattox day observance have been sent out by S. M. Kelley, commander of J. B. Culver post, No. 128, G. A. R. All comrades and their friends have been invited.

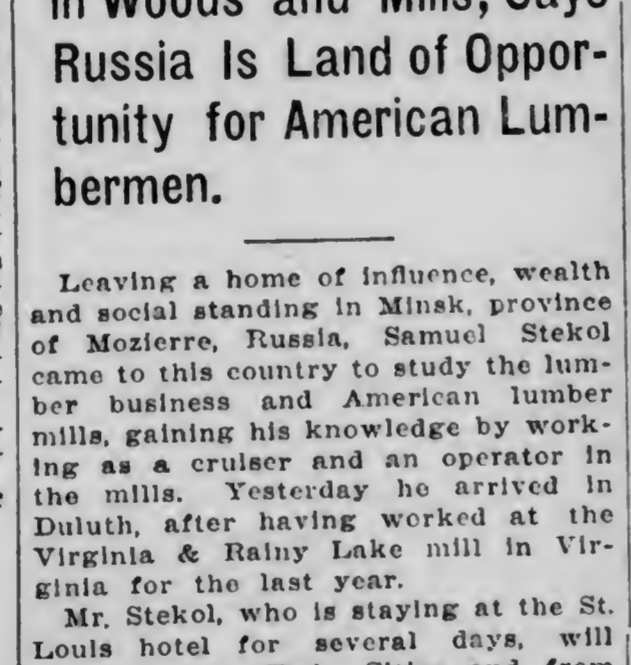

The program will begin at 8 o'clock. Dr. J. D. Budd, veteran, and Rev. Harry A. Ingham, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church will be the speakers.

"Of all the days in the year that we celebrate," reads the invitation which has been sent out by Culver post to all comrades, "taking account of the enthusiasm in the breast of every defender of the Union as does Appomattox day; for it marked the beginning of the end of a four-year strife that had laid low many of our comrades and orphaned many of our widows and orphans. On that day we celebrate, not a victory of war and carnage with booming of cannon and ringing of bells, but a victory of peace, for peace hath her victories no less renowned than war."

The Women's Relief Corps will combine forces with Culver post in celebrating Appomattox day.

WOULD INTEREST AMERICANS IN RUSSIA'S TIMBER OPPORTUNITIES

Wealthy Young Subject of Czar Studies American Lumber Methods; Works in Woods and Mills; Says Russia Is Land of Opportunity for American Lumbermen.

SAMUEL STEKOL.

Leaving a home of influence, wealth and social standing in Minsk, province of Moezler, Russia, Samuel Stekol came to this country to study the lumber business in America.

Coming to this country two and one-half years ago, just ten months before the war, Mr. Stekol, who is but 27 years old, first purchased lumber machinery for representative concerns in Russia. Accompanied by an interpreter, he visited all the principal cities of the east, studying American methods of business, the lumber markets, the manufacture of machines. Later, when he began to master the language, he decided to obtain employment in mills and shops, in order to get first-hand information on what he sought to learn.

Then the war broke out and Mr. Stekol decided to remain here until the conflict came to an end.

About a year ago he obtained employment in the Virginia mill, the officials knowing nothing about his official standing in the mill. While in the range town Mr. Stekol made a comprehensive study of the lumber business in this country and in Russia and he came to the conclusion that the opportunity of an American lumber baron is in Russia.

With this in mind he worked evenings in the mill, so that he could prove to those interested just how large the profit might be.

And now, with a good knowledge and understanding of the lumber business, beginning with the cutting of the tree in the forest to its manufacture into lumber in the mills and the subsequent sale on the market, Mr. Stekol is starting out to interest American business men in his plan to organize a $10,000,000 corporation to do business in Russia. He hopes to have the corporation work on lumber mills and plants may begin immediately after the close of the war.

Russia, Land of Opportunity. "I am convinced that the opportunity of the small Russian lumber dealer. The opportunity is open in Russia for the American lumberman.

Two years ago I came to this country to learn about the American lumber industry and how it worked in different states of the Union. I find that the American methods are more business-like and easily outclass those of Russia. American lumbermen should investigate the Russian fields. Millions of acres of timber land can be bought cheaply. The Russians are slow and backward and do not realize the value of their lands. I hoped to return to Russia last year, but the outbreak of the war prevented me doing so, but I will go just as soon as the war has ended."

Student of Forestry. Mr. Stekol is the son of a wealthy lumberman in Minsk and is a graduate of the forestry colleges at the University of Moscow and the University of Hanover, Germany. Two years after leaving school he became manager of a big lumber corporation, which had interests and dealings with buyers in England, Germany, France, Italy, Serbia and Austria. He held this office until the Russian drama broke out in 1914. He then passed a law prohibiting managers of companies, banks or institutions of any kind from being the sole owner of a mill and for that reason has the right to serve as his head.

Language. The young man speaks eight languages, these being Russian, English, German, Polish, French, Italian, Bulgarian and Serbian.

Mr. Stekol has three brothers and two sisters. The former now serving as an officer in the wireless corps at Riga. A Russian reporter in the Blue Weekly, a Russian national sporting magazine, who was here broke up the wireless station in Riga after the war and then sent direct to the czar's palace and war ministry in Petrograd.

His child lay on the point of death, and pleads for him to stay, his conscience tells him to, but he does not. He leaves with her and then the accident occurs which brings them both back to his house. Fate intervenes and brings about a reconciliation which is both dramatic and pathetic.

Theater Gossip.

In "Peg o' My Heart," which is at the Lyceum theater this week, J. Hartley Manners has written one of the MY HEART AT SWEETEST plays, and THE LYCEUM created one of the most lovable characters seen on the stage in recent years.

This delightful play of love and romance seems to have spellbound theatergoers everywhere, which, perhaps, accounts for its drawing powers. Florence Martin, who is considered the prettiest and best "Peg" that ever appeared the title role, having appeared for eight months during the Boston run of this play, is heading the cast, which has been personally selected by Manager Moroso to make this farewell tour of the Manners' comedy under his direction. Her delineation of the sweet Irish lass differs from that of her predecessors. For this third and final tour of "Peg," Manager Moroso has the following cast: Fred Tison, as "Jerry"; Madeline L'Estrange as Mrs. Chichester; York Erskine as Alaric; Edmund Dalby as Brent; John Pearson as Jarvis and Lillian Scribble Cooper as the society girl.

The theater-goer who wants to find something worth while will find plenty of it to amuse him in the NEW BILL, new bill opening at AT THE GRAND, the popular new afternoon. Thaler's circus, consisting of dogs, ponies and monkeys, supplies the vaudeville layout and offers a feature that is especially appealing to youngsters. The dumb brutes are all well trained and perform many stunts that are new to animal thespians. The Dohertys are dealers in nonsense and offer a line of comedy and songs. Their turn is cleverly conducted.

Appearance, voice, youth and versatility are combined in Lillian Singspiel, billed as the singing cornetist, she lives right up to her billing.

Hanson and Hinton offer a talking and acrobatic skit entitled "Able Kibble in a Gymnasium." Fun runs riot all through the offering, registering these two clever boys as one of the laughing hits of the bill.

"The Dixie Winner," a two-reel subject with Ernest Maupin in the leading role, tells a story of the railroad that is full of thrills and heart interest. Vernon Howe's sketches "Iania, When Lulu Came Home," a Vitaphone comedy, and the Selig Tribune News make up the rest of the program.

The management of the Rex theater was surprised at the reception given "The Moral Fabric" by the audience.

JOHN BARRYMORE, showing "THE COMING OF THE SPRING" today and tonight at the Rex theater. Frank Mills and Edith Reeves are in leading roles with a strong support. It is a fine picturization—a Triangle effect that is richly beautiful and the story is well done.

Tomorrow and Saturday the Famous players will present John Barrymore in the humorous play written for Barrymore by Willard Mack, "The Hat-Check Room." It is a laughable, yet thrilling, story.

As a young society favorite who receives a blow upon the head and loses his memory, John Barrymore has a great opportunity for the unlimited expression of his abilities. The bridegroom tries to rob the house of his fiancée, Barrymore, turned crook, offers many comedy opportunities.

"Carmen" as it should be played, in Miss Farrar's opinion—minus the voices of opera singers.

There are remaining two performances today and tonight of the Dustin Farnum picture, "Ben Blair," a new kind of Western drama. Two such stars in two such widely divergent themes, again come to a motion picture house the same week. "Ben Blair" contrasts life on the prairie and life on Broadway. It possesses pieces of action, a theme that holds and thrills, Burton Holmes' travel pictures may be shown today and Bray cartoons tomorrow and Saturday.

CLOQUET'S STYLE SHOW SATURDAY

Will Be Given With Program By Women's Club of City.

Cloquet, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last preparations are being made for the Mothers' club meeting and style show to be staged at the auditorium of the Lincoln high school next Saturday evening. It is expected over 200 members and guests will be present. Business of importance to the club will be brought up and in addition to the regular program all the merchants have been asked and preparations have been made to show all the latest spring fashions in suits, laces, silks, hats, etc. Tables will be arranged for the display of goods and the suits and hats will be shown on living models. The girls of the domestic science department will also have on display sewing work which they have accomplished during the school term. They will also demonstrate at this time the setting of a perfect table.

The idea of the club in asking the merchants to put on a style show at this time is to boost the home merchant.

The club went on record at its last meeting of being in favor of a general suffrage by a vote of 22 to 79, although in a debate the same evening the negative won.

The Program. Mrs. Peter Oleson gives out the following program for Saturday night: Songs, high school chorus, combined with the boys and girls, give songs "Our Children," Mrs. F. Edward Oleson; vocal solo, Mrs. M. K. Whittemore; "Practical Living," by Mrs. O. H. B. Eifer; vocal solo, Miss Alma Johnson.

"All Bosh— Coffee Doesn't Hurt Me" says the cynic—but, we live and learn and at some time of life many coffee drinkers wake up to the fact that the drug, "caffeine," in coffee is "getting them."

Headache, nervousness, biliousness, heart flutter, insomnia, etc., are often signs that coffee is getting in its work; and the growing knowledge of its true nature has led thousands of former coffee drinkers to turn to

INSTANT POSTUM

This famous food-drink tastes much like mild Java coffee, but is entirely free from caffeine and other harmful elements ever present in coffee. It is made of whole wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, and permits Nature, unhampered, to carry on her work of daily re-building brain, nerves and muscle.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum requires no boiling—a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes a delicious drink—instantly. Both forms are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

Colonel Roosevelt discovered a new bird during his recent West India trip. To be sure, von Humboldt saw and described this bird a hundred years ago.

There are other things, new to him, old to others, that he may yet discover—such things as common honesty, fairness, restraint in speech, regard for truth, gentlemanly conduct, respect for the dignity of the presidential office, regard for the sort of conduct becoming in an ex-president, and the value of humility and dignity in a seeker for the presidency.

A Fourth Dimension of Impudence

In view of the fact that a good many newspapers—presumably representing a good many hundreds of thousands of readers—express themselves to take seriously the idea of Theodore Roosevelt's candidacy for the presidency, it is worth while to take back to the statement that Col. Roosevelt sent to the New York Evening Post during the recent tour. He said:

It would be a mistake to nominate me unless the country has in its mood something of the heroic—unless it feels only devotion to ideals, but the purpose measurably to realize those ideals in action.

This is one of those rare times which come only at long intervals in a nation's history, where the action taken determines the bias of the life of the generations that follow. Such times were those from 1776 to 1789, in the days of Washington, and from 1863 to 1865, in the days of Lincoln.

It is for us today to grapple with the tremendous national and international problems of our own hour in the spirit, and with the ability shown by those who upheld the banner of the Republic, and Lincoln. Whether we do or do not accomplish this fact will largely depend on the action of the Republican and Progressive national conventions next June.

Consider the last part of the quotation, in the light of the comparable whole literature of egotism and monumental self-conceit offer a parallel to it.

Four years ago the insatiable hunger of Theodore Roosevelt for office led him to organize a bolt from the Republican party in order that he might be nominated for president. For fear the purely personal side of the movement as he saw it might be missed, he carried on the unthinking, he emphasized, in a famous declaration of intention that the great cause for which the Progressive party stood "could only be furthered by supporting me."

Not only has another test been offered, but one much better in every way is now before congress.

This plan, which originated with Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, is to limit immigration from any country in any year to a certain small percentage of the number from that country already here.

Well, Mr. Hitchcock is getting busy. It is charged that until the Hon. Stump exposed the thing Mr. Hitchcock was using the name of Hughes to promote his scheme of picking Southern delegates by hand to be under his control and at his service in the Chicago convention next June.

Chicago News: In some respects the government at Washington continues to employ wasteful expenditures of the sort so successfully attacked in Chicago and Illinois.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, chairman of the committee on transportation routes to the seaboard, serves to point a moral in this respect. His particular committee, says the publication of the National Voters' league work to the press.

Incidentally, it may be remarked that the politician on the fence isn't there to crow.

That St. Louis indiscretion. At St. Louis, carried away by the warmth of his thought and of the reception it met, the president said that this country should have "incomparably the greatest navy in the world."

This was at once taken, of course, as meaning the "largest navy in the world." It didn't, necessarily; but that's surely how it sounded.

In the edition of the president's speeches made on this tour, now revised for publication, the word "greatest" is stricken out, and the words "most adequate" inserted in their place.

That's more like it. Adequacy does not necessarily mean size. It means, rather, efficiency. A navy adequate for this country would not be adequate for Great Britain, with its globe-girdling empire.

Yes, Gladys, in some circles you would even be pardoned for referring to a Zeppelin as "a sky-scrapper."

An Ex-President's Bar-room Manners. New York Evening Post: Col. Roosevelt is not going to leave to his wonderful Trinidad bird a monopoly of hideous cries.

There was criticism of the presidential preference primary because on the Republican ticket no real choice was offered to the voters, all the really possible candidates having been kept off the ticket.

These amendments are very simple and very easily made. They go straight to the heart of the only valid criticisms that can be made of the primary laws.

Detroit Free Press: "Do you think it safe to marry on $25 a week?" "My boy, no amount of money can guarantee marriage to be safe."

Southern Delegates

Washington, April 6.—(Special to The Herald)—The same old fight that resulted in a stalemate in 1912 is being waged on the Republican side of the political hedge in 1916.

Col. Roosevelt mustered the Southern contingent in 1908 to accomplish the nomination of Taft. Since the Republican party has been the American people into the two political camps, Democrats and Whigs, about 1832, but two presidents have attained successful success.

In the other states that were alive in 1860 the Republican party was the most popular party, a respectable affair, and to these we may add West Virginia, but in the other ten states the Republican party was only a forlorn hope.

When in doubt, come to Duluth—If not in doubt you'll come anyway. The Proctor Journal gives this account of one major factor for him in the Zenith City: "Frank Dalowitz (the horsehoe Dutchman) was the holder of the lucky ticket drawing the Ford car that was given away at the German relief fair recently held in Duluth.

When the Herald said "Lower option is the ideal method of handling the liquor problem," it struck a sympathetic note with the Heron Lake News, which quotes The Herald as saying: "Local option, to our mind, is best. Where saloons are voted out locally there is generally sentiment enough behind it to enforce the law, but when saloons are voted out of one community by another community, public sentiment is not strong enough to cope with the situation. Let's clean up around our own door first."

Have You No Suggestions? The Spooner Northern now doesn't go quite far enough in this: "The Duluth Herald wants to amend the presidential primary election laws so as to provide for the filing by friends for desirable candidates. We will not admit that The Herald editor will cure the evils by his proposed changes, but some change must be made, as the present laws are simply rotten." What we need now is constructive criticism, which isn't to be found in the mere word "rotten."

The Reign of Law. By "The Innocent Bystander." VII—The Peace of a Hemisphere. Posterity will say that the United States of America made possible the United American States—in the words of the delegate from Venezuela.

With none of the friction and jealousies that beset our fathers, we are doing now on a larger scale, in a looser union, what they accomplished in 1789.

On behalf of twenty odd American republics we are depositing certain laws in a common agency for carrying on common concerns. That is the Pan-American movement. It is not government, it may never be government, yet it is becoming an agency of government—for maritime law between states, for customs practice between states, for commercial law between the United States and any South American government, or between any two South American governments, which cannot be settled in an orderly way.

Happily we have not been crowded together so we must clash and quarrel. Yet when the Western world was a wilderness, we were twice at war with Canada. It is not for want of occasion, it is because the reign of law is firmly established that there is no going to war on this continent as between responsible governments.

In the more perfect union of 1789, America showed the Old World the reign of law might extend over a continental area, displacing the rule of violence by the will of the people.

The Pan-American overtures we are learning how the co-operation of a group of governments may extend the reign of law over a hemisphere. For the reign of law is not a mere collection of rules a set of written agreements. It is a common consent to the public opinion of the neighborhood of the city, of the state, of the nation, of the family of nations. And because it is voluntary it displaces the less sturdy rule of violence.

Tomorrow—"The Family of Nations." Off duty. The night is full of smoke, and the moonlit dewdrops glisten. Where the blossoms close in slumber and the queening bullets pass—

Where the bullets hit the level I can hear them as I listen. Like a little cricket concert, chirping chorus in the grass.

In the dugout by the traverse there's a candle-flame a-winking. And the fireflies on the sandbags have their torches all aflame.

As I watched them in the moonlight, sure I cannot help but thinking. That the world I knew and this one carry on the very same.

Look! A gun goes flash to eastward! Cover, cover, swooping overhead! Don't you know the flash of danger? Ah! You know the signal well! You can hear it coming, coming. There it passes, swooping overhead! There's a threat of desolation in the passing of a shell!

Little spears of grass are waving, decked with jewels iridescent—Hark! A man on watch is stricken—I can hear his dying moan—Lies a road across the starland near the wan and waning crescent. Where a sentinel off duty goes to reach his Maker's Throne.—Patrick MacGill in The London Standard.

Appropriate. Baltimore American: This building of submarines must be a very expensive business. "Yes; but I suppose they pay for them with a sinking fund."

Chicago News: In deciding to postpone indefinitely consideration of all suffrage and prohibition measures now pending before the judiciary committee of the national house of representatives has taken the wise course. Suffrage and control of the liquor traffic are not properly national questions. Both should be dealt with by the states, as they have been in the past. The principal effect of trying to make these issues in national politics must be to distract attention from important issues that are truly national.

The pathway of progress in dealing with these matters is under cover in Washington. Attempts to secure universal suffrage and nationwide prohibition by congressional action are likely to prove a mere waste of time. A number of states now have the right to vote. A number of states now have legal prohibition of the liquor traffic. The way to extend the scope of these two movements is to continue to center attention upon the states that furnish fruitful fields for agitation. Each state should continue to exercise the right to decide these questions itself.

If the results desired by the prohibitionists and the advocates of suffrage for women cannot be obtained in the way indicated, they cannot be obtained at all.

Usual Frankness. Detroit Free Press: "I shall have to ask you for a recommendation from your last mistress." "If my last mistress thought enough of me to write a recommendation I wouldn't be here asking for a job."

Duluth and The Herald

Thoughts About T. R. The Luvaine Journal quotes The Herald's query: "Could the nation endure Roosevelt?" and answers that "I could, but Theodore doesn't intend it shall." Now comes the question, How long will it bear with him?

It Will Be Some Show. Cordial invitations are extended to all outsiders to come and see the rowing races here next summer. The Ely Miner says these nice things about the event: "Duluth will have the national rowing regatta in its midst on Aug. 11 and 12. Duluth can handle such an event better than any other place we know of, and we should all feel proud of having landed this national event for our district.

Snatching Is Impolite, Anyway. "When was the censor when this display of affection was perpetrated, to which the Moore Beacon calls attention: "Sixty days for kisses," says a Duluth Herald headline. One could hardly assert that he "snatched that cue."

And We Confess We Like It. It helps a lot to hear things said of us like this from the Waverly Star and Tribune: "The Duluth Herald is the most fearless of the Minnesota dailies. Year in and year out it is upholding American principles with red-blooded virility. No daily in the Northwest takes such a fearless and firm stand on the big questions, and no daily is more eagerly read."

When Frank Came to Duluth. When in doubt, come to Duluth—If not in doubt you'll come anyway. The Proctor Journal gives this account of one major factor for him in the Zenith City: "Frank Dalowitz (the horsehoe Dutchman) was the holder of the lucky ticket drawing the Ford car that was given away at the German relief fair recently held in Duluth.

An Opinion Indorsed. When the Herald said "Lower option is the ideal method of handling the liquor problem," it struck a sympathetic note with the Heron Lake News, which quotes The Herald as saying: "Local option, to our mind, is best. Where saloons are voted out locally there is generally sentiment enough behind it to enforce the law, but when saloons are voted out of one community by another community, public sentiment is not strong enough to cope with the situation. Appropriate. Baltimore American: This building of submarines must be a very expensive business. "Yes; but I suppose they pay for them with a sinking fund."

The Opposition to Rural Credits

Among the bankers there is some opposition to the bill now before congress to establish Federal farm loan banks. They say the government would be an unfair competitor of the private lenders.

But the farmers will not have much sympathy with the bankers' objection. Speaking in averages and for various sections of the country, the farmer pays far too much for the credit he has been able to get. An official inquiry has developed the fact that in nine New England and Eastern states the banks that deal with farmers charge just under 6 per cent; in eight Southern states on or near the Atlantic the rate averages 7.36 per cent; in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin the average rate is 6.38 per cent; in the seven states just west of the Mississippi the rate is 8.05 per cent; in eight Southern states, reaching from Kentucky to the Gulf and west to Texas and Oklahoma, the rate is 8.51 per cent and in the eleven Western states the rate is 8.58 per cent.

A grand average for the United States is 7.75 per cent. "When bankers are able to get interest rates such as these on short term loans it is no wonder that they raise a voice of protest at the government's proposal to furnish loans at 5 per cent."

In the government really proposing an unfair thing? Farm loans that cover no more than 50 per cent of the reasonable value of the business as lenders to the farmer's investments. Our railroad corporations, which do not mortgage more than 50 per cent of the actual value of their property, can get money at about 4 per cent, and municipal corporations of good credit borrow at the same rate.

What the government expects to do, by passing the legislation now before congress, is to open up to the average farmer the money markets of the world. It proposes that he shall no longer be dependent upon the local lender—whether banker or farm loan agent.

It is probable that neither the local banks nor the farm loan agents will be driven out of business as lenders to the farmer. In fact, the best of them will probably do more business—but upon a slighter margin. If the banks and loan agents can get money to lend to farmers as cheaply as the government.

The only advantage the government purposes to take is to make non-taxable the bonds, based on the mortgages turned in to the lands banks, which will be sold to investors in order to raise loanable funds. But this will prove a very slight advantage.

"T. H. Hawkes qualified as city assessor before County Auditor Halden and today called on Assessor Wadnams and made a formal demand for possession of the office. Mr. Wadnams declined to yield. Mr. Hawkes was once confirmed by the council, which, at its next meeting, voted to reconsider this action and then refused to confirm him. He claims the council had no power to reconsider his confirmation. Mayor Trueslen will send to the council tonight the appointment of J. Allyn Scott as assessor.

KRUMBLES

The New Whole Wheat Food with the Delicious Flavor originated by the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co.

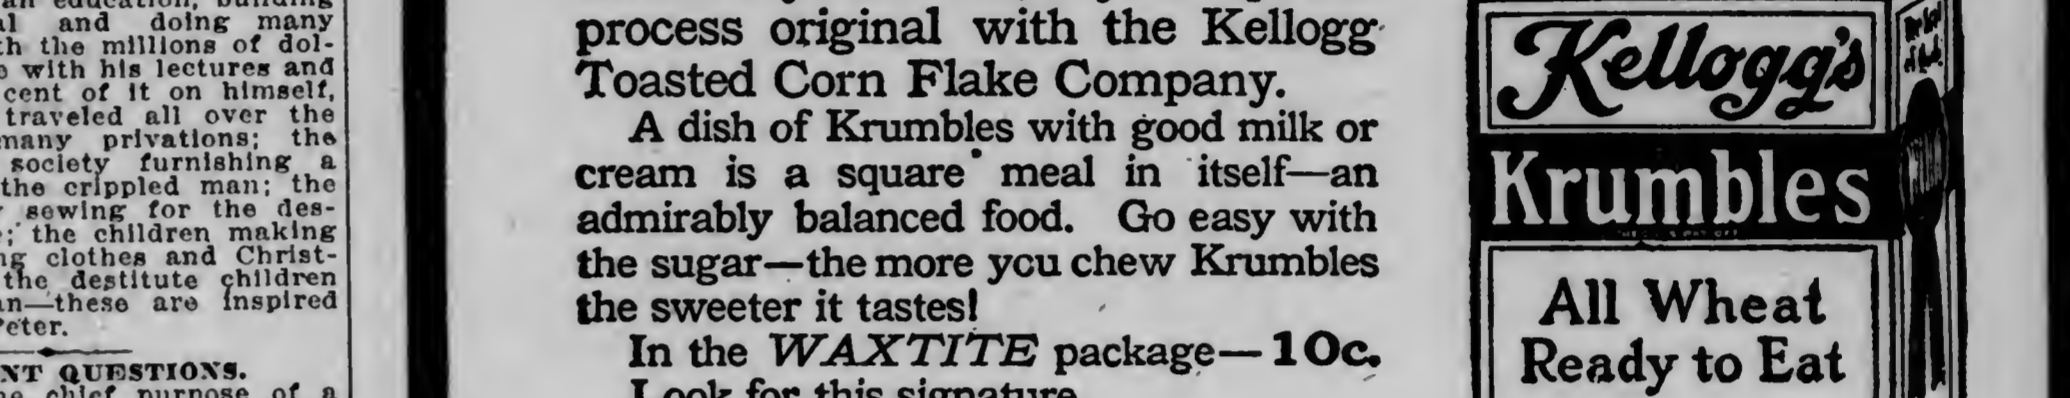

DO SEE the way people take to KRUMBLES at the first taste—you might suppose they never before had eaten anything that tasted good.

True—never before has there been a whole wheat food with such a full, rich flavor and sweetness.

Krumbles is prepared from the finest of whole wheat—all the wheat—cooked, "krumbled"—and delicately toasted...

A dish of Krumbles with good milk or cream is a square meal in itself—an admirably balanced food.

BIG CONSIGNMENT OF PRISONERS

Deputy U. S. Marshal Takes Twenty-Three Indicted Men to Minneapolis.

One of the largest consignments of prisoners ever transported in this state has just been taken to Minneapolis from Duluth by Deputy United States Marshal George Mallory, who returned to Duluth yesterday morning. Mr. Mallory took twenty-three men with him, all of whom were indicted by the Federal grand jury and pleaded guilty of introducing liquor into Indian territory.

FORTIFICATION
BILL IN HOUSE

estimates $1,376,673. As the bill stands, however, it represents an increased expenditure over last year of $1,938,333. In addition to the new guns, the bill provides for the expenditure of $750,000 to purchase the rights of the radio-dynamic torpedo control device by John Hays Hammond, Jr. Acceptance is conditional upon the receipt of a report of a joint board of army and navy officers after a test for which the bill provides.

DULUTH IMPLICATED IN IRREGULARITIES IN SCALING STATE TIMBER

from sections 19 and 20 in township 164, Koochiching county, near Margie, where the Root Timber company has contracts with the state timber department. Mr. Arneson's report charges that Mr. Cashin permitted the company to remove large quantities of timber from the two sections of state land to the railroad siding at Margie before they were scaled and stamped.

According to Mr. Arneson, the scaler, reported to the state that 3,080 cord feet had been light, whereas, as a matter of fact, the actual number of cords cut and removed from the land had been 20,660. The number of posts reported cut by the scaler, he declared, was 12,200, when it should have been 50,000. Mr. Arneson also alleged that the scaler had reported telephone and telegraph poles and pine logs less than the actual number in about the same proportion.

Officials of the Root Timber company deny that there was any arrangement between Mr. Cashin and the company. Charles Stiller, manager of the company, denied collusion with the state employe, and assured the timber board that his company would make good any loss which the state incurred. He voluntarily had $3,000 to cover any emergency which might arise. Mr. Cashin bonded to the state in the sum of $1,000.

Mr. Arneson began his investigation of the alleged irregularities ten days ago when he went to the camps and checked the shipments of ties, logs and posts which had been made by the Root Timber company from the two sections of state land in question. During this investigation, he reported to the timber board, he found that the total shipment from the two tracts was only about one-seventh of the amount claimed by Mr. Cashin and his company.

The timing of the timber board was attended by Governor Burnquist, Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, State Treasurer A. T. Gorman and State Forester W. T. Cox. The board voted to have a butt and top scale made of the tracts. This will take some time—at least two or three weeks. The governor intimated that he would call another meeting of the board in the near future to discuss the criminal feature of the affair. Attorney General Smith yesterday stated that he had turned the matter over to Assistant Attorney General Marchant, who will start an investigation as soon as possible.

Cashin Is Discharged.
Survivor General Sorbier of this city today stated that he was not in a position to give out any statement regarding the activities of Mr. Cashin until after he had turned in his books to the office. "I notified Mr. Cashin Monday that he was discharged and he requested him to turn in his books to this office. Until we can check them, I should not comment," he said.

the office. Until we can check them, I should not comment," he said. Further, he admitted that he had dismissed Mr. Cashin for the reason that he had suspicions that something was wrong and that he was reporting a proper count on the cutting. He will require three or four days to make an accurate check of his books.

Mr. Cashin was expected home today by his family, who reside at 822 East Fifth street. He has been employed as a state scaler for the last twenty years, serving under Surveyor General H. H. Bennett, Harry Bennett, F. L. Ryan and Simon Clark.

Beaumont Was Warned.
First official information regarding the attack upon the bark Bengalis was received yesterday by the state department. It was in the form of a dispatch from Consul Frost at Queens-town, who reported that the vessel, carrying two Americans, had been sunk by the fire, after having received "ample warning" and that there were no casualties, consequently. In this case, at least, officials see no ground for complaint by the United States. It became known today that the administration considers that the entire situation now hinges on Germany's attitude in regard to the Sussex and other vessels about which inquiries have been made.

Account of Wreck.
A graphic account of the wreck of the British channel steamer Sussex, with the assertion that the vessel was torpedoed deliberately and without warning by an enemy submarine, is contained in a note which is being distributed by the French general staff, made public here by the French embassy.

The report dated at Bologna, March 30, says: Bologna, March 30, 1916.—In conformity with your instructions, I proceeded to Bologna where I conducted an inquiry relative to the attack on the Sussex, on March 24. The Sussex, belonging to the state railway company, and running the regular service between England and France left Folkestone at 1:25 p. m. for Dieppe.

She carried about 325 passengers of all nationalities, a great number being women and children, as well as the Indian mail. This approximate figure is given by the captain. According to the company there were 200 passengers, the officer in charge of tickets was wounded and taken to Dover, and is not fit to state particulars.

Had No Ammunition.
"She was not possessed of any ammunition. The crew consisted of fifty-three men. From the start, the speed was set at 16 knots, after having passed 150 meters away, the track of a torpedo was seen. At 2:30 p. m., the time of the disaster being exactly registered by the stopping of the clocks on board the vessel. The second officer and deck officer were on the bridge, and also distinctly saw the torpedo. With great presence of mind, the captain ordered the helm hard aport, and stopped the starboard engine, in order to avoid the torpedo by turning to starboard. The torpedo control device executed immediately as is proved by the statements of the engineers of the watch.

Pieces of Torpedo Found.
"A number of pieces of torpedoes were found on board the Sussex. Some of them have been handed over to the American legation which has proceeded to Bologna; the others will be forwarded to the ministry of marine by the maritime authorities.

El Paso, Tex., April 6.—The entire Mexican situation was void in security today for the last three days not a single Mexican or American has arrived here from the interior. Scanty news given out by the Mexican officials at Juarez threw no light on the operation of the railroad, which practically halted, at least temporarily. Army officers here show no hesitancy in expressing their opinion that the attempt to pursue Villa farther west is almost a hopeless task.

Villa's Whereabouts a Mystery.
San Antonio, Tex., April 6.—Headquarters was without information today which would be of use in solving the mystery of the whereabouts of Villa. The operation of the railroad at Jefferson barracks, Mo., Columbus, Mo., and Fort Logan, Colo., and Fort Huachuca, Ariz., will not be sent across the border, but will all up to the border guard.

Asks Recruits for Patrol Duty.
Washington, April 6.—Gen. Funston today asked the war department to issue today a call for 20,000 additional men to Brownsville, Tex., for distribution among the border patrol units. The recruits are being assembled at Jefferson barracks, Mo., Columbus, Mo., and Fort Logan, Colo., and Fort Huachuca, Ariz., will not be sent across the border, but will all up to the border guard.

Beyond Communication.
San Antonio, Tex., April 6.—The most advanced cavalry detachments engaged in running down Villa were beyond communication today, and Gen. Funston's headquarters it was believed they already were as far south as the border. The operation of the railroad at Jefferson barracks, Mo., Columbus, Mo., and Fort Logan, Colo., and Fort Huachuca, Ariz., will not be sent across the border, but will all up to the border guard.

CHANGE TOO GOOD; MAN TAKES JEWELS

Burglar Tracked By Miss Sebenius; Wanted Place to Sleep.

"I never stole anything before in my life—but this was too easy," said Roy Bodell, 27, who police say has admitted burglarizing the residence of Miss Madeline E. Sebenius, 3814 London road.

Bodell is the man who was seen leaving the house yesterday morning by Miss Sebenius, as she returned home after spending the night with relatives, and who was followed by her.

She tracked him to the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, where he was far distant, and then called to telephone lines, at work nearby, who captured Bodell and held him until police arrived.

Bodell said he wanted a place to sleep, according to police, and that he broke a window, and climbed into the house. After spending the night in the deserted house he started prowling around, and found about $100 worth of jewelry in Miss Sebenius' bureau.

He will be arraigned in municipal court this afternoon for a preliminary hearing on a charge of burglary.

"POUFF MONEY GO QUICK"

Good Samaritan Loses $175 During One Short Nap.

Item: One nap, $175. Mike Bolik, lumberjack, turned his pockets inside out this morning to prove to police that he had no money and, incidentally, to illustrate his remarks. "I go asleep," he said. "I take a little nap—just a little nap. Puff! I stumped seventy-five dollars, and go away quick."

It was the old, old story of the Good Samaritan and the ragged brother in distress.

Mike opened his heart to two men, whose names he told to the police. "They broke-me, I got money," he explained to police.

"I take them to hotel, give them part of my room. We all sleep, I wake. Alone. Money gone—just like that." Mike cursed a most picturesque curse in plain English and then wrung his hands.

His story was the result of a winter of hard work and careful economy in the woods. He did not even have time for one "parade."

The three men, police said, slept together in a room at the New York hotel, 485 West Superior street.

"M SOUSED; COME'N GET ME."

He Was; Chief Did, and Everybody Is Satisfied.

If everyone followed the example of Dan Neering, a policeman's life would be on a less onerous basis.

Neering celebrated last night. True enough, Superior had gone "dry," but Neering should be "dry." Not at all.

This morning Chief R. J. McCorcher was looking over his correspondence. The telephone rang.

"Hello, old chief?" said a thick voice. "sis chief?"

The chief replied in the affirmative. "Well," said the voice, "m drunk. 'm soused. Come 'n get me."

"Where are you?" asked the chief, and Neering told him.

"Anything to oblige a gentleman," said the officer, and stepping to the jailer's room, he told Jailer L. A. Root to investigate.

Neering is right. He was undeniably "soused." He will have a chance to sober up in the city jail.

BLOOMING MILL IN FULL OPERATION
Giant Engine Repaired and Output of Steel Is Heavy.

The blooming mill of the Duluth steel plant is again in full operation. The giant reversible blooming mill, which some time ago was put out of commission by an accident, has been fully repaired and is now said to be in first class shape.

The mill is rolling an average of between 700 and 800 tons of steel daily. At this rate it is planned to catch up with the surplus material piled up while the engine was out of commission.

Some time ago the mill was put out of commission by an accident, has been fully repaired and is now said to be in first class shape.

Employees of the Duluth steel plant and of the Universal cement plant who live in West Duluth, are again complaining of the service given by the Northern Pacific railroad.

The result is, say employees of the plant, that the evening train is crowded, so that it is necessary to stand on the platform and punch the tickets. With tickets in the hands of the train, the work is said to be slow and necessitates the operating of the train at a reduced speed.

The attention of members of the West Duluth Commercial club has been called to the fact that the orphans above Coby street will be held in the club meeting tomorrow evening.

MAY WAIT ON PRESIDENT

Duluth Asked to Send Representatives on Delegation Next Wednesday.

Duluth was asked, in a telegram received this morning by G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Commercial club, to send representatives to be members of a delegation to meet President Wilson next Wednesday morning, when the chief executive will be asked to send his influence to obtain the passage of a bill concerning bills of lading, which the shipping interests of the country regard as highly important.

The telegram was sent by Francis B. James, chairman of the committee on trade and commercial law of the American Bar association, which is urging the passage of the bill. This is regarded as indicative of its importance.

The bill is what is known as the Pomerehne senate bill No. 19 on bills of lading, and by its provisions it will, if passed, make railroad and other transportation companies responsible for the bills of lading issued by them. In other words, should they issue a bill of lading, there must be goods shipped to back it, otherwise the company is held liable in case money is loaned or drafts sold on the strength of it.

Meet President Wednesday.
 In his telegram, Mr. James said that it has been arranged for the delegation to meet the president at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning and that the members of the delegation will assemble at the Willard hotel at 10 o'clock this morning. He urged that as many grain men and other shippers from Duluth as possible be present.

Advising the grain men of Duluth are much interested in the bill of lading matter and are just now engaged, together with members of other groups, in an effort to settle upon a uniform bill of lading. The bill of lading law is also of special interest, it is not known as yet, how many will attend the gathering and meet President Wilson, but that the city will undoubtedly be represented, is considered certain.

RAIL TRAVEL MAKES BIG GAINS

H. F. Carter, district passenger agent of the Union Pacific, is in the city today. According to Mr. Carter, Pacific coast passenger business is considerably heavier right at the present time than it was last summer, which merely goes to show the volume of business being done by the railroads of the West, as it will be recalled that the exposition travel was on last summer.

C. A. David, district passenger agent of the Southern, is also in Duluth today. Mr. David declared that the present trend of travel pointed to a volume of business increase in passenger business for the railroads during the next few months.

"With prosperity with us and commercial travel at its height, the railroads, especially those in the West, are doing a very satisfactory passenger business," said Mr. David. "Passenger travel is better this spring than for some time and the prospects are that it will continue to show an improvement during the coming months."

FOUR SCHOOLS TO BE ADDED

Four school districts comprising six townships in St. Louis county will be added to the large unorganized or county district in the near future if county commissioners grant the petitions for dissolution at the April meeting of the county board tomorrow.

The unorganized or so-called county district is managed by the county board of education and the schools are under the direct supervision of the county superintendent of schools and his assistants. There are now 11 teachers employed in the schools of the unorganized district and if the four districts which have petitioned are permitted to dissolve corporate existence, they will add fifteen more teachers to the list.

The districts petitioning for dissolution are No. 29, located at Cotton, No. 56, located at Colvin; No. 77, west half of Tevola; and No. 25, which includes the townships Clinton, York and 54-19. The petitions have been approved by N. A. Young, county superintendent, and the county board of education and tomorrow will be presented to the county commissioners for final action.

If the board grants the petition, the business affairs of the various districts affected will be wound up and the schools will be considered a part of the unorganized district.

The petitions for dissolution are the

URGENT ADOPTION OF CENTIGRADE SYSTEM

Changing from the present Fahrenheit to the centigrade standard of measuring temperature was recommended by a special committee of the Duluth Rotary club at the organization's weekly luncheon held at the Spaulding hotel this noon.

C. H. Graves, who reported for the committee, said that this system is much easier to follow and is especially favored by weather forecasters throughout the country. The centigrade system is the standard in many foreign countries and, according to the committee, is being recommended by representative organizations throughout this country.

A committee was appointed to act in an advisory capacity to aid Commissioner Farrell, a member of the club, in working out the best plan for carrying for the city's machinery and equipment.

About seventy-five members were present at the meeting, during which the plan of calling one another by numbers was again carried out. Several

SMITH WILL WORK IN PRISON OFFICE

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—(Special to The Herald)—It is probable that Walter J. Smith when he arrives at the Stillwater penitentiary next Tuesday will be assigned to work in the office and it is quite possible that Robert C. Pickett also will be given clerical work.

It has been customary for the prison authorities to assign men to the kind of work to which they have been accustomed. This is done with a view of obtaining the highest degree of efficiency.

Pickett will not go to the penitentiary until Smith goes. This is the result of the efforts of Mrs. Pickett, Smith when sentenced Tuesday was granted a week's stay of sentence so that he might arrange his business affairs. Pickett was granted no stay, but when Mrs. Pickett learned that Smith had been granted a stay she insisted that her husband be given the same consideration.

O'BRIEN HAS FAST BALL TEAM IF THE DOPE IS TRUE

According to Paper Indications the Material of This Season Is Greatly Superior to That of Last Year; Mike Collins Believes Fred Fulton Is the Coming Heavyweight Champion.

BY BRUCE.

ACCORDING to material—and the advance dope on the material—Daryl O'Brien will start the approaching baseball season with a better baseball club than the one that left the Northern league mark in 1915. The signing of Henry Schreiber just about completes the team and has caused the Dook and Owner Blume to believe that their club will be strong in both defense and offense and will be a well rounded organization, strong in every department of the game.

If this Herman Viguerst, the Me-nomonie, Wis., outfield candidate, comes up to expectations, there will be some real hustling to secure berths in the White Sox garden. It is believed that Schreiber will be played in the patch, while young McGraw will be on deck, according to present plans. In addition to these two men there is Jerry Altman and several other men who are due to report here next week.

If Jack Fauld proves anywhere near as good as some of the glowing advance reports indicate he is, it may transpire that Dutch Schroeder will also be driven to the outfield in the very spirit of self preservation. If that's going to be the case, the Dook will start the season with an outfield that will present a trio of very formidable looking batsmen, for Schroeder, Schreiber, McGraw and Altman are clubmen of high degree, insofar as Northern league standards are concerned.

Of course there is often a slip between the dope as she lies placid like on the limpid sheet of paper and the tumultuous way in which it is shaken up and stirred about in the actual test. If the infield candidates of the Dook's crew measure up to the records they have made elsewhere, the first wall defense of the White Sox crew will prove about the best in years.

In just about one week speculation as to the worth of the team candidates will cease and small grains of knowledge will begin to dot the observation surface. It is expected the first of the team candidates will appear the latter part of the coming week and start the preliminary practice.

If the Cook and Peary brand of weather of today and yesterday should greet the shivering candidates, there is reason to believe that the practice will take place for the most part around a steam radiator. O'Brien is hoping that the weather covers its snarling teeth and uncovers a smile before his crew candidates report.

A Word From Mike Collins.

It appears that Mike Collins has at last climbed into the big money class with his huge fighter, Fred Fulton. After months of discouragements in the way of small purses and setbacks, after the huge discouragements of having the match with Willard called off after it looked as if it was an assured thing, and then after the somewhat unsatisfactory fight Fulton made against Porky Flynn in New Orleans, it appears as if Mike Collins has at last arrived at the turn in the pugilistic road and that his efforts are at last to be rewarded.

Fulton's quick and decisive defeat of Jim Flynn in Milwaukee caused the following of the boxing game to sit up and talk about the big Minnesota heavyweight. Flynn has fought them all, from Jack Johnson down, and never in his career has he met with so sudden and decisive a reverse as that given him by the big boy Mike Collins is handling. As a result of this Fulton is in demand in various parts of the country.

Collins writes that Fulton is matched with Al Reich, Jim Coffey and Frank Moran. Mike is planning to leave for New York with Fulton at an early date. He has completed plans for placing Fulton under the care and eye of Sam McVey. This colored man is one of the greatest boxers of the day and also one of the greatest fighters. McVey should bring Fulton along in great shape and have the Rochester heavyweight contender in the greatest shape of his career for the first of the New York fights.

"I believe Fulton will beat both Reich and Coffey," says Mike. "I have seen Reich in action and believe he will fall a victim to the hitting ability of Fred. Fulton is the hardest hitting heavyweight in the ring today. I honestly believe that he is the coming champion. Wait until after he gets through with his New York battles—then you will agree with my opinion."

"When Fred fought Porky Flynn he weighed but 188 pounds. I am not

ALEXANDER'S ARM SAID TO BE BAD

GROVER ALEXANDER.

Close followers of baseball are wondering whether Alexander will prove the great pitcher of old. The big fellow has a big arm club there are rumors that he may fall to show the form that last year made him the leading pitcher of the National league and one of the greatest twirlers in the country. Shows Alexander's arm was show wonderful ability, the chances of the Phillies coming through with another pennant would appear rather slim.

In the habit of seeking alibis, but let me tell you that the big fellow was down to 188 pounds. Now he weighs 225 pounds, all solid fighting weight. He was ill when he entered the ring in New Orleans. But what could we do? Our forfeit was up and the promoters would not listen to a postponement. We had to fight or literally walk home—that's the truth. So Fred entered the ring more fit for a cot in a hospital. He went the twenty rounds and won twelve out of the twenty-five sessions of fighting. That Fulton did against Jim Flynn, though, proved his real class. I believe he will beat all of the others. He is just beginning to get good and when McVey gets through with him, I believe the fans will be surprised with what a great fighter Fred has developed into."

CUBS ORGANIZATION MAKES CHANGE IN NAME

Chicago, April 6.—The Chicago National league club which Charles Weeghman and his associate purchasers of the Taft interests will incorporate, it was decided at a meeting here yesterday, to change the name of the organization to the Chicago National league club. Directors of the old Federal league club, in what is about their final meeting, took action toward raising the stock of the new organization to $1,000,000. Another meeting at which the Federal league club officers will pass out of existence and officers of the new club will be elected, is to be held Friday.

Yale Crew Shakeup.

New Haven, Conn., April 6.—Coach Nickells ordered a shakeup in the Yale varsity crew yesterday, following the unsatisfactory showing made by the varsity in a short race with the second eight. The brush, which was over a course of three-fourths of a mile, ended in a dead heat. At the outset, Kostley, No. 2 in the varsity, was sent back to the second shell. Capt. Low, who rowed at No. 3, was sent back to No. 2, where he rowed last year, and McNaughton of the second eight was promoted to No. 1.

WHITE BEDS FOR OARSMEN

Crew Candidates Will Move to the Boat Club May 1.

Regular Dining Room and Kitchen Being Built for Men.

About May 1 Coach Ned Ten Eyck will shift his oarsmen to their summer quarters at the boat club, there to remain until the last race is rowed and the last trophy awarded in the forty-fourth annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

The crew candidates, vets and rookies alike, will find some surprises when they forsake the home fireplaces for training quarters life. The club has purchased a new supply of beds—nice white beds like they have in hospitals and orphan homes. E. J. Zautz now has a force of men transforming the old locker rooms into a dining room and kitchen that will measure up to a standard known only to the best clubs. The boys will not get pastrys and other muscle-destroying delicacies, but what they get will be served amid architectural surroundings that should make up for the occasional longing for the fast-foods of the family table.

The plans for the new shell house, which will replace the tennis courts, are nearly ready. Ample room will be provided for the shells of the national regatta entries. The extension for the shells will be built along the west wall of the new shell house, and work on that will go forward soon also.

Secretary Walker Jamar will mail copies of the first issue of the Boat Club Log to the 150 clubs which are members of the national association, and other information on Duluth's preparations for the regatta will be sent from time to time. The officers of the boat club are anxious to see the regatta here and they are planning some strenuous publicity work to get it.

Close Race in the Major

Fitzgerald & Winchesters Reduce Lead of Oak Hall Bowlers.

By winning two out of three games from the Oak Hall, the Fitzgerald & Winchester team last night cut down the lead of the former team in the Major league bowling race. As the result of the upset of the dope, the Sharkey and Elicors have a chance to tie up the race.

Some of the best bowling of the season was shown last evening. Root was high man in the evening with a score of 628. Stiegler was next with a score of 622. Berlin had a mark of 612. Spears turned in a 612 score, and Whitney registered 605. Wade had the high on game count at 222. In addition to this great rolling, twenty-one games with a score of 200 were marked up on the sheets.

The Elicors and Sharkeys did not play last evening. These two teams will stage a game of their own tomorrow evening. The contest is expected to prove especially interesting, as either team has a chance to pull up on the Oaks.

Whitney and Crane Matched in Court Championship Contest.

New York, April 6.—Payne Whitney of the New York Tennis club defeated the veteran Charles L. Sands, his clubmate, in the first match of yesterday's round for the national court tennis championship. The match, which went the full five sets, was one of the hardest ever seen at the local club.

In the other match Joshua Crane of Boston outplayed C. S. Cutting of this city, 3 sets to 1. Whitney and Crane will meet in the final tomorrow and the winner will play against the titleholder, Jay Gould, in the challenge match here on Saturday.

When the Sox are at home the games will be played on the Fifty-second avenue west and Thirty-second avenue west grounds.

Practically all the best amateur players in the city were out for the league teams last season. It is expected that the list of candidates will be even stronger this season.

Lawrence Doby of the Fenton-Duby company is going to organize an Intermediate Baseball league. A meeting has been set for Monday evening and all boys between the ages of 16 and 19 years, who are interested in the game, are asked to come to the Fenton and Doby store.

It is believed that the organization of the Intermediate league will fill a long felt want. Teams composed of players between the ages of the kids and older players have found it rather difficult to secure games. The organization of a league would, it is believed, do away with many of these difficulties.

School Kids to Play. John Batchelor will have charge of the Grade School Baseball league during the season. A meeting will be called sometime in the near future, when plans for the organization of the league will be perfected. There will be between twenty and thirty schools represented. The league will have two divisions, one for the older players and one for the younger. Last season a decided success was achieved by the league despite the fact that some unpleasantness arose as the result of a disputed game. Fast ball was played and the race was very close. There is little doubt that the approaching league season will prove very successful.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 6.—Charles R. The score for the three blocks was: Ellis, 160; Maupome, 143.

NEW AND WATSON FOR U. S. SENATE

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—The Republican convention here today nominated Charles W. Fairbanks for the Republican nomination for president, named Harry S. New and James E. Watson as its candidates for the United States senate and settled the question of delegates at large to the national convention.

The expected contest for the fourth place on the delegates at large did not materialize. Fred A. Sims, James A. Hemenway, Will H. Hays and E. C. Toner were elected by acclamation. Winford T. Durbin, former governor, who was expected to be a candidate for the fourth place was not nominated.

New for the long term and Watson for the short term were nominated for United States senator by acclamation. Ed Jackson of Newcastle also was nominated by acclamation for secretary of state.

James P. Goodrich's nomination for governor in the primary was ratified. The platform in addition to the endorsement of Fairbanks, denounces the Wilson administration as "inefficient and extravagant and declares that it has brought us business depression at home and discredit abroad," adding that such a policy as has been followed by the Democratic administration has been due almost wholly to woe and disaster which prevail in the Old World.

VOLUNTEER PROVISION

In Army Bill Passes Senate By Majority of Two.

Some Question Whether
It Will Finally Be Put in Measure.

Washington, April 7.—The senate rejected the federal volunteer provision in the army bill late yesterday by a vote of 36 to 34, rejecting Senator Lee's amendment to strike the section from the bill. The vote ended a four-day debate on the section.

Advocates of the National Guard as the first line of defense behind the regular army supported the amendment vigorously and the struggle was one of the hottest fought in the senate at this session of congress. It began after the defeat of the military committee last week, when a proposal to create a national guard section of the army general staff was written into the bill.

The narrow margin by which the federal volunteer provision was rejected makes doubtful whether it will be in the measure finally framed by the conference committee between the two houses. An effort during debate in the house army bill to insert this section, which is designed to provide such a force as the continental army proposed by former Secretary Garrison, was defeated decisively.

Without Republican support the volunteer section would have been voted out by the Democrats despite the fact that it was unanimously recommended by the military committee. Only two Democrats and ten Republicans, including nearly all the Progressives, Republicans to strike it out. Nineteen Democrats and Seventeen Republicans voted to retain it. The vote follows:

The Vote.
Voting to eliminate the section:
Democrats—Ashurst, Bankhead, Clarke of Arkansas, Culberson, Gorham, Hatcher, Johnson of Maryland, Lewis, Martin, Overman, Randall, Reed, Robinson, Sikes, Smith of Georgia, Smith of South Carolina, Stone, Swanson, Taggart, Thomson and Vardaman—25.

Republicans—Clay, Cummins, Curtis, Jones, Kenyon, Keenan, Mc-Cormack, Sherman and Weeks—10.
Total, 34.

Voting to retain section:
Democrats—Beckham, Broussard, Chamberlain, Hitchcock, Hollis, Hutchinson, Johnson of Maine, Johnson of South Dakota, Lane, Newlands, O'Connell, Pommeroy, Scales,
Sheppard, Smith of Maryland,
Thomas, Walsh and Williams—19.

Republicans—Clegg, Bradley, Cat-ron, Clark of Wyoming, Dillingham, Dunn, Oliver, Pennington, Sutherland,
Sutherland, Warren and Weeks—17.
Total, 36.

The vote followed charges that the National Guard organization throughout the country were conducting a lobby against the federal volunteer plan. Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, warned the senate in the course of the debate that the National Guard was becoming politically active and endeavor to influence legislation in the future oppose any further federal aid for the state soldiers.

Guard Retort.
Champions of the guard retorted that the military training camps association had been equally active in behalf of the volunteer section. They pointed to the mass of telegrams sent before the senate to sustain their cause.

The struggle had little bearing on the general question of the National Guard. The fact that the advocates of the volunteer plan asserted it was vital to the scheme to back the army with citizen soldiers, while opponents declared it was undesirable, distinguished the National Guard. All senators who spoke on the subject declared in favor of the liberal provisions for the regular army and the National Guard.

Period of Training.
Senator Chamberlain reflected the anxiety of the administration for more prompt action on the bill when he gave notice today that he would ask for night sessions in future in order to hasten consideration of the measure.
He made several attempts to limit the debate today by appeals to the senate, but took no parliamentary steps to that end, saying he wished to allow for full discussion.

CHARGES MOTHER WITH CONSPIRACY
Grand Nephew of Leland Stanford Submits Affidavit to N. Y. Court.

New York, April 7.—Walter Lathrop
Hanson, grandnephew of the late
United States Senator Leland Stanford
and heir to $500,000 of the Stanford millions, charged in an affidavit submitted to the supreme court here yesterday that his mother, Mrs. Almee Lathrop Hanson of Brooklyn, N. Y., and her lawyer, former Judge Nash
Rockwood of Saratoga, N. Y., conspired to have him declared incompetent and then exiled to Canada as part of a scheme to deprive him of his inheritance. Hanson's affidavit was filed in connection with a suit brought by his wife, Mrs. Henrietta Renti Hanson, formerly an actress, for $100,000 damages against Mrs. Almee Lathrop Hanson for alleged alienation of the affections of Hanson. A suit brought by the elder Mrs. Hanson to have annulled her son's marriage, which followed an elopement in 1912, is pending in Columbia county. Young Hanson's affidavit caused the court to direct that the alienation suit be tried in advance of the annulment action.

Hanson's affidavit was made Feb. 23 in San Diego, Cal., where he was employed as a chauffeur under the name of William Curt. He declared that after his mother had him exiled into Canada, under a "rush decision" of incompetency at Saratoga, he made his way to California. The incompetency decision, he said, was based on a charge that he was addicted to the use of intoxicants. Hanson asserted that he had learned to drink in his own home, and denied he used liquor to excess.

Women Have Expected the New Suits and Dresses to Be Very Beautiful-- They Will Not Be Disappointed Here!

Everything has been chosen with the utmost care, for its refinement, its style and its wearableness.

In this Spring of 1916 Fashion is, above all, many sided.
Many of the garments shown are exact copies of the latest models from Gaiety, Cheruit, Jenny, Fremont and Lanvin; others are adaptations from these famous makers.

Never before have women had such an opportunity to choose what is becoming to them, for the simple reason that never before has there been such a variety.

The full skirts are here, yes, but they may be straight or plaited or bouffant, or with much fullness gathered on the hips, or they may be a whirl of transparent draperies. Waist lines are normal and large, but in sports suits the sashes drop well below the waist, and in evening gowns there are many long and charming sleeves. Transparent sleeves are very long or mere wisps at the shoulders; other sleeves are puffed and ruffled or bell shaped. Boleros and zouaves are in favor;
there are quaint basque dresses and wonderful veiled effects.

Women's and Misses' Suits from..... $10.50 to $75.00
Women's and Misses' Dresses..... $16.50 to $65.00
Women's and Misses' Spring Coats..... $12.50 to $57.50

Spring Opening in the Infant Dept.

Never before has Dame Fashion designed prettier or more becoming styles for the little folks. The coats are charming, made in taffeta, corduroy, corduroy, serge, gabardine and fancy shepherd checks with full flaring skirts and high waist line.

The dresses are quaint and cunning made in pinafore styles with high and low waist line. The embroidered lacey voiles and organdies are very good and the smocking forms the trimming of the more simple frocks.

We are showing attractive little boys' hats and distinctive bonnets and hats for the girls.

New York, April 7.—Walter Lathrop

United States Senator Leland Stanford
and heir to $500,000 of the Stanford
millions, charged in an affidavit submitted to the supreme court here yes-

and her lawyer, former Judge Nash
Rockwood of Saratoga, N. Y., conspired to have him declared incompetent and then exiled to Canada as part of a scheme to deprive him of his inheri-

STEALS SHOES FROM SLEEPING PRISONER

It's as easy to steal when you're in jail as when you're out, if Roy Bodell, 27, alleged burglar, is right.

Bodell is under arrest for stealing $100 worth of jewelry from the home of Miss Malin E. Sebenius, 3814 Lo-rel road, and last night he stole a pair of new shoes from a newly arrived prisoner, substituting his own, which were badly worn.

The other prisoner slept through the substituting process, blissfully ignorant of what was going on, and awoke to find his stockings peeping through his in several places.

Bedlam roared, and Jailer L. A.
Root, hurrying on to jail, found the prisoner, found Bodell strutting about in a new pair of boots.

"Where did you get those shoes?"
Root asked.

"Bought 'em," was the reply. "Paid call."

From the thriving little city of Cloquet comes one of the most glowing testimonials Tanlac has yet received. Mr. Albert McCoubrey of 218 Seventh St. is responsible for the testimonial. While in Duluth for the purpose of consulting a physician, I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of Tanlac. I bought one bottle and it had cured me entirely. I am anxious for every one to know what great benefit Tanlac has been to me. I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering from impurities of the blood. ROOSEVELT OUT IN OPEN Ready to Lead Fight If Desired By Republican Convention.

"Pussyfooting" and Hyphen Barred If He Makes the Race.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 7.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt again is out in the open as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States. The fight made by his followers to have him named when the convention meets in Chicago, June 7, will be carried on with redoubled vigor from this time, shored of all quibbles and pretenses. The colonel's position, summed in a few words, is this: He is in a receptive mood, ready to head the fight against Wilsonism and for adequate preparation and Americanism if the country wants him to and that desire is reflected in the action of the Republican convention. Attitude Toward Visitor. The colonel made known his attitude in a conversation with a visitor from a nearby state who has been nominated for congress and expects to go to the Republican national convention as a delegate. He told this candidate, among other things, not to expect him, the colonel, to "pussyfoot" on a single issue he had raised, if he was nominated. He is not for war, he said. In fact, he said he abhors war, but he feels that preparedness is the only guarantee of peace. Cause of Declaration. The colonel with his characteristic vehemence had been talking of Mexico and other international problems when the visitor interrupted. "You know, Colonel," he said, "I may make up my mind that we will have to nominate you." "Like a flash the colonel turned to his visitor: "Well now, let me give you a piece of advice," he said, "pounding the chair arm. 'If you have any doubt on the subject do not nominate me. Get it perfectly clear in your head that if you nominate me, it must be because you think it is in your interest, but because you think it is in your interest, the interest of the Republican party and to the interest of the United States to do so.'"

The colonel hesitated a moment to collect his thoughts, and then putting into his utterances all the vehemence he would have used in a campaign speech, continued: "United States Must Be First. 'And, more than that, don't you do it, if you expect me to pass up on any single issue I have raised. Don't be for me unless you are prepared to say that every citizen of this country has got to be pro-United States first, and all the time and no pro-anything else at all, and that we stand for every good American everywhere, whatever his birthplace or creed, and wherever he now lives and that in return we demand that he be an American and nothing else, with no bywords about him. 'Every American citizen must be for America first and for no other country even second, and he hasn't any right to be in the United States at all if he has any divided loyalty between this country and any other. 'I don't care a rap for the man's creed, birthplace or national origin. I am for him if he is straight U. S., and if he isn't, I am against him. Announces His Stand. 'And don't you nominate me unless you are prepared to take the position that Uncle Sam is to be strong enough to defend his rights and to defend every one of his people, wherever those people are, he can't be strong enough unless he prepares in advance. 'I am not for war. On the contrary, I feel that every citizen of this country in the long run, avoid war by making other people believe that you are afraid to fight for your own rights. 'Uncle Sam must never wrong the weak, he must never insult any one or wantonly give cause for offense to either the weak or the strong, and the surest possible way to enable him to keep the peace, and to keep it on terms that will enable Americans to hold their heads high and not hang them in shame, is for him to be so prepared in his own soul as well as with his army and navy, that when he says anything of the rest of the world will know that he means it and that he can make it good. Way to Prevent Conflict. 'Don't you try to nominate me unless you think that it is the policy that ought to be followed out, and followed out for your sake as much as for mine, that every citizen of this country in the United States. And don't forget that it is not a course that provokes war, it is the only course that in the long run prevents war and secures national self-respect and guarantees the honor of this country and the rights of its citizens wherever they may be.'"

Masks Off!

By Herbert Kaufman

THE craven betrays craven sires,
The blood of the coward will out;
The summons to arms wakes proud fires,
Bedimmed in the veins of the lout.
Peace peddles her honours to bag-men;
But titles cannot change the plan
On which God made lenders and rag-men;
War reads not the crest, but the man.

Ancestry alone is a measure
For lickspittle, snob, cad and fool;
God pity the weaklings who treasure
The inches of so short a rule!
Distinction by birth is a lie.
And we know not the great from the little Until we behold how they die.
What you're born doesn't count for a tittle.

MARINE

SHIPS READY FOR OPENING

Fitting Out Completed; Inspection Well Under Way.

No Word to Tugs to Break Ice Yet; Small Grain Space.

Nearly all vessels lying at the Head of the Lakes, have been fitted out with crews, and on board each of them the men who will sail the ships this year are at work putting on the finishing touches for the opening of navigation. Very little in the way of fitting up had to be taken care of for most of that work was done before the officers of the ships left them last fall; but there is always something to do in the spring no matter how thoroughly the fall work is done.

Capt. John Monaghan and M. F. Chalk are pretty busy these days inspecting vessels here and in other ports in this district, getting ready for the opening of navigation. This morning they went to Bayfield, and during the last two weeks have made several trips to Two Harbors, Ashland, Washburn and other ports. Most of the vessels lying in this harbor, have been inspected, but quite a number remain for the inspectors to go over.

Concerning the probability of opening up the harbor, it is understood that vessel owners believe that a wait of a few days, to give the ice a chance to melt a little more, will probably be more economical in the end as it will entail less risk of damage to hulls. However, if the present weather continues, not much encouragement will be offered by nature and the situation may be forced upon us to open. The cold of last night made more ice, and it is said that on almost every night during the past week, ice has been made. It is far from encouraging to the lake men. At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature was 5 degs. below the freezing point and a cold wind off the lake was blowing. The snow-cumulating process goes on only during the warmest hours of the day, and even then there is delay and hindrance when the wind is cold. Under conditions such as existed today with the sun obscured by clouds, a cold wind blowing and low temperatures, there is no chance of ice disintegration, and the harbor will remain locked unless there is some radical change in weather conditions or the tugs are sent in to open up the bay.

There is less than 1,500,000 bushels of space left in the elevators here for grain to arrive, and relief can only come through the loading of vessels now in the harbor. The elevators have about 800,000 bushels of space for bonded grain and about 700,000 bushels of space for domestic grain; the Consolidated elevators have only 200,000 bushels of space left; and that is all that is left at the Head of the Lakes. Had the railroads not shut off receipts to this point, the total space of the elevators would have been filled three weeks ago.

This year only four boats lying in harbor are carrying grain, and one of them is only partly loaded. Last year thirteen boats were loaded at the time, as follows:

| Boats | Cargo Bushels |
|----------------|----------------|
| Pope | wheat 371,000 |
| W. J. Decker | oats 324,000 |
| Shalton | corn 258,000 |

| Caldera | wheat 212,000 |
| James Corrigan | wheat 281,000 |
| J. Boland | oats 280,000 |
| T. H. Wickwire | barley 304,000 |
| L. R. Davidson | wheat 353,000 |
| Wm. Livingston | oats 350,000 |

| Archardus | oats 355,000 |
| C. A. Congdon | wheat 376,000 |

SEMAPHORE SIGNALS IN LIVINGSTONE CHANNEL

To assist vessel masters in obeying the new rule which requires a time interval of not less than five minutes between downbound vessels navigating the Livingstone channel, two semaphore signals, installed by the United States lighthouse bureau, will be placed in operation at the opening of navigation, 1916; the upper one being located at Mamajuda rear light on the end of the lighthouse dock and the lower one being located at Livingstone channel pier light No. 2, which is on the west side of the north end of the corderdam section.

Each station has a lead-colored watch-house with red roof and a white semaphore with an arm 8 feet long and 10 inches wide. At night the position of the arm is shown by two fixed white lights, one at the end of the arm and swinging with it, and the other stationary at the pivoting point. The Mamajuda semaphore is supported on a mast with the arm pivoting 20 feet above the base; its lights are visible from upstream only. The Livingstone channel semaphore is attached to the mast of pier light No. 2, so that the arm will serve as the pivoting light.

The following directions pertaining to the operation of the semaphores have been formulated by Col. Mason M. Patrick, the United States engineer in charge of Detroit river channels.

"At each station the semaphore arm will occupy one of two positions, either held vertically or held horizontally. If the arm is vertical it will indicate 'the way is clear' and that the required interval of at least five minutes obtains between boats passing down by the semaphore location. If the arm is horizontal it will mean that there is less than five minutes' interval between downbound boats.

"A vessel bound down, observing the Mamajuda semaphore in the horizontal position, must reduce its speed and run under check until the full time interval of five minutes between it and the preceding vessel has been gained. The distance from the Mamajuda semaphore to the red gas buoy No. 2 at the junction of Fighting Island channel and Ballard Reef channel is about one and three-eighths miles. After a vessel has passed down by the Mamajuda semaphore the interval actually existing between it and a preceding boat may be estimated by noting the time which elapses after the vessel ahead makes the turn at this gas buoy until the vessel following arrives at the same place.

"The distance from Fighting Island channel red gas buoy No. 2 to Ballard Reef channel black gas buoy No. 81D, at the point where a vessel should turn into the Livingstone channel, is about two and one-fourth miles, and the full interval of five minutes must be gained by the time the vessel reaches buoy No. 81D. If the five-minute interval has been gained, the channel from buoy No. 81D to the Livingstone channel semaphore will be clear. The Livingstone channel semaphore will show in the vertical position and the vessel may proceed at the regulated speed of twelve miles per hour. No vessel shall make the turn into Livingstone channel at buoy No. 81D until after a preceding vessel has passed the Livingstone channel semaphore, nor while the arm of that semaphore is in the horizontal position.

"The arm of the Livingstone channel semaphore will be lowered to a horizontal position when a vessel passes it and will ordinarily be held in that position for a period of one minute."

NIGARAGUANS TO ELECT PRESIDENT

Diaz Has Decided to Restore All Republican Institutions.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Managua, Nicaragua, March 11.—The people of Nicaragua are to be given the right to express their will for the selection of a president. That will be a remarkable state of affairs for Nicaragua which for twenty years, dictatorship and revolution have interlarded and made such a condition of impossibility. As the secretary of state expressed it in an official letter when he dismissed the Nicaraguan minister from the United States in 1908: "It is equally notorious that under the regime of President Zelaya, republican institutions have ceased to exist in Nicaragua except in name, that public opinion and the press have been strangled and that prisons have been the price of every demonstration of patriotism."
President Diaz has just issued an announcement through the press, and says he will make it official by a proclamation in the Official Gazette that "it has been the basis of my program of government to restore in Nicaragua all the republican practices." To that end, he continues, the most important is the succession of one-term presidents in the executive power, selected by popular will.
As the president's election in Nicaragua occurs Oct. 1 next, and as he is authorizing himself together, this announcement is most significant. The present generation of the older people who were active before 1893, knew nothing of a popular discussion of candidates for the presidency, of a free registration of voters, or of any expression of the popular will. Such things were not permitted under President Zelaya from 1893 to 1910.

APPEALS MADE TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

Urged to Repeat Subscriptions to the German War Loan.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Berlin, March 10.—With subscriptions to the fourth German war loan secretly under way, appeals to the school children to repeat their efforts during the earlier loan, a steady being sent out. This time special emphasis is being laid on the possibility of pupils in higher schools, who are now or have been earning money of their own, subscribing even more than they did last time.
School children subscribed to the third loan about forty million marks, it is estimated. In twenty institutions in Berlin alone the pupils put in $2,683 marks in sums of from one mark upward. To encourage a repetition of the willingness to subscribe, the minister of Berlin has arranged to supply to the schools such clerical necessities as apparatus to parents, receipts and subscription blanks, so that no school will be under any expense and may subscribe, clear, as much as possible.

Many boys in higher schools, it is said, have of late been earning even more money than many adults in normal times, and yet, of course, do not have an adult's expenses. "These higher schools and continuation schools must be mobilized," says the first appeal. "These sums must wherever possible be made liquidable for the fourth war loan."

THREE AMERICANS ARE KILLED BY BANDITS

Tucson, Ariz., April 7.—Three United States citizens and one Spaniard were killed Wednesday by Mexican bandits nine miles south of Rosario, Sinaloa, Mex., according to advices received here from Mazatlan at the offices of the Southern Pacific Railroad company.
Former Conductor Wallace, F. C. Burke and Roderick Davidson, American, and former Conductor Rodrigo, a Spaniard, were the bandits' victims, according to the railroad report.
Burke, former agent at Morro, was being sent with his family and household goods by the section force from Acapulco to Rosario, and was to be employed as agent at Agua Prieta. Hand carts and baggage were robbed of all valuables.
The bandits compelled the section men to place the bodies on the hand-carts and bring them to Rosario station. Special United States Agent James W. Keys took charge of the bodies and sent them from Rosario to Mazatlan, after wiring the American consul at Mazatlan to make arrangements to receive the bodies.

BEARS ROUTED IN STOCK MARKET

Sensational Advances Are Made in Usually Quiet Metals.

Reports of Copper Companies Expected to Show Starting Earnings.

With the metal situation as bullish as it is, quotations of anything in the way of copper mining stocks are easily advanced these days, brokers say.
Yesterday sensational bulges were recorded in some usually inactive issues in the Boston regular and curb list. Green Monster, in which the price was run up from $1.75 in the morning to $5 a share around the close, was a new flotation in the West. The stock when offered was oversubscribed six times on account of the property being located in a promising district. United Verde Extension is another stock on the curb that has made a sensational run, its figure being boosted from around $11 to $27 a share during the past few weeks.
In the opinion of operators a number of stocks that have been hanging back marketwise while others have been going up, are likely to be taken in hand from time to time now. It is just a case of determining the ones that are to be given attention by the market leaders and then to climb aboard. On that account a marked revival in trading in the ordinarily somnolent stocks has been noted during the last few days.
It is predicted that every copper producing company in the country will show earnings of startling proportions for the quarter ending June 30 next. Experts say that they will be the best in history as they have been based on sales made on a basis of from 25 to 28 cents a pound. Gigantic business has been recorded in the copper market during the past week, principally at around 27 cents a pound, and for delivery during the third quarter of the year.
Consumers are said to be actively bidding for copper for delivery right up till December, and 27 cents a pound is to be paid for that month. Up to June delivery is said to have become scarce, the large transactions of the last few days having exhausted supplies. Individual orders for 2,000,000 and 3,000,000-pound lots, deliveries to extend over a period of four or five months, are reported to be quite common. Business in April and May metal is being confined largely to smaller dealers at prices ranging from 28 to 28 1/2 cents.

France Best Customer.

France ranks first in the amount of American copper taken in consumption, having passed England, which for many months since the outbreak of war had usurped the position held for years by Holland and Germany.
In the seven months ending Jan. 31 there was exported to France 151,123,083 pounds of copper as compared with $5,000,822 worth in the same period last year and $3,246,103 two years ago. England in the same period took $6,975,770 pounds, whereas last year there was consigned to British ports 123,216,732 pounds. The United States still holds the record for the amount of copper taken in a similar period as from July 1, 1912, to June 30, 1915, when it was sent to that country 184,391,823 pounds.
In addition to copper exports, there was shipped abroad during the seven months period ending Jan. 31, 1916, 45,000,000 pounds of brass against 16,000,000 pounds in the preceding year. In the same period exports were $4,611,000 against $1,400,000. It is also noted that largely in war munitions for which no cargo were kept.

DULUTH'S PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 9—Much Valuable Equipment Available for Industrial Training.

VIEW OF FORGE ROOM AT MANUAL TRAINING HIGH SCHOOL. INSERT—A STUDENT MAKING A TWIST DRILL ON A MILLING MACHINE.

Nearly 400 boys, 385, to be exact, are taking industrial courses in Duluth senior high schools.

They are learning to be machinists, laying a foundation for electrical or mechanical engineering courses in the university and they are making money for the school district while they are doing it.

If a boy, upon entering high school, signifies his intention of completing the four-year course, he must take prescribed studies, academic as well as industrial.

Industrial equipment in the new R. E. Dentfeld high school, West Duluth, represents an investment of practically $24,000.

Counting the classes in both schools, 150 boys are taking forge work. Sixty of these are taking advanced forging.

From the forge room the boys go to the foundry, where they are taught to make their own castings for lathes, vises, drill presses and every tool that is used later in machine shop work.

Foundry work is far from being play and compares well with anything that is done in a modern foundry, because the students, ranging in age from 15 to 18, often handle castings weighing several hundred pounds. About seventy-five boys now are enrolled in these classes.

The foundry is equipped with a brass furnace, a twenty-four-inch cupola and a gas smelter in the manual training high school. This outfit has been duplicated at the Dentfeld school.

From the foundry the boys are taken to the machine shop. Both schools are well equipped in this respect, and visits to the shops are necessary if a parent wants a clear conception of the work that really is being done.

Fifty odd boys are enrolled in the machine shop work, which is for seniors in high school, or boys who are specializing in that work and who are not taking the entire high school course. Under the direction of a skilled machinist they make tools of all kinds and even larger pieces of machinery.

Severed steel pieces are measured to a thousandth and often to a ten thousandth of an inch in these classes. Some idea of the class of work can be given by comparison with average machinists, who often do not check their measurements to more than a two-hundredths of an inch.

Several boys now are at work on electrical motors and plans have been drawn for a large motor, which will be used to supply power to work the shop outside of class hours, when the other power is shut off.

A manufacturing class was run after school during almost all of last year. This class consisted of junior and senior boys, who were willing to work from 5 to 8 p. m. every day and building apparatus such as tables and chairs, to be used about the school.

They were paid 15 cents an hour and the results were more satisfactory than those obtained by using regular school carpenters. The vice made for manual training benches are better than any that can be purchased at a reasonable price, instructors say.

KELSEY BOY QUALIFIES AS EXPERT RIFLEMAN

In an official bulletin issued by headquarters, United States marine corps, Washington, appears the name of Arthur Matteson of Kelsey, this county, as having qualified as an expert rifleman in that interesting branch of the government service.

Arthur, who is a son of Mrs. Edia Matteson of Kelsey, enlisted in the United States marine corps at its Rochester, N. Y., recruiting station on Dec. 10, 1915, and is now serving on board the U. S. S. Oklahoma, one of the most powerful and formidable superdreadnaughts.

PREPAREDNESS

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON,
Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

Could you mobilize on short notice? Always in condition to meet the demands which nature must thrust upon it? Could you run half a mile if your life were at stake? Could you do half a day's manual labor with safety? Of course you may say with perfect truth that there are not apt to be any such demands upon you. You earn your daily bread by mental exertion and expect to continue so doing. Well and good, but are you sure that your mental equipment is at par.

chances are that the man who permits himself to deteriorate physically cannot reach the minimum of his mental capacity.

Nature unquestionably contemplated that the human animal should have a considerable degree of physical exertion to maintain life. The complexities of modern civilization have forced many men and women into occupations where it requires effort to find time or opportunity for even a small amount of exercise. Commonly we accept such a condition with some superficial expression of regret and endeavor until nature declares war.

You can make no treaties which will insure your safety under such conditions. Nothing short of a consistent policy of moderate exercise and temperate living will prepare you to meet the vital individual emergency. Your turn will surely come. Are you ready? Personal pride should offer sufficient incentive to a man or woman to keep in such condition that they can mount a flight of stairs without puffing or button their shoes without contortions.

The man who wishes to really live should watch his waist measure and his chest expansion with at least the same attention which he bestows upon his bank account.

Six of eight months' time and an expense of $50.00 is involved in repainting the Brooklyn bridge.

The census bureau has estimated that the population of the United States passed the 100,000,000 mark on April 2.

MAY RAISE TAX LIMIT

City Will Have to Make Revenue Provision If No License Carries.

Alternative Ordinance for People's Approval Considered Certain.

Should Duluth voters favor local option and the ousting of the 163 saloons in the city, they will have to vote on an amendment to the charter, increasing the municipality's tax levy limit.

This is admitted at the city hall, where it is said that the loss of $163,000 in saloon licenses will have to be made up by an increase in the tax levy limit from 18 mills, as provided for in the charter to at least 16 mills and possibly 17 mills, in order to make up the deficit in the city's revenues.

As a 1-mill tax brings approximately $55,000 on the city's valuation of $55,000,000, it can be seen that the tax levy will have to be raised considerably, or some other means for obtaining the money be provided for by the city officials.

Suggestions Offered.

Some of the suggestions already made to city officials are the following:

Cutting down the police zones to reduce the number of saloons.

Prohibiting more than a certain number of saloons in a block, cutting down the present number.

Raising the license from $1,000 to $1,500 or $2,000.

Reducing the number of policemen and the expense of the municipal court, in case the "dry" ordinance is passed.

Petitions Being Signed.

The "dry" petitions are out in large number and being vigorously pushed in all parts of the city. It is said that they are being quite generally signed, even those who are opposed to it, signing so that the matter will be settled and over with.

Those who are opposed to the movement to avoid it, and the disposition is to help along the matter by getting the necessary signers to the petition rather than to hinder it, get the question to a vote as early as possible and dispose of it.

"It's like a thunder storm that refuses to break," said one saloon man today. "We have been threatened with some such election for several years now, but it never really reaches a stage where the election is assured, and all parties are kept nervous and with rasped tempers. Let's have done with it. I signed a petition this morning and will vote against it when the time comes."

What should never be neglected, this treatment does not always secure the desired results. Sometimes there is need of a special medicine in order to bring about the requisite body resistance.

In such cases Eckman's Alternative has been used with a large measure of success. In many instances, tuberculosis apparently has yielded to this preparation. In any case, it is worth a trial, as it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. Its use is safe. Find your drug-

It was found necessary to amputate one of his legs. Mr. Martinson stood the ordeal as well as can be expected.

Warrand, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The four fractional townships, known as the Northwest Angle, has been organized into one township to be called Angle. All petty cases had to be taken to Bemidji for adjustment, which proved an expensive procedure both for the individual and the county.

TWO FIREMEN FOR ONE JOB

Fireman "Fired" By One County Commissioner, Rehired By Another.

Question of Authority Is the Basis of Warm Dispute.

They're in a quandary at the county jail. It's all over who's fireman. Frank R. Cowden and R. J. Little are both holding down the job. The only difficulty which presents itself is that it's a one-man job and both can not draw their pay from the county.

When April 1 came around Cowden applied to the county auditor's office for his March pay. The question arose as to whether he was entitled to the full month and the auditor held the matter until the session of the county commissioners this morning. Commissioner Little submitted a report to the board in which he stated that Cowden had been repeatedly intoxicated and that he was a fit person to continue in the position.

When April 1 came around Cowden applied to the county auditor's office for his March pay. The question arose as to whether he was entitled to the full month and the auditor held the matter until the session of the county commissioners this morning. Commissioner Little submitted a report to the board in which he stated that Cowden had been repeatedly intoxicated and that he was a fit person to continue in the position.

Then Commissioner Kauppi of the Firemen's Association, who is chairman of the board, said "I do not think that it is within the power of any one on the board to fire a fireman. When the board as a whole decides that a fireman is not to be employed, it is the duty of the fireman to go elsewhere."

Commissioner Little then introduced a resolution asking that Cowden be discharged from the fire department. The resolution was voted on and Commissioner Little's resolution carried.

TWO GIRLS TAME PRAIRIE CHICKENS

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Celma and Fern Boebauer, 16 and 18 years of age, have tamed twenty-four prairie chickens that they have tamed. During the cold winter months, when snow and ice covered the ground so deeply that it was impossible to obtain food, the girls fed them, and they made their homes in a huge strawstack. Now they are so tame that they come at call just like the domestic fowl, cluster about the girls, and even eat from their hands. The girls are daughters of Fred Boebauer, a farmer living four miles from the city, and have never been off the farm.

The regulation applies to persons having in their possession ten kilograms (about 22 pounds) of unroasted coffee or five kilograms of tea. It is announced that there is a visible supply of coffee, sufficient for about six weeks, that the stocks are covered for four weeks and that there is enough tea for about a year.

Carlton County Organization to Carry Out Improvements.
Cloquet, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Hamann, secretary of the Carlton County Automobile association, has received the new membership tickets and is giving them to the members. This organization was started about two years ago for the benefit of the automobile owners of this vicinity and until recently its meetings were not very largely attended, but at their last meeting in the city hall the association took on new life and several new members were added until now nearly every automobile owner in the city is a member. The association members are planning to put through several improvements to the roads in this vicinity this season, among which will be putting up road signs, the construction of sections of cross roads, to make an effort to get what is known as the Scanlon road to Duluth in shape to be used in any kind of weather, which is a very small cost. With the completion of the work there will be two good roads to Duluth. Those tickets are issued by the authority of the Minnesota State Automobile association, the latter a national organization, and entitles the holder to numerous privileges, among them, the use of the Automobile club of St. Paul, they are extended the privileges of the clubhouse at White Bear Lake and the touring club in office in the St. Paul hotel. Sheriff Not Allowed Increased Pay for Prisoners' Meals.

Asked 14 Cents in Place of 11 Cents—Road Petitions Heard.

Sheriff John R. Motting's request for an increased allowance on his contract for boarding county prisoners was turned down by the county board at its April session this morning. The sheriff wanted 14 cents a meal, an increase of 3 cents over the present rate. In a letter to the board he declared that living costs had advanced rapidly, and that he could no longer afford to feed his guests at that figure. The Ramsey county sheriff is receiving $4 a week for feeding each prisoner, he also stated.

GREAT DISTRESS AT JERUSALEM

Four Hundred Thousand Getting Daily Rations From American Fund.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Alexandria, March 5.—According to reports received here, 400,000 persons in Jerusalem are now receiving daily rations from the American relief fund. A woman engaged in relief work there writes:

"Everything costs four times as much as before, so you can imagine what a state the people are in. Our children look like skeletons. Bread is very dear and the pieces are very small. All the fathers have been taken away for soldiers and the mothers are miserable wretches."

An English woman, who has arrived here from Palestine by way of Cyprus, states that the Turks fully expect that the allies will invade the country and are devoting much energy to preparations to repel them. They have constructed numerous military roads. They have fortified the Mount of Olives and believe that they have made it impregnable.

Meanwhile, she says, the economic situation is deplorable. As it is impossible to export the oranges they have been allowed to rot on the trees. Public executions are frequent. At Jaffa, Italy Hamis, the chief boatman of a tourist agency, and the kavia (military courier) of the Mount of Olives, well known to all tourists in Palestine, has been hanged on a chance passage. Emil Knezevich, a friend of the British consular agent at Jaffa, was saved from a similar fate only by the intervention of Dr. Glazebrook, the American consul at Jerusalem. He was accused of having received letters from his father, a refugee in Egypt.

The Standard Remedy in Countless Homes

Relieves Constipation Easily Without Gripping or Discomfort

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions that are closely related and the cause of much physical suffering.

The tendency to indulge one's appetite is more or less general and most people suffer at one time or another from rebellion of the overtaxed organs of digestion and elimination. A pleasantly effective remedy, that will quickly relieve the congestion of poisonous stomach waste and restore regularity, is the compound of simple laxative herbs sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative tonic, free from opiates or narcotic drugs, and has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes for many years.

Mrs. Oliver Young, Merrill, Wis., writing to Dr. Caldwell, says, she knows of nothing so effective for regulating the stomach and bowels; since taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she feels ten years younger;

DEMAND NOW WORLDWIDE

Everything in the Transportation Line Is Being Eagerly Sought.

Shipbuilding Is More Active Than for Last Fifty Years.

New York, April 7.—Some years ago there was a popular song, one of the stanzas of which recited that "The cars that run and the ships that sail full capacity for the next ten years. They all belong to Morgan."

The Morgan referred to was the late J. Pierpont Morgan, the foremost financier of the United States in his day and one of the truest and most loyal of Americans that ever lived. His judgment as to owning cars and ships was eminently correct where one tests it by the financial profits of the railway and steamship companies for the last year. Everything in the transportation line seems to have a world's demand today. From burros in Mexico, mules in the Balkans, oxen in Mesopotamia, motor trucks, motor ambulances, motor cars for the army line; automobiles in every country, freight cars, locomotives, passenger cars to Pullman coaches on the land; aeroplanes, dirigibles and Zeppelins in the air; hydroplanes, launches, travelers, brigs, schooners, sloops and square riggers, ferry boats, tugs, cutters, cruisers, battleships and ocean liners; everything that can walk, fly, run, float, steam or sail and can be used for transportation purposes is wanted by the world's people.

Shipbuilding in Maine has not been so active for fifty years as it is at the present time, and many of the shipyards of two years ago are now filled with forces of men.

It is said that orders for construction of sailing ships to the value of $500,000 have been placed in Maine since Nov. 1, and, as every day now witnesses the destruction of vessels by submarines and mines, it can be no doubt that the shipyards of Maine will be overwhelmed with orders for many years to come.

Every shipyard in the world today is pressed with urgent demands for vessels, and if every one of these vessels should be ordered in the next ten years it is doubtful if they all can supply the vessels which the world's commerce will demand during that period of time.

While war calls for great numbers of vessels to transport troops and supplies now, yet if peace prevailed there the number of vessels ordered in the war and now engaged in trade would be needed for the ocean transportation.

The port of New York during February, 1916, broke every monthly record as to value of its exports. Export shipments during that month totaled the value of $72,246,000, the next largest amount was in November, 1915, when the exports from that port were valued at $42,624,000.

Enormous Increase in Exports.

In the month of February, 1916, there were $109,493,487, and that was considered an excellent showing for any month of the year.

The railway net earnings for the month of February, 1916, were slightly more than double those of the month last year. April, May, June and July export values will surpass the high records held by those months of 1915, and there will be balances of trade in this country's favor created by commerce that will enable it to pay the foreign holders without any stringency in the money market here.

The railway net earnings for the month of February, 1916, were $154,097, as compared with the net earnings of $82,246,000 for the month of February, 1915.

There is everything in the railway traffic situation to indicate a tremendous business throughout all the months of 1916.

The public in the decision of the leading automobile manufacturers to establish a strong financial company to manufacture gasoline. It is said that the capital stock of the company will be from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, and it is understood that the processes recently developed by the American chemists, if put into operation upon a large scale, will speedily reduce the cost of gasoline.

SUCCESS OF HELMET IN THE FRENCH ARMY

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, March 15.—Surgeons consider the success of the new helmet of the French army so effective that the possibility of a return to the old days when the chest and abdomen were also protected by armor is being seriously discussed. Dr. Roussy has just stated before the medical academy that the number of men sent to the hospital with slight scalp wounds doubled between the month of August when the helmet was first put into use, and the month of January, when the helmet was still only partially equipped with it. This enormous increase is supposed to indicate that the percentage of dead from bullets and shell fragments in the head has diminished in a corresponding proportion.

ARE MADE AT PANAMA

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Panama, March 15.—The building division of the Panama canal has drawn plans for operations next year involving the expenditure of $10,000,000 provided congress appropriates the money.

Plans are made for seventy-five new two and four-family frame houses for employes; hotels at Ancon, Balboa, Balboa Shops and at Cristobal; several new schoolhouses and about 100 small frame cottages. The largest of the new schoolhouses is to be built at Balboa, which now is the capital of the Canal Zone. It is to be the high school and will replace the present wooden building, which does not conform with the remainder of the buildings in the town.

The United States army also contemplates the erection of many new frame buildings for quarters. The army already has constructed many new buildings at Military Heights, east of Balboa proper, and at Corozal, where the cavalry, artillery and engineer detachments have their barracks.

SECOND HAND PIANO BUSINESS HAS BOOM

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, March 15.—One of the most notable results of the war is the remarkable boom in the second-hand piano business. The reason for this is that many of the pianos owned by the men at the front has enabled so many people to think of a piano who never thought of one before. Their and their added income is just enough for them to purchase a piano.

Less than two years ago, explained a dealer, "pianos, if more than twenty years old, were a real drag on the market and many had to be sold at firework prices. Now we dealers cannot get enough of them to sell for very fair prices. I paid a customer the same price for a piano that he paid me for it sixteen years ago."

HOLY CITY OF THE MOSLEMS

Turk and Briton Now Fighting Near Mahomet's Native Place.

Mecca Has a Standing as an Important Commercial Center.

Washington, April 7.—"Not far from where Arabian lands now form a battleground for Turk and Briton stands the Mahomedan holy city of Mecca, toward which turn countless thousands of Moslems every day at the time for prayer."

is the beginning of a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic society from its headquarters in Washington.

"Mecca, the native place of Mahomet, is the principal city of the Turkish vilayet of Hejaz in Arabia and is located a few miles back from the coast of the Red sea, Jidda being its seaport and the landing place of nearly all its pilgrims who come by sea. Its population is difficult to determine because of its great number of visitors."

GOMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Luster at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with the tea and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

and at the height of the pilgrimage season it is usually much overcrowded. Every Good Moslem is expected to this holy city of Islam, Mecca, at least once in his lifetime.

He must arrange his affairs so that his family will be taken care of in his absence and the money he uses for the journey. There are, however, many of the pilgrims who must combine religion with business, otherwise they could never find means to accomplish the journey. These, it would seem, have always been in the majority, for Mecca itself has, besides its religious standing, a location as an important commercial center.

Sacred Territory.

"Mecca is surrounded by a great area of uncultivated land, called the haram, or sacred territory, where not even date palms grow, and the city is said by historians to have been founded to carry on trade with Abyssinia in winter and Syria in summer. Its harbor, at Jidda, has been found to be the finest products of the East, and a single one of its caravans has represented an investment of as much as $100,000. One of the principal industries there, in recent years, at least, however, seems to have been that of renting lodgings at exorbitant rates to deserters from the British army, who until the pious stranger had been stripped of his goods and amazed by the wickedness and vice of his 'holy city.'

On arriving at the edge of the haram, the pilgrim changes his ordinary clothes for the ihram, the ancient pilgrim's dress consisting of two cloths wrapped around himself in a certain prescribed manner. Thus attired, he proceeds to the city and after the end of his devotions, begins the return journey with the honorary title of hajj, which is conferred upon all who have made the pilgrimage.

The Great Mosque.

"In the center of Mecca is located the great mosque which is covered not much more than a great columned wall with seven minarets and is built around the most sacred relics. Inside this wall is called the harem, or sacred spot, and there stands the Ka'ba, the holy of holies of the Moslem, a rude stone building about forty feet square, the original of which is said to have been built by Abraham and his son, Ishmael. It was the religious center of Mecca long before the time of Mahomet, who threw out its idols and made of it the sacred place of Islam. Many times it has been destroyed by fire and flood, but it has always been rebuilt approximately in the original design. The Ka'ba has no windows, and its door is several feet above the surrounding level, entrance being effected by means of portable steps. Inside, its walls are covered with silver, the gift of wealthy Mohammedans. Its floor is a mosaic of varicolored marbles and its ceiling is hung with silks of wondrous hue and texture. Outside, much of the time its walls are covered with rich brocade, on the borders of which is embroidered in gold thread quotations from the Koran.

Kissing the Black Stone.

"In the wall of the Ka'ba, near its southeast corner and at a convenient height, is the famous black stone said to have been given to Abraham by the angel Gabriel. In performing the tawaf, which is the custom of seven times around the Ka'ba, this great stone is kissed by the pilgrim each time it is passed.

"Within the walls of the mosque is found what is supposed to be the tomb of Abraham and stone slab mark what Moslems believe to be the graves of Hagar and Ishmael. All these are holy spots and must be visited in making the tawaf.

Among the other holy relics inside the Ka'ba is the famous Zamzam well, said to have been used by Hagar in securing water for her son Ishmael. The waters of this well are supposed to have wonderful curative values and a brisk traffic is driven with the pilgrims in the sale of jars and bottles for taking away the water. The well is believed to have been lost after the days of Hagar and found later by the grandfather of the prophet Mahomet."

FAMOUS BUILDING TO BE TORN DOWN

Four Courts at St. Louis Condemned as Unsafe and Insanitary.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—The Four Courts, the famous building in St. Louis that for nearly forty years housed the criminal courts, the police headquarters and the central police station, and that for nearly fifty years housed the city jail, is to be torn down. Bids for razing the building already have been asked.

The Four Courts was built in 1866, and in police circles throughout the country acquired a fame as wide as that of the old Harrison street police station, Chicago, and The Tombs in New York.

In the three criminal court rooms in the buildings many famous trials were held, and in the yard of the Four Courts' jail many men were executed. The criminal courts now are housed in a magnificent building, the city prisoners are kept in a new, sanitary jail, and the police headquarters are in a special building opposite the city hall. The Four Courts buildings have been condemned as unsafe and insanitary, and in a few weeks they will be torn down.

CONGRESSMAN'S WIDOW ADMITTED TO HOME

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—On recommendation of the superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Quincy, Ill., the state board of administration has admitted to the home the widow of Congressman Jerry Simpson of Kansas, known as "Socks" Jerry Simpson.

Over the course of the Civil war Simpson fought in an Illinois regiment and his widow, therefore, is eligible to the Quincy home. Aside from a small pension the woman has been without funds for some time, according to the report made to the board.

"TIZ" FOR FEET

For Tired Feet, Sore Feet, Tender, Aching, Swollen, Calloused Feet and Painful Corns

"Can't beat 'Tiz' for aching, swollen feet. Don't stay footsick!"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet feel; how comfortable your shoes feel.—Advertisement.

UNRELATED HEADLINES.

Here are two editorial headlines from the Luvorne Herald, an able conservative Republican neighbor: "The Primary is Doomed."

THE MERE COST OF LIVING.

What is the lowest wage on which an average family of five can be decently fed, housed, clothed, educated and brought up as good citizens?

cause they are sane and well balanced, able to detect the sham from the true and the quick leader from the true leader.

IT PAID.

One way to account for the bitterness expressed toward Henry Ford in certain quarters is the discontent of his fellow employees with the altruistic profit-sharing plan he announced some time ago.

Incidentally, however, the fact that Ford, though an unwilling candidate, carried the Michigan primaries for president over the organization's "favorite son" candidate, the very minor statesman William Alden Smith, would seem to indicate that Ford's unpopularity among employers has not spread to the masses of the people.

A Sensible Solution

Editorial in the Falmost Sentinel.

The Duluth Herald, ever fertile in practical suggestions, comes to the front with a proposed amendment to the presidential primary law which remedies every objection to the law as it now stands.

The amendment proposed by The Herald is short, simple, concise and comprehensive and will be endorsed by everyone save those who will not be satisfied with anything short of a return to the old convention system.

The law now provides that, by petition, names of presidential candidates can be put on the ballot and it does not provide for keeping them there.

Patriotism at the Polls

By Herbert Kaufman

EVERY district deserves its Congressman. Whenever an incompetent has been delegated to represent his fellows, more capable men are either profiting through his weakness or are too intent on their private advantages...

If a community is ignorant of its best interests, it is only because those who know better are lazy, or too selfish to alter conditions.

Therefore, a misfit legislator typifies the territory from which he is elected and his constituents must share his opprobrium.

Every voice is equal in a Republic. One man's vote is as powerful as another's; and because this is so, America can never be greater than its judgment at the polls.

A carelessly cast ballot is civic treason. Bad citizens menace a country as much as foreign foes. Nations die at the heart, not in the trenches.

It is just as important to extend the power of America in times of peace as to defend it in hours of peril. Congress makes the laws, but we make Congress; a product never excels the capacity of the machine.

We have no occasion to fear for tomorrow if we fulfil our responsibilities today. When we begin to fail in ourselves we have half fought the invader's battle for him.

Armies, fleets and forts cannot protect the state that does not respect itself.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following: "Snow Deer," "Gertrude" of Duluth.

Snow Deer. Sweet Snow Deer mine, The moon shines, though the pines, While Mohawks leap, let us creep Through the vale.

Gertrude. Don't hesitate; it is late—ponies wait For you and me by the tree in the vale; His totem sleeping, let's keep the trail.

Chorus. My pretty Snow Deer, Say you will go, dear, From your side I'll never part, Every trail leads to your heart; It's time to marry—no time to tarry; Let me carry you from here, My sweet Snow Deer.

The Redmen come, bully come, There'll be some left on the trail; You will fall, clinging to me, We've found a story, with love and glory.

Then say all, must I call, Him I call, and fly away while we meet; Can't you see those ramp lights gleaming? Say there we'll be.

A Wreath of Deep-Wood Violets. When the robin sang and the fly And the roses droop and die, From my heart there comes a sigh Longing for the days gone by.

Do you remember, my darling, Down by the old mill stream, With a wreath of deep-wood violets— You baptized me your queen?

And now that we're old and gray, love, The sunbaked youth has passed by; And soon we'll be crossing the river, When the robins southward fly.

I hope that we'll wander together, Across the flower-strewn plain, And meet with our loved ones departed, When the robins come again.

from Duluth in connection with his son's disappearance, was first arrested April 1, 1915, on complaint of the county treasurer of Pueblo county, who charged him with the embezzlement of $20,000 in county funds on deposit in the bank. Later both slaughterers were indicted.

William B. Slaughter was released under bond of $40,000 in the Pueblo state case.

Efforts at a settlement failed and he was again arrested on the Federal indictment upon which the present case is based.

Released upon bond a second time, Slaughter was again arrested on a writ near Ardmore, Okla., in company with the little daughter of his son, who he was charged with having abducted from the home of Mrs. Coney Slaughter's parents at Ardmore. The child wore boy's clothing when found with her grandfather. In subsequent proceedings the child was given into custody of her mother's parents.

Miss Margaret Taylor, faculty adviser of the 1915 class, who suggested the idea as one for disposing of the surplus funds in the class treasury, declares that a good start has been made towards providing a first-class restroom. It is probable that furnishings will be added from time to time by other classes and school societies.

The room may also be used for club meetings.

BABIES FIRST IS THE SLOGAN

Illinois an increase of 2 1/2 cents a hundred pounds was revealed today when the distributors began taking a census of families having baby carriages valid with a view of supplying them.

One of the large distributors and several smaller ones yesterday acceded to the demands of the state for milk and deliveries to them were resumed today. No settlement of the contract is in sight, however, and it is expected that Chicago milk supply will normally nearly 2,000,000 quarts will be curtailed even more today.

A group of farmers from the vicinity of Elgin, Ill., has applied at Springfield for incorporation papers for a $500,000 corporation to be organized in competition with the distributing companies.

Ira J. Mix, president of the Ira J. Mix company, one of the three leading milk distributors holding out against the raise in price, the producers, signed the milk producers' contract today and announced that the price would increase the retail price of milk to 9 cents a quart, beginning Monday.

The capture of the Mix company left the Borden and the Bowman companies alone in the fight with the producers.

CARRANZISTAS CONCENTRATE

lers here early today. A report from Gen. Pershing had reached Columbus, but his garbled condition made it necessary to repeat it. Gen. Pershing's staff awaited it with some concern, since accurate and official information from the field is of the utmost importance.

Brown's brief report, forwarded through the American consulate at Chihuahua, was that Carranzistas had assumed of those at headquarters that the American advanced forces already had reached Satevo, and were reported from Cusuhuarachi, some fifty miles from Satevo, April 4.

Absolute Quiet in Chihuahua. El Paso, Tex., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Carranzistas in Chihuahua are concentrating their forces in the interior for several days, reached El Paso today on the train from Chihuahua City. They said that there was also a report that Carranzistas were leaving, but that everywhere there was apparent a curious feeling of expectancy as if it were a matter of important developments were imminent.

The whole American situation still seems at a standstill pending the outcome of negotiations between Washington and Gen. Carranza, and regarding the use of the Mexican railroads by the American expeditionary force.

The question of adequate shelter for the American soldiers appears to be becoming an urgent matter of food.

VILLA LOCATED

hunting Francisco Villa are operating today near Satevo and word that Gen. Dodd's cavalry has again come into contact with the Villistas. The second Villa report, which was received from the region between Satevo and Parral where Villa is reported to be heading, is infested with numerous bands of Villa brigades.

American refugees from the Benito Juarez district say that if Villa should succeed in uniting these bands of marauders he would have an effective force of at least 1,000 men and would be in position to give the advance American troops hard battle before reinforcements arrived.

The last official information from the front showed that American cavalry had penetrated south of San Antonio and was still moving southward hard on the trail of the Villistas. It is believed that more frequent reports will now be obtained from Col. Dodd himself as it is now possible for him to relay his message by courier to Chihuahua and thence by Mexican telegraph lines to El Paso for retransmission to Gen. Funston at San Antonio.

Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, in a dispatch received at the consulate today through the Gen. Funston, told of some of the results of the checkers between the Carranza and Villa forces at Aguas Calientes on April 1 and the fight between the Carranza and Villa forces near Chihuahua.

Letcher reported a persistent rumor in Chihuahua that Villa has been wounded. He said the fight at Aguas Calientes was reported as being for two weeks on beef and corn with supplies almost exhausted. A mining company, Letcher said, had relieved the shortage by sending a special train with supplies and forage.

Don't Let Soap Spill Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out evenly. The hair dries quickly and brightly, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

If your little one is out-of-order, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! See if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out, of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well-playful child again. Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit "fig syrups." CAN PHILLY LEADER WIN ANOTHER FLAG

PAT MORAN.

The real test of Pat Moran's ability as a manager will come this season. Every team in the National league has been strengthened, as has every team in the American league. The competition in both circuits promises to be keen and hustling. If Moran can repeat the success of his first season, he will be compelled to acknowledge that the quiet Irishman is a real pilot and not a mere accident of fortuitous circumstances.

Chicago—It looks as if Manager Tinker will not know the "regular" Cub lineup until Cincinnati April 12, in his endeavor to find a line of battle that will combine speed, strength and strength at the bat, the Cub leader has shifted his men about continually. He is confident the lineup injected into the squad some of the "pepper" and the "bite" that has been lacking at the start, but is still in doubt as to the makeup of the infield and outfield. Donlin is expected to form spooled his plans for the inner defense, but in himself and in Tinker, he has more strength to use until Mike regains his speed. Mann's hitting slump has disappointed the manager, too, and leaves the outer gardens still to be definitely filled. It is possible Mike may remain in his old place in left.

"Every team has a fighting chance," he says, "not even expecting the Cardinals. I consider the National league in better balance than ever before. Huggins refused to hazard an opinion as to his own choice.

However, he contended the team that beats out Boston will run one, two.

The St. Louis leader believes New York has a chance if McGraw's pitchers hold up, describes Brooklyn's aggression as well-balanced, and regards Cincinnati as shifty.

Huggins admits the power Alexander lends to the Philadelphia team, but maintains he considers the White Sox make every opponent realize they are in a real fight for the pennant.

Chicago—Opening day at the White Sox park, April 12, will be "some day," according to Secretary Grabiner. A corps of seventy-five painters are busily engaged in painting the new work of paint on the massive structure, nearly a hundred groundkeepers are busy putting the ground in tip-top condition, while the office force is working overtime to take care of the crowd which is expected. According to Secretary Grabiner, there has been a big demand for seats at the opening contest, handled through the mails, but he said that inasmuch as the park is one of the largest in the country, there will be plenty seats, which can be obtained at the public sale which starts Monday, April 10. It was also officially announced that the opposing pitchers meet the first clash of the season between Detroit and the White Sox will be Scott and Coveleski.

FACULTY GETS GOOD BEATING

Central Pedagogues Defeated By Seniors By Score of 13 to 7.

Karon Pitches Air-Tight Ball for Students; Many Fanned.

For the first time in three years the haughty pedagogues of Central high school bowed before the seniors yesterday, when the faculty lost the annual indoor baseball game played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, by the score of 13 to 7. The game was unusually fast and interesting and although the faculty stars put up a great fight, the skill and speed of their younger opponents were too much for them.

The game started well for the seniors when the fourth-year students walloped the offerings of Joyce, faculty twirler, for four runs. The teachers soon retaliated, however, and in the second inning they found Karon's offerings to their liking, pounding out five hits and adding a few errors. They closed the first five times. From then on both teams tightened and the contest took on the appearance of a real baseball game. Some fast, snappy playing was pulled off on both sides and very little scoring was done.

In the eighth the seniors again and themselves scored three runs. The pedagogues could do nothing with the deluge of the seniors and they were forced to content themselves with a "snore egg" in the last three innings. The game concluded with the seniors on the long end of a 13-7 score. The lineups of the two teams:

| Seniors. | Position. | Faculty. |
|---------------|-----------|---|
| Mason (Capt.) | | Schilling |
| Karon | | Joyce |
| Brandt | | Blair |
| Olander | | Gibson |
| Beehalter | | Glyer |
| Constock | | Young |
| Auxer | | Gustafson |
| Holman | | Glyer |
| Scoring | | Olander, 1; Linday, 3; Karon, 2; Constock, 1; Mason, 1; Holman, 1; Schilling, 1; Blake, 1; Glyer, 1; Gibson, 1; Blair, 2; Young, 1. |

DULUTH BALL PLAYERS ARE MAKING GOOD HIGHER UP

Boys Who Received Their Start Under Darby O'Brien Are Showing Real Class in Fast Company—Dauss, Otto, Miller and George Cunningham Are Illustrious Examples.

Red Blumh, former Duluth first baseman, has clinched his job as initial sack tender of the New Orleans team of the Southern league. The redhead, while not the hardest hitter in the world, is sure one of the greatest fielding first basemen in the hard hitting of the game. Down South way they think him a great fellow.

Elmer Smith, who charley-horsed in rightfield for the Dooks for a season and who made up for any lack of fielding ability by his sweet hitting, is at the present time playing rightfield with the Cleveland Americans.

Smully played in 144 games last year and flayed the pitcher at a .248 clip.

Elmer Miller, one of the most beloved outfielders ever pasturing in these parts, is trying out with the New York Americans. With Fritz Malsee, Lee Magee and Gilhooly on hand as outfield candidates, it looks from this distance as if the former Duluthian has little opportunity of making a regular berth.

In 123 games in the Southern association last season, Elmer hit at a .326 gait, which, it may be remarked, is going some.

Other Duluth stars, of course, George Daus is back with Detroit. He is the star pitcher for Jennings' hard-hitting crew. Daus was one of the very greatest pitchers that ever graduated from the Northern league—indeed, if not the greatest. Now he is one of the distinctly great stars of the American league.

While it is early to predict, it looks as if George Cunningham, another Duluthian, will receive his first instruction under the shrewd and observing eye of Darby O'Brien, is going to make a name for himself in the American league.

George Cunningham has displayed great form in the practice games this spring. The kid defeated the New York Giants and has shown a word worth of stuff. Jennings is said to be hugely delighted with the form displayed by young George, who is just turned 23 years of age.

Last year Cunningham led the pitchers of the South Atlantic league with a percentage of .832. In eight games George whiffed 18 batsmen, hit three, issued 18 passes, and showed enough promise to warrant Jennings giving him another trial.

George Anderson, who used to cavort in center field for Darby, is believed to be the same Anderson, who is an outfield candidate for a place in the New York National outfield. George was with the Federal league last year and was rated as one of the real stars of the outfield.

Miller a Real Star.
Otto Miller, of Mueller, as he was known here, is still the star receiver of the Brooklyn Nationals. Otto, without a doubt, the greatest catcher ever turned out by the Northern league. No other receiver has so yet approached the form shown by this mild mannered and quiet Teuton. One grand catcher—and one grand fellow.

Little is heard of Don Marion. Last year he was with the Brooklyn Federals, pitching in and out baseball. Here is a man who has ruined what was promised to be a grand baseball career by indifference and failure to take care of himself. In some respects this bird was the grandest looking slab specimen that ever worked in this league. Marion had everything—everything but a genial disposition.

When you come to look this bunch over, you will be forced to admit that for a class D ball club, the White Sox have made a brilliant record in sending up baseball players up to the higher ranks. It is a record that the fans of this town can be justly proud of—and a record that shows that as a developer of talent Darby O'Brien has few equals among the smaller leagues of the country.

If some of the recruits the Dook has signed for the approaching season come up to expectations, Duluth is able to send some more players up at the end of the 1916 playing season.

O'Brien has had peculiar success with young blood. He has developed more good players out of unknown

BASEBALL NOTES FROM LEADING SPORT CENTERS

Cincinnati, Ohio—Twelve graduates of the Cincinnati public school's division for baseball players will be graduated at the home plate at League park a half hour previous to the beginning of the National league game with the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds on Saturday, April 16. This announcement was made by Superintendent of School Randall J. Condon and President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati club.

Of the twenty-eight men who took the course for the last year and likewise the recent examination, twelve of them passed, while the remainder will continue on through the second year's course. A new class will begin

Chicago—Notre Dame alumni will try to buy the annual football game between their alma mater and Northwestern in Lincoln Thanksgiving day. It is understood that rules of the Missouri Valley conference bar games being played away from the home grounds of one of the teams. In this case, as only one conference event is permitted through the transfer to this city can be arranged.

Chicago—It looks as if Manager Tinker will not know the "regular" Cub lineup until Cincinnati April 12, in his endeavor to find a line of battle that will combine speed, strength and strength at the bat, the Cub leader has shifted his men about continually. He is confident the lineup injected into the squad some of the "pepper" and the "bite" that has been lacking at the start, but is still in doubt as to the makeup of the infield and outfield. Donlin is expected to form spooled his plans for the inner defense, but in himself and in Tinker, he has more strength to use until Mike regains his speed. Mann's hitting slump has disappointed the manager, too, and leaves the outer gardens still to be definitely filled. It is possible Mike may remain in his old place in left.

Chicago—Manager Rowland has decided not to have a held captain for the White Sox, as he has done in the past, he said. "If by any chance I am out of the game, the boys can carry along the hole without me."

St. Louis, Mo.—Miller Huggins, leader of the St. Louis Nationals, declares it will take a good keeper to pick the pennant winner in the circuit this year.

"Every team has a fighting chance," he says, "not even expecting the Cardinals. I consider the National league in better balance than ever before. Huggins refused to hazard an opinion as to his own choice.

However, he contended the team that beats out Boston will run one, two.

The St. Louis leader believes New York has a chance if McGraw's pitchers hold up, describes Brooklyn's aggression as well-balanced, and regards Cincinnati as shifty.

Huggins admits the power Alexander lends to the Philadelphia team, but maintains he considers the White Sox make every opponent realize they are in a real fight for the pennant.

Chicago—Opening day at the White Sox park, April 12, will be "some day," according to Secretary Grabiner. A corps of seventy-five painters are busily engaged in painting the new work of paint on the massive structure, nearly a hundred groundkeepers are busy putting the ground in tip-top condition, while the office force is working overtime to take care of the crowd which is expected. According to Secretary Grabiner, there has been a big demand for seats at the opening contest, handled through the mails, but he said that inasmuch as the park is one of the largest in the country, there will be plenty seats, which can be obtained at the public sale which starts Monday, April 10. It was also officially announced that the opposing pitchers meet the first clash of the season between Detroit and the White Sox will be Scott and Coveleski.

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—C. H. Chadbourne, an outfielder, formerly with the Kansas City Federals, has been signed by the Memphis Southern association club. It was announced today.

WHITE OUTBOXES ENGLISH FIGHTER

Nearly Knocks Out Matt Wells in Two Rounds.

Kansas City, Mo., April 7.—Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, was awarded a decision over Matt Wells, English lightweight champion, in a fifteen-round bout here last night.

White, who was from the start with effect. In the eleventh and fourteenth rounds he showered Wells with right crosses until the Briton was compelled to hold on to save himself. The English champion fought a game fight, however, and the action did not lag at any time.

Chicago men gave White eight of the fifteen rounds. Wells received three, while four were even.

O'Dowd Wins Every Round.

New York, April 7.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul outboxed Jack Toland of Philadelphia in every round of a ten-round bout in Brooklyn last night. O'Dowd weighed 149 pounds and Toland 150.

Hemples Scores K. O.

Kenosha, Wis., April 7.—Jack Hempel, sparring partner of Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, last night knocked out Nelson, Chicago, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round, no-decision bout. The fight was even up to the seventh. The men are heavyweights.

GOLF SEMI-FINALS.

United North and South Championship Being Played at Pinehurst.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 7.—Charles Skehens of Woods Hole, Mass.; Philip Carter of New York, Frank Dyer of Montreal and W. M. Paul of Charlotte won their games in the United North and South golf championship here yesterday. Today Skehens will meet Carter and Dyer will play Paul in the semi-finals. The other two rounds will be played by Dyer and the Philadelphia champion was 3 up on the seventeenth hole. Paul defeated Rodney Brown of Brookline, 2 and 1.

Ties World's Record.

Chicago, April 7.—Duke Kahanamoku of Hawaii equaled the world's record last night in the 100-yard in-spiration swimming event at the Pan-nais Athletic club tank. He made the distance in 57 seconds, with Arthur Hitchel, second, and Clement Browne, third, close up. The islander was beaten in the 250-yard event by Perry McGilivray in 2:22.5. Browne also defeated him by a narrow margin. Smith made a new record in the plunge for distance, making it in 18 seconds.

SLAG SUPPLY MAY BE SHORT

Cement Plant Officials Fear Shortage When Operations Develop.

Zenith Furnace Company May Find Market for Product.

Whether or not the Duluth steel plant's two blast furnaces will be able to furnish enough slag for the full operation of the raw material mill of the Universal Portland Cement company is said to be puzzling officials of the latter plant. This plant will consume when in full operation 575 tons of slag daily.

special ladies and dumped into a nearby pond to cool. It is taken from there by the cement company and brought in cars to the raw material storage rooms.

At present the cement plant is working at less than half capacity, but consuming more than half of the slag from the steel plant. It is believed that when working at full capacity, a shortage of slag may be experienced.

The probable shortage of slag from the steel plant may possibly create a ready market for slag from the Zenith Furnace plant. The slag from the furnace at the Zenith Furnace company is now being run off towards the east of the plant and used entirely in filling in some of the swamps in that direction.

It may be considerable time before the third and fourth burner kiln at the cement plant will be ready for operation. The stacks for these burners have not yet been received at the plant, but are daily expected. The two kilns in operation, each of which has a capacity for burning about 1,000 barrels of product, are working at about three-fourths capacity, but within a short time will be turning out their full quota.

PAVING PLANS WILL BE CHANGED

Commission Reaches Decision After Inspection of Central Avenue.

Central avenue's paving plans will be changed as the result of an inspection of the roadway made by the city commissioners yesterday afternoon.

According to the decision of the commissioners, Central avenue will be paved to a width of thirty feet from Goddard street to Sixth street, twenty feet from Sixth street to Highland street and twenty feet from Highland street to the D. M. & N. tracks. The improvement will cost approximately $40,000.

Commissioner Farrell, it was announced today, will introduce a resolution at the council meeting next Monday, amending the original measure adopted on Jan. 10, so that the various widths be changed to comply with the present plans of the council.

A request for a narrower road above Highland street was made in a petition filed by some of the Central avenue property owners last Monday.

The supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock by the Ladies Aid society, the Forbes Memorial M. E. church of Proctor. The women in charge will be Mrs. Frank Hughes, Mrs. Bert Simkins, Mrs. John Hammerstrom, Mrs. Mark Conant, Mrs. Frank Paul, Mrs. C. F. Corey, Mrs. C. F. Gilbert, Mrs. S. E. Spurbuck, Mrs. D. F. W. C. T. U. ANNUAL MEETING.

Members Will Aid in Campaign to Make Duluth "Dry."

Mrs. Alfred Jaques was re-elected president of the West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union, for the third term at the annual meeting of the society held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jaques, 1205 East Third street.

Mrs. H. R. Phelps was elected first vice president; Mrs. Helen Stenroos, second vice president; Mrs. Elliott J. Aman, re-elected secretary; Mrs. B. H. Smith, re-elected treasurer; and Mrs. Bevier, corresponding secretary.

The principal talk was given by Bert N. Wheeler, who spoke on "Problems of Drunks." He said that the solution of the liquor question was either to keep the men away from liquor or to keep the liquor away from the men. The latter, he said, was the easier method and would find its solution in prohibition. He declared that $2,000,000,000 was being spent annually for alcoholic liquors.

The vote in Superior on Tuesday, which resulted in placing that city in the "dry" column, was discussed with gratification by the members. Action to take an active part in a campaign to make Duluth go dry was deferred until the next meeting of the society.

HOUSE SHORTAGE IN NEW DULUTH

Tract for Building Will Soon Be Put on Market.

The surveying of a large tract of property east of Commonwealth avenue in New Duluth is taking place this week. The property is to be put on sale in a short time by real estate dealers.

The housing conditions in the suburbs are a serious problem at present, according to real estate men. All buildings are filled and inquiries for others are made to be received every day, but in New Duluth at present not a new house is under construction.

Several new cottages are being built in Gary, where the situation is said to be more acute. The tract of land for houses in that suburb is said to be stronger owing to being closer to the steel plant and the cement plant. Most of the cottages being put up are either sold or rented long before completed.

About two-thirds of the 369 apartments provided in the residence district of Morgan park are occupied by employees of the company. This spring it is expected that many more houses will be rented to the employees and that another index will take place when the proposed street car extension is completed. Plans for an extension of the residence district have been made and according to officials of the company more houses will be built as the demand grows.

Described in Detail Appearance of Imaginary Holdup Man.

Although he is a lumberjack, dock walloper or harvest hand, depending upon the season, Simon McNamara is endowed with a wonderful imagination.

When the poet said: "A primrose by the river's brim, A yellow primrose was to him, 'And nothing more.'" Simon McNamara, Simon's facile eye could see in the unassuming primrose a multitude of strange and wonderful things.

One night McNamara was robbed of $10, he said. He described the holdup man in detail, telling the color of his hair, the shape of his eyes, his method of walking, his mannerisms, and so on.

"The way he last night. This morning Detective John Roberg went to Liberty hotel, McNamara's stopping place, with the idea of catching the 'Didn't you tell me last night,' said the hotel clerk. TALKED WITH FIREMEN TO GEN. FUNSTON HAVE HEARING

John A. Stephenson of This City Finds Southwest Prosperous.

John A. Stephenson, prominent Duluth real estate man, has returned from a four months' visit to San Antonio, Tex., New Orleans, and other Southern and Southwestern points. While in San Antonio Mr. Stephenson was privileged to spend considerable time with Gen. Frederick Funston, who was stationed at Fort Sam Houston in command of the Southwestern division.

"Gen. Funston," said Mr. Stephenson today, "is a most delightful companion. He is a very small man, not weighing much more than 130 pounds, but you can easily understand that the fighting spirit of the man is remarkable. He is possessed of a remarkably keen mentality and is wonderfully well-informed on a large number of subjects. The crisis of the trouble between Mexico and the United States did not occur at the time I was in San Antonio. Therefore Gen. Funston has a little concerning Mexico and the probability of any trouble. I can't recall a single expression made by the general concerning Mexico."

TALKED WITH FIREMEN TO GEN. FUNSTON HAVE HEARING

City Commission Will Decide Action on Double Platoon System.

City commissioners and a delegation of firemen will meet this afternoon to decide definitely what action will be taken concerning the proposed double platoon system.

Two weeks ago the firemen filed a petition for the establishment of a double platoon system on Jan. 1, 1917, while at a conference last week the firemen submitted a compromise, agreeing to appropriate $10,000 for three years, working up gradually to a double platoon by 1919. They claim that the city is unable to appropriate $30,000 at one time, without affecting all the other city departments. The firemen have refused this offer.

This afternoon, it is understood, the firemen will submit a counter proposition, agreeing to the establishment of the double platoon on July 1, 1917, instead of Jan. 1.

Members of the commission have declared that they are opposed to such a compromise and that their first offer will have to stand, the city's financial condition prohibiting the consideration of greater expenditures for next year.

To create a double platoon in one year, the commissioners believe that an increase in the city's tax levy would be necessary.

Just what will happen this afternoon, is not known, although it is believed that the city will be unable to file their initiative ordinance, in view of the fact that the commissioners will, because of the newspaper publicity given the case, a number of prospective jurors were excused by the defense, because of their newspaper reading tendencies.

Barracks not in court, and police have been unable to locate him, although the case will be tried despite this before leaving. Hilderbeck posted $200 bail, double the maximum fine in case of a conviction on the charge.

Numerous suits between Walter F. Dacey, defendant's attorney, and Walter Gonska, city prosecutor, continued to the morning session. After the jury had been drawn, the defense objected to the introduction of any evidence, under the complaint, on the grounds that no offense was stated. Judge H. S. Smith, after hearing argu-

Duluth's Traction Wallingford Absent When Case Is Called.

Left Behind $200 Bail Money—Maximum Fine Is $100.

Methods of William Ray Hilderbeck, One-cent Street Car Fare Wallingford, were aired in municipal court today, when a jury was drawn to try him on a charge of advertising illegally.

The state's case is based upon pamphlets said to have been distributed by the company, in which they state that the street car tickets are good on the Duluth car line. They are not good on Park Point lines, the state contends.

Work of selecting a jury occupied virtually all of the morning session, because of the newspaper publicity given the case. A number of prospective jurors were excused by the defense, because of their newspaper reading tendencies.

Barracks not in court, and police have been unable to locate him, although the case will be tried despite this before leaving. Hilderbeck posted $200 bail, double the maximum fine in case of a conviction on the charge.

Numerous suits between Walter F. Dacey, defendant's attorney, and Walter Gonska, city prosecutor, continued to the morning session. After the jury had been drawn, the defense objected to the introduction of any evidence, under the complaint, on the grounds that no offense was stated. Judge H. S. Smith, after hearing argu-

CREDIT NOTICE!

From now on we will require all members of the DULUTH CREDIT ASSOCIATION to report the standing of accounts appearing on their books.

We appreciate receiving good reports on all accounts. While we know this is impossible, yet if persons who are running charge accounts will make a special effort to pay up early in April, especially the accounts that are past due, this effort will certainly be appreciated by the merchants and will improve your financial standing in the country.

We find that many merchants report unpaid balances on their books month after month, and at the same time patron buying for cash at the same store in amounts larger than the account of record. We suggest at all times the payments of old accounts, and make A NEW CHARGE rather than let the old account stand on the books.

We make this announcement with a view of assisting you to maintain your credit standing in this community.

Prompt-paying charge accounts are desired and appreciated by the merchants and are generally considered a convenience to the customer.

It is the desire of the Duluth Credit Association to serve the public as well as the merchant.

CHECKING HOTELS AS TO LICENSES

Silberstein Ordinance Goes in Force a Week From Saturday.

Safety Commissioner Silberstein wants to know if all the hotels in Duluth are represented by applications for license, and he has asked the police to answer the question. The new Silberstein hotel ordinance, licensing each hostelry in the city, becomes effective a week from tomorrow, and forty-five applications for licenses already have been filed with City Clerk Walter Bergen. Detectives John Roberg and E. H. Barber today began the task of checking over the hotel list, with a view to learning if all of the proprietors had applied for a license, and their reasons, if no application had been made. Results of their investigation will be reported to Commissioner Silberstein. "Several of the hotels on West Superior and West Michigan streets, the ones that are the center of a great deal of trouble usually, have not yet applied for license," explained one police officer.

GREAT NORTHERN HAD EXPENSIVE FEBRUARY

St. Paul, Minn., April 7.—Nearly $1,000,000 was spent by the Great Northern railroad in February because of bad weather conditions, according to the statement of Controller G. R. Martin. For the first eight months of the fiscal year there was a gain in operating income of $3,257,000 over the same period last year.

Says Maggie the Cook
"It ain't only what's in what they eats—it's what they gets out of it that counts. Give 'em a food for breakfast, I says, that has a lot in it. And let that lot be such that their insides can take it all up, easy-like. Give 'em Cream of Barley"

You Can Digest Sea-Food Fried in SAWTAY
Fresh sea-food has a delicate flavor. Hog-fats, various oils and even cow-butter, are "strong" under heat. They rob the sea-food of its natural flavor and frequently create indigestion.

SAWTAY

100% Pure Butter-of-Nuts

For Baking, Shortening, Frying & Candy-Making

will not absorb a taste or give one. Food prepared in it is easily and completely digested—more easily than in the finest creamery butter. SAWTAY is in itself an energy-creating food of the highest value.

After the sea-food has been fried, strain the SAWTAY through cheese-cloth, and use the same portion over and over, or for baking a pie or delicate cake.

Sawtay is Economical—
Use One-Fifth Less and Over and Over.

Alfred W. McCam, Pure Food Expert, New York Globe, says: I have completed an inspection of your plant where Sawtay is manufactured. I went through the process from top to toe. The uses to which Sawtay can be legitimately put are so numerous and their significance so profound that I cannot over-estimate the virtues of your product. It is really a wonderful foodstuff. I congratulate you on having so much that is good, wholesome and interesting in your possession and I am sure you will safeguard its virtues with jealousy and honor.

CARRIER BADLY HURT BY AUTO
Milton Johnson Steps in Front of Machine—May Not Recover.
Hit by an automobile while crossing the street as he was delivering his newspapers, Milton Johnson, 12, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured yesterday afternoon.
The car, driven by Ben Rosenberg, 108 North Fifth Avenue west, and owned by the Duluth-Ellison Electric company, struck the Johnson boy in the chest, inflicting serious internal injuries. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital in the police emergency.
The boy, according to eye witnesses, was dodging across Superior street near Twentieth avenue west, and stepped behind a wagon going east. He did not see the electric company's runabout which was going west, and stepped directly in front of it.
He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson, of 2309 West Second street. Mr. Johnson is employed by the North-western Fuel company.
The boy was slightly improved today, according to hospital reports.
According to a parliamentary committee that investigated the production of all of London's electric power in a few large stations would save 6,000,000 tons of coal a year and greatly reduce the smoke nuisance.

One Leg Is Enough
By Herbert Kaufman

A NEW YORK SPECIALIST says that too much thinking is breaking down the arches of our feet—that we're developing brain at the expense of bone structure.

The new dentists point to extraordinary rheumatism cures through a little tooth manipulation.

One expert of note is sure that some folks become intoxicated on a meat diet and regularly indulge in beef steak jags.

Any number of people are doing business at the old stand with their former kidney and lung equipment and countless howling swells have found life easier because of the gold and silver additions to their internal plumbing.

It appears as though we don't know very much about the human machine. It's the oldest subject with which we are acquainted and the one with which we seem to be most ignorant. And now (Peg) Oswelt lifts the voice from Alliance, Ohio, to proclaim that one leg, more or less, doesn't count. He skates, plays baseball, football and basket ball—and without the assistance of an artificial limb or the help of a crutch.

A few years ago the surgeons sawed him off at the hip, but he pieced it out with will, distributed his ambitions and determinations through his remaining anatomy and turned the rest of himself into such a good athlete that he qualified for his college team.

Now you loafing, lagging quitters, offer an excuse for inability to make good at your game. If you're complete and can't compete, it's because you haven't tried. We used to think that there were individuals incapable of getting along but Helen Keller changed our opinion and ever since then indomitable souls kept calling our attention to their victories over horrible circumstances, until now we are sure that failure is a weakling's attitude of mind.

Oswelt insists that one leg is quite enough (if you know how to use it) and there's the whole philosophy of accomplishment in a sentence.

You can't help people who won't help themselves—some men couldn't win a race with a centipede's legs.

Performance of Noted Dancer May Cause Revival of "Salome"

MARCELLA CRAFT.

At a recent concert of the Philharmonic orchestra, under Josef Strakosky at New York, an entire program of Richard Strauss' music was rendered, and Marcella Craft sang the last scene from "Salome." The enthusiasm over her singing has led to discussion of the possibility of reviving "Salome" at the Metropolitan opera house. It had one performance there some years ago and then because of public protest against its character, it was dropped and a large forfeit was paid for its non-production. Afterward Oscar Hammerstein did it at the Manhattan. Now that there is in America an American singer of force, who originated the character under the direction of Strauss himself in Germany, and now that public feeling about Strauss has been somewhat modified, there is a possibility that the opera will be revived.

SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL AND FINE OF $100

Sentence for Men Who Took Liquor Into Indian Territory.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—For bringing liquor into the Indian treaty territory on the Iron range twenty-one men were arraigned today in Federal district court before Judge Booth and sentenced each to sixty days in the county jail and $100 fine. The twenty-one were indicted yesterday and the day before by the Federal grand jury.

Each man was permitted to choose his sentence. In all have been held since Monday in the Hennepin county jail. All of them asked to serve their terms somewhere else.

Most of the bootleggers are lumbermen and, although pleading guilty, they said they had taken the liquor into forbidden territory for their personal use and did not know they were violating a law.

INDEPENDENCE FOR THE PHILIPPINES

Passage of Senate Measure Recommended By Insular Committee.

Washington, April 7.—Passage of the Philippine independence bill was recommended to the house today by the insular committee, just as passed by the senate, including the Clarke amendment to withdraw sovereignty within four years and empowering the president to take steps to institute a free and independent government.

"The war spreading death and ruin over Europe and large portions of Asia," says Chairman Jones in the committee's report, "has brought the United States face to face with the vital question of preparedness against foreign aggression and congress is called upon to make adequate provision for national defense.

"If the Philippines are to be included in any scheme of national defense the American people will be many millions greater than would be otherwise necessary. If the policy shall be to retain control over them, not to attempt their defense but to abandon them to their fate, as has been suggested by military men, we shall risk inviting the scorn

DISCOVERS PLOT TO KILL RULERS OF EUROPE

Chicago, April 7.—Existence of an international anarchistic plot to assassinate all rulers of Europe has been discovered here according to a formal statement issued today by Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney of Cook county.

Sir Alexander Russell Simpson, formerly dean of the faculty of medicine, and emeritus professor of midwifery of the University of Edinburgh, died April 6 from injuries received from being knocked down by a motor car. Sir Alexander was born in 1835, and was the author of many medical works.

David Douglas, the noted publisher, is dead at Edinburgh. One of his greatest services was the bringing out in 1882 of a cheap series of reprints of American novels. For some years he was the editor of the North British Review. He was born in 1823.

NORTHWEST ANGLE BADLY NEEDS FOOD

Spooner, Minn., April 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to word received here the residents of the Northwest angle, a remote section of the Northwest, are in hard straits because supplies cannot reach them, the lone store having sold out its entire stock and owing to the deep snows it has been impossible to bring supplies across the lake from Warroad, the nearest trading point, forty-seven miles away. The only travel across the lake since about Christmas time has been by snags, and the big steamers and only small loads could be carried.

Paul Marschall of Warroad, who has charge for the Armstrong Trading company of the many fisheries along the lake, has been attempting to cross with eight teams loaded with supplies for the relief of the settlers for the past week, but has found it impossible to make a crossing. He has resided on the lake for more than twenty years and states this is the worst in his experience because of the snows and slush ice. Meanwhile the residents of the angle have been reduced to a diet of fish and game.

HEAVY TRADING IN COPPER STOCKS

Some Stocks React But Prices Hold Well Generally.

Apprehensions over the foreign situation led to some reactions in mining stocks at Boston today. Considering the advances that have been scored in the past few days, the copper stocks were thought, however, to have been fairly well sustained.

United States was the most active stock in the list. It sold up to $17.75, but ran down around the close at $17.45. Asked. American Zinc sold 26c off near the close at $24.80. Butte & Superior $1.50 off at $64.00. Lake unchanged at $28.87. North Butte fractionally off at $28.87. Big Ledge unchanged at $49 and Ojibway fractionally up at $27.65.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Chicago News: "Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done," quoted the pessimistic poet.

"No, my dear," replied the cashier of the luncheon.

"The meaning of this couplet is obscure to me," said a young man who was sitting next to her.

"One does not know whether the writer meant that women have so much work they can never get it done or women neglect their work and leave it to their husbands," she said.

"Yes, do," encouraged the cashier. "The average family consists of five persons, a husband, wife and three children. The wife cooks three meals every day, a total of 87.60 in the course of a year, is equivalent to cooking one meal for 16,125 persons every day. She sets the table, clears the table and washes the dishes 1,095 times a year. During the first four years of their lives she dresses and undresses her children every day, a total of 1,460 agreeable jobs. In the same period she wipes their noses on an average—on a handkerchief, should say—sixteen times a day, which, you must admit, is considerable. Between these operations she finds time for an occasional spanking.

"Let us not forget the hundreds of bumps and bruises to be kissed by mother and made well. There are floors to sweep and scrub, agents to shoo from the door, clothes to be mended, buttons to be sewed on, stockings to be darned, papa's clothes to be cut down for Willie, Willie's clothes to be revised for Adelbert and Adelbert's to be amended for little Beag.

"The head of the household needs stirring up and straightening out occasionally and this is her only recreation.

"And I lack 17,934 items of enumerating everything she has to do, and 16,223 things she has nothing to do. It with but a hairpin.

"The poet would have done the subject more justice if he had written: "Man, the wise codger, gets him a wife and does little else the rest of his life."

"Or something on this order: "When a man's tired he goes to bed and slumbers aloud with a snore. But frail little woman, though nearly dead, keeps working forevermore."

"Your sentiments do you credit," said the cashier. "Nevertheless, they do not alter the fact that I plucked a fatter hen than you just handed me in this luncheon."

GOVERNMENT FORECAST ON WINTER WHEAT CROP

Washington, April 7.—A total production of 455,000,000 bushels of winter wheat was forecast today by the department of agriculture, basing its estimate on the condition of the crop April 1, and an assumption of average abandonment of acreage and average increase in yield per acre.

Condition of winter wheat on April 1 was 72 per cent of a normal, against 88.3 last year, 95.6 in 1914, and 87.3 the average for the last ten years. There was a decrease in condition from Dec. 1 to April 1 of 9.4 points, compared with an average decline of 3.5 points between those dates in the last ten years.

Average condition of rye on April 1 was 87.8 per cent of a normal, against 89.5 on April 1 last year, 91.3 last year, and 89.2 the average for the last ten years.
